FROM : SAC, DETROIT (29B-WF-171994)(C-5)(RUC)

SUBJECT : HIDDEN INTEREST;
MAJOR CASE 38;
OO: WMFO

Re WMFO teletype to Director and Detroit dated 9/10/92 and Detroit teletype to Director and WMFO dated 9/11/92.

Enclosed for WMFO are the following: the original and two copies of an FD-302 reflecting the interview of [redacted] a 1A envelope containing Agent interview notes of the aforementioned interview; one copy of a 10/27/83 COMERICA prospectus provided by COMERICA BANK; and the original and two copies of an FD-302 reflecting the interview of [redacted] COMERICA, INCORPORATED. b6 b7C

For the information of WMFO, through review of numerous newspaper articles, FBI Detroit advised WMFO on 8/22/91 via teletype, that in February of 1975, GHAITH PHARAON purchased 40 percent of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH preferred stock and 32 percent of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH common stock which gave PHARAON control of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH. This transaction was approved by the FDIC on 5/30/75. PHARAON was represented in this transaction by Attorney [redacted] b6 b7C of Houston, Texas, who may still have documentation relating to this transaction.

In referenced Detroit teletype dated 9/11/92, FBI Detroit advised that FDIC officials in Detroit could provide no records relating to the aforementioned transaction and that any remaining records could be located through [redacted] b6 Assistant Regional Director, FDIC, Chicago, Illinois. FDIC b7C officials further advised that former FDIC examiner [redacted] was the most knowledgeable individual regarding this transaction.

On 10/15/92, [redacted] who has since retired from b6 the FDIC and is currently employed by the FEDERAL RESERVE b7C BANK, advised that he vaguely recalled PHARAON's purchase of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH stock in the early 1970s. It is [redacted]s recollection that FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION, owned by [redacted] acted as the intermediary for this purchase. At the time [redacted] heard that FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION had initially interested PHARAON in purchasing the BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH stock. [redacted] believes that PHARAON held the stock for approximately two years and then sold it to FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION. Then in approximately 1983, FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION sold their interest in BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH to COMERICA, INCORPORATED, who took over BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH at that time. [redacted] is aware that the FDIC closely monitored and approved the aforementioned stock transactions due to loans made by FDIC to BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH previously. [redacted] advised that due to FDIC's interest in BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH, some records of these transactions may still exist in the FDIC's Washington archives. [redacted] is also aware that the aforementioned stock transactions obtained a great deal of media attention which resulted in detailed articles of the transactions appearing in area newspapers, therefore, details of these transactions may be available in archived news articles. [redacted] was aware of no interest in BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH by BCCI.

On 10/23/92, [redacted] COMERICA, INCORPORATED, b6 provided a copy of a 10/27/83 COMERICA, INCORPORATED, b7C prospectus, which she had obtained from the COMERICA, INCORPORATED, corporate legal department. [redacted] was provided this document when she requested documentation relating to the aforementioned stock transactions and is not aware if further documentation exists. If after review of the aforementioned document WMFO requires additional information, a grand jury subpoena should be directed to COMERICA, INCORPORATED.

In reviewing the aforementioned document, it appears that COMERICA purchased from FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION 3,450,530 shares of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH common stock representing approximately 77.03 percent of all the outstanding shares of BANK OF THE COMMONWEALTH common stock, for a subordinated note in the original amount of $12,323,321.43, due and payable on 9/22/88. FIRST ARABIAN CORPORATION received a warrant certificate entitling them to purchase 424,942 shares of COMERICA common stock. Also apparent on the cover of this document are evidence exhibit tags, presumably from resulting civil litigation.

In the absence of any further request for investigation, Detroit considers this matter RUC.

THE INVESTIGATION OF THE ABOVE-CAPTIONED CASE HAS RESULTED IN MANY ALLEGATIONS OF PUBLIC CORRUPTION IN WASHINGTON, D.C., AS WELL AS ACROSS THE NATION. ONE OF THE

V.C. 3849

ALLEGATIONS IS THAT AN INDIVIDUAL BY THE NAME OF MOHAMMED HAMMOUD MADE POLITICAL PAYOFFS FOR THE BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI). HAMMOUD WAS THE BCCI NOMINEE WHO PURCHASED APPROXIMATELY $15 MILLION OF FIRST AMERICAN BANK (FAB) STOCK FROM CLARK CLIFFORD AND [redacted] IN 10/88. b6 b7C HAMMOUD DIED IN 5/90.

FOR THE INFORMATION OF PARIS, CLARK CLIFFORD IS KNOWN AS THE "ADVISOR TO THE DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTS". CLIFFORD ADVISED OR HELD PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTED POSITIONS UNDER PRESIDENT HARRY TRUMAN, PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY, PRESIDENT LYNDON B. JOHNSON, AND PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER. [redacted] WHO IS b6 b7C [redacted] IN THE PRESTIGIOUS WASHINGTON, D.C. LAW FIRM OF CLIFFORD AND [redacted] HAS CLOSE TIES TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND ITS LEADERS. BOTH CLIFFORD AND ALTMAN WERE INDICTED BY A FEDERAL GRAND JURY AND A NEW YORK DISTRICT OF MANHATTAN GRAND JURY ON 7/29/92, FOR FALSE STATEMENTS TO THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND NEW YORK BANKING COMMISSION, RESPECTIVELY, AND CONSPIRACY. AT THIS TIME, NO TRIAL DATE HAS BEEN SCHEDULED FOR THE FEDERAL CHARGES, WHILE NEW YORK HAS A TRIAL DATE OF 1/4/93.

[redacted] MOHAMMED HAMMOUD, NOW RESIDES IN LEBANON AND HAS AGREED TO MEET WITH THE FBI IN PARIS, FRANCE, TO BE INTERVIEWED. [redacted] LIVED IN WASHINGTON, D.C. WITH [redacted] AND WAS KNOWN TO BE A SOCIALITE WITH POLITICAL FIGURES. THEREFORE, WMFO BELIEVES THAT [redacted] WAS INVOLVED IN OR AT LEAST KNOWLEDGEABLE OF [redacted] ACTIVITIES IN WASHINGTON, D.C., INCLUDING HAMMOUD'S RELATIONSHIP WITH BCCI, CLIFFORD, AND [redacted] AS SUCH, THE FOLLOWING LEADS ARE BEING SET. ANY QUESTIONS SHOULD BE DIRECTED TO CO-CASE AGENT [redacted], WMFO, TELEPHONE (202) 324-9302.

HATCH GAVE A SPEECH ON THE SENATE FLOOR IN 2/90, PRAISING THE DOJ IN THEIR PROSECUTION OF BCCI AND THEIR THIRD TIER EMPLOYEES. WMFO BELIEVES HAMMOUD OF BEING A NOMINEE FOR BCCI, MAY HAVE INFLUENCED HATCH TO PROVIDE THIS SPEECH, EVEN THOUGH THE SPEECH WAS DRAFTED BY [redacted] FURTHERMORE, [redacted], WHILE A STAFF MEMBER OF HATCH, SIMULTANEOUSLY CONSULTED HAMMOUD ON A BOOK HAMMOUD WAS WRITING. [redacted] IDENTIFIED HAMMOUD'S BODY IN GENEVA AFTER HAMMOUD'S DEATH. HAMMOUD'S INSURANCE COMPANY REFUSES TO PAY b6 b7C

SUBJECT: HIDDEN INTEREST; OO: WMFO.

REPATELCALLS TO WMFO ON OCTOBER 15, 1992, AND OCTOBER 19, 1992, BETWEEN ALAT [redacted] AND SA [redacted] AND WFTEL DATED OCTOBER 30, 1992.

FOR INFORMATION OF THE BUREAU, BY RETELCALL TO WMFO ON OCOTBER 15, 1992, ALAT [redacted] ADVISED WMFO THAT ON SAME DATE [redacted] HAD ADVISED THAT HE DID NOT KNOW WHEN

[redacted]

62-1325015-000-13435

[redacted] WOULD BE TRAVELING TO AVIGNON OR ANYWHERE ELSE IN FRANCE. AT THE SAME TIME, WMFO WAS ADVISED THAT CONTACT WOULD BE MAINTAINED WITH [redacted] REGARDING THE TRAVEL PLANS OF HAMMOUD AND SHOULD LEGAT PARIS LEARN OF A PROPOSED TRIP, WMFO WOULD BE IMMEDIATELY NOTIFIED. WMFO WAS ALSO ADVISED THAT LEGAT PARIS WOULD REPORT ONLY POSITIVE INFORMATION. b6 b7C

RETELCALL OF OCTOBER 19, 1992, WAS IN RESPONSE TO A FACSIMILE OF A MEMORANDUM DATED OCTOBER 14, 1992, RECEIVED AT LEGAT PARIS ON OCOTBER 19, 1992. THIS COMMUNICATION REQUESTED AUTHORIZATION FROM THE BUREAU FOR SA [redacted] TO TRAVEL TO AVIGNON, FRANCE. THIS COMMUNICATION PROMPTED LEGAT PARIS TO TELEPHONICALLY CONTACT SA [redacted] TO ADVISE THAT IN FACT, LEGAT PARIS COULD NOT VERIFY THAT [redacted] WAS TRAVELING TO FRANCE ON THAT OR ANY OTHER DATE. AT THIS TIME, SA [redacted] ADVISED THAT LEGAT PARIS SHOULD DISREGARD THE FACSIMILE. b6 b7C

ON OCTOBER 20, 1992, LEGAT PARIS AGAIN ATTEMPTED TO TELEPHONICALLY CONTACT [redacted] WHO WAS NOT IN AT THE TIME AND HAS NOT RETURNED THE CALL. b6 b7C

IN VIEW OF THE ABOVE, LEGAT PARIS IS SOMEWHAT PUZZLED BY

REWFTEL DATED OCTOBER 30, 1992, WHEREIN THE BUREAU IS BEING REQUESTED TO AUTHORIZE TRAVEL TO AVIGNON, FRANCE FROM OCTOBER 14-17, 1992, WHEN WMFO HAS BEEN ADVISED THAT LEGAT PARIS DOES NOT HAVE ANY INFORMATION TO INDICATE THAT HAMMOUD WILL BE IN FRANCE ON THAT OR ANY OTHER DATE.

WMFO IS REQUESTED TO CLARIFY REASONS FOR ITS REQUEST IN REFERENCED TELETYPE.

Instructions

Subject Priorities for FBI Arrest or Locates:

A - Subject wanted for crimes of violence (i.e. murder, manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault) or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.

B - Subjects wanted for crimes involving the loss or destruction of property valued in excess of $25,000 or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.

C - All others

Claiming Non-Federal Arrests, Summonses, Recoveries or Convictions:

It is permissible to claim a local arrest, summons, recovery or conviction if the FBI significantly contributed to the accomplishment. A succinct narrative setting forth the basis for the claim must accompany this report. When claiming a local recovery, enter the word "LOCAL" to the right of the amount. Enter "LF" in the "In-Jail" block for all life sentences and "CP" for capital punishment sentences.

Reporting Convictions:

Convictions should not be reported until the sentence has been issued. There are two exceptions to this rule. The conviction information can be submitted by itself if:

1. The subject becomes a fugitive after conviction but prior to sentencing.
2. The subject dies after conviction but prior to sentencing.

An explanation is required in the Remarks section for either of the above exceptions.

Rule 20 Situations:

The field office that obtained the process (normally the office of origin) is the office that should claim the conviction, not the office where the subject enters the plea in cases involving Rule 20 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures.

Investigative Assistance or Techniques (IA/Ts) Used:

-Since more than one IA/T could have contributed to the accomplishment, each IA/T used must be rated.

-The IA/T used must be rated each time an accomplishment is claimed. (For example - if informant information was the basis for a complaint, an arrest, a recovery and a conviction and if separate FD-515s are submitted for each of the aforementioned accomplishments, the "Informant Information" block must be rated on each FD-515 even if it was the same information that contributed to all the accomplishments.)

Race Codes:

C = Chinese; I = Indian/American; J = Japanese; B = Black; O = All other; U = Unknown; W = White

Accountant in BCCI inquiry is charged

AN INVESTIGATOR at the Serious Fraud Office has been charged with conspiracy to pervert the course of justice, following a police investigation into the theft and sale of confidential documents from the SFO's inquiry into the collapse of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International, writes Peter Rodgers.

Mark Braley, who was seconded to the SFO two months ago by his employers, the City accountants Coopers & Lybrand, is to appear in court in London this morning. With Bernard Lynch, a self-employed accountant, he has been charged with conspiring on or before 19 October to remove, destroy or deface documentary evidence relating to fraud trials resulting from the BCCI collapse.

Both men are to appear at Horseferry Road magistrates' court. Mr Braley, 24, is from Bexleyheath, Kent. Mr Lynch, 28, from Forest Hill, London, is not thought to have any connection with the BCCI inquiry. They were arrested in a police operation on Saturday. Mr Braley is part of a full-time team of accountants seconded by Coopers & Lybrand to the SFO to work on the BCCI inquiry.

The investigation into the theft and sale of documents was by the Metropolitan police at the request of the City of London police, the SFO said in a statement last night.

Last week the SFO raided the property and leisure group Control Securities as part of its investigation into BCCI. The raids were partly the result of a confidential paper prepared by accountants.

Fraud Office investigator charged over BCCI inquiry

Dan Atkinson

AN accountant on the Serious Fraud Office inquiry into the Bank of Credit and Commerce International has been arrested on charges of conspiracy to pervert the course of justice, it emerged last night.

He faces charges of attempting to remove, destroy or deface documents connected with the investigation.

Mark Braley, aged 24, of Bexleyheath, South-east London, will appear before Horseferry Road magistrates court, London, today.

He is employed by Britain's biggest accounting firm, Coopers and Lybrand Deloitte, and has been on full-time secondment to the BCCI investigation — one of about 100 City professionals on loan to the fraud office at any one time.

A second man, Bernard Lynch, aged 28, of Forest Hill, south London, will appear in court charged with the same offence. He is not connected with the Serious Fraud Office. The two were arrested on Saturday.

Investigator with SFO is arrested

By Robert Rice, Legal Correspondent

AN INVESTIGATOR with the Serious Fraud Office working on the Bank of Credit and Commerce International inquiry was arrested and charged yesterday with conspiracy to pervert the course of justice.

His arrest follows a Metropolitan Police investigation into the theft and sale of confidential SFO documents relating to the BCCI inquiry.

Mr Mark Braley, 28, of Bexleyheath, Kent, an accountant with Coopers and Lybrand, is on full-time secondment to the BCCI inquiry. A second man, Mr Bernard Lynch, 28, a self-employed accountant, of Forest Hill, south-east London, is also charged with the same offence. Mr Lynch has no connection with the SFO.

Both men will appear at Horseferry Road magistrates' court in London today charged that "on or before October 19 they conspired to commit an offence by removing, destroying or defacing documentary evidence relating to fraud trials resulting from the collapse of BCCI last July".

Among the documents they are accused of stealing is believed to be one widely circulated to the national press relating to the SFO's investigation into links between Control Securities, the property and leisure group, and BCCI.

Last Thursday, share dealing in Control Securities, which is run by Mr Nazmudin Virani and his two brothers Alnashir and Zulfikar, was suspended by the London Stock Exchange after a raid on the company's headquarters in London.

The document is understood to be a "position paper" dated October 4 which outlines the SFO's interest in finding out whether BCCI was using the accounts of companies within the Virani group to dress up its annual results.

Money may have been borrowed from Virani companies by BCCI to improve the bank's results shortly before they were audited, to be returned after the bank audit had been completed.

The document is also understood to detail investigators' interest in "charges of $22.5m (£13m) made by BCCI's Cayman Islands branch to Virani company accounts. Former BCCI officers have claimed that the bank used this procedure to hoodwink its auditors.

Virani group company accounts under investigation include those of NM Properties, Virani Group UK, Zelva Anstalt, Winstonglen and Greencrest Trading.

The SFO is thought to be looking into four possible offences: theft, false accounting, insider trading and creating a false market.

Fraud office raids Control Securities HQ

By Richard Donkin

THE Serious Fraud Office launched a series of dawn raids yesterday on companies and private addresses in London in connection with its investigation into the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International.

The police raids were centred on the Gillingham Street headquarters of Control Securities, the property and leisure group run by the millionaire Virani brothers. The London Stock Exchange suspended dealing in the company's shares at 16¼p before the market opened.

Mr Nazmudin Virani, the 42-year-old chairman and chief executive of Control Securities, supported on the board by his brothers, Alnashir and Zulfikar, yesterday denied any wrongdoing. He was reported to have been a victim of BCCI's collapse after it was shut down by the Bank of England in July.

The SFO action involved visits to the homes of all three brothers and the removal of documents from Control Securities and the Virani Group which share the same headquarters.

Control Securities recorded a pre-tax loss of £3.3m in the financial year to the end of March. The loss was blamed on the falling property market and £5.4m in provisions to cover the group's exposure to BCCI.

The company was forced to write off £2m in deposits at BCCI and to provide for the loss of rent on two properties leased to the bank.

Before the suspension, shares in Control Securities had recovered most of the ground lost when they fell 33 per cent after the BCCI collapse but they are far below their 1987 peak of 107p.

The Control Securities empire, which owns more than 100 properties, 23 hotels and 720 public houses, was started six years ago by the brothers, who were expelled from Uganda in 1972 by the country's former president Mr Idi Amin.

Investigators are aware of a deal involving Virani and Control Securities subsidiaries in which they joined forces with a company run from the London headquarters of Mr Gaith Pharaon, the Saudi Arabian financier who is alleged to have acted as a frontman for BCCI in some of its purchases of stakes in US banks.

The companies held equal shares in a company called Tapiute which was formed to buy Ocarina Hotels, a group of 27 Spanish Hotels, from Bass Holdings, the UK brewing company, for £145m. Bass has refused to say what payments it has received on the deal.

According to the report from an investigation carried out into BCCI between October 1990 and April 1991 on behalf of the Abu Dhabi government, BCCI had a charge over the shares in Ocarina backed by guarantees from Control Securities and Balace, the Pharaon-related company, for £17.5m each.

The report says that BCCI holds share certificates in Control Securities representing 10 per cent of the group. This contrasts with a Virani statement earlier this year that BCCI's holding was 5.5 per cent.

Synopsis: GHAITH R. PHARAON is wanted to stand trial for Federal Wire Fraud and Racketeering offenses. He is one of the subjects of indictment number 91-655-7 (JHG), filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia (Washington, D.C.) on November 15, 1991. The indictment charges PHARAON with (1) Conspiracy to Commit Wire Fraud, in violation of Title 18, USC, 371; (2) Wire Fraud, in violation of Title 18, USC, 1343; (3) Conspiracy to Commit Racketeering, in violation of Title 18, USC, 1962(d); and (4) Aiding and Abetting, in violation of Title 18, USC, 2. OBTAINING OF FEDERAL PROCESS:

On November 15, 1992, GHAITH PHARAON was indicted in the U.S. District Court (USDC) for the District of Columbia (DC), Washington, D.C., for deceiving state and federal regulators in the Bank of Credit and Commerce International's (BCCI's) secret acquisition of the Independence Bank, and fraudulent securities transactions involving Centrust Savings Bank. On November 18, 1991, the USDC for the DC issued an arrest warrant for PHARAON. This warrant for PHARAON's arrest was signed by U.S. Magistrate Judge ALAN KAY. PHARAON was also indicted by the Southern District of Florida on May 29, 1992. These indictments were also in connection with the unlawful activities of PHARAON and BCCI.

SUMMARY OF OFFENSE:

Beginning in or about January, 1984, and continuing until in or about December, 1989, in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, GHAITH PHARAON and others knowingly and willfully combined, conspired, and confederated with others to defraud the United States, in particular, the Board, FDIC, FHLBB, and FSLIC, of and concerning their right to have their business and affairs conducted free from deceit, dishonesty, impairment, and obstruction, by impeding, hindering, obstructing, and defeating by deceitful and dishonest means the lawful functions and operations of said agencies of the United States in regulating and supervising activities of the BCCI group and their United States branches or agencies. From this conspiracy, PHARAON and others would enrich themselves by taking advantage of opportunities to deceive and exploit United States financial institutions, deceive United States federal regulatory agencies, and deceive persons and entities throughout the United States.

BCCI, with the assistance of GHAITH PHARAON, through deceptive stock purchases by way of hidden stock pledges, nominee agreements, non-recourse loans, loan releases, beneficial interest agreements, and outright falsehoods, fabrications, and omissions on applications in reports filed with state and federal regulatory agencies, would acquire and maintain control and influence over the Independence Bank and the Centrust Savings Bank.

Also during this time frame, GHAITH PHARAON took part in a conspiracy in the Northern District of Georgia that defrauded the United States, in particular, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). PHARAON was also involved in misapplication of bank funds and bank bribery. These illegal activities centered around PHARAON, BCCI, and their connection with the National Bank of Georgia.

BCCI suspicions raised 16 months before closure

By David Lascelles in London and Alan Friedman in New York

SUSPICIONS that led to the discovery of fraud at Bank of Credit and Commerce International were first put to the bank's executives in March 1990, 18 months before the bank was closed down, an FT investigation has revealed.

So far the Bank of England, which supervised BCCI's UK activities, and Price Waterhouse, the auditor, have insisted that although "false or deceitful" accounting was uncovered in early 1990, there was no evidence of systematic fraud until a detailed investigation in 1991.

Evidence of manipulation of the loan accounts of the Gulf shipping group, BCCI's largest customer, was uncovered by PW in the course of preparation of the bank's 1989 accounts. It was discussed at two meetings at the PW offices in early March 1990. One description of the meetings was given yesterday by Mr Maqbool Rahman, BCCI's chief financial officer, who was at both. The first was attended by three PW auditors and the second a day later, included Mr Swaleh Naqvi, the bank's chief executive.

The meetings were called at the instigation of Mr Christopher Cowan, the PW partner in charge of the audit. Mr Rahman's notes of the meeting, copies of which have been obtained by the FT, quote Mr Cowan as condemning "lies and concealment" by the staff of Mr Naqvi. The notes, taken by Mr Rahman, record Mr Cowan as saying: "As long as there are bogus transactions on the books we can't proceed."

The word "fraud" is not used in the notes, but Mr Rahman claimed yesterday: "Price Waterhouse's whole emphasis was that it was no longer a question of our provisions being too little. It was that fraudulent transactions had been found."

Last night PW declined to comment on the meetings, citing customer confidentiality. It is understood that the second meeting, in particular, reviewed the evidence of account manipulation, as well as highlighting problem areas in the 1989 accounts.

The information was passed to the Bank of England. But at this stage BCCI's known financial problems were so severe that the regulators agreed to pursue a $2.2bn rescue proposed by Abu Dhabi, the bank's largest shareholder.

As part of that arrangement, the bank's headquarters would move to Abu Dhabi. Files from BCCI's London offices were flown to Abu Dhabi with PW's approval. These files were later discovered to include the private files kept by Mr Naqvi, detailing the BCCI frauds.

PW has said it was happy for the documents to go to Abu Dhabi.

HIDDEN INTEREST

FORMER FIRST AMERICAN BANK OFFICIALS CLARK M. CLIFFORD AND ROBERT A. ALTMAN INDICTED IN BCCI CASE

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The Department of Justice announced today that a federal grand jury has indicted Clark M. Clifford and Robert A. Altman, former top officials of the First American Bank, on charges of conspiring to defraud the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FED) and concealing material facts in connection with the FED's investigation of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI).

The three-count indictment, returned in U.S. District Court in Washington, alleged among other things that Clifford and Altman enriched themselves through loans and other agreements with BCCI, performed a number of acts to curry favor with BCCI, concealed their BCCI loan arrangements from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and breached their duty of loyalty to the First American banks.

Clifford, 85, is a former chairman of the board of the holding companies over the First American Corporation. Altman, 45, is a former president of First American Corporation. Both are attorneys in Washington, D.C.

Attorney General William P. Barr said: "Today's indictment represents another significant step in the Department of Justice investigation of the complex BCCI case. The federal investigation is continuing on a number of fronts."

Barr added that "The Justice Department has worked in close coordination with the Office of District Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau of the County of New York and the Federal Reserve Board, and we are grateful for their assistance in this investigation."

At the same time, the Justice Department and the District Attorney's Office said that Sheik Kamal Adham, a businessman in Saudi Arabia, and Sayed Jawhary, Adham's accountant, pleaded guilty on Monday in New York State Supreme Court to charges arising out of the BCCI case and Adham agreed to pay $105 million in reparations and fines.

Adham and Jawhary were accused of playing a significant role in the secret ownership of First American Bankshares by an enterprise called the BCC Group.

Both the Justice Department and the District Attorney's Office agreed to the state court sentence, which imposed the $105 million penalty and requires Adham and Jawhary to fully cooperate with the continuing federal and state investigations of BCCI.

The federal indictment said Clifford and Altman concealed and covered up facts material to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The indictment also said Clifford and Altman received loans from BCCI for the purchase of shares in Credit and Commerce American Holdings, N.V., the top-tier bank holding company that owned the First American banks.

"Aware that the loan and related agreements would be important to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and might trigger FED regulatory action," Clifford and Altman deliberately concealed those agreements from the regulators, the indictment said.

The indictment alleged that Clifford and Altman, while serving as attorneys for BCCI and as officers and directors of First American Bank, enriched themselves through secret financial arrangements with BCCI, which resulted in millions of dollars of profits to them, and then conspired to keep those arrangements from the federal regulators.

The Department said that two other legal actions were brought against Clifford and Altman at the same time. In one, both were indicted on criminal charges in New York City today by District Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau of Manhattan. In the other, the FED brought an administrative action against Clifford and Altman.

Attorney General Barr stressed on December 19, 1991, that a global settlement against BCCI at that time--requiring the bank to forfeit all of its assets in the United States, valued at approximately $550 million, and plead guilty to racketeering charges--was the result of intensive cooperation between the Justice Department, Morgenthau's office, and the FED.

The legal actions being announced today are the results of the continuing cooperation among all of the agencies.

Today's federal indictment was developed by a Justice Department Task Force that included prosecutors from the Fraud Section of the Criminal Division and the Office of the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The charges and maximum penalties upon conviction are:

-- Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 371 (Conspiracy): five years in prison and a $250,000 fine (one count).

-- Title 18 U.S. Code, Section 1001 (Concealing Material Facts by Trick and Device): five years in prison and a $250,000 fine (two counts).

The Justice Department said a number of agencies and officials made major contributions to development of today's indictment. They include:

-- District Attorney's staff--John W. Moscow, Deputy Chief of the Investigation Division; James M. Kindler, Executive Assistant District Attorney; Michael G. Cherkasky, chief of the Investigation Division.

-- Justice Department--G. Allen Carver and Anthony L. Leffert, prosecutors in the Fraud Section of the Criminal Division; and Mark Dubester and Larry Parkinson, prosecutors in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia.

-- Federal Reserve Bank of New York; and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve, J. Virgil Mattingly, Richard A. Small, Katherine Wheatley, and Thomas C. Baxter.

-- Overseas:

o The United Kingdom's Serious Fraud Office, George Staples and Christopher Dickson.

o The Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI and Commissaire of Bank of Credit and Commerce Brian Smouha.

DETAILS: In February 1991, WMFO initiated a financial institution fraud matter predicated upon a criminal referral from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (BGFRS) alleging that false and fraudulent statements had been made concerning BCCI's ownership and control of Credit and Commerce American Holdings (CCAH), the parent-holding company of First American Bankshares (FABS), Washington, D.C. FABS is the parent-holding company of First American Bank (FAB), Washington, D.C.

On 5/21/91, WMFO received additional criminal referrals from the BGFRS concerning BCCI's use of Saudi Arabian businessman Ghaith Pharaon as a nominee in the acquisition of the IB, Encino, California, and the National Bank of Georgia (NBG), Atlanta, Georgia.

On 12/19/91, BCCI agreed to plead guilty to Federal and state charges of racketeering, fraud, and money-laundering. Specifically BCCI was charged with secretly acquiring control and influence over FAB, IB, and NBG. The plea agreement required that BCCI forfeit all of its assets in the United States to the

Instructions

Subject Priorities for FBI Arrest or Locates:

A - Subject wanted for crimes of violence (i.e. murder, manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault) or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.

B - Subjects wanted for crimes involving the loss or destruction of property valued in excess of $25,000 or convicted of such crimes in the past five years.

C - All others

Claiming Non-Federal Arrests, Summonses, Recoveries or Convictions:

It is permissible to claim a local arrest, summons, recovery or conviction if the FBI significantly contributed to the accomplishment. A succinct narrative setting forth the basis for the claim must accompany this report. When claiming a local recovery, enter the word "LOCAL" to the right of the amount. Enter "LF" in the "In-Jail" block for all life sentences and "CP" for capital punishment sentences.

Reporting Convictions:

Convictions should not be reported until the sentence has been issued. There are two exceptions to this rule. The conviction information can be submitted by itself if:

1. The subject becomes a fugitive after conviction but prior to sentencing.
2. The subject dies after conviction but prior to sentencing.

An explanation is required in the Remarks section for either of the above exceptions.

Rule 20 Situations:

The field office that obtained the process (normally the office of origin) is the office that should claim the conviction, not the office where the subject enters the plea in cases involving Rule 20 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures.

Investigative Assistance or Techniques (IA/Ts) Used:

-Since more than one IA/T could have contributed to the accomplishment, each IA/T used must be rated.

-The IA/T used must be rated each time an accomplishment is claimed. (For example - if informant information was the basis for a complaint, an arrest, a recovery and a conviction and if separate FD-515s are submitted for each of the aforementioned accomplishments, the "Informant Information" block must be rated on each FD-515 even if it was the same information that contributed to all the accomplishments.)

INFORMATIVE NOTE

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR INFORMATION ON BCCI.

Last July 5 the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) was forced to close its Madrid branch when it license was suspended by Banco de España [Bank of Spain]. This paralleled actions taken in LUXEMBOURG, CANADA, FRANCE, GREAT BRITAIN, and the CAYMAN ISLANDS.

Banco de España has followed the activities of the Spanish branch of BCCI for several years. The scrutiny became more intense in 1990 when it declared a loss of 1.246 billion pesetas and earmarked 1.041 billion to guarantee insolvencies.

BCCI began to operate in SPAIN in 1983 when it bought the old Banco de Descuento [Discount Bank] from the Fondo de Garantía de Depósitos (FGD) [Deposit Insurance Fund] at an auction. The license suspension means relying on the FGD again. It will be in charge of the liquidation and search for either a Spanish or foreign buyer who will be responsible for the eighteen offices BCCI has in SPAIN, which employ 267 people.

The FGD will return the money from the accounts to the bank customers up to a maximum of one and a half million pesetas. Those customers whose deposits exceed said amount should wait for liquidation of the assets.

When the Spanish branch of BCCI was audited, it had 4.383 billion pesetas in capital available and reserves of 87 (million pesetas).

The BCCI case is one of the most well-known in which a financial institution has been used to launder money and finance internationally condemned activities. Examples are laundering the profits from illegal activities carried out by MANUEL ANTONIO NORIEGA and other traffickers, or the economic support that this bank has given terrorist organizations which have acted during the last few years in Europe.

Request: information on institutions and persons, directors or executives, relating to illegal arms and drug

NOTA INFORMATIVA

ASUNTO: SOLICITUD DE INFORMACION SOBRE EL BCCI.

El 5 de julio pasado el Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) se vio obligado a cerrar su filial en Madrid al ser suspendida su licencia por el Banco de España. Esta acción fue paralela a las llevadas a cabo en LUXEMBURGO, CANADA, FRANCIA, REINO UNIDO e ISLAS CAIMAN.

El Banco de España mantenía desde hace varios años un seguimiento de las actividades de la filial española del BCCI, que ha sido más intenso a partir de 1.990 al declarar pérdidas por el valor de 1.246 millones de pesetas y destinar 1.041 millones al saneamiento de insolvencias.

El BCCI comenzó a operar en ESPAÑA durante el año 1.983 cuando compró, a través de subasta, el antiguo Banco de Descuento al Fondo de Garantía de Depósitos (FGD). La retirada de la licencia supone volver a depender otra vez de F.G.D., que se encargará de realizar la liquidación y de buscar un comprador bien nacional bien extranjero, que se responsabilice de las dieciocho oficinas que el BCCI tiene en ESPAÑA, manteniendo de esta forma el empleo de los 267 trabajadores de las mismas.

El F.G.D. devolverá el dinero de las cuentas a los clientes del banco hasta un máximo de un millón y medio de pesetas. Aquellos clientes cuyos depósitos superen dicha cifra deberán esperar a la liquidación de los activos.

En el momento de la intervención de la filial española del BCCI disponía de un capital de 4.383 millones de pesetas y unas reservas de 87.

El caso del BCCI es uno de los más notorios en los que una institución financiera se ha utilizado para blanquear dinero negro y financiar operaciones internacionalmente condenadas. Ejemplos son el blanqueo de beneficios procedentes de actividades ilegales llevadas a cabo por MANUEL ANTONIO NORIEGA y otros traficantes, o el apoyo económico que este banco ha prestado a organizaciones terroristas los cuales han actuado durante estos últimos años en Europa.

CONFIDENCIAL

Se solicita: información sobre instituciones y personas, directivos o ejecutivos, relacionados con operaciones de comercio ilegal de armas y droga, blanqueo de dinero negro y financiación de organizaciones terroristas en las que haya intervenido el BCCI. De igual forma, en lo referente a las presiones que en un momento determinado, se hayan podido ejercer sobre personalidades del mundo empresarial, financiero o político, así como cualquier otra información que complete nuestras bases de datos.

Limited; Agha Hasan Abedi; Swaleh Naqvi; and Ghaith Pharaon charging violations of the conspiracy, wire fraud, and RICO statutes. In January 1992, BCCI plead guilty in the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia, and BCCI was ordered to forfeit all of its assets in the United States (approximately $550 million in cash and other assets). The following investigation was conducted by Financial Analyst [redacted] Tallahassee Resident Agency, on July 21, 1992. b6 b7C

Fourteen (14) file cabinets seized from the State of Florida, Department of Insurance, containing records of THE INSURANCE EXCHANGE OF THE AMERICAS, INC., was reviewed by writer. The review was limited to computerizing names of individuals and businesses and their addresses which were contained in the files for any such future use.

The results of that review are contained in the attached computer printout, which consists of an alphabetical listing of the individuals and businesses, along with the location of the document, the type of document, and the date of the specific document that the name and address was taken from.

On July 20, 1992, a cross-reference check was conducted by writer to the computer printout prepared by writer to the twelve (12) page listing titled "BCCINAME" prepared by FBIHQ for any matches on individuals and/or businesses on either lists.

This review was conducted with negative results.

RE WF TEL TO FBIHQ AND LEGAT PARIS, 4/28/92; LEGAT MONTEVIDEO TEL, 5/22/92.

THE PURPOSES OF THIS COMMUNICATION ARE TO SUMMARIZE THE RESULTS OF THE TRAVEL TO PARIS, FRANCE, BY WMFO SAS [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] AND TO COMMEND PARIS ALAT [redacted] FOR HER ASSISTANCE DURING THAT TRIP.

29B-WF-171994-317

[redacted] (WMFO WILL SEEK TO SECURE FBI INTERESTS IN THIS MATTER.)

ON 6/3-6/4/92, THE MAIN OBJECTIVE OF THE TRIP WAS MET--PARTICIPATION IN THE EXECUTION OF SEARCHES OF TWO RESIDENCES AND THE OFFICES OF CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL, INC., ALL BELONGING TO FUGITIVE GHAITH RACHAD PHARAON. THE SEARCHES RESULTED IN THE LOCATION AND SEIZURE [redacted] OF A LARGE AMOUNT OF b7D RELEVANT DOCUMENTS, AS WELL AS FINDING INFORMATION WHICH MAY LEAD TO THE APPREHENSION OF PHARAON. [redacted]

[redacted]

THE PARIS LOCATIONS SEARCHED ON 6/3/92, PURSUANT TO THE U.S.' ROGATORY COMMISSION WERE 1 AVENUE DU MARECHAL MAUNAURY; 61 RUE DE LA BOETIE; AND THE OFFICES OF CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL, 4 PLACE DE LA CONCORDE. THE FIRST LOCATION, 1 AVENUE DU MARECHAL MAUNAURY, WHERE ENTRY WAS MADE WITHOUT INCIDENT AT 7:00 A.M., b6 b7C WAS FOUND TO BE THE RESIDENCE OF [redacted] WHO WAS PRESENT. SOME DOCUMENTS RELATING TO THE NATIONAL BANK OF GEORGIA (NBG) AND INDEPENDENCE BANK (IB), AND BCCI, WERE SEIZED AT THAT LOCATION.

61 RUE DE LA BOETIE, WHICH ALSO WAS ENTERED WITHOUT INCIDENT

AT 7:00 A.M. ON 6/3/92, WAS FOUND TO BE FURNISHED BUT UNOCCUPIED. NOTHING WAS REMOVED FROM THAT LOCATION.

THE OFFICES OF CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL AT 4 PLACE DE LA CONCORDE, WERE ENTERED WITHOUT INCIDENT AT 9:00 A.M. THE ENSUING SEARCH LASTED, WITHOUT INTERRUPTION, UNTIL 2:30 A.M. ON 6/4/92. DOCUMENTS LOCATED AND SEIZED ON BEHALF OF THE U.S. RELATED TO BCCI, NBG AND IB.

IT WAS ALSO DETERMINED DURING THIS TRIP THAT THE REQUESTS CONTAINED IN THE ROGATORY COMMISSION WERE INSUFFICIENT TO COVER SUCH THINGS AS SEARCHES OF AT LEAST TWO OTHER PHARAON RESIDENCES (ONE IN CANNES, FRANCE, THE OTHER A "CASTLE" KNOWN AS MONTEFORT, LOCATED IN SARLAT, FRANCE) AND A YACHT, "LE PHARAON"; OTHER DOCUMENTS RELATING TO KNOWN RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN BCCI AND PHARAON; OR INTERVIEWS OF PERSONS AT THE VARIOUS LOCATIONS, WHO INCLUDED [redacted] OF CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL) [redacted] [redacted]

b7C

DOCUMENTS SEEN IN CONCORDE INTERNATIONAL'S PREMISES INDICATED THAT IT IS THROUGH THAT COMPANY THAT EXPENSES INCURRED BY THE PHARAON FAMILY ARE PAID, TO INCLUDE MAINTENANCE OF THE VARIOUS RESIDENCES AND THE YACHT, "LE PHARAON." WITH REGARD TO THE "LE PHARAON," RECORDS INDICATED IT IS A 150-PLUS-FOOT, OCEAN-GOING VESSEL WHICH WAS LAUNCHED IN 1990, AND HAS A CREW COMPRISED OF AN AMERICAN CAPTAIN AND AT LEAST THREE PHILIPPINOS. RECENT COMMUNICATIONS TO AND FROM THE YACHT INDICATED THAT IT WAS IN DRY DOCK IN CASABLANCA, MOROCCO; THAT THE PHILIPPINO CREW HAD BEEN SENT HOME IN EARLY-4/92, AND WAS EXPECTED TO RETURN TO CASABLANCA

ON OR ABOUT 6/1/92. MOROCCO IS COVERED BY LEGAT PARIS; ALAT [redacted] WAS REQUESTED TO ASCERTAIN WHETHER THE YACHT IS INDEED THERE. b6 b7C

WMFO WISHES TO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO RECOGNIZE AND THANK PARIS ALAT [redacted] FOR HER OUTSTANDING COOPERATION AND ASSISTANCE IN THIS MATTER. HER FLUENCY IN BOTH FRENCH AND SPANISH WERE INVALUABLE IN DEALING WITH THIS TRULY INTERNATIONAL EFFORT, IN WHICH CONTEMPORANEOUS THREE-LANGUAGE DISCUSSIONS WERE NECESSARY AND FREQUENT. ALTHOUGH SHE HAS BEEN PART OF THE PARIS STAFF FOR ONLY ABOUT A MONTH, ALAT [redacted] ALAT [redacted] ALSO WAS PRESENT DURING THE ENTIRE SEARCH EFFORT, WHICH BEGAN AT 6:30 A.M. AND LASTED THROUGH 2:30 A.M. THE NEXT MORNING. HER PRESENCE AT AND PARTICIPATION IN THE SEARCHES WERE MUCH APPRECIATED AND PROVED TO BE CRITICAL FACTORS IN THEIR SUCCESS. b6 b7C b7D

LEADS: LEGAT PARIS: AT CASABLANCA, MOROCCO: ASCERTAIN PRESENCE AND STATUS OF YACHT "LE PHARAON".

RE WF TEL TO FBIHQ AND LEGAT LONDON, 5/22/92.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS COMMUNICATION IS MAINLY TO SUMMARIZE THE RESULTS OF THE TRAVEL TO LONDON BY WMFO SAS [redacted] b6 b7C

AND [redacted]

FOR INFORMATION FBIHQ AND LEGAT LONDON, WMFO SAS, ACCOMPANIED BY DOJ ATTORNEYS (AUSA) [redacted] AND [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] AND ASPEN SYSTEMS CORPORATION (ASC) [redacted]

[redacted] MET WITH BCCI/LONDON'S LIQUIDATOR, [redacted] AND

[redacted]

[redacted] THE PURPOSES OF THE MEETING WERE TO SURVEY THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE RECORDS WHICH WOULD BE AVAILABLE, AND TO EXPLORE WHAT FACILITIES WOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR REVIEWING AND PROCESSING THOSE RECORDS.

FROM THE PRESENTATION OF [redacted] AND HIS STAFF, IT WAS b6 b7C

DETERMINED THAT THE POPULATION OF RECORDS CONSISTS OF SOME 64,000

29B-WF-171994-36

BOXES OF DOCUMENTS, I.E., ABOUT 150 MILLION PAGES. APPROXIMATELY HALF OF THESE DOCUMENTS ARE LOCATED AT BCCI/LONDON'S HEADQUARTERS (100 LEADENHALL STREET), ALMOST ANOTHER HALF IN AN ARCHIVAL COLLECTION IN A WAREHOUSE, AND THE REMAINDER AT THREE OTHER BRANCHES IN OTHER CITIES. FORTUNATELY, [redacted] AND HIS STAFF HAVE HAD PRIOR EXPERIENCE WITH LARGE LIQUIDATIONS IN WHICH EVIDENTIARY CONCERNS WERE A FACTOR. THEREFORE, CONSIDERABLE AND APPARENTLY VERY EFFECTIVE STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO BE ABLE TO ACCOUNT FOR WHAT RECORDS ARE AVAILABLE AND THE SOURCE-LOCATIONS OF THOSE RECORDS. THERE IS A COMPUTERIZED INDEX OF ALL BOXES, COMPRISED OF AT LEAST A PARAGRAPH ON THE CONTENTS IF NOT A MORE COMPLETE DESCRIPTION; IN SOME CASES, DOCUMENT BY DOCUMENT. SOME OF THE STATISTICS INCLUDE: 20,000 BOXES WITH DETAILED INDICES; 1,000 BOXES OF "INTERESTING" DOCUMENTS COLLECTED FROM DESKS AND CABINETS CONTROLLED BY BCCI OFFICIALS; AND ABOUT 3,000 "IMPORTANT" DOCUMENTS SO DESIGNATED BY [redacted] STAFF. A LOG OF THE MOVEMENTS OF ALL BOXES AND/OR DOCUMENTS HAS BEEN MAINTAINED. THERE ALSO EXIST ABOUT 12,000 CUSTOMER FILES AT LEADENHALL STREET, AND ANOTHER 25,000 AT THE OTHER LOCATIONS IN THE COUNTRY. MICROFILM RECORDS OF TRANSACTION VOUCHERS ALSO HAVE BEEN FOUND AND CATALOGUED, ALTHOUGH HARD-COPIES OF THOSE VOUCHERS OLDER THAN 1985 APPARENTLY WERE DESTROYED. ALSO, THERE IS A "FALCON" COMPUTER SYSTEM CONTAINING RECORDS OF APPROXIMATELY 144,000 CUSTOMER ACCOUNTS, DATING FROM 1/1/77 TO 7/5/91 (THE LATTER DATE BEING WHEN THE LIQUIDATOR ASSUMED CONTROL OF BCCI).

PART OF THE LIQUIDATOR'S PRESENTATION WAS A TOUR OF FOUR POTENTIAL OFF-SITE LOCATIONS IN WHICH THE DOCUMENTS COULD BE

REVIEWED AND PROCESSED. ACCORDING TO [redacted] THERE IS NOT SUFFICIENT ROOM IN THE LEADENHALL STREET FACILITY FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE TASK FORCE TO DO THEIR WORK. WMFO BELIEVES THAT, OVER A PERIOD OF 4-TO-6 MONTHS, AND ASSUMING THE APPLICABILITY AND VIABLITY OF THE LIQUIDATOR'S INDICES, A GROUP OF TEN PEOPLE (5 SAS AND 5 FAS), WORKING IN A SPACE OF ABOUT 3,500-TO-4,000 SQUARE FEET, COULD REVIEW THE RECORDS IN THE U.K.. BASED ON WHAT WMFO SAS WERE TOLD, SUCH A SPACE WOULD RENT FOR AT LEAST $50,000 PER QUARTER. THE LIQUIDATOR CAN AND WILL IMMEDIATELY PROVIDE THE FURNISHINGS FOR THE OFF-SITE OUT OF STOCK ALREADY ON HAND.

WITH REGARD TO PROCESSING THE DOCUMENTS, WMFO BELIEVES THAT, RATHER THAN SELECTING AND THEN PHOTOCOPYING DOCUMENTS TO BE SENT BACK TO THE U.S. FOR ASC PROCESSING, THE MOST DESIRABLE, EFFECTIVE AND EFFICIENT MEANS OF PROCESSING THE RECORDS WOULD BE TO HAVE TWO ASC SCANNERS ON SITE, THEREBY PRODUCING ONLY A FEW HUNDRED COMPUTER DISKS WHICH HAVE TO BE SHIPPED AND STORED, RATHER THAN WHAT COULD EASILY PROVE TO BE BETWEEN 500-AND-1000 BOXES OF PHOTOCOPIES.

ON 6/9/92, DOJ DIRECTED THAT ASC PRESENT A PROPOSAL FOR PROCESSING THE BCCI/LONDON RECORDS. ON 6/10/92, THE PACE ORDER WAS SIGNED. THEREFORE, WMFO ANTICIPATES MAKING A REQUEST IN THE NEAR FUTURE FOR TRAVEL AUTHORIZATION AND POSSIBLY FOR TDY ASSISTANCE. WMFO ESTIMATES THAT SOME COMBINATION OF SAS AND FAS TOTALLING TEN PEOPLE WILL BE REQUIRED FOR THE REVIEW, WHICH WILL TAKE PROBABLY 4-TO-6 MONTHS TO COMPLETE.

BASED ON WMFO'S DISCUSSIONS WITH DOJ AND ASC ABOUT THE UPCOMING LONDON DOCUMENT PROJECT, WMFO LEARNED THAT THE SAME

BUDGETARY PROBLEMS THAT HAVE PLAGUED THIS CASE FOR SOME TIME WILL AGAIN REQUIRE SOME CREATIVE SOLUTION. AS WITH THE TASK FORCE CO-LOCATION EFFORT, DOJ HAS NO FUNDS FOR RENTING SPACE FOR THE LONDON PROJECT, OTHER THAN FUNDS SLATED FOR ASC'S CONTRACT. TO USE THOSE FUNDS TO COVER ALL THE COSTS OF THE LONDON PROJECT WOULD ONLY DIMINISH THE AMOUNT AVAILABLE FOR DOCUMENT PROCESSING. IN WMFO'S OPINION, THE USE OF ASC-DESIGNATED FUNDS FOR OTHER THAN THE EXPENSE OF PROCESSING THE RECORDS IS UNDESIRABLE, PARTICULARLY IN LIGHT OF THE FACT THERE ARE SEVERAL OTHER POPULATIONS OF RECORDS YET TO BE SURVEYED AND HANDLED.

SOME SOLUTION TO THE OFF-SITE SPACE PROBLEM MIGHT BE FOUND IN UTILIZING AVAILABLE SPACE IN SOME U.S. [redacted] b7D GOVERNMENT FACILITY, OR IN SOME DORMANT BCCI BRANCH. WITH REGARD TO THE LATTER, WMFO WILL BROACH THE POSSIBILITY OF USING A BCCI BRANCH TO THE LIQUIDATOR THROUGH DOJ, ALTHOUGH IT SHOULD BE NOTED THAT, IF THE LIQUIDATOR IS ALREADY PAYING RENT ON SUCH SPACE, THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, BY VIRTUE OF THE PLEA AGREEMENT, WOULD HAVE TO REIMBURSE THE LIQUIDATOR FOR THE USE OF IT, UNDER THE RATIONALE OF IT BEING COSTS INCURRED IN RECORD PRODUCTION.

LEADS: LEGAT LONDON: AT LONDON, ENGLAND: WILL ASCERTAIN THE AVAILABILITY OF 3,500-4,000 SQUARE FEET OF OFFICE SPACE (THE NAVAL ANNEX ON GROSVENOR SQUARE WAS MENTIONED AS A POSSIBILITY) THAT WOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR APPROXIMATELY 6 MONTHS, BEGINNING IN MID-JULY, 1992.

official (GM-15 or above) and additional resources be assigned on a TDY basis to this investigation which has escalated to a multi-faceted case, complex and global in scope, and is considered to be the top FIF priority at both FBIHQ and DOJ. It is recommended that this GM-15 level or higher be immediately assigned on a TDY basis (for a time frame less than one year), to report directly to SAC, WMFO; with line authority to oversee and prioritize the entire investigation; to have day-to-day liaison with FBIHQ, DOJ, and other local, Federal, and foreign investigative officials; and to respond to various Congressional and Senate inquiries concerning BCCI. In addition it is recommended that additional Agent and support resources be assigned to this matter on a TDY basis for less than one year, including one SSA who will have responsibility for the overall review of BCCI documents and records. SAC, WMFO concurs with these recommendations.

This matter requires a complete, comprehensive, and immediate law enforcement response. This recommendation is being made to enable the FBI to more effectively coordinate this matter as an equal partner with DOJ and to better manage the world-wide investigation now encompassing at least three different CID program areas and numerous FBI field offices and Legal Attaches (Legats).

The FBI has aggressively pursued this matter since initiation; however, case management and direction has, from the onset, been directed at the highest levels of DOJ. A DOJ individual at the Senior Executive Service (SES) level routinely contacts WMFO management personnel at the supervisory level and/or investigative personnel (GM-14/GS-13), providing instructions as to what is to be done. The daily interfacing necessary by FBI management officials with the DOJ requires that a management official at the GM-15 level or higher supervise this investigation to insure that FBI interests are preserved.

In February 1991, WMFO initiated this investigation based on a criminal referral from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (BGFRS) alleging that false and fraudulent statements had been made concerning BCCI's ownership and control of Credit and Commerce American Holdings, the parent-holding company of First American Bankshares (FABS), Washington, D.C. Subsequent BGFRS criminal referrals alleged false statements had been made concerning the ownership and control of the National Bank of Georgia (NBG), Atlanta, Georgia, and the Independence Bank (IB), Encino, California. In January 1992, four corporate BCCI entities plead guilty to criminal charges in U.S. District Court, Washington, D.C., and BCCI was ordered to forfeit over $550 million in cash and other assets. In addition, the BCCI plea agreement required that BCCI liquidators provide full cooperation in the ongoing investigation to include access to documents and witnesses. Since initiation, this case has significantly expanded to include numerous criminal allegations in addition to FIF.

b7C

WMFO is coordinating this matter with the DOJ, Fraud Section and U.S. Attorney's Offices in Atlanta, Los Angeles, Miami, Tampa, and Washington, D.C. Currently WMFO has twelve full-time Agents and one Financial Analyst (FA) assigned to this matter. The principal relief supervisor of WMFO's squad C-5 has been tasked with the day-to-day supervision of the BCCI matter. WMFO has submitted a request to FBIHQ to approve the appointment of this individual to a temporary GS-14. In addition, WMFO has recently requested an additional six FAs for pending document review. The Atlanta, Los Angeles, and Miami Offices have two, two, and four Agents assigned respectively to this matter. Seventeen DOJ Trial Attorneys and Assistant U.S. Attorneys from the Washington, D.C. area are assigned to this matter under the direction of the Principal Deputy Chief of the Fraud Section, DOJ.

On 3/13/92, FBIHQ officials met at DOJ with high ranking DOJ officials to include Robert Mueller, Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division; Larry Urgenson, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division; Thomas R. Reinhardt, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legislative Affairs; G. Allen Carver, Principal Deputy Chief, Fraud Section; and [redacted], Trial Attorney, Fraud Section.

The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the ongoing investigation concerning BCCI. During this meeting, it was noted that this matter is now a global investigation involving numerous countries, FBI Divisions, and Legats. The investigation crosses multiple CID program lines. The world-wide nature of the BCCI investigation presently encompasses the international investigation of various criminal allegations including unlawful acquisitions of U.S. banks and thrifts, fraudulent securities transactions, money-laundering, political payoffs, public corruption, terrorism, and illegal arms transactions. BCCI's alleged criminal conduct, currently being scrutinized by various congressional committees, demands that a thorough, comprehensive investigation be conducted on a timely basis.

AAG Mueller utilized the term "scorched earth" to describe the wide-ranging investigation he envisions as required to adequately pursue the various criminal allegations known to date.

The ongoing investigation focuses on those individuals responsible for BCCI's acquiring secret control over FABS, NBG, and IB, and is international in scope. Interviews have been conducted in Egypt, London, England, and the Cayman Islands. Numerous BCCI documents have been identified throughout the world that will have to be reviewed. WMFO has identified over 28,000 boxes of BCCI documents (of which WMFO estimates 1900 boxes will contain potential evidence) in the United Kingdom; the Cayman Islands; Los Angeles, California; Miami, Florida; and New York, New York. Other locations with populations of BCCI records of unknown volume include France, Jamaica, Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, and Panama.

b7C

The necessity to conduct a significant number of interviews in this ongoing investigation both within the United States and abroad; to locate and review existing BCCI documents world-wide; and to follow-up on the various additional allegations that have not yet been investigated requires that a number of additional Agent and support resources be assigned to this matter on a TDY basis for less than one year, including one SSA who will have responsibility for the overall review of BCCI documents and records. In order to expedite this matter, two distinct areas of the ongoing investigation should each be individually assigned to an SSA. One SSA should be assigned responsibility for investigative teams handling interviews and the ongoing criminal investigation; and one SSA should be assigned responsibility for review teams to locate and review documents.

The WCCS will continue to exercise FBIHQ oversight of this matter. WMFO is Office of Origin and will continue to be responsible for overseeing this matter to a logical conclusion.

High Court order opens worldwide sale of assets to repay creditors

BCCI liquidation accelerates

The court order also triggers the US's largest ever creditor scheme, by which similarly depositors can get up to 75 per cent of their deposits, up to a maximum of $10,000.

A similar winding up order against the other substantial part of the group was expected to be issued later in the day in the Cayman Islands.

PW gives account of BCCI fraud

BY NEIL BENNETT, BANKING CORRESPONDENT

PRICE Waterhouse, the Bank of Credit and Commerce International's auditor, has broken its silence about the investigation and the discovery of the $10 billion fraud that led to the bank's closure in July.

As part of an inquiry into the BCCI affair, the Treasury and Civil Service select committee has published a series of written answers that PW made in response to the committee's questions. This is the first time the firm has commented in the events leading to the bank's closure.

PW has had to remain silent about its activities under the terms of the banking act. It has been criticised in London over its failure to detect the fraud earlier.

The accountancy firm says in its defence: "Even the best planned and executed audit is not necessarily designed to discover a ... fraud, especially ... where there is collusion at the highest level of management. PW gives account of BCCI fraud

BY NEIL BENNETT, BANKING CORRESPONDENT

PRICE Waterhouse, the Bank of Credit and Commerce International's auditor, has broken its silence about the investigation and the discovery of the $10 billion fraud that led to the bank's closure last July.

As part of an enquiry into the BCCI affair, the Treasury and Civil Service select committee has published a series of written answers that PW made in response to the committee's questions. This, for the first time, details its activities in the events leading to the bank's closure.

PW has had to remain silent about its activities under the terms of the Banking Act, and has been subjected to criticism over its failure to detect the fraud earlier.

The accountancy firm says in its defence: "Even the best planned and executed audit will not necessarily discover a sophisticated fraud, especially one where there is collusion at the highest level of management. Under such circumstances, it is reasonable to expect that it may take a number of audits before accumulating concerns lead to the identification of fraud."

The PW memorandum says it was told that the Abu Dhabi government, BCCI's controlling shareholder, had known about the bank's concealed deposits, fictitious loans and hidden investments since April 1990.

PW was appointed BCCI's sole auditor in 1987. From 1988, the firm carried out nine reports into BCCI's finances for the Bank of England, including the Sandstorm report last June that showed evidence of widespread and massive fraud and led to the closure.

PW says that BCCI's fraud originated in the early Seventies when it "brought in fictitious profits and inflated its capital" to support its rapid growth. The accountant only became suspicious of the bank almost 15 years later, when it discovered, by accident, that two small bank loans had been used to service another bad debt. The PW report in April 1990 highlighted transactions in the Cayman Islands that were "false or deceitful". A further report in October said that previous management had colluded with major customers to misstate or disguise the purpose of transactions.

This report led to the resignations of Agha Hasan Abedi and Swaleh Naqvi, respectively BCCI's founder and chief executive. Only then was PW told that there was a separate set of bank files that it had never seen. "We were shocked to find that Naqvi was holding around 6,000 files," it says. In yesterday's Treasury select committee hearing, Brian Quinn, a Bank of England director, defended the current bank regulatory legislation and the failure of the Bank to close BCCI after the earlier reports. "There was a threat to the bank, but it was being met by a shareholder [the Abu Dhabi government] which was coming forward with substantial support," he said.

Mr Quinn was unable to say why Ernst & Whinney had threatened to resign as BCCI's auditor in 1986.

Meanwhile, 30 of the local authorities that lost money in the BCCI collapse, have submitted evidence to Lord Justice Bingham's enquiry.

☐ The Serious Fraud Office has issued a warrant for the arrest of Basheer Chowdry, the former head of BCCI's British operations, who is out of the country. A statement from the SFO said it would take all necessary steps to try him in England.

Mohammed Abdul Baqi, former managing director of Attock Oil, appeared in court yesterday. He was remanded in custody for seven days. He faces a charge alleging that between 1987 and 1990 he conspired with Mr Chowdry to show PW that Attock owed the bank $76.5 million.

BCCI liquidators win time to seek Abu Dhabi aid

By Richard Donkin

THE provisional liquidators of Bank of Credit and Commerce International have run up $200m (£113m) of overheads and expenses since taking over the bank in July, a report disclosed yesterday.

The report by joint provisional liquidators Touche Ross was produced yesterday at the High Court, which granted a further adjournment of winding-up proceedings.

The adjournment, which was unopposed by the Bank of England and creditors, was agreed to give provisional liquidators more time to negotiate a deal with Abu Dhabi, said Mr Smouha, which we expected" when the behalf of creditors.

Sir Donald Nicholls, the vice-chancellor, said as he granted the adjournment until January 14 that the affairs of BCCI and BCCI Overseas had been inextricably intermingled. Worldwide co-operation was essential to realise assets to the best advantage of creditors and to avoid prolonged litigation.

He said that the BCCI group owed money to 800,000 depositors with 1.2m accounts in more than 70 countries.

The Touche Ross report before the court gave a precise figure for the first time of the estimated realisable assets, which came to £1,180m, against total liabilities of £10,650m. The figures, which the report stressed were still uncertain, were understood to involve at the 10 per cent payout before taking into account the deal with Abu Dhabi.

The report showed that in addition to the $200m overheads and expenses already run up by liquidators worldwide, a further $33m of liquidation expenses would be incurred before all the bank's assets were realised. Liquidators' fees alone were estimated at $20m, while BCCI shareholders' fees and legal fees were $7.5m.

Dr Afifi Elias, chairman of the BCCI Depositors' Protection Association criticised the fees and called the BCCI liquidation a "very substantial business indeed".

BCCI liquidators win time to seek A

By Richard Donkin

THE provisional liquidators of Bank of Credit and Commerce International have run up $200m (£113m) of overheads and expenses since taking over the bank in July, a report disclosed yesterday.

The report by joint provisional liquidators Touche Ross was produced yesterday at the High Court, which granted a further adjournment of winding-up proceedings.

The adjournment, which was unopposed by the Bank of England and creditors, was agreed to give provisional liquidators more time to negotiate a deal with Abu Dhabi on behalf of creditors.

Mr Brian Smouha, provisional liquidator for the Luxembourg holding company of BCCI, said after the hearing that creditors of BCCI Overseas and BCCI SA, the two main BCCI banks, might expect to see 10 per cent of a negotiated payout towards the end of 1992, with prospects of receiving 30 per cent to 40 per cent in the longer term.

Mr Smouha said the bank had been in an "even worse condition than we expected" when he was appointed in July. Without a plan of action agreed with the Abu Dhabi majority shareholders, he said, prospects of achieving a worthwhile dividend for depositors had been remote and it might not have been paid until the end of the century.

He said that the BCCI group owed money to 800,000 depositors with 1.2m accounts in more than 70 countries.

The Touche Ross report before the court gave a precise figure for the first time of the estimated realisable assets, which came to $1,159bn against total liabilities of $10,641bn. The figures, which the report warned were still uncertain, were used to arrive at the 10 per cent estimated payout before taking into account a deal with Abu Dhabi.

The report gave no estimate of what might be realisable in claims against First American Bancshares, the Washington-based bank that the US Federal Reserve Board says was secretly owned by BCCI.

A breakdown of closure costs in the report showed that in addition to the $200m overheads and expenses already run up by liquidators worldwide, a further $23m of liquidation expenses would be incurred before all the bank's assets were realised. Liquidators' fees alone came to $4m since the BCCI closedown on July 5 and legal fees were $7.8m.

Dr Adil Elias, chairman of the BCCI Depositors' Protection Association criticised the fees and called the BCCI liquidation a "very substantial business indeed".

Hurd gives green light to plans for bank

THE Government will not stand in the way of any plans to relaunch the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, Douglas Hurd, the Foreign Secretary, said yesterday, writes Nick Fielding.

He told a delegation of 10 BCCI employees led by Keith Vaz, the Leicester East MP, who met him for 45 minutes at the Foreign Office yesterday, that the negotiations provided a "window of opportunity" to enable the Bank of England to put together plans.

Mr Hurd, who said he recognised the difficulties created for depositors and staff by the collapse, told the delegation that information was being passed from the Bank to ministers and that the Prime Minister and the Chancellor were being kept fully informed of the negotiations.

The Foreign Secretary will be meeting his United Arab Emirates counterpart at the United Nations at the end of September, where BCCI will be discussed. The delegation impressed upon Mr Hurd the importance of sending a minister to Abu Dhabi to discuss the restructuring plans.

In Abu Dhabi yesterday, the police completed their round-up of top BCCI officials, following more than 30 arrests at the bank's headquarters throughout Sunday. Mr Ajaz Afridi, for example, was arrested at 1am on Monday. A call to the private office of chief executive Zafar Iqbal, who was among those arrested on Sunday, was answered by an official who said "the bank was inoperative at present".

According to sources in London, no one from the Serious Fraud Office was involved in the arrests. A team led by Jerry Ohlson, who is leading the police inquiry into BCCI, left yesterday for the Cayman Islands.

The four-strong team will meet a team from the US Justice Department and the FBI. They will be planning their approach to the Caymans government and hoping to gain access to documents under the control of the liquidators Deloitte Ros Tohmatsu. These are believed to concern BCCI Overseas and International Credit and Investment Co, a BCCI-linked firm.

Fed feels

Nick Fielding reports on how the continuing fallout from the scandal could change the way in which the US banking system is regulated

DURING the past year, as banking regulators in the UK pondered over whether to intervene in the growing turmoil enveloping the now collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, the US Federal Reserve Board played a major, but largely unreported, role in uncovering the full extent of the fraud. It appears, indeed, that American action was instrumental in forcing the Bank of England to consider taking serious action against the rogue bank.

Nevertheless, the Fed is under fire. Although it has been aggressive in comparison with the Bank of England, US legislators feel it should have acted earlier. The impact of the scandal on American banking regulation is likely to be long-term and lead to substantial changes in the way the banking system is structured.

Last week's report by Charles Schumer's House of Representatives Judiciary Committee on federal law enforcement handling of the scandal makes devastating criticisms of the Fed, saying it delayed for two years before acting on strong evidence obtained by an undercover agent. But action in America against BCCI — in the past year at least — has far outstripped that taken in the UK.

In July the Fed announced it had started formal enforcement proceedings against BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), its two subsidiaries and against nine individuals associated with BCCI, for their part in violating US banking law.

Its 110-page indictment included a $200m (£120m) fine against BCCI and related banks and companies and the permanent barring from any involvement with US banking organisations of nine individuals, who include Agha Hassan Abedi, BCCI's founder, Swaleh Naqvi, former chief executive, and a number of prominent Saudi and Gulf Arab investors in BCCI.

A whole battery of hearings is under way in America, including four grand juries, a Justice Department investigation into the collapsed savings and loan company Centrust (which appears to have been indirectly owned by BCCI), investigations by the superintendents of banks in New York and California, and the Operation C-Chase inquiry involving officers from the US Treasury, the Internal Revenue Service, Customs and the Drug Enforcement Administration. There are also continuing Senate hearings into drug money laundering.

Robert Morgenthau has been tenacious in following the story

In addition, in Miami the government of Panama has filed a suit against BCCI alleging that the bank laundered money stolen by the former dictator Manuel Noriega.

The most dramatic of the Senate hearings to date was that of the subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on terrorism, narcotics and international operations held in Washington on 8 August. BCCI's former chief finance officer, Masihur Rahman, testified in great detail about the bank's crooked operations and about threats to his personal safety by bank staff.

All this activity is taking place in a country in which BCCI hardly had an official presence. Contrast this to the single UK inquiry, headed by Lord Justice Bingham, which is being held in private. The non-statutory inquiry, due to start shortly, will have no powers to compel witnesses to appear nor to subpoena documents and, cloaked in secrecy, is unlikely to produce the kind of revelations that are shaking the American banking world.

At the Rahman hearings, on the other hand, Senator John Kerry, the chief inquisitor, made avail-ble to anyone who wanted them opies of hitherto secret Price Waterhouse reports on BCCI.

American interest in BCCI took off after the successful Operation C-Chase aimed at halting the huge drug money laundering operation organised from the bank's Florida branch. Operation C-Chase led to the first cycle of Senate subcommittee hearings under the Senate investigator Jack Blum.

He was said to have been appalled at a plea bargaining agreement that allowed the bank to avoid further charges in exchange for a $15m fine. Early in 1990 Mr Blum passed on information to the Manhattan district attorney, Robert Morgenthau, who, in June 1990, convened a grand jury and began his own investigation into banking irregularities in New York State. Mr Morgenthau has proved to be extremely tenacious in following the BCCI story.

Despite inaction from the Justice Department, following information from "foreign authorities" (probably the government of Abu Dhabi), the Fed also began its own inquiry. Its top lawyer, Virgil Mattingly, has called it "the most extensive formal investigation in my experience".

It appears the Fed, working closely with Mr Morgenthau, knew from late 1990 of the extent of the fraud within BCCI and from December 1990 knew of the whereabouts and contents of the Naqvi files in Abu Dhabi. On 4 January this year the Fed started its formal investigation into BCCI's activity in the US.

The Fed and Morgenthau's interest in BCCI focused on the true ownership of First American Bank, National Bank of Georgia and Independence Bank of Encino, California – all of them, it now transpires, owned through nominees by BCCI.

On 4 March – the same day as the Bank of England instructed Price Waterhouse to begin its section 41 inquiry into BCCI's affairs

Eddie George and the Fed agreed on document secrecy

– the Fed issued an order requiring BCCI to divest itself of the shares of Credit and Commerce American Holdings NV, the holding company of First American Bank, and to cease all banking operations in America.

While it appears that British and American authorities have at long last worked out a modus operandi, it has taken a long time and generated much friction.

The Bank of England argued that UK banking secrecy laws prevented it handing over all the material it had to the Americans. Under an agreement between Eddie George, deputy Bank of England governor, and the Fed, Bank records and internal memoranda and minutes of BCCI's "college of regulators", although now in the possession of the Americans, will not be made public. Only if they are absolutely necessary will they be produced.

The fallout from the First American saga – quite apart from any criminal proceedings – is likely to be significant. Already the House Banking Committee is concerned about the "the apparent lack of oversight" by the Fed. Henry Gonzalez, Texan Democratic chairman of the committee, has accused it of a "hear no evil, see no evil" approach to regulation. He was referring to the BCCI scandal and to the $3bn illicit loans to Iraq from the Atlanta branch of the Banca Nazionale de Lavoro.

One possible consequence could be to make the Office of Comptroller of the Currency the dominant bank regulator in the US. At present it has priority only for banks operating throughout the entire United States. "This would mean a clear separation between the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as the main bank insurer, the Fed becoming responsible for monetary policy and the Office of Comptroller of Currency becoming the main regulatory body," says Ellen Stockdale, director for communications at the OCC.

These issues have been discussed for the past 10 years, but the BCCI saga is bound to add impetus. Banking in America is unlikely to evet be the same again.

MEETING WITH VAZ

Hurd signals willingness to heal any rift with Abu Dhabi

By Ralph Atkins

MR DOUGLAS Hurd, foreign secretary, yesterday signalled the government's willingness to heal any rift with Abu Dhabi over the Bank of Credit and Commerce International affair, and promised it would not block viable plans for a restructuring of the bank.

A visit by Mr Douglas Hogg, Foreign Office minister, to the United Arab Emirates is expected to follow a meeting this month between Mr Hurd and Mr Rashid Abdullah, UAE foreign minister, in New York.

Mr Hurd's comments came at a private meeting with Mr Keith Vaz, Labour MP for Leicester East, who is lobbying on behalf of BCCI depositors for a restructuring.

Mr Vaz said the foreign secretary had accepted that the closure of BCCI in July had come as a shock to the Abu Dhabi authorities and he was now anxious to minimise the harm to relations with Britain.

The Foreign Office interpretation of the meeting, however, put the emphasis on ensuring that good relations continued, rather than admitting that damage had been caused.

On a possible restructuring, Mr Vaz said Mr Hurd had said the adjournment of winding-up proceedings against BCCI had provided a "window of opportunity".

He interpreted this as a shift in the government's line, citing a letter Mr John Major sent him in July that talked only of a restructuring taking place after liquidation.

"To me it represents the government saying as much as it possibly can say that, if a proposal comes up and it's viable, they will not stand in its way," Mr Vaz said.

Labour and the Liberal Democrats also supported a restructuring, Mr Vaz said. "We have to take this broad political support — because there is broad political support for restructuring — and put it to the Bank of England."

The Foreign Office stressed, however, that the government continued to regard the a possible restructuring as a matter for the Bank of England. There was no question of ministers leaning on Mr Robin Leigh-Pemberton, the Bank governor.

ARRESTS

Bank officials kept incommunicado

By Richard Waters and Richard Tomkins

MOST of the top management of BCCI was held at a secret location in Abu Dhabi last night amid continuing mystery surrounding the reason for their detention.

The arrest of about 30 BCCI officers took investigators, regulators and diplomats in other countries completely by surprise.

The arrests were made without the co-operation of authorities in other countries which have been investigating events surrounding the BCCI collapse.

The emirate's authorities released no information yesterday about the whereabouts of those detained, or whether they had been charged. A relative of one of those arrested said no information had been given and no contact had been allowed with those held.

UK Foreign Office officials confirmed that the Serious Fraud Office had no role in detaining BCCI executives in Abu Dhabi. They said, however, that the British embassy was seeking access to Britons who had been arrested.

Among those understood to have been detained are Mr Swaleh Naqvi, BCCI's former chief executive, and Mr Zafar Iqbal, the man who replaced him last year. Mr Iqbal was himself an Abu Dhabi appointment, after Mr Naqvi had admitted his part in illicit activities at the bank and offered to help the emirate to establish the bank's full position.

Neither Mr Naqvi's lawyer in Washington nor his family in Abu Dhabi appeared to know where Mr Naqvi was or to have had any contact with him.

It emerged that between 12 and 15 of those detained were UK citizens. Their names and passport numbers were supplied to the British consulate in Abu Dhabi, but these were being withheld last night.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office said that it was taking steps to find out where the British citizens, believed to be of Pakistani origin, were being held and to make sure they were being well treated.

News of the arrests prompted concern that a restructuring of BCCI now looked less likely.

One source close to the restructuring discussions said: "You couldn't relaunch this in a million years, after mass arrests like this."

The sudden arrests on Sunday, which according to one report were followed up by others yesterday, marked a sudden reversal in the public attitude of the Abu Dhabi authorities.

Normally highly secretive, Abu Dhabi took the unusual step soon after the BCCI closure in July of placing full-page newspaper advertisements attacking the decision of foreign regulators to close the bank.

The comprehensive rounding up of top BCCI management suggests now, however, that it places some credence in the regulators' claim that the bank's senior staff colluded in fraud over a prolonged period.

WORLD ROUND-UP

Tokyo envoys call for aid

JAPAN: Foreign embassies affected by the closure of BCCI's Tokyo branch have appealed to the Japanese government for aid, a Foreign Ministry official said. Five embassies have appealed for compensation after their deposits were frozen two months ago, he said.

But the Japanese government has no plans to respond to the appeals, he added. "The identities of the embassies must remain confidential," the official said. "In most cases, though, the missions have opened new accounts in Tokyo and are now receiving money [from their home countries] to meet their costs."

BCCI's Tokyo branch, which ceased operations on July 8, had Y53.7bn from 250 depositors, the majority of them corporations, in March this year.

PERU: A judge has opened court proceedings against former officials of Peru's central bank in connection with BCCI, the government-owned newspaper El Peruano said on Saturday.

It quoted Judge Felipe Villavicencio as saying he had ordered the arrest of Mr Leonel Figueroa, former president of the Central Reserve Bank of Peru, Mr Hector Neyra, former bank general manager and Ms Ana Maria Tenenbaum, former manager of the international operations department.

He said he had also ordered the judicial police to embargo personal assets up to $3m (£1.7m), the amount Mr Robert Morgenthau, Manhattan District Attorney, alleged Mr Figueroa and Mr Neyra had accepted from BCCI in return for depositing up to $270m of Peru's reserves.

Ms Nelly Malarin, a special prosecutor, announced charges against Mr Figueroa and Mr Neyra last Thursday. They became the first officials or former officials to be charged in the worldwide BCCI scandal. She did not mention Ms Tenenbaum.

Ms Tenenbaum's mother said that her daughter was attending a meeting of an Andean Pact economic group in Quito, Ecuador and was due back on Sunday night.

She said that her daughter had been cited to appear at the attorney general's office on Thursday but that her office had sent a letter saying that she was out of the country.

Ms Tenenbaum's department had approved depositing up to $100m in BCCI in 1986 and 1987. The board later approved depositing up to $270m in the bank.

CONCERNING RECORDS OF THE INSURANCE EXCHANGE OF THE AMERICAS (IEA) AND THEIR RELATION TO [redacted] GHAITH PHARAON, AND AMERICAN SOUTHERN INSURANCE COMPANY. b6 b7C

[redacted] IS CURRENTLY CONDUCTING AN INVESTIGATION CONCERNING THE FAILURE OF CENTRUST SAVINGS AND LOAN, MIAMI, IN THE SUMMER OF 1991, [redacted] CONTACTED OFFICIALS OF THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE FOR THE STATED OF FLORIDA AFTER LEARNING THAT SOUTHEASTERN INSURANCE COMPANY HAD BEEN SEIZED BY THE STATE OF FLORIDA FOR REASONS OF INSOLVENCY. b6 b7C

[redacted] MET WITH OFFICIALS OF THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE IN TALLAHASSEE, INCLUDING INVESTIGATORS ASSIGNED TO THE IEA TASK FORCE. THEREAFTER, [redacted] WAS ABLE TO CONDUCT A SHORT REVIEW OF IEA RECORDS SEIZED BY THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE WHEN IEA CLOSED APPROXIMATELY 1988. THIS REVIEW DID NOT INCLUDE ALL IEA RECORDS, AND RTC CONTEMPLATES FURTHER REVIEW.

THIS REVIEW, PLUS CONVERSATIONS WITH INVESTIGATORS ASSIGNED TO THE IEA TASK FORCE REVEALED THAT IEA WAS [redacted] IN MIAMI BY [redacted] AND WAS COMPOSED OF APPROXIMATELY 36 SYNDICATES OR PARTNERSHIPS WHICH REPRESENTED THEMSELVES AS INSURANCE COMPANIES. AMONG THE SYNDICATES WERE INDIAN LIFE, b6 b7C

WHOSE [redacted], LAHUS VI, WHOSE PARTNERS WERE [redacted] AND LAHUS V, WHOSE PARTNERS WERE [redacted] (A PARTNER OF [redacted], AND [redacted] PERSONAL ATTORNEY). ACCORDING TO [redacted], THESE SYNDICATES WROTE LITTLE INSURANCE, HOWEVER, ACTIVELY TRADED SECURITIES RELATED TO TAKEOVER DEALS AND LEVERAGED BYOUTS ISSUED THROUGH DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT. THE SECURITIES IN THE PORTFOLIO OF THE SYNDICATES WERE HELD FOR SHORT PERIODS OF TIME GENERALLY, AND WERE NOT LONG TERM INVESTMENTS. [redacted] BELIEVES THAT MANY OF THE TRADES CONDUCTED BY THOSE SYNDICATES ARE IN SECURITIES ISSUED THROUGH [redacted] AND DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT, AND THE TRADES ARE BASED ON INSIDER INFORMATION CONCERNING TAKEOVERS OR LEVERAGED BYOUTS ISSUED BY DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT. FURTHER, IEA RECORDS SHOWED THAT SYNDICATES SUCH AS INDIAN LIFE AND LAHUS V SENT MILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO FIRMS IN BERMUDA AND ARE SHOWING THESE FUNDS TO BE PAYMENTS FOR PREMIUMS FOR REINSURANCE. [redacted] BELIEVES THE REINSURANCE PREMIUMS REPRESENT A TECHNIQUE FOR MOVING PROFITS FROM THE TRADES CONDUCTED WITHIN THE SYNDICATES OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.

[redacted] DID NOT REVIEW RECORDS OF ALL SYNDICATES WITHIN IEA AND IS NOT AWARE OF THE EXTENT THAT OTHERS SYNDICATES ARE ENGAGING IN THIS ACTIVITY. b6 b7C

[redacted] BELIEVES THAT [redacted] OF IEA HAS DEVELOPED PAYMENTS OF REINSURANCE PREMIUMS TO COUNTRIES OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES AS A TECHNIQUE TO MOVE FUNDS EASILY IN AND OUT OF THE UNITED STATES, MAKING IT DIFFICULT TO TRACE OWNERSHIP OR THE SOURCE OF THE FUNDS AND ALSO ALLOWING THE SYNDICATES TO CLAIM THE FUNDS ARE ALLEGEDLY REPRESENTING REINSURANCE PREMIUMS AS A BUSINESS EXPENSE FOR THE SYNDICATE. A REVIEW OF [redacted] SHOWED INSTANCES WHEREIN THE AMOUNT OF REINSURANCE PREMIUMS BEING PAID EXCEEDED THE AMOUNT OF INSURANCE POLICIES BEING WRITTEN BY THE SYNDICATES, WHICH WERE REPRESENTING THEMSELVES AS INSURANCE COMPANIES. [redacted] HAS LEARNED THAT FOLLOWING THE CLOSING OF IEA, [redacted] OPERATED ANOTHER INSURANCE COMPANY NAMED VICTORIA INSURANCE COMPANY IN GEORGIA, WHICH, ACCORDING TO THE GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE, MOVED APPROXIMATELY $50 MILLION DOLLARS OUT OF THE U.S. DURING THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1990 IN THE FORM OF REINSURANCE PREMIUMS. [redacted] IS ALSO KNOWN TO HAVE REPRESENTED A COMPANY NAMED TRANSIT WITHDRAWN, [redacted] BELIEVES THAT PHARAON AND [redacted] THEN b6 b7C

SEARCHED FOR ANOTHER WAY TO COMPLETE THIS TRANSACTION, AND SOMETIME LATER A DRAMATIC INCREASE IN THE INSURANCE PREMIUMS BEING GENERATED BY AMERICAN SOUTHERN PAYING DIVIDENDS OF APPROXIMATELY $11 MILLION BACK TO INTER-REDEC AND GHAITH PHARAON. [redacted] SUSPECTS THAT CENTRUST IN SOME MANNER MAY BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE INCREASE IN INSURANCE PREMIUMS. HOWEVER, TO DATE HE HAS BEEN UNABLE TO SHOW A CONNECTION BETWEEN CENTRUST AND THE INCREASE IN PREMIUMS. b6 b7C

[redacted] HAS OBSERVED A PATTERN OF INSIDER TRADING BY [redacted] OF CENTRUST INVOLVING A STOCK NAMED [redacted] WHICH STOCK WAS A TAKEOVER TARGET. RTC IS MAKING A CRIMINAL REFERRAL TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE CONCERNING THE INSIDER TRADING ACTIVITY BY [redacted] HAS ADVISED THAT HE OBSERVED RECORDS INDICATING TRADING OF THE LAHUS V SYNDICATE WITHIN IEA IN THE [redacted] STOCK AT THE SAME TIME AS TRADES TRANSACTED BY [redacted] FURTHER, [redacted] HAS LEARNED OF AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT BY PHARAON AND [redacted] TO TAKE OVER A CHEMICAL COMPANY NAMED HERCULES. [redacted] HAS OBSERVED THAT HERCULES STOCK IS OWNED BY NATIONAL REINSURANCE, A COMPANY WHICH PROVIDES SUBSTANTIAL AMOUNTS OF REINSURANCE TO AMERICAN b6 b7C

SOUTHERN INSURANCE COMPANY.

AT CENTRUST, [redacted] HAS DISCOVERED EVIDENCE OF [redacted] b6 b7C AND/OR CENTRUST ENGAGING IN INSIDER TRADING TRANSACTIONS INVOLVING JUNK BONDS ISSUED THROUGH DREXEL BURNHAM LAMBERT SUCH AS BONDS BY INTEGRATED RESOURCES. IN ONE INSTANCE, [redacted] DISCOVERED A COMMUNICATION BETWEEN [redacted] IN WHICH [redacted] IS ASKING [redacted] WHY HE [redacted] IS BUYING A SPECIFIC SECURITY, INDICATING THAT [redacted] IS MAKING INVESTMENT DECISIONS FOR [redacted] AND CENTRUST. FURTHER, TWO SYNDICATES WITHIN IEA TRADED IN CENTRUST STOCK, AND SUBSTANTIAL TRADING HAS BEEN OBSERVED BOTH AT CENTRUST AND WITHIN THE IEA SYNDICATES IN SIMILAR DREXAL TAKEOVER ISSUES.

[redacted] INDICATED THAT [redacted] SERVED AS A [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] OF THE BOARD OF CENTRUST, WHERE SHE WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR DELIVERING CENTRUST CHECKS TO VARIOUS POSSESSION OF ONE CHECK IN THE AMOUNT OF $5,000 REPRESENTING A CENTRUST CONTRIBUTION TO THE CAMPAIGN OF FORMER FLORIDA [redacted] FOR THE U.S. SENATE. FBI investigation at Houston indicates that Senator Hatch may have had some contact at BCCI. Although neither WMFO nor Houston consider Senator Hatch as a subject of this investigation, WMFO considers that an interview of Senator Hatch would be appropriate based on these news articles and investigation to date at Houston. The White-Collar Crimes Section, Criminal Investigative Division, has reviewed this matter and concurs with SAC, WMFO that Senator Hatch be interviewed concerning his knowledge of BCCI.

I have approved the interview of Senator Hatch and arrangements are being made to interview Senator Hatch as soon as possible with a DOJ Attorney.

In attached note dated 9/25/91, you inquired as to how many total boxes of documents we now have for review in this matter.

Not all documents pertinent to captioned matter have been identified; however, WMFO to date has identified a total of 327 boxes of documents that will have to be reviewed. Of these 327 boxes of documents, 200 boxes are located at WMFO, 67 boxes are located at the Miami Division, and the remaining 60 boxes are located in the Los Angeles Division. WMFO is coordinating the ongoing review of these documents with the Los Angeles and Miami Divisions.

During the period 9/10-12/91, representatives from DOJ and FBI, WMFO surveyed documents from the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) in the Cayman Islands and coordination is ongoing to obtain copies of these documents. This survey estimated that there are approximately one million documents that must be reviewed to determine their pertinence to this matter.

In addition, the Tampa Division has recently identified approximately 5,400 boxes of documents from the BCCI representative bank in Florida that may be pertinent to the investigation concerning subject Ghaith Pharaon. These records are in the custody of the Federal Reserve, Miami, Florida, and a review of computerized indices will be utilized to determine whether any of these documents will have to be reviewed to determine their relevance to captioned matter.

Hurd gives green light to plans for bank

THE Government will not stand in the way of any plans to relaunch the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, Douglas Hurd, the Foreign Secretary, said yesterday, writes Nick Fielding.

He told a delegation of 10 BCCI employees led by Keith Vaz, the Leicester East MP, who met him for 45 minutes at the Foreign Office yesterday, that the negotiations provided a "window of opportunity" to enable the Bank of England to put together plans.

Mr Hurd, who said he recognised the difficulties created for depositors and staff by the collapse, told the delegation that information was being passed from the Bank to ministers and that the Prime Minister and the Chancellor were being kept fully informed of the negotiations.

The Foreign Secretary will be meeting his United Arab Emirates counterpart at the United Nations at the end of September, where BCCI will be discussed. The delegation impressed upon Mr Hurd the importance of sending a minister to Abu Dhabi to discuss the restructuring plans.

In Abu Dhabi yesterday, the police completed their round-up of top BCCI officials, following more than 30 arrests at the bank's headquarters throughout Sunday. Mr Ajaz Afridi, for example, was arrested at 1am on Monday. A call to the private office of chief executive Zafar Iqbal, who was among those arrested on Sunday, was answered by an official who said "the bank was inoperative at present".

According to sources in London, no one from the Serious Fraud Office was involved in the arrests. A team led by Jerry Ohlson, who is leading the police inquiry into BCCI, left yesterday for the Cayman Islands.

The four-strong team will meet a team from the US Justice Department and the FBI. They will be planning their approach to the Caymans government and hoping to gain access to documents under the control of the liquidators Deloitte Ros Tohmatsu. These are believed to concern BCCI Overseas and International Credit and Investment Co, a BCCI-linked firm.

Fed feels

Nick Fielding reports on how the continuing fallout from the scandal could change the way in which the US banking system is regulated

DURING the past year, as banking regulators in the UK pondered over whether to intervene in the growing turmoil enveloping the now collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, the US Federal Reserve Board played a major, but largely unreported, role in uncovering the full extent of the fraud. It appears, indeed, that American action was instrumental in forcing the Bank of England to consider taking serious action against the rogue bank.

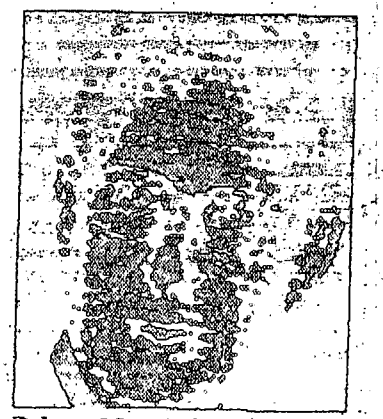
Nevertheless, the Fed is under fire. Although it has been aggressive in comparison with the Bank of England, US legislators feel it should have acted earlier. The impact of the scandal on American banking regulation is likely to be long-term and lead to substantial changes in the way the banking system is structured.

Last week's report by Charles Schumer's House of Representatives Judiciary Committee on federal law enforcement handling of the scandal makes devastating criticisms of the Fed, saying it delayed for two years before acting on strong evidence obtained by an undercover agent. But action in America against BCCI – in the past year at least – has far outstripped that taken in the UK.

In July the Fed announced it had started formal enforcement proceedings against BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), its two subsidiaries and against nine individuals associated with BCCI, for their part in violating US banking law.

Its 110-page indictment included a $200m (£120m) fine against BCCI and related banks and companies and the permanent barring from any involvement with US banking organisations of nine individuals, who include Agha Hassan Abedi, BCCI's founder, Swaleh Naqvi, former chief executive, and a number of prominent Saudi and Gulf Arab investors in BCCI.

A whole battery of hearings is under way in America, including four grand juries, a Justice Department investigation into the collapsed savings and loan company Centrust (which appears to have been indirectly owned by BCCI), investigations by the superintendents of banks in New York and California, and the Operation C-Chase inquiry involving officers from the US Treasury, the Internal Revenue Service, Customs and the Drug Enforcement Administration. There are also continuing Senate hearings into drug money laundering.



Robert Morgenthau has been tenacious in following the story

In addition, in Miami the government of Panama has filed a suit against BCCI alleging that the bank laundered money stolen by the former dictator Manuel Noriega.

The most dramatic of the Senate hearings to date was that of the subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on terrorism, narcotics and international operations held in Washington on 8 August. BCCI's former chief finance officer, Masihur Rahman, testified in great detail about the bank's crooked operations and about threats to his personal safety by bank staff.

All this activity is taking place in a country in which BCCI hardly had an official presence. Contrast this to the single UK inquiry, headed by Lord Justice Bingham, which is being held in private. The non-statutory inquiry, due to start shortly, will have no powers to compel witnesses to appear nor to subpoena documents and, cloaked in secrecy, is unlikely to produce the kind of revelations that are shaking the American banking world.

ble to anyone who wanted them opies of hitherto secret Price Waterhouse reports on BCCI.

American interest in BCCI took off after the successful Operation C-Chase aimed at halting the huge drug money laundering operation organised from the bank's Florida branch. Operation C-Chase led to the first cycle of Senate subcommittee hearings under the Senate investigator Jack Blum.

He was said to have been appalled at a plea bargaining agreement that allowed the bank to avoid further charges in exchange for a $15m fine. Early in 1990 Mr Blum passed on information to the Manhattan district attorney, Robert Morgenthau, who, in June 1990, convened a grand jury and began his own investigation into banking irregularities in New York State. Mr Morgenthau has proved to be extremely tenacious in following the BCCI story.

Despite inaction from the Justice Department, following information from "foreign authorities" (probably the government of Abu Dhabi), the Fed also began its own inquiry. Its top lawyer, Virgil Mattingly, has called it "the most extensive formal investigation in my experience".

It appears the Fed, working closely with Mr Morgenthau, knew from late 1990 of the extent of the fraud within BCCI and from December 1990 knew of the whereabouts and contents of the Naqvi files in Abu Dhabi. On 4 January this year the Fed started its formal investigation into BCCI's activity in the US.

The Fed and Morgenthau's interest in BCCI focused on the true ownership of First American Bank, National Bank of Georgia and Independence Bank of Encino, California – all of them, it now transpires, owned through nominees by BCCI.

On 4 March – the same day as the Bank of England instructed Price Waterhouse to begin its section 41 inquiry into BCCI's affairs – the Fed issued an order requiring BCCI to divest itself of the shares of Credit and Commerce American Holdings NV, the holding company of First American Bank, and to cease all banking operations in America.

Eddie George and the Fed agreed on document secrecy

While it appears that British and American authorities have at long last worked out a modus operandi, it has taken a long time and generated much friction.

The Bank of England argued that UK banking secrecy laws prevented it handing over all the material it had to the Americans. Under an agreement between Eddie George, deputy Bank of England governor, and the Fed, Bank records and internal memoranda and minutes of BCCI's "college of regulators", although now in the possession of the Americans, will not be made public. Only if they are absolutely necessary will they be produced.

The fallout from the First American saga – quite apart from any criminal proceedings – is likely to be significant. Already the House Banking Committee is concerned about the "the apparent lack of oversight" by the Fed. Henry Gonzalez, Texan Democratic chairman of the committee, has accused it of a "hear no evil, se no evil" approach to regulation. He was referring to the BCCI scandal and to the $3bn illicit loans to Iraq from the Atlanta branch of the Banca Nazionale de Lavoro.

One possible consequence could be to make the Office of Comptroller of the Currency the dominant bank regulator in the US. At present it has priority only for banks operating throughout the entire United States. "This would mean a clear separation between the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as the main bank insurer, the Fed becoming responsible for monetary policy and the Office of Comptroller of Currency becoming the main regulatory body," says Ellen Stockdale, director for communications at the OCC.

These issues have been discussed for the past 10 years, but the BCCI saga is bound to add impetus. Banking in America is unlikely to ever be the same again.

MEETING WITH VAZ

Hurd signals willingness to heal any rift with Abu Dhabi

By Ralph Atkins

MR DOUGLAS Hurd, foreign secretary, yesterday signalled the government's willingness to heal any rift with Abu Dhabi over the Bank of Credit and Commerce International affair, and promised it would not block viable plans for a restructuring of the bank.

A visit by Mr Douglas Hogg, Foreign Office minister, to the United Arab Emirates is expected to follow a meeting this month between Mr Hurd and Mr Rashid Abdulleh, UAE foreign minister, in New York.

Mr Hurd's comments came at a private meeting with Mr Keith Vaz, Labour MP for Leicester East, who is lobbying on behalf of BCCI depositors for a restructuring.

Mr Vaz said the foreign secretary had accepted that the closure of BCCI in July had come as a shock to the Abu Dhabi authorities and he was now anxious to minimise the harm to relations with Britain.

The Foreign Office interpretation of the meeting, however, put the emphasis on ensuring that good relations continued, rather than admitting that damage had been caused.

On a possible restructuring, Mr Vaz said Mr Hurd had said the adjournment of winding-up proceedings against BCCI had provided a "window of opportunity".

He interpreted this as a shift in the government's line, citing a letter Mr John Major sent him in July that talked only of a restructuring taking place after liquidation.

"To me it represents the government saying as much as it possibly can say that, if a proposal comes up and it's viable, they will not stand in its way," Mr Vaz said.

Labour and the Liberal Democrats also supported a restructuring, Mr Vaz said. "We have to take this broad political support — because there is broad political support for restructuring — and put it to the Bank of England."

The Foreign Office stressed, however, that the government continued to regard the a possible restructuring as a matter for the Bank of England. There was no question of ministers leaning on Mr Robin Leigh-Pemberton, the Bank governor.

ARRESTS

Bank officials kept incommunicado

By Richard Waters and Richard Tomkins

MOST of the top management of BCCI was held at a secret location in Abu Dhabi last night amid continuing mystery surrounding the reason for their detention.

The arrest of about 30 BCCI officers took investigators, regulators and diplomats in other countries completely by surprise.

The arrests were made without the co-operation of authorities in other countries which have been investigating events surrounding the BCCI collapse.

The emirate's authorities released no information yesterday about the whereabouts of those detained, or whether they had been charged. A relative of one of those arrested said no information had been given and no contact had been allowed with those held.

UK Foreign Office officials confirmed that the Serious Fraud Office had no role in detaining BCCI executives in Abu Dhabi. They said, however, that the British embassy was seeking access to Britons who had been arrested.

Among those understood to have been detained are Mr Swaleh Naqvi, BCCI's former chief executive, and Mr Zafar Iqbal, the man who replaced him last year. Mr Iqbal was himself an Abu Dhabi appointment, after Mr Naqvi had admitted his part in illicit activities at the bank and offered to help the emirate to establish the bank's full position.

Neither Mr Naqvi's lawyer in Washington nor his family in Abu Dhabi appeared to know where Mr Naqvi was or to have had any contact with him.

It emerged that between 12 and 15 of those detained were UK citizens. Their names and passport numbers were supplied to the British consulate in Abu Dhabi, but these were being withheld last night.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office said that it was taking steps to find out where the British citizens, believed to be of Pakistani origin, were being held and to make sure they were being well treated.

News of the arrests prompted concern that a restructuring of BCCI now looked less likely.

One source close to the restructuring discussions said: "You couldn't relaunch this in a million years, after mass arrests like this."

The sudden arrests on Sunday, which according to one report were followed up by others yesterday, marked a sudden reversal in the public attitude of the Abu Dhabi authorities.

Normally highly secretive, Abu Dhabi took the unusual step soon after the BCCI closure in July of placing full-page newspaper advertisements attacking the decision of foreign regulators to close the bank.

The comprehensive rounding up of top BCCI management suggests now, however, that it places some credence in the regulators' claim that the bank's senior staff colluded in fraud over a prolonged period.

WORLD ROUND-UP

Tokyo envoys call for aid

JAPAN: Foreign embassies affected by the closure of BCCI's Tokyo branch have appealed to the Japanese government for aid, a Foreign Ministry official said. Five embassies have appealed for compensation after their deposits were frozen two months ago, he said.

But the Japanese government has no plans to respond to the appeals, he added. "The identities of the embassies must remain confidential," the official said. "In most cases, though, the missions have opened new accounts in Tokyo and are now receiving money [from their home countries] to meet their costs."

BCCI's Tokyo branch, which ceased operations on July 8, had Y53.7bn from 250 depositors, the majority of them corporations, in March this year.

PERU: A judge has opened court proceedings against former officials of Peru's central bank in connection with BCCI, the government-owned newspaper El Peruano said on Saturday.

It quoted Judge Felipe Villavicencio as saying he had ordered the arrest of Mr Leonel Figueroa, former president of the Central Reserve Bank of Peru, Mr Hector Neyra, former bank general manager and Ms Ana Maria Tenenbaum, former manager of the international operations department.

He said he had also ordered the judicial police to embargo personal assets up to [illegible] (£1.7m), the amount Mr [illegible] Morgenthau, Manhattan [illegible] attorney, alleged Mr [illegible] eroa and Mr Neyra accepted from BCCI in re[illegible] for depositing up to $270m [illegible] reserves.

Mr Delly Malarin, a special prosecutor, announced charges against Mr Figueroa and Mr Neyra last Thursday. They became the first officials or former officials to be charged in the worldwide BCCI scandal. She did not mention Ms Tenenbaum.

Ms Tenenbaum's mother said that her daughter was attending a meeting of an Andean Pact economic group in Quito, Ecuador and was due back on Sunday night.

She said that her daughter had been cited to appear at the attorney general's office on Thursday but that her office had sent a letter saying that she was out of the country.

Ms Tenenbaum's department had approved depositing up to [illegible]100m in BCCI in 1986 and [illegible]87. The board later approved depositing up to $270m in the bank.

Eddie George and the Fed agreed on document secrecy

– the Fed issued an order requiring BCCI to divest itself of the shares of Credit and Commerce American Holdings NV, the holding company of First American Bank, and to cease all banking operations in America.

While it appears that British and American authorities have at long last worked out a modus operandi, it has taken a long time and generated much friction.

The Bank of England argued that UK banking secrecy laws prevented it handing over all the material it had to the Americans. Under an agreement between Eddie George, deputy Bank of England governor, and the Fed, Bank records and internal memoranda and minutes of BCCI's "college of regulators", although now in the possession of the Americans, will not be made public. Only if they are absolutely necessary will they be produced.

The fallout from the First American saga – quite apart from any criminal proceedings – is likely to be significant. Already the House Banking Committee is concerned about the "the apparent lack of oversight" by the Fed. Henry Gonzalez, Texan Democratic chairman of the committee, has accused it of a "hear no evil, see no evil" approach to regulation. He was referring to the BCCI scandal and to the $3bn illicit loans to Iraq from the Atlanta branch of the Banca Nazionale de Lavoro.

One possible consequence could be to make the Office of Comptroller of the Currency the dominant bank regulator in the US. At present it has priority only for banks operating throughout the entire United States. This would mean a clear separation between the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as the main bank insurer, the Fed becoming responsible for monetary policy and the Office of Comptroller of Currency becoming the main regulatory body," says Ellen Stockdale, director for communications at the OCC.

These issues have been discussed for the past 10 years, but the BCCI saga is bound to add impetus. Banking in America is unlikely to ever be the same again.

EETING WITH VAZ

Hurd signals willingness to heal

By Ralph Atkins

MR DOUGLAS Hurd, foreign secretary, yesterday signalled the government's willingness to heal any rift with Abu Dhabi over the Bank of Credit and Commerce International affair, and promised it would not block viable plans for a restructuring of the bank.

A visit by Mr Douglas Hogg, Foreign Office minister, to the United Arab Emirates is expected to follow a meeting this month between Mr Hurd and Mr Rashid Abdullah, UAE foreign minister, in New York.

Mr Hurd's comments came at a private meeting with Mr Keith Vaz, Labour MP for Leicester East, who is lobbying on behalf of BCCI depositors for a restructuring.

Mr Vaz said the foreign secretary had accepted that the closure of BCCI in July had come as a shock to the Abu Dhabi authorities and he was now anxious to minimise the harm to relations with Britain.

The Foreign Office interpretation of the meeting, however, put the emphasis on ensuring that good relations continued, rather than admitting that damage had been caused.

any rift with Abu Dhabi

On a possible restructuring, Mr Vaz said Mr Hurd had said the adjournment of winding-up proceedings against BCCI had provided a "window of opportunity".

He interpreted this as a shift in the government's line, citing a letter Mr John Major sent him in July that talked only of a restructuring taking place after liquidation.

"To me it represents the government saying as much as it possibly can say that, if a proposal comes up and it's viable, they will not stand in its way," Mr Vaz said.

Labour and the Liberal Democrats also supported a restructuring, Mr Vaz said. "We have to take this broad political support — because there is broad political support for restructuring — and put it to the Bank of England."

The Foreign Office stressed, however, that the government continued to regard the a possible restructuring as a matter for the Bank of England. There was no question of ministers leaning on Mr Robin Leigh-Pemberton, the Bank governor.

ARRESTS

Bank officials kept incommunicado

By Richard Waters and Richard Tomkins

MOST of the top management of BCCI was held at a secret location in Abu Dhabi last night amid continuing mystery surrounding the reason for their detention.

The arrest of about 30 BCCI officers took investigators, regulators and diplomats in other countries completely by surprise.

The arrests were made without the co-operation of authorities in other countries which have been investigating events surrounding the BCCI collapse.

The emirate's authorities released no information yesterday about the whereabouts of those detained, or whether they had been charged. A relative of one of those arrested said no information had been given and no contact had been allowed with those held.

UK Foreign Office officials confirmed that the Serious Fraud Office had no role in detaining BCCI executives in Abu Dhabi. They said, however, that the British embassy was seeking access to Britons who had been arrested.

Among those understood to have been detained are Mr Swaleh Naqvi, BCCI's former chief executive, and Mr Zafar Iqbal, the man who replaced him last year. Mr Iqbal was himself an Abu Dhabi appointment, after Mr Naqvi had admitted his part in illicit activities at the bank and offered to help the emirate to establish the bank's full position.

Neither Mr Naqvi's lawyer in Washington nor his family in Abu Dhabi appeared to know where Mr Naqvi was or to have had any contact with him.

It emerged that between 12 and 15 of those detained were UK citizens. Their names and passport numbers were supplied to the British consulate in Abu Dhabi, but these were being withheld last night.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office said that it was taking steps to find out where the British citizens, believed to be of Pakistani origin, were being held and to make sure they were being well treated.

News of the arrests prompted concern that a restructuring of BCCI now looked less likely.

One source close to the restructuring discussions said: "You couldn't relaunch this in a million years, after mass arrests like this."

The sudden arrests on Sunday, which according to one report were followed up by others yesterday, marked a sudden reversal in the public attitude of the Abu Dhabi authorities.

Normally highly secretive, Abu Dhabi took the unusual step soon after the BCCI closure in July of placing full-page newspaper advertisements attacking the decision of foreign regulators to close the bank.

The comprehensive rounding up of top BCCI management suggests now, however, that it places some credence in the regulators' claim that the bank's senior staff colluded in fraud over a prolonged period.

WORLD ROUND-UP

Tokyo envoys call for aid

JAPAN: Foreign embassies affected by the closure of BCCI's Tokyo branch have appealed to the Japanese government for aid, a Foreign Ministry official said. Five embassies have appealed for compensation after their deposits were frozen two months ago, he said.

But the Japanese government has no plans to respond to the appeals, he added. "The identities of the embassies must remain confidential," the official said. "In most cases, though, the missions have opened new accounts in Tokyo and are now receiving money [from their home countries] to meet their costs."

BCCI's Tokyo branch, which ceased operations on July 8, had Y53.7bn from 250 depositors, the majority of them corporations, in March this year.

PERU: A judge has opened court proceedings against former officials of Peru's central bank in connection with BCCI, the government-owned newspaper El Peruano said on Saturday.

It quoted Judge Felipe Villavicencio as saying he had ordered the arrest of Mr Leonel Figueroa, former president of the Central Reserve Bank of Peru, Mr Hector Neyra, former bank general manager and Ms Ana Maria Tenenbaum, former manager of the international operations department.

He said he had also ordered the judicial police to embargo personal assets up to $3m (£1.7m), the amount Mr Robert Morgenthau, Manhattan District Attorney, alleged Mr Figueroa and Mr Neyra had accepted from BCCI in return for depositing up to $270m of Peru's reserves.

Ms Nelly Malarin, a special prosecutor, announced charges against Mr Figueroa and Mr Neyra last Thursday. They became the first officials or former officials to be charged in the worldwide BCCI scandal. She did not mention Ms Tenenbaum.

Ms Tenenbaum's mother said that her daughter was attending a meeting of an Andean Pact economic group in Quito, Ecuador and was due back on Sunday night.

She said that her daughter had been cited to appear at the attorney general's office on Thursday but that her office had sent a letter saying that she was out of the country.

Ms Tenenbaum's department had approved depositing up to $100m in BCCI in 1986 and 1987. The board later approved depositing up to $270m in the bank.

BCCI executives to be charged

By Richard Donkin in Abu Dhabi and Alan Friedman in Washington

CRIMINAL charges are expected to be brought within days by the Abu Dhabi government against some of the most senior bankers in the Bank of Credit and Commerce International.

The decision by the emirate, BCCI's majority shareholder, to press charges emerged as eight more of the 32 remaining BCCI executives detained since last Sunday in the Abu Dhabi Police Officers' Club were released.

The move to charge BCCI top managers may effectively quash efforts by the US Justice Department and the office of Mr Robert Morgenthau, the Manhattan district attorney, to have Mr Swalen Naqvi, the former chief executive officer of BCCI, handed over to them.

The US officials made a joint approach to Abu Dhabi on Tuesday through diplomatic channels after hearing of the police action.

The charges are expected to emerge at a time when a team of consultants and accounts working for the Abu Dhabi government finalise an outline of fresh restructuring proposals for the bank.

The outline proposal would provide a working draft for a final plan to be announced in time for the December 2 deadline for restructuring proposals imposed by the High Court in London.

None of those released in the early hours of yesterday morning was said to have been closely questioned. All but one of those allowed to go free since the detentions took place are from the second tier of BCCI management or personal assistants to executives. The only senior executive among those held to be released to date is Mr Mazhar Abbas, head of personnel at BCCI.

In Washington, it emerged that the committee of central bank supervisors chaired by Mr Gerald Corrigan, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, is planning to tighten international bank regulation in the wake of the BCCI scandal.

Mr Corrigan, who came under sharp criticism yesterday for having moved too slowly on the BCCI affair, said during an appearance before the House of Representatives Banking Committee that BCCI was discussed last week by members of the Basle Supervisors Committee.

He hoped recommendations on how to tighten international bank supervision would be made by the committee's December meeting.

Garcia agrees to face questions

PERU'S ex-president Alan Garcia has agreed to answer questions from a Peruvian congressional panel examining his alleged enrichment in office. Yesterday he walked out of the congressional investigation and his agreement to testify came as panel members met to determine if he had broken the law by quitting the hearing.

"My lawyer and I have showed up at the usual hour of the meeting of the commission . . . to continue testifying or answering questions by its members," Mr Garcia said in a chamber of congress where he presented his testimony for 10 hours over three days earlier this week.

"My presence here proves my willingness to continue participating, clarifying, explaining how the country is being ridiculed by these issues of BCCI and Mirage jet deals without specifying what crimes have been committed."

He was referring to allegations that he was linked to the case of three former officials of his government who have been charged with bribe-taking from BCCI and reports that the bank brokered the sale to third countries of French-made Mirage jets.

Mr Garcia, who was president from 1985 to 1990, walked out of the panel on Wednesday saying it had already found him guilty and would not allow his lawyer to speak.

He said the constitution guaranteed the right to defence by a lawyer, but the panel said the president was not on trial.

PANAMA

Probe into dealings is ordered

PANAMA'S Congress, hoping to uncover more about the activities of BCCI, will form a commission to probe the bank's dealings in the country.

Lawmakers overwhelmingly backed a proposal to probe BCCI's two Panamanian branches. Legislators, suspecting BCCI of shady practices in Panama, say there must be more information than has so far been revealed by the banking commission and the attorney-general's office.

"It's necessary . . . to investigate the real causes of the closure of BCCI in Panama and its involvement in the different criminal investigations cited worldwide," legislator Mr Miguel Bush said in his proposal to set up the commission.

The congressional probe into BCCI came in a week of heightened attention to the bank's dealings in Panama.

Mr Rogelio Cruz, the attorney-general, whose office has said little about the bank scandal, announced on Thursday that seven questionable BCCI loans amounting to more than $20m were under investigation.

Mr Cruz, who would not give any further details about the loans, made the announcement after giving a Peruvian delegation permission to review accounts deposited by BCCI in the Panama City branch of Swiss Bank, where bribe money was allegedly paid to Peruvian central bank officials.

Former Peruvian central bank officials implicated in the dealings have denied any wrongdoing.

Nigeria hit by $200m fraud at BCCI arm

By William Keegan

The Bank of Credit and Commerce International defrauded Nigeria of up to $200m (£110m) during 1989 and 1990, officials and backers of the bank have told the Financial Times.

Executives in BCCI Limited (Nigeria) operated a variety of scams with the connivance of colleagues in BCCI Nigeria, which is 60 per cent owned by the Nigerian government.

A London-based commodity trader who found his account with BCCI was paid Dfl 1m to refinish his fitness after incurring losses – the result of fraud, according to a BCCI official.

The commodity trader, who has asked not to be named, confirmed that a payment was made to him by BCCI (N).

BCCI officials say the profit from the fraud, which was particularly complicated, was divided between the bank and the employees involved. One senior executive, according to a BCCI official, received $1m. All are now pensioners and millionaires. No other bank can claim to many millionaires under one roof.

BCCI officials estimate the bank made an illegal profit of $150m-$200m between 1988 and 1990 but that the frauds were probably in operation from 1982. The Central Bank of Nigeria told the central auditor it was aware of the losses but would be looking into its books for "final evidence".

According to the commodity trader, whose company was [illegible] in many business deals with Nigerians in London, he was approached by BCCI (N) in early 1989. The export to Nigeria of vehicles spare parts.

The Central Bank of Nigeria could take up to six months to process letters of credit and make available foreign exchange for the payment of the parts. BCCI would tell both the Nigerian importer and the foreign exporter, without the knowledge of the other, for funds to cover interest payments on the money set aside [illegible]

Geller's hearing starts today

Mr Theodore Geller, chairman of Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas), the Cayman Islands subsidiary of the troubled international bank, is to appear before the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority today for a hearing into the bank's affairs.

Mr Geller, who is also chairman of BCCI (Overseas), has been asked to appear before the authority to explain why it should not revoke the bank's licence to operate in the Cayman Islands. The hearing is expected to last two days.

Mr Geller has been chairman of BCCI (Overseas) since it was established in 1984. It has assets of $1.2bn and 11 branches.

ment, which had a virtual monopoly over foreign exchange as a result of the country's lucrative oil earnings, authorised all exchange transactions. BCCI would then approach the central bank with a request to remit to BCCI in London foreign exchange to cover the letter of credit. On the latter payment cleared to the importer. The central bank would not be told that the document had also been cleared [illegible] on the letter of credit. BCCI now has outstanding interest rates over all the commissions of credit.

In a more serious and complex fraud, BCCI officials have confirmed that a secret account was operated within BCCI-N under the exclusive control of the expatriate management and cleared by two executives in London without [illegible] officials in the central bank.

The Nigerian central bank [illegible] exchange [illegible] customers to export the money to London for their own benefit without the knowledge of account holders. In addition, the central bank would be told [illegible] funds by BCCI-N when applying the difference between the official and the black market exchange rate for the funds. transfer illegally to personal funds to London, above the knowledge of the Nigerian authorities. Trade officials were told by expatriate executives that the transfer would be possible, but only at the black market rate.

In a typical deal, the client would, say, pay BCCI-N naira 1.6m and receive in his London account $1m. BCCI-N executives would keep the naira 1.6m in their secret account and then conduct a fraud through which they would receive permission from the central bank to transfer the money to London at the official exchange rate. This would give them $100, twice the sum they had initially paid the BCCI-N client. BCCI and their officials would pocket the difference.

The Nigerian central bank would make foreign exchange available for the scheme after BCCI-N executives claimed the sums involved were client interest payments on letters of credit. The central bank would ask for only an oral assurance from the expatriate executives that the claims were genuine, the BCCI officials say.

According to BCCI officials, the Nigerian shareholders became increasingly disenchanted with the foreign management, resulting in the cancellation of the management contract at the end of last year.

BCCI-N, which was owned 60 per cent by Nigerian shareholders and 40 per cent by BCCI, changed its name in July to African Bank International. BCCI retains its shareholding but ABI plans either to find a new foreign partner or arrange the sale of the shares on the foreign market.

US HOUSE BANKING COMMITTEE HEARINGS

Eight inquiries failed to see First American ownershi

The US Federal Reserve, aware of the Fed's concerns about BCCI's involvement with the Middle Eastern investors who bought the Washington bank in 1982.

During this period, the Reserve Bank's inspections found compliance with the conditions and commitments of the original application and no violations of the law, Mr Black said.

"Neither the reports of our first American inspections nor any of the reports of examination prepared by other federal and state regulators contained comments or criticisms regarding the involvement of individuals or companies in the ownership of First American by or improper payments to BCCI," Mr Black said.

Since 1982, there were no dividend payments to the investors who injected more than $60m into First American, he said.

Mr Black told the committee that although the Middle Eastern investors who bought First American in 1982 also owned stock in BCCI, US law does not prohibit common ownership of banks and non-banks by individuals as it does for companies.

"This common ownership," while significant, did not provide grounds for any action on the part of the Richmond Reserve Bank or any recommendation by us for action by the board," he said.

The Fed discovered that BCCI had financed the First American purchase in late 1980 from a BCCI audit report.

The Federal Reserve has charged BCCI with secretly owning more than 60 per cent of the shares in First American's parent, Credit and Commerce American Holdings.

It said the investors acted as a for BCCI, which lent the m buy the shares with the unde ing that the loans would r repaid. Mr Black said that sin discovery, the Richmond Fe examined First American and has not discovered any abuse American bank or irregular practices.

Nigeria hit by $200m fraud at BCCI arm

By William Keeling

THE Bank of Credit and Commerce International defrauded Nigeria of up to $200m (£118m) between 1985 and 1987, clients and officials of the bank have said.

Executives in BCCI's London office co-ordinated a variety of frauds with the connivance of colleagues in BCCI-Nigeria working for the affiliate under a management contract.

A London-based commodity trader who traded with Nigeria and who held his account with BCCI was paid $6m to maintain his silence after incurring losses as a result of fraud, according to a BCCI official.

The commodity trader, who has asked not to be named, confirmed that a payment was made to him by BCCI.

BCCI officials say the profit from the frauds, which were particularly complicated, was divided between the bank and the employees involved. One senior executive, according to a BCCI official, boasted: "All our star performers are millionaires. No other bank can claim so many millionaires under one roof."

BCCI officials estimate the bank made an illegal profit of $150m-$200m between 1985 and 1987 but add that the frauds were probably in operation from 1982. The Central Bank of Nigeria said the central authorities were not aware of the issue but would be looking into its books for fraud evidence.

According to the commodity trader, whose company was registered in Jersey before it went into liquidation in 1988, this is how one fraud worked:

BCCI would issue a letter of credit for, say, the export to Nigeria of vehicle spare parts.

The Central Bank of Nigeria could take up to six months to process letters of credit and make available foreign exchange for the payments of the parts. BCCI would ask both the Nigeria importer and the foreign exporter, without the knowledge of the other, for funds to cover interest payment, which has a virtual monopoly over foreign exchange as a result of the country's lucrative oil earnings, authorised all exchange transactions. BCCI would then approach the central bank with a request to release to BCCI in London foreign exchange to cover the letter of credit and the interest payment charged to the importer. The central bank would not be told that the exporter had also been charged interest on the letter of credit. BCCI were thus earning interest twice over on the same letter of credit.

In a more serious and complex fraud, BCCI officials have confirmed that a secret account was operated within BCCI-N under the exclusive control of the expatriate management and directed by top executives in London without the knowledge, the officials insist, of local Nigerian staff.

Expatriate managers fed a substantial portion of local currency profits made by BCCI-N into this secret account and then used customer accounts to divert the money to London for their own benefit without the knowledge of account holders. In addition, the secret account was used to hold funds made by BCCI-N when exploiting the difference between the official and the black market exchange rate for the naira. At periods during the 1980s, the black market exchange rate for the Nigerian currency was [illegible] the official rate wanted illegally to repatriate personal funds to London, without the knowledge of the Nigerian authorities. These clients were told by expatriate executives that the transfer would be possible, but only at the black market rate.

In a typical deal, the client would, say, pay BCCI-N naira 1,000 and receive in his London account $500. BCCI-N executives would keep the naira 1,000 in their secret account and then conduct a fraud through which they would receive permission from the central bank to transfer the money to London at the official exchange rate. This would give them $1000, twice the sum they had initially paid the BCCI-N client. BCCI and their officials would pocket the difference.

The Nigerian central bank would make foreign exchange available for the transfer after BCCI-N executives claimed the sums involved were client interest payments on letters of credit. The central bank would ask for only an oral assurance from the expatriate executives that the claims were genuine, the BCCI officials say.

According to BCCI officials, the Nigerian shareholders became increasingly disenchanted with the foreign management, resulting in the cancellation of the management contract at the end of last year.

BCCI-N, which was owned 60 per cent by Nigerian shareholders and 40 per cent by BCCI, changed its name in July to African Bank International. BCCI retains its shareholding but ABI plans either to find a new foreign partner or arrange the sale of the shares on the foreign market.

RE: HIDDEN INTERESTS;
MAJOR CASE 38;
OO: WMFO

As you are aware, on 2/7/91, WMFO initiated a financial institution fraud investigation based on a criminal referral from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (BGFRS) alleging that false and fraudulent statements had been made concerning the Bank of Credit and Commerce International's (BCCI) ownership and control of Credit and Commerce American Holdings (CCAH), the parent-holding company of First American Bank Shares (FABS). FABS is the largest bank-holding company in the Washington, D.C. area, with $11.5 billion in assets, and controls banks in five other states.

On 5/21/91, WMFO received three additional criminal referrals from the BGFRS concerning BCCI's use of Saudi Arabian businessman Ghaith Pharaon as a nominee in the purchases of the National Bank of Georgia, Atlanta, Georgia, and the Independence Bank of Encino, California, and alleged false statements made to the BGFRS concerning the ownership and control of these two banks. Additionally, investigation at Miami, Florida, indicated that Pharaon was involved in fraudulent securities transactions at Centrust Savings Bank, Miami, Florida.

WMFO has been investigating this matter in conjunction with criminal and civil Attorneys from the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia, Washington, D.C. (DOCWDC), and the Fraud Section, Department of Justice. During the week of 11/11/91 - 11/15/91, evidence was presented to a Federal grand jury, DOCWDC, and a three-count indictment is scheduled to be returned on 11/15/91.

The indictment charges BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), S.A.; Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A.; Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited; International Credit and Investment Company (Overseas) Limited; Agha Hasan Abedi; Swaleh Naqvi; and Ghaith Pharaon with violation of Title 18 USC Section 371 (Conspiracy), 1343 (Wire Fraud), and 1962(d) (Racketeering Conspiracy). Abedi was the founder of BCCI and Naqvi was the number two man at BCCI and took over control after Abedi's illness in 1983.

The indictment alleges that the defendants conspired to defraud the United States, in particular the BGFRS, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation by obstructing the ability of these Agencies to conduct their regulatory functions in regulating and supervising activities of the various BCCI entities and their United States branches and/or agencies. The indictment further charges that the defendants devised a scheme to defraud and to obtain insurance protection by the FDIC concerning Independence Bank, Encino, California, as well as a scheme to defraud purchasers of subordinated debentures issued by Centrust Savings Bank, Miami, Florida. Additionally, the indictment charges that the defendants acted as part of a racketeering enterprise involving the unlawful control, operation, and manipulation of United States financial institutions and fraud against the United States Federal bank regulatory agencies.

The indictment incorporates forfeiture provisions concerning the proceeds which the defendants obtained directly or indirectly from their racketeering activity.

The Department of Justice will be holding a press conference at 2:30 p.m. today to announce this indictment. The FBI will be represented by DAD Larry A. Potts.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

FBIHQ is requested to approve a long-term TDY Special Agent to London on the basis of facts set forth in this airtel. U. S. Embassy, London, supports Legat's recommendation.

BRIEF CHRONOLOGY OF EVENTS IN LONDON CONCERNING BCCI INVESTIGATION

On July 5, 1991, the Bank of England closed down the headquarters and offices of the Bank of Credit & Commerce. BCCI was operating in 72 countries with its financial headquarters located in London on Leadenhall Street.

296-WF-171944-187X2

Unrelated but coincidental to the July 5, 1991 closure, Special Agents from Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO), accompanied by a DOJ Fraud Attorney and an Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) out of the United States District Court (USDC), Washington, D.C., were in London July 8, 1991, to interview witnesses consisting of numerous BCCI executives concerning their knowledge of CLARK CLIFFORD [redacted] and BCCI's involvement with First American Bank and other matters.

On August 12 - 13, 1991, meetings were held in Washington, D.C., with the strong recommendation and support of Legat, London, and with all the FBI investigative divisions and Headquarters' personnel having any involvement with BCCI. It was quickly recognized that a myriad of problems existed and that a full-time FBIHQ Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) would be required to coordinate the U.S. aspects of this investigation from a Headquarters perspective.

RE: HIDDEN INTERESTS;
MAJOR CASE 38;

Attached article from The Wall Street Journal dated 11/27/91, alleged "Sen. Hatch Apparently Had Links to BCCI in Late 1980s." A subsequent article from The New York Times dated 11/28/91 (attached) provided further clarification of Senator Hatch's alleged BCCI ties.

The Wall Street Journal article noted that Monzer Hourani, allegedly a friend of Hatch's, had said in an interview televised on NBC Nightly News on 11/26/91, that Senator Hatch had told him in 1989 that he knew people at the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) and that he might be able to put in a good word with them for Mr. Hourani. The article also noted that Senator Hatch had several meetings with Mohammed Hammoud, "an alleged front man for BCCI Holdings." According to this article, Hourani's statement differs from prior statements allegedly made by Senator Hatch concerning his prior relationship with persons connected to BCCI.

On 12/2/91, the Fraud Section, Department of Justice (DOJ), requested that a WMFO Agent and a DOJ Attorney interview Senator Hatch concerning the information contained in these news articles.

DETAILS: The WMFO, in conjunction with, among others, the Atlanta Division, is involved in the investigation of Major Case #38, "Hidden Interests," regarding the international scandal of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI).

Department of Justice (DOJ) attorneys have successfully negotiated with the government of the Cayman Islands and with the court-appointed liquidators of BCCI to allow copying of a large mass of BCCI documents housed in three locations in Georgetown, Grand Cayman. FBI Agents are needed to assist DOJ attorneys and other DOJ personnel in determining which documents are of evidentiary value. The documents are housed at two office locations and a warehouse. DOJ intends to maintain a presence there until the task is done. 29B-WF-171794-200

Federal Grand Jury Indicts BCCI and Three Banking Officials on Racketeering Conspiracy Charge

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The Department of Justice announced today that a federal grand jury has charged the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) and three banking officials with racketeering conspiracy for secretly taking over a California bank and for fraudulently dealing in the stock of a Florida bank.

The indictment said the conspiracy was conducted by arms of the world-wide BCCI network and these international bankers: Agha Hasan Abedi, 68, of Karachi, Pakistan, founder and president of the BCCI group; Swaleh Naqvi, 57, now believed to be in Abu Dhabi, Acting President of the BCCI group; and Ghaith Pharaon, 50, a Saudi national with long ties to BCCI.

Acting Attorney General William P. Barr said "The indictment is one more important step in the aggressive federal prosecution of BCCI. It is the third time that the Department of Justice has indicted BCCI or its officials in major cases.

"Our priority investigation of BCCI is continuing in a number of states and overseas. These are complex cases that take time to develop. The Department of Justice is pursuing all aspects of the cases relentlessly," Barr said.

The indictment today is the result of work by a Justice Department Task Force. Participants in the Task Force include: prosecutors from the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice and from the office of Jay Stephens, United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, and agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation made an exceptionally important contribution to the development of today's indictment," Mueller said. "The Justice Department also is grateful to the Federal Reserve Board and the Office of the District Attorney of New York County for their assistance," Mueller said.

The three-count indictment, returned in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., said the defendants, as part of the long-term conspiracy, illegally gained control of the Independence Bank of Encino, California.

Pharaon masqueraded as the sole purchaser of Independence Bank in 1985 but in fact he owned only 15 percent of the bank and BCCI was the covert financier of the acquisition and owned the controlling 85 per cent of Independence, the indictment said.

As a result, false statements were made to federal bank regulatory agencies, a scheme was executed to defraud a federally-insured financial institution, and a plan was devised to obtain by fraud the federal insurance protection for Independence Bank, the indictment said.

All of this was done "through deceptive stock purchases by way of hidden stock pledges, nominee agreements, nonrecourse loans, loan releases, beneficial interest agreements, and

SSA [redacted] advised that he would request the Anchorage Field Division to conduct a real property asset search in order to determine if [redacted] purchased and/or owns real property in the Anchorage area. b6 b7C

On 11/15/91, a search of the Anchorage real property tax file indicates that [redacted] owns real estate in excess of $6,434,000 in accessed value in Anchorage, Alaska. The attached Anchorage real estate property tax file identifies each property and it's accessed value. b6 b7C outright falsehoods, fabrications, and omissions in applications and reports filed with state and federal regulatory agencies," the indictment said.

The indictment said the stock fraud involved the CenTrust Savings Bank in Miami.

Pharaon owned about 25 percent of CenTrust's stock, the indictment said, and under the scheme he would "arrange for a branch of the BCCI Group to purchase approximately $25 million of the total $150 million CenTrust subordinated debentures in order to mislead and deceive regulators and investors as to the true market for the CenTrust subordinated debentures."

The indictment said Pharaon, as part of the conspiracy, "would cause CenTrust Trust to repurchase said subordinated debentures from BCCI (Overseas) Paris, after approximately six weeks, thus making the BCCI defendants whole and completing the deception of other investors as to the true market for the CenTrust subordinated debentures."

Both the purchase and sale of the debentures were carried out, the indictment said.

Mueller said the three individual defendants are believed to be in other countries. "We will make every effort to have them brought to the United States to stand trial," he said.

Here are the charges and the maximum penalties upon conviction:

o Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 371; conspiracy; for individuals, five years in prison and a $250,000 fine; for Captioned case is to be moved to an off-site location and will be staffed by a minimum of eleven SAs as well as several investigative assistants and other support staff. The term of this Bureau Special is expected to be a minimum of one year.

The terms of the current THRIFTY contract call for a monthly lease fee of $599 per vehicle. SSA [redacted], FBIHQ Automotive Management Unit, advises that comparable vehicles are likely to be available through an existing GSA contract at a monthly fee of approximately $300 per vehicle. GSA requires a twelve month minimum lease term and 60-90 days lead time to obtain vehicles. b6 b7C

Over a period of twelve months, assuming the continued rental of nine vehicles from THRIFTY, WMFO will incur an expense of $32,400 whereas a similar GSA contract is estimated to cost $16,200 resulting in a net savings of $16,200 or 50%

In the unlikely event that captioned investigation is discontinued prior to the expiration of the GSA contract, these vehicles will be used to supplement other Bureau Specials within the administrative management of WMFO.

Airtel from SAC, WMFO to Director FBI dated 11/18/91
RE: HIDDEN INTERESTS; MAJOR CASE #38; FIF; FAG; OO: WMFO

ADDENDUM: CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION (CID); WHITE-COLLAR CRIMES SECTION (WCCS); DRW:drw/vf; 11/21/91

By airtel dated 11/18/91, SAC, WMFO requests FBIHQ (1) to authorize $16,200 for the continued rental of nine vehicles from Thrifty Car Rental for a period of 90 days, and (2) to authorize $32,400 to lease nine vehicles from General Service Administration (GSA) for a 12-month period upon the expiration of the Thrifty contract.

By teletype dated 8/6/91, SAC, WMFO advised the Financial Institution Fraud Unit (FIFU), WCCS of the formation of a special squad (which would consist of one Supervisory Special Agent (SSA), eight Special Agents (SA), two Investigative Assistants, two Financial Analysts (FA), one Secretary, and one Rotor Clerk) to conduct the investigation of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) matter. In addition, SAC, WMFO requested authorization (which was approved by FBIHQ) for four SAs and two FAs on a Temporary Duty basis. As of 11/20/91, WMFO had 1 SSA, 11 SAs, and 2 FAs assigned to captioned matter.

On 2/7/91, WMFO initiated a financial institution fraud (FIF) investigation based on a criminal referral from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (BGFRS) alleging that false and fraudulent statements had been made concerning BCCI's ownership and control of Credit and Commerce American Holdings (CCAH), the parent-holding company of First American Bank Shares (FABS) which owns First American Bank, Washington, D.C.

On 5/21/91, WMFO received three additional criminal referrals from the BGFRS concerning BCCI's use of a nominee in the purchase of a bank in Georgia and a bank in California.

On 7/5/91, as a result of alleged fraudulent conduct by BCCI, bank regulators in Britain, Luxembourg, the United States, Switzerland, Spain, France, and the Cayman Islands closed branches of BCCI within their respective jurisdictions. Subsequently, numerous other countries closed BCCI branches within their jurisdictions.

Extensive media coverage, actions by the Federal Reserve Board and New York officials, and charges in Senate hearings have alleged an extraordinary range of worldwide criminal violations by BCCI and its affiliates. This investigation has been designated as major case number 38 and is being closely coordinated with the Department of Justice. Administrative Services Division (ASD) has obtained an off-site facility for the future co-location of FBI/DOJ personnel. The

Assistant Director, Deputy Assistant Director, and the WCCS Chief, Criminal Investigative Division have been in almost daily contact with Assistant Attorney General Robert Mueller or his representatives on this matter.

WMFO airtel dated 10/12/91 to FBIHQ Automotive Management Unit requested rental of nine vehicles and this request was approved through 11/30/91. The terms of WMFO's current Thrifty Car Rental contract calls for a monthly lease of $599 per vehicle. FBIHQ Automotive Management Unit has noted that comparable vehicles will be available through an existing GSA contract at a monthly fee of approximately $300 per vehicle, however, GSA requires a 12-month minimum lease term and 60-90 days lead time to obtain vehicles. Over a period of 12 months, the continued rental of nine vehicles from Thrifty will cost $64,692, whereas a similar GSA contract is estimated to cost $32,400 resulting in a net savings of $32,292 or approximately 50% (it is noted that calculations for this comparison contained in WMFO airtel dated 11/18/91 were incorrect). In order to provide GSA required lead time, WMFO requests FBIHQ to authorize $16,200 for the continued rental of nine vehicles from Thrifty Car Rental for a period of 90 days (11/30/91 - 2/29/92) and to authorize $32,400 to lease nine vehicles from GSA for a 12-month period (2/29/92 - 2/28/93).

The captioned matter is a manpower intensive, complex FIF investigation characterized by complicated transactions requiring extensive witness interview, document collection, retention, and review. The requested rental vehicles are required to address the matter.

The FIFU, WCCS concurs with this request and requests that this matter be handled as expeditiously as possible.

All the king's men . . .

Saudi Arabian giant NCB leaves some crucial questions unanswered in its accounts, says STEPHEN TIMEWELL

Jeddah's The National Commercial Bank (NCB) has long been an enigma to all but a few intimates. But its inherent secrecy and mysterious ways have not stopped the joint-liability partnership from becoming the largest bank in Saudi Arabia and the Gulf, as well as the world's largest partnership bank. Despite the recession in the region, family-owned NCB has continued to grow but, while the other major institutions in Saudi Arabia appear to have weathered the storm and have begun to show improved results, NCB's performance seems to be getting worse.

The reasons why the country's oldest and largest bank is running counter to its smaller competitors may not be easy to analyse. But its latest results provide a great deal of curious information upon which to speculate.

In July NCB released its full results for the financial year ended 24 August 1987. Besides issuing its balance-sheet over 10 months after the end of year — when most other banks were publishing their half-year results for 1988 — NCB posted a zero net profit following another year of significant increases in provisions for bad and doubtful debts.

The bank's loan-loss provision of SR922.3 million ($246 million) was a 10.8% increase on the previous year and, in comparative terms, well in excess of the combined provisions of the 10 other banks. In relation to loans, the provisions represented 3.6% of the total loan portfolio (3.4% in 1986 and 3.3% in 1985) which was again well in excess of the ratios shown in 1987 by the larger banks in the kingdom. In fact, the ratios for NCB's four main competitors were all reduced significantly.

Why NCB is the odd man out on loan-loss provisions is of key interest both in analysing Saudi bank results and in seeing what is happening in the banking sector. The zero net profit (down from SR80 million the previous year), however, was not the only surprise for those who follow the banking sector (in particular NCB) and see its performance as a useful indication of the health of the economy. Many observers were shocked to see that the bank's results had been qualified by its Saudi auditors and that NCB had taken the unusual step of publishing both the auditor's qualified report and the accompanying notes with the balance sheet in the daily Financial Times on 15 July.

Unlike most bank results, NCB's latest balance-sheet is of great importance. Not only does it contain a rare public glimpse inside a closely guarded institution but also the information contained is surprising and raises far more questions than it answers.

First, banks' accounts are rarely qualified in the kingdom and a qualification for merely technical reasons by local auditors appears almost unthinkable. Many analysts argue that the standard of auditing in the region needs improvement but at present qualifications are generally avoided, even by the big international firms. So to have the country's biggest bank qualified by Saudi auditors is an extremely unusual event.

The content of the auditors' comments are disturbing. Issa El Ayouty & Company and Ismail El Habbab state in Note 7: "There are certain loans and advances granted to clients, partners, parties related to partners and directors which constitute a contravention of Articles 6 and 9 of Banking Control Law. The management of the bank elaborates to coincide these accounts with the provisions of the above-mentioned law."

In a country where there is too little rather than too much banking legislation, such contraventions are disturbing. Article 6 prohibits banks granting facilities to a client in excess of 25% of capital and reserves. Thus, the auditors are saying that NCB has an outstanding loan or loans to at least one single borrower in excess of a quarter of its SR3,900 million in capital and reserves. Such heavy exposure to individual risks must be of grave concern to management.

Problems

Article 9 concerns prohibitions against granting certain classes of credit facilities without security. So the only reasonable inference to be drawn from the auditors' qualifications are that NCB has problems in relation to large unsecured loans and was, at the time of the report, in breach of the banking code. Furthermore, if the trend towards increasing loan-loss provisions at the bank is linked to the above, these large unsecured loans are presumably not being serviced. In that case a considerable portion of the loan portfolio must be deemed non-performing.

This hypothesis appears to be strengthened by some unusual comments in the notes attached to the accounts. In most cases, these notes tend to make precise statements about accounting policies and procedures and leave any discussion of the bank's financial

THE REPORT

The notes to the financial statements regarding the valuation of loans and advances granted to clients, related parties to partners and directors, provision for the effect of matters referred to in note 5 to the financial statements regarding the provision for loan losses in our opinion, the Balance Sheet, the Profit and Loss Account, and the notes thereon present fairly the state of the Bank's affairs as at 30th Rabi Thani, 1412H (4 August, 1991) and the results of its operations for the year ended on the date in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and as shown by the records of the Bank."

THE NOTES

1. Investments include amounts of SR1,171.8m of investments for which the titles have yet to be transferred to the name of the bank.

5. Provision for Loan Losses: The management has carried out this year an overall valuation of the loans and advances, in the light of the substantial decline which occurred in the value of the assets held by the bank as security against loans and advances granted to clients. Consequently, it was decided to transfer the available profit for the year to the provision for loan losses in the same way in the following years.

7. There are certain loans and advances granted to clients, parties related to partners and directors which constitute a contravention of articles 9 and 6 of Banking Control Law. The management of the bank endeavours to conclude these contracts with the provisions of the above-mentioned law.

strategy to management reports. However, Note 5 refers to the substantial decline in the value of the security backing for the bank's loans, and states clearly that it intends to further increase provisions in the future: "The management decided to transfer the available profit for the year to the provision for loan-losses and to continue in strengthening the provision in the same way in the following years."

> How can the kingdom's largest bank produce a qualified result over 10 months after the end of year and appear to remain impervious to criticism?

On the face of it, this appears to be a clear statement that the situation is sufficiently disturbing to NCB's management for them to have ruled out the prospect of any net profits in the coming years, or until the loan problems are resolved.

The notes contain other intriguing items. Note 1 states: "Investments include amounts of SR1,171.8 million of investments for which the titles have yet to be transferred to the name of the bank." This one-line note could readily have been passed over if it were not for the fact that SR1,171.8 million is not a small investment and could easily correspond to the chunk of the Luxembourg-based BCC Group purchased recently by NCB's largest shareholder, the Bin-Mahfouz family.

Note 6 represents an assignment and sale of shares following the death of one of the founding partners. These complex arrangements among an increasing number of heirs and beneficiaries within the founding families, highlight the problematic nature of the bank's partnership structure. The increasingly diverse ownership added to the growing conflict of interests between shareholders and management have forced observers to question both the durability and the desirability of a partnership structure for the bank.

Some bankers have also asked why the government has not sought to broaden the ownership structure of the country's largest and most prestigious financial institution. Would a privatisation scheme not help strengthen the growth of the share market, the private sector and perhaps provide the institution with a useful capital injection?

The role of the government, in relation to NCB, is puzzling. How can the kingdom's largest bank produce a qualified result over 10 months after the end of year and appear to remain impervious to criticism? How does Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency (SAMA) monitor NCB when the agency has introduced a variety of regulatory measures but appears to ignore basic functions at the bank? If NCB has contravened the banking law, as the auditors say, what is being done about it? SAMA remains publicly silent on these issues but must be fully aware of the items in the balance-sheet and in constant touch with NCB management.

So what is going on? The regulatory agency appears to be turning a blind eye to loan problems at the bank and NCB seems happy to advertise its infringements and qualified results as well as state that loan-loss provisions will be further increased in years to come. It is useful to remember, in trying to make sense of this bizarre situation, that NCB is not just any bank: as its deposits show, the bank's reputation in the kingdom is second to none.

One possible, but unlikely, explanation is that the management at both institutions have lost their way. But a more plausible analysis is that they are both grappling with issues beyond their immediate control. This would mean that the bank is tired of carrying a load of large unsecured loans that have not been serviced for years and has resorted to this form of public outcry as a means of prompting some repayments.

Ready for battle?

Another note in the accounts may suggest that the bank was preparing for a battle. Last December NCB prepaid (two years early) a $200 million issue of floating-rate notes. This redemption is mentioned in Note 9, and bankers say NCB preferred to prepay the issue rather than see the bank's single foreign borrowing get battered in the secondary market as a result of the institution's poor performance.

No firm conclusions can be drawn from NCB's results — they just leave many crucial questions unanswered. Why the loan issue has taken a different course at the Jeddah bank than at the other banks is a complex issue which must be assumed to relate to the size of the problem and the type of borrowers involved. In the same way, any solution to the bank's loan problems is likely to be even more complicated. Perhaps it is better to see the results more as a political statement than as a balance-sheet. □

BUSINESS

The Arabs Bank on America

The negotiations for the prime Manhattan office space were almost complete. The landlord had only one question: would the prospective tenants—employees of a wealthy Arab bank—be arriving at work each day wearing burnooses, the traditional Arab hooded cloaks? "No," laughed the bank's American negotiator. "Burnooses and camels you can forget. In fact, you'll have trouble finding any of them in a suit with just two pieces. They're bankers. They'll all be wearing three."

Their roots are deep in the Middle East—but Arab banks are trying to find a vest-pocket home in the United States. Nearly a score of Arab banks have opened up shop in the United States since the mid-1970s, and at least four have arrived in the past year alone, says MidEast Report editor David Mizrahi. The banks will have to shed many of their native customs to compete successfully, but the vast American market remains an irresistible mecca. "More and more you'll find Arab banks coming to the U.S.," says Fakhruddin Khalil, senior executive vice president of the UBAF Arab American Bank.

The newcomers differ from earlier Arab immigrants to the financial community—most of whom were private investors whose purchases of U.S. banks created a paranoid stir. Eyebrows rose when Saudi Arabian billionaire Ghaith Pharaon bought the National Bank of Georgia—once headed by former budget director Bert Lance—and a group of investors headed by a Saudi government adviser obtained control of Washington's Financial General Bankshares last year only after a bitter four-year fight. But the latest crop of Arab bankers seem quietly respectable. This week the venerable $11 billion Arab Bank Ltd. of Jordan will open its 100th office in a new Manhattan skyscraper, and the National Commercial Bank, Saudi Arabia's largest, hopes to set up a New York branch this year. Even many younger arrivals have well-heeled backers: the two-year-old Arab Banking Corp., now operating on Park Avenue, is jointly owned by government agencies of Libya, Kuwait and Abu Dhabi.

The most important goal of the new banks is to establish themselves as "the major financial link between U.S. companies" and the Middle East, says Ahmed Bangja, head of National Commercial Bank's U.S. operations and a former aide to Saudi oil minister Ahmad Zaki Yamani. In part they hope to help their wealthy Arab depositors by scouting investments in American real estate and corporations. Some even plan to make that a full-time occupation: Investcorp, a new firm headed by former Chase Manhattan Bank vice president Nemir Kirdar, hopes to become a full-fledged investment bank seeking out deals for its 350 Arab shareholders and other investors. The Arabs are also interested in helping medium-size U.S. companies finance exports to the Mideast, arguing that their expertise will help Americans land contracts in the unfamiliar Arab world. "We're particularly looking at construction, energy and utility companies," says Samir Kaldawy, general manager of ABC's New York branch, "but if someone else walks in and says, 'Here's a good deal,' we'll listen."

Still, some U.S. bankers wonder whether the Arabs have enough experience and marketing expertise to compete with American banks on their own turf. "Can you see these guys going out to some middle-market company in the Midwest?" asks an executive at a large New York bank. "They may get in the door, but six months later they'll probably be thrown out." The Arabs concede that they may have trouble. UBAF Arab American Bank, for example, has had trouble building a large portfolio of American loans. One reason is that federal law prohibited it from lending more than 10 percent of its $75 million in capital to individual borrowers in 1981—too small a sum to interest major firms. As a result, the bank's growth "hasn't come up to my expectations yet," acknowledges UBAF Group chairman Mohamed Abushadi. UBAF shareholders have now increased the bank's capital to $100 million.

The sales pitch: A bridge to the Mideast?

In their eagerness to capture a piece of the U.S. market, Arabs are becoming more aggressive lenders. In 1981 the $4.5 billion, Bahrain-based Gulf International Bank led a group of Arab banks in packaging a $25 million revolving credit for Portland General Electric, a less-than-top-rated borrower. And to their current dismay, many of the large Arab banks have sizable loans outstanding to Mexico, Brazil and other troubled South American nations. As they venture into riskier areas, says Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. senior vice president Amos T. Beeson, "they're going to have to recruit good people to make careful credit decisions—and I think they will."

Independence On some occasions the Arabs' push to book new business has led them to dispense with deeply rooted ideology. When Israel's Bank Leumi joined a large syndicated loan to Texas-based Gulf States Utilities Co. last year, most of the Arab bankers who had contemplated participating in the loan pulled out. The $6 billion Arab Banking Corp. decided to stay in—though it quietly arranged for its name to be left off The Wall Street Journal tombstone that announced the deal. That episode highlighted what officials close to Arab banks describe as their growing independence from their OPEC shareholders. ABC's Libyan shareholder is the agency that supervises that country's overseas investments, and chief executive Abdulla Saudi is a former aide to Col. Muammar Kaddafi, the Libyan leader, who is a bitter enemy of Israel. But "Kaddafi is smart enough not to muck up the business," says an American close to the bank. "Politically they are left alone."

For their part, the Arabs are heartened by growing acceptance of Arab investment in the United States. Fears that the Arabs' massive U.S. dollar holdings could someday be used to blackmail the American government have died down, and if anything, the banks note, their presence here is a sign of good faith in friendly U.S.-Arab relations. Two years ago the freeze on Iranian assets in U.S. banks during the hostage crisis prompted some Arab banks to think twice about their American investments. Coming to the United States now "is an expression of confidence that [the power to seize assets] won't be used against them," says one Arab bank aide. But as at least one bank has already learned, becoming American may require some compromises. When Iran chose to retaliate for the American assets freeze by halting loan repayments, it forwarded one interest payment to UBAF Arab American on the assumption that the New York state-chartered institution was an Arab bank. Then, abruptly, the payments ceased. To their astonishment, says UBAF's Khalil, the Iranians had discovered "that we were an American bank after all."

Texas regulators asked for a criminal investigation of financial dealings between Houston's Alliance Savings & Loan Association and Menzer Hourani, a Houston businessman with close ties to U.S. Sen. Orrin Hatch, documents obtained by The Houston Post show.

It is unclear whether the requested federal investigation ever occurred.

It is clear, however, that Hatch, the Utah Republican, sought help for Hourani from the scandal-plagued Bank of Credit and Commerce International last year and earlier wrote the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. on Hourani's behalf to resolve a dispute with Mainland Savings, another failed Houston institution.

Recent news reports have focused attention on a telephone call from Hatch to Swaleh Naqvi, BCCI's chief executive, in 1990. Hourani told The Post Tuesday Hatch made only "one inquiry" to BCCI, and, the Houston businessman said, he "never got the loan" from the rogue bank.

A spokesman for Hatch told The Post Hourani was having trouble "raising funds" and the senator believed dealing with an Arab bank might be easier for Hourani.

Closed down in July, BCCI is at the heart of a worldwide scandal involving alleged violations of U.S. banking laws, money laundering, arms trafficking and support of terrorists.

In addition to calling BCCI on Hourani's behalf, however, Hatch also interceded with federal thrift regulators for the businessman.

A spokesman for Hatch acknowledged Tuesday the senator wrote to the FSLIC on Hourani's behalf in 1986, concerning a dispute between the thrift agency and Mainland, which had been seized by federal regulators.

While the letter said the senator didn't want to interfere with the agency's process, it did urge agency officials to settle the dispute to avoid lengthy legal proceedings.

A senior FSLIC official responded that while Hourani might believe he had a claim against Mainland, the agency believed it had a claim against Hourani.

WASHINGTON — The government's main economic forecasting gauge barely rose in October, the Commerce Department said Tuesday, adding to signs the economy was losing momentum entering the final quarter of 1991.

The department's Index of Leading Indicators, which is designed to forecast economic activity about six months into the future, increased a scant 0.1 percent in October after falling 0.1 percent in September and being unchanged in August.

The October rise was in line with Wall Street economists' expectations.

Concern has mounted that the economy stalled after a brief period of growth during the third quarter and might already have slipped back into recession.

Both conservative Republicans and Democrats are calling on President Bush to cut taxes to stimulate activity and business leaders are urging quick stimulative action to boost confidence and make consumers more willing to spend.

On Monday, the National Association of Purchasing Management said its monthly index dropped to 50.1 percent in November from 53.5 percent in October. A reading below 50 percent would show the manufacturing sector was shrinking.

Production and new orders rose in November, but at a slower pace, raising the possibility that job prospects in the industrial sector that had been one of the few engines of growth might start coming under pressure. The purchasing managers said the latest report showed U.S. manufacturing industries had "virtually stopped growing" by November.

Real estate industry officials met Bush Monday to urge that he offer policy remedies for the anemic economy now rather than wait until next year. But they said later the president "provided no assurance" any short-term proposals were likely.

Economists say a major reason the recovery is so much weaker than other previous recessions is that consumers, whose spending accounts for two-thirds of all economic activity, are unwilling or unable to spend more because of large debts.

The department said five of 11 indicators that make up the leading index rose in October, led by more plant and equipment orders, more building permits, a bigger money supply, slower deliveries of finished goods and lower claims for state unemployment benefits.

ment. But a source familiar with Hourani said Hatch "performed miracles for Hourani."

In addition to his problems with Mainland, Hourani also faced serious troubles in his relations with Alliance Savings, another failed savings and loan.

State regulators sent a criminal referral on Hourani to the FBI and the U.S. Attorney's office in 1987, the initial step in determining whether a transaction with Alliance violated federal banking laws, documents obtained by The Post show.

Hourani said Tuesday he was a "victim of Alliance Savings corruption," not a perpetrator. He said he was working with the regulators "on a settlement" and that he has never heard from a criminal investigative agency on the matter.

The referral accuses Hourani of being the "undisclosed borrower" on a $50,000 loan, which allegedly put him over his borrowing limit at the thrift.

When a regulatory agency examines a transaction involving a failed financial institution and determines a violation of federal banking laws may have taken place, the agency refers the matter to the FBI, the agency charged with investigating the allegations.

Copies of the referrals also are sent to other regulatory agencies and the U.S. Attorney's office.

Hundreds of such referrals have been made by various regulatory agencies involving failed Houston financial institutions in the past several years. Most don't lead to formal FBI investigations.

U.S. Attorney Ron Woods declined to comment, saying he could not "confirm or deny" any aspect of the Alliance referral.

However, a source familiar with the investigation said "there was more than one questionable transaction at Alliance involving Monzer Hourani."

HATCH: Sought help

Documents show Hourani was also an Alliance stockholder. The Houston institution had about a $50 million negative net worth when it failed, according to state regulators.

Hatch's spokesman told The Post he didn't know if the senator was aware of the Alliance matter, but, he said, "we all fall on hard times sometimes."

Connections among Hatch, BCCI and Hourani are complex.

Hatch has defended BCCI in a speech before the Senate. He also has acknowledged meeting with Mohammed Hammoud, who government investigators have alleged was a BCCI nominee shareholder.

The senator has said he didn't know of Hammoud's alleged ties to BCCI until mid-1990, sometime after their last meeting.

Hourani, who was reared in Lebanon, told The Post he was acquainted with Hammoud, an influential Lebanese Shiite Moslem with connections to the Syrian government. He said he met with Hammoud to discuss U.S. hostages and peace in Lebanon.

"But I never had business dealings with him," Hourani said.

Both Hourani and Hatch are members of the Mormon Church and the two struck up an association in 1985, according to Hourani.

A Hatch spokesman also confirmed Tuesday that Hourani manages a blind trust for the senator, which includes a Houston apartment complex.

State savings and loan department documents and sources indicate Hourani was a borrower at a number of Texas financial institutions, including Mainland Savings, Gibraltar Savings, Alliance Savings, Champion Savings and Lamar Savings of Austin.

On 12/17/91, I attended a meeting with White-Collar Crimes Section Chief [redacted] in the office of Assistant Attorney General (AAG) Robert Mueller regarding the investigation of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI). AAG Mueller chaired this meeting which was attended by the United States Attorneys from Atlanta, Georgia; Miami, Florida; Tampa, Florida; and the District of Columbia, Washington, D.C. b6 b7C

Participants at this meeting discussed the status of their various aspects of the BCCI investigation.

AAG Mueller advised that at approximately 11:00 a.m. Thursday, 12/19/91, Attorney General (AG) Barr plans to make a press release announcing that BCCI entered into a plea agreement. This plea agreement is the result of negotiations between Attorneys at the Department of Justice (DOJ) and Attorneys and Liquidators for all of BCCI. The results of this agreement will be filed in court in Luxembourg and in the United States. After AG Barr's announcement, Deputy Attorney General (DAG) Terwilliger will answer questions concerning the plea agreement.

The DOJ will utilize the agreement in Luxembourg in the United States as an admission of fraud by BCCI. The Luxembourg plea agreement will be used to facilitate the seizure of BCCI assets currently located in the United States valued at approximately $500 million.

On Friday, 12/20/91, it is anticipated that [redacted] District Attorney, New York County, will announce the plea of several individuals in the New York County indictment against BCCI previously returned on 7/29/91. b6 b7C

Another coordinating meeting to discuss the BCCI investigation is scheduled for the second week of January, 1992. Two Assistant U.S. Attorneys from each of the U.S. Attorney's offices involved in this investigation and two FBI Special Agents from each office involved in this investigation will attend this meeting.

You will be kept advised of all pertinent developments.

Did the Canadian Mounties Pull Their Punches With BCCI?

The Americas

By Warren Kinsella

OTTAWA—Those who wear the scarlet tunics of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), legend has it, always get their man. But following a special federal inquiry into the case of the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce Canada (BCCC), all the "Mounties" "got" was a lot of egg on their collective faces.

The four Canadian branches of BCCC—in Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver and Ottawa—were wholly owned subsidiaries of the infamous Luxembourg-based Bank of Credit and Commerce International throughout its nine-year existence. On July 5, 1991, all four branches were shut down by the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, on the heels of an unprecedented international crackdown on BCCI's global empire. Following the lead of financial regulators in the U.S., Britain and five other nations, Canadian authorities took control of an estimated $208 million (Canadian) in assets and changed the locks at the four branches.

Alarmed by reports that the bank's officers allegedly were involved in laundering of drug money, arms sales and even the funding of terrorist groups, Canadian members of Parliament decided to launch an inquiry of their own. On July 30, members of the House of Commons Finance Committee voted to examine the activities of BCCC. One of the committee's first tasks was to find out whether BCCC did anything criminal—and, if so, what the Mounties knew about it.

At hearings held from August to November of this year, the stunned parliamentarians discovered that the Canadian subsidiary of the rogue bank had been implicated in no less than three money-laundering conspiracies. In two of the cases, the MPs were told, there had been successful prosecutions of co-conspirators residing in the U.S. But in Canada, there had been no prosecutions, no arrests and not even a single formal investigation of BCCC launched by the RCMP. As Liberal Party finance critic Herb Gray put it: "There is something very puzzling here."

But the case of BCCC grew even more puzzling in October, when members of Parliament were told that the former deputy commissioner of the RCMP—the man who had supervised BCCC-related probes from 1987 to 1989—had gone to work for BCCC as a paid consultant four months after his retirement. Henry Jensen had been the second-most-senior officer on the force. When questioned by the finance committee in October about his BCCC job, Mr. Jensen said he was hired to "protect" the bank from money launderers. His conclusion about BCCC's stated attempts to counter money laundering: "Upon my examination of their procedures and policies, I concluded they were exceedingly severe. In effect, it was driving clients away."

But apparently not all clients were being driven away by BCCC's "severe" anti-money-laundering policies. During the course of the finance committee's hearings, MPs were told about the following cases:

- In July 1988, the Ottawa branch of BCCC was named by the FBI as being at the center of a Libyan government-led money-laundering conspiracy. During the course of the successful U.S. prosecution and deportation of six Libyan co-conspirators (also implicated in a plot to assassinate Oliver North), U.S. authorities discovered that the Libyans had opened well-nourished accounts at BCCC's Ottawa branch in 1987. The money ostensibly had been placed in Canadian banks to evade the 1986 trade embargo against the Moammar Gadhafi regime.

Documents filed in the federal court in Alexandria, Va., as part of a plea-bargain agreement with the Libyans, reveal how the BCCC accounts were used to pass on hundreds of thousands of dollars to neo-Nazi groups, the American Indian Movement and the anti-Semitic Nation of Islam. Representatives of the groups mentioned in the plea bargain have confirmed that Libyan donations in various forms were received. Mr. Jensen had initially assisted the FBI in its case, but concluded there was insufficient evidence to file criminal charges in Canada.

- In 1989, an undercover RCMP investigation tripped across BCCC in a money-laundering investigation dubbed Project Albus. The Mounties' investigation focused primarily on members of the Ismaili Muslim sect who, they suspected, were laundering millions of dollars through banks in Toronto and Vancouver into a Swiss bank account. The suspects were found to have a very large safe-deposit box at the main Toronto branch of BCCC, in which cash and the phone numbers of several BCCC bank managers were found.

While the RCMP's investigations led to no arrests in Canada, a U.S. investigation of the same group led to 11 successful prosecutions in Texas. Asked why the Mounties did not have the same success in prosecuting their side of the investigation, Mr. Jensen said that the RCMP investigation went nowhere because of insufficient "resources."

- In 1989, RCMP undercover agent Paul Vidosa was probing money laundering in relation to Project Albus. When agent Vidosa mentioned to BCCC bank officers his supposed connections with members of the Ismaili sect, the officers allegedly promised an "unlimited" credit line at the Ottawa branch of BCCC. While BCCC managers do admit having met with Mr. Vidosa several times while he was undercover, they deny he was extended any preferential treatment. The former agent—whose Eastern Ontario home was fire-bombed and burned to the ground in September, shortly before he was to testify before the finance committee's BCCC inquiry—stands by his story.

Other BCCC-related cases discussed at the finance committee have raised more questions than they have answered. One is a drug money-laundering prosecution announced in Vancouver in August, with alleged BCCC involvement; another case questions the decision of BCCC management to pour $27 million (U.S.)—more than 10% of the Canadian subsidiary's entire capital base—into questionable real-estate investments in the Puget Sound area of Washington state.

Unlike authorities in the U.S. and the U.K., Canadian authorities have yet to decide whether BCCC wrongdoing merits criminal charges. And it appears unlikely that they will ever do so—despite the startling testimony heard by the House of Commons Finance Committee. Asked why the Mounties had not been more diligent about the BCCI's Canadian branches, current RCMP Deputy Commissioner Gilles Favreau testified: "To this day, to this day, we do not have grounds in Canada to investigate the BCCC. You just do not start an investigation when you do not have grounds."

Mr. Jensen, meanwhile—whose employment with what remained of BCCC was terminated in September—sees nothing improper in his relationship with the disgraced bank. He said in October: "The bank of Credit and Commerce Canada did not have a public reputation that was detrimental or that one ought to avoid. . . . I'm still unaware of anything where BCC Canada acted inappropriately, let alone criminally."

Mr. Kinsella is an Ottawa author. His book on Libyan terrorism, "Unholy Alliances," is to be published next spring.

Dear Sir: —

As a taxpayer & employer & one who pays & pays & [redacted] salary I demand a full investigation of this crime. Mr. Casolaro was murdered because he was getting information that would lead to indictments of high Gov. officials involving their part & knowledge of Iran Contra & October surprise frauds. It would not be out of line to have Pres. Bush- [redacted] (Justice Dept) & others involved. I insist that a full investigation be launched - Also - why did they embalm Casolaro's body before notifying the family? My guess is to do away with any evidence of murder (drugs etc). This country is absolutely rotten to the core. Gov. officials do NOT CARE what happens to this country as long as

By routing slip dated 11/18/91 (attached), you inquired concerning an article from the CHICAGO DEFENDER dated 10/24/91 captioned "FBI knew BCCI financed Iran-Contra deal."

On 8/3/91, an analytical review group was formed within Criminal Investigative Division (CID) consisting of analysts from the Counterterrorism, Drug, and White-Collar Crimes Sections (WCCS) and tasked with identifying all references in the central files of the FBI to BCCI and locating and reviewing documents contained in these files at FBIHQ. An extensive search was conducted of FBIHQ files in coordination with the Information Management Division to locate information relating to BCCI retrievable through the various data bases and indices systems. A survey was requested by FBIHQ of all field office files containing references to BCCI. The analytical review group was also tasked with reviewing the responses to this survey. The purpose of this review was to determine what information was in FBIHQ and field files relating to BCCI.

A reference to BCCI was located in 211-HQ-26-1726 (Front Door). FBI knew BCCI financed Iran-Contra deal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The scandal-ridden Bank of Credit and Commerce International financed the Reagan administration's secret sale of arms to Iran for a profit but government investigators later covered up the bank's role, a former bank official testified Tuesday.

Abdur Sakhia told a Senate subcommittee that when he was in charge of U.S. operations for BCCI in 1987, FBI investigators asked him for bank records about the arms deal. Upon their delivery, he said, the investigators promised that they would keep the Pakistani-run bank's role "out of the press."

Sakhia said he was shown documents indicating that Reagan administration operatives paid the manager of BCCI's Monte Carlo office a $100,000 bribe to arrange a $10 million loan for the weapon purchases, executed by arms dealer Adnan Khashoggi. Sakhia said BCCI apparently approved the deal because it would not fire or suspend the Monte Carlo manager.

The Reagan administration used profits from the arms sales to secretly aid the Nicaraguan Contra rebels after Congress refused to authorize assistance.

Testimony from the government's subsequent Iran-Contra investigation also alluded to the $10 million loan. That testimony revealed Iran was to pay $11 million for the arms and an undisclosed portion of the $1 million in profit was to go to BCCI.

An FBI spokesman said the agency would have no comment.

BCCI was seized last July by regulators in seven countries after the Bank of England uncovered evidence of fraud, drug trafficking and money laundering. The victims potentially include as many as 1.2 million depositors in the 73 countries where BCCI operated. The accounts of depositors were frozen when the bank was seized.

Sakhia is cooperating with U.S. prosecutors investigating BCCI's secret ownership of the National Bank of Georgia and First American Bankshares in Washington D.C., which, until recently, was chaired by longtime Democratic presidential adviser Clark Clifford.

Testifying before the Senate Subcommittee on Terrorism, Narcotics and International Operations, Sakhia:

—Submitted records indicating that BCCI lent Price Waterhouse's Barbados branch $200,000 even though the office audited some of the bank's books for the firm's United Kingdom branch. Those audits have been severely criticized for not revealing the rogue bank's weak financial conditions and its secret and illegal ownership of U.S. banks.

A Price Waterhouse spokeswoman said there was nothing improper about the loan because it was made a couple of years before the audit and was paid back on normal terms.

—Said BCCI officers were jailed for foreign exchange violations in India, Kenya and Sudan but were then released and never prosecuted. He said the bank had paid off the Indira Gandhi family of India as well as leaders in Pakistan, Bangladesh and a number of African countries, including Kenya, Zimbabwe and Nigeria.

"In some cases, cash was given. In some cases, their relatives were hired....It (the payoff) took many forms," he said, declining to name the recipients.

—Denied assertions by Clifford and First American's former president, Robert Altman, that they were not informed about BCCI's illegal ownership of their bank holding company. He said Altman even advised BCCI on how it could also secretly acquire a Florida bank. To illustrate the banks' close relationship, Sakhia noted that BCCI founder Agha Hassan Abedi decided which office space should be rented for First American's New York office and personally hired its top executive.

—Said former Sen. Paula Hawkins (R-Fla.) informed him in 1984 of reports that his bank was laundering money but Justice Department officials told him the bank was not the subject of an investigation.

As you were advised in my previous note of 12/5/91 (attached), the Fraud Section, Department of Justice (DOJ), requested that Senator Orrin Hatch be interviewed concerning information contained in an article from The Wall Street Journal dated 11/27/91, captioned "Sen. Hatch Apparently Had Links to BCCI in Late 1980s."

On 12/11/91, Senator Hatch was interviewed by WMFO with a DOJ Fraud Section Attorney. Hatch advised that he had never had any type of relationship with the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), that he had never received loans nor financing from BCCI, and to his knowledge, the only BCCI official he had ever spoke with was [redacted] He had no financial relationship with nor had he received any contributions from [redacted] Clark Clifford, nor the law firm of Clifford [redacted] He had no business dealings with Mohammad Hammoud. b6 b7C

Senator Hatch indicated that his intent was to fully cooperate in this investigation, and to provide any documentation that would assist the current investigation of BCCI. He provided various documents to include a copy of a press release dated 11/27/91, where he responded to an NBC news report that was discussed in the 11/27/91 Wall Street Journal news article. He provided details concerning his knowledge of BCCI to include: his discussions in early 1990 with [redacted] and Attorneys representing BCCI and subsequently with DOJ representatives concerning the BCCI/Tampa money laundering case; a speech he had given in the Senate in February 1990 concerning the BCCI/Tampa money laundering case; and his contacts with Mohammad Hammoud, [redacted] b6 b7C

Senator Hatch had been introduced to Mohammad Hammoud by a constituent from Utah and subsequently had three meetings (occurring in 1981, 1983, and 1988) in his office with Hammoud. These meetings dealt with problems in Lebanon, the hostages, and the Middle East. During these meetings, Hammoud had never mentioned BCCI and at that time, Senator Hatch was not aware of BCCI.

Senator Hatch met [redacted] through a mutual friend from Utah. On several occasions, [redacted] had asked Senator Hatch to help him obtain financing for business projects and Senator Hatch had contacted several insurance companies to assist [redacted] had never received any financing from these companies. in February 1990, Senator Hatch had felt that BCCI would listen to [redacted] because [redacted] was an Arab and BCCI was an Arab bank. Senator Hatch believed that he had called [redacted] and was given [redacted]s name as the top man at BCCI and [redacted]s telephone number. Senator Hatch called [redacted] from his office and had introduced himself as a U.S. Senator. He told [redacted] that he had an Arab friend who he wanted to introduce to [redacted] regarding a financing proposal and he may have given [redacted]'s telephone number to [redacted] This was the sole communication he had with [redacted] b6 b7C

Senator Hatch advised that approximately three months ago he had asked [redacted] if he could obtain a good deal on carpeting for his home. The next day, he had received a carpet from [redacted] valued at approximately $7,000. The carpet was the wrong color and had cost more than he had wanted to pay. He did not want to accept the carpet as a gift, however, he was reluctant to send the carpet back because he did not want to offend his friend. Senator Hatch stated that he was concerned about the adverse media publicity that could arise from this situation. Hatch asked for advice as to how to deal with this situation, and was told that such advice could not be rendered. Hatch stated that he would probably pay the $7,000 for the carpet. b6 b7C

The Wall Street Journal article noted that Monzer Hourani, allegedly a friend of Hatch's, had said in an interview televised on NBC Nightly News on 11/26/91, that Senator Hatch had told him in 1989 that he knew people at the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) and that he might be able to put in a good word with them for Mr. Hourani. FBI investigation at Houston indicates that Senator Hatch may have had some contact at BCCI. Although neither WMFO nor Houston consider Senator Hatch as a subject of this investigation, WMFO considers that an interview of Senator Hatch would be appropriate based on these news articles and investigation to date at Houston. I have approved the interview of Senator Hatch and arrangements are being made to interview Senator Hatch as soon as possible with a DOJ Attorney.

Sen. Hatch Apparently Had Links to BCCI in Late 1980s

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter

WASHINGTON—Sen. Orrin Hatch appears to have had links with BCCI dating at least to the late 1980s.

A friend of the Utah Republican, Mouaz Hourani, said in an interview televised on NBC Nightly News yesterday that Mr. Hatch told him in 1989 that he knew people at Bank of Credit & Commerce International and that he might be able to put in a good word with them for Mr. Hourani, a Houston businessman.

This newspaper had earlier reported that Mr. Hatch had several meetings with Mohammed Hammoud, an alleged front man for BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. Mr. Hammoud's death in May 1990 in Geneva remains clouded in mystery. Mr. Hatch's friend, Mr. Hourani, is also said to have known Mr. Hammoud.

The televised comments of Mr. Hourani were at odds with Mr. Hatch's claim to the network that he was unaware of ties between BCCI and Mr. Hammoud until 1990. He told the network he learned of his friend's association only after reading an article in a Washington business monthly.

Previously, a spokesman for Mr. Hatch had told this newspaper that the senator was unaware of Mr. Hammoud's links to BCCI until July 1991.

In an interview with this newspaper last night, Mr. Hourani said he made his acquaintance with Mr. Hatch in 1985. Both of them are Mormons, he explained, and both had an interest in helping to resolve the hostage situation in Lebanon. Mr. Hourani also said he managed $19,000 for Mr. Hatch in a blind trust. Sen. Hatch's 1987 financial disclosure form notes that he received a painting valued at $1,000 from Mr. Hourani.

Mr. Hourani said that he ultimately never had any dealings with BCCI.

Hatch Gives Details About B.C.C.I. Ties

Bank's Lawyer Helped Senator With a Speech

By MARTIN TOLCHIN

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — Senator Orrin G. Hatch today confirmed a report that his defense of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International in a Senate speech last year, as well as of the Justice Department's handling of a money-laundering case against the bank, had been based on information provided by Robert Altman, a friend who was serving as a lawyer for B.C.C.I.

Mr. Altman was also president of First American Bankshares Inc., a Washington bank that Federal prosecutors contend was secretly controlled by B.C.C.I., which was closed last July by regulators in seven countries because of reported widespread money laundering and fraud.

Last week, The Wall Street Journal reported that Senator Hatch had made the speech at Mr. Altman's request. Tuesday night, NBC News reported that Mr. Altman actually drafted the speech, and it said that the Senator's relationship with B.C.C.I. was under investigation.

Not Under Investigation

Mr. Hatch said that William Barr, the Attorney General, told him he was unaware of any investigation but would look into it.

This evening, the Senator received a hand-delivered letter from G. Allen Carver Jr., principal deputy chief of the fraud section of the criminal division of the Justice Department, which said, "This is to inform you that you are not now either a subject or a target of our B.C.C.I.-related investigations."

The letter went on to say that the Justice Department would take advantage of the Senator's offer of cooperation in the investigation and send an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to interview him.

In the speech on Feb. 22, 1990, Mr. Hatch called the B.C.C.I. money-laundering case "a very serious matter," but said that "the charges ought to be viewed in their proper perspective." He added, "The case arose from the conduct of a small number of B.C.C.I.'s more than 14,000 employees."

The Senator said that efforts to make an example of B.C.C.I. "by imposing unprecedented penalties for offenses which other banks have committed could be seen by some as discriminatory."

Talks With Lawyers

In an hourlong interview today, Mr. Hatch, a conservative from Utah and the second-ranking Republican on the Judiciary Committee, said that Mr. Altman and two of the bank's lawyers — Lawrence Barcella and Lawrence Wechsler — "were people of impeccable integrity" who "told me the truth as they knew it."

"They told me that third-tier employees had done this, and that the top management was doing everything they could to resolve this," Mr. Hatch said today.

The Senator added, "Had I known then what I know now, I would not have given the speech with any kind remarks about B.C.C.I.'s management."

Earlier this month, a Federal grand jury indicted two of the bank's top officials and a major shareholder on fraud charges.

In today's interview, Mr. Hatch said that he had met with Mr. Altman and the B.C.C.I. lawyers in his office on two occasions. The first meeting involved a Tampa money-laundering case against the bank. "I encouraged them to settle the case," Mr. Hatch recalled, and indeed, it was settled.

At the second meeting, Mr. Altman and the B.C.C.I. lawyers complained that "the Justice Department and B.C.C.I. were being blasted," Mr. Hatch recalled.

Defending the Justice Department

Of his speech, the Senator said, "I stood up for the Justice Department. I'm on the Judiciary Committee, and I know they do a very good job, and did a very good job in this case." Some senators have criticized the Justice Department for moving too slowly on the case.

He said of Mr. Altman, "We're still friends." The Senator also said that he remained friends with Clark M. Clifford, chairman of First American. He said that he believed both men when they said that they were unaware that their bank had been secretly acquired by B.C.C.I.

In today's interview, Mr. Hatch said that two years ago he had contacted Swaleh Naqvi, then president of B.C.C.I. in the London office, in an unsuccessful attempt to get the bank to finance a company owned by a friend, Munzer Hourani, a Houston businessman of Lebanese ancestry who had joined the Mormon Church.

NBC News reported that Mr. Hourani said that the Senator had offered to help him get money from B.C.C.I., but did not disclose the conversation with Mr. Naqvi, who was indicted by a Federal grand jury earlier this month.

Ties With a Shareholder

Mr. Hatch also discussed his relationship with Mohammed Hammoud, a major B.C.C.I. shareholder. Mr. Hammoud was also the man who bought shares in First American from Mr. Altman and Mr. Clifford in 1988, giving them a profit of nearly $10 million in less than two years. The Federal Reserve reported that Mr. Hammoud was a front man for B.C.C.I., which financed the purchase. The relationship was reported last week in The Wall Street Journal.

In three meetings with Mr. Hammoud, the Senator said, "We talked about Lebanon, the Middle East and the hostages." The Senator said that he was "totally unaware" of Mr. Hammoud's B.C.C.I. connection.

Mr. Hammoud told the Senator of Sheik Shams al-Din, who, he said, knew where the hostages were. The Senator said that he passed this information along to the State Department.

"During none of our meetings did Mr. Hammoud say anything about B.C.C.I.," the Senator said.

Mr. Hatch said that Mr. Hourani had contributed $1,000 each to his last primary and general election campaigns. He said he had given Mr. Hourani $10,000 to invest for him, and that Mr. Hourani had used the money to buy a condominium.

[redacted] date of birth [redacted] SSAN [redacted], was advised of the identity of SA [redacted] and the nature of the interview. [redacted] advised that he is currently a registered stockbroker, however, he is not licensed in the State of Indiana and is currently doing business as an independent investor. He explained that he and his family moved to Bloomington, Indiana, approximately a year ago from Florida. He advised that he previously was a registered licensed stockbroker in the State of Florida and was in [redacted] known as [redacted] Tampa, Florida. He advised that he did business as a stockbroker in that company from June, 1981 until June, 1990, when he moved to Bloomington, Indiana. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that with respect to his investment in CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES that he was acting as an independent investor at the time and this was a personal investment. He explained that in connection with his brokerage responsibilities he frequently traveled and in approximately May, 1988, he had been doing business in the Miami, Florida, area and became aware of the CENTRUST SAVINGS BANK of Miami, Florida. He recalled that he heard a speech by [redacted] of the Board of CENTRUST SAVINGS BANK of Miami, Florida, and at the time he was looking for high yielding securities for a personal investment. [redacted] advised that he decided to purchase the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES. [redacted] directed his company's bond specialist at the brokerage firm of WILLIAMS SECURITIES GROUP, Tampa, Florida, to purchase the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES. As a result, these SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES were eventually purchased by his company through the DREXEL BURNHAM STOCK BROKERAGE COMPANY. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that on June 13, 1988, he purchased 25 SUBORDINATE DEBENTURE bonds, which were discounted to him, and he paid between $24,500 and $25,000 total for the bonds. approximately $946.

[redacted] advised that his decision to purchase the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES was strictly a personal investment decision. He recalled that he received interest on the investment for approximately a year and then he watched the investment decline in value. At some point, [redacted] found out that CENTRUST had repurchased almost the bulk of the issue and he was never made aware of that information by CENTRUST. Since CENTRUST repurchased a large percentage of the bond issue, [redacted] feels that he was treated unfairly. At some point in time he determined that his investment had become worthless.

[redacted] voluntarily provided answers to specific questions which were as follows:

1. [redacted] was aware that he had purchased CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES inasmuch as he is a registered stockbroker and this was a personal investment.

2. [redacted] purchased the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES as an investment and this was done by him through an unsolicited order, not through a broker, but was executed by a broker.

3. [redacted] advised that he invested between $24,500 and $25,000 in the June 13, 1988, purchase of the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES.

4. [redacted] advised that he has lost approximately $25,000 in connection with his investment in the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES.

5. [redacted] advised that he received an offering document from the DREXEL BURNHAM STOCK BROKERAGE HOUSE regarding the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES.

6. [redacted] advised that he based his investment decision on the following:

A. The prospects of the CENTRUST SAVINGS BANK, Miami, Florida, as described by [redacted] of the Board.

b7C

B. A review of the prospectus.

C. The premise that people/investors were being treated equitably.

7. [redacted] advised that he invested in the SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES himself and he did receive quarterly statements which were sent by his brokerage firm to him since this was a personal investment.

8. [redacted] advised that had he had knowledge of CENTRUST guaranteeing full payment to another investor, he would not have purchased the CENTRUST SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES.

9. [redacted] indicated that he would invest in a fully subscribed issue.

10. [redacted] advised that he would have to evaluate whether to invest in a non-fully subscribed issue.

11. [redacted] advised that he was under the impression that there was a firm commitment of the offering of the SUBORDINATE DEBENTURES and he assumed that all of the stock had been sold as a practical matter.

12. [redacted] advised that this information very possibly would have made a difference in the way he invested.

[redacted] advised that the only information that he could add to the foregoing was that in January, 1990, he telephonically spoke to [redacted] who was an employee in the [redacted] of the CENTRUST SAVINGS BANK of Miami, Florida. At that time [redacted] advised him that the CENTRUST SAVINGS BANK was current in payments on the DEBENTURES and that the year end financial statement had just been issued and he would be receiving a copy shortly thereafter. At that time, [redacted] was not provided with any additional information and he later determined that information contained in the financial statements that were referred to was not correct.

OO: WMFO

As you are aware, captioned investigation was initiated by WMFO on 2/7/91, as a result of a criminal referral received from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (BGFRS) alleging that false and fraudulent statements had been made concerning the Bank of Credit and Commerce International's (BCCI) ownership and control of Credit and Commerce American Holdings (CCAH), the parent-holding company of First American Bankshares (FABS), Washington, D.C.

On 5/21/91, WMFO received additional criminal referrals from the BGFRS concerning BCCI's use of Saudi Arabian businessman Ghaith Pharaon as a nominee in the purchases of the National Bank of Georgia, Atlanta, Georgia, and Independence Bank, Encino, California and alleged false statements made to the BGFRS concerning the ownership and control of these two banks. Additionally, investigation at Miami, Florida, indicated that Pharaon was involved in fraudulent securities transactions at Centrust Savings Bank, Miami, Florida.

On 11/15/91, the Federal grand jury (FGJ), District of Columbia (DOCWDC), returned a three count indictment charging four BCCI corporate entities and three individuals with racketeering conspiracy for secretly taking over Independence Bank, Encino, California, and for securities fraud concerning Centrust Savings Bank, Miami, Florida. The indictment charged Agha Hasan Abedi, [redacted] Ghaith Pharaon, and four BCCI corporate entities with violation of Title 18 USC Section 371 (conspiracy), 1343 (Wire Fraud), and 1962(d) (Racketeering Conspiracy). Abedi, [redacted] and Pharaon are currently fugitives. WMFO teletype 11/20/91, notified All SACs and All Legats concerning the indictment and fugitive status of these individuals. Abedi, the founder of BCCI, is believed to be in Karachi, Pakistan. [redacted] of the BCCI Group, is believed to be in Abu Dhabi. Information has been received variously placing Pharaon in France, Korea, and traveling between Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, Cairo, Egypt, and Morocco. Coordination has been established with Legats London, Paris, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Rome, and DOJ regarding the location and apprehension of these fugitives.

Plea negotiations are ongoing between the DOJ, the District Attorney for New York County (DANY) and provisional Liquidators of BCCI (Liquidators). A plea agreement has been drafted wherein the Liquidators, on behalf of BCCI, will plead guilty to criminal charges in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia (the District Court) and the Supreme Court of the County of New York. This plea agreement will not preclude the future criminal or civil prosecution of any culpable BCCI officers, employees, or other individuals and will permit United States federal and state prosecutors to obtain the cooperation and assistance of the Liquidators in obtaining access to documents and witnesses. The plea agreement will permit the DOJ and DANY to concentrate their resources on the prosecution of culpable BCCI officers, employees, or other individual wrongdoers.

The Liquidators will plead guilty to racketeering activity and conspiracy [1962 (c) and (d)] charges in the District Court and to two counts in a New York County indictment returned against BCCI on 7/28/91. As part of this agreement, BCCI will be barred from doing business within the United States, and all BCCI assets located in the United States would be placed into a custodial account to be maintained by the District Court. Subsequently, disbursements will be made from the Custodial Account to a U.S. Disgorgement, Compensation and Penalty Fund maintained by the U.S. Department of the Treasury and a Worldwide Victims Compensation Fund maintained by the Liquidators.

The draft plea agreement was discussed in a meeting in London on 11/25/91, attended by Legal Attache, London, Deputy Attorney General George Terwilliger, Assistant Attorney General Robert Mueller, and representatives from the Fraud Section DOJ, DOJ Office Of International Affairs (DOJOIA), office of the District Attorney of New York, [redacted] b6 b7C b7D lay International, a company of which he was a director, had nothing to do with Mr Noriega. Instead, it was money intended for a property development by the Tavoli brothers who run the El Rayan Investment Group in Egypt, he said.

According to yesterday's indictment, Mr Naqvi and Mr Rizvi attended a meeting in London in early 1988 at which "they discussed transferring approximately $23m in deposits at BCCI London, owned by Mr Noriega and family, to BCCI Luxembourg to allay Noriega's fear of asset seizure by US officials". The money was later moved at their direction from Luxembourg to accounts at several other banks, and found its way through Finley International to Capcom, it is claimed.

Yesterday's BCCI indictments, the second set in the US since the bank was shut down on July 5, were unveiled as a Congressional report claimed US federal officials had failed to pursue investigations of BCCI and had missed an opportunity to stop the bank's illegal activities despite having had information of BCCI improprieties as far back as 1988.

Mr Charles Schumer, a Democratic congressman from New York, released a detailed report on BCCI and said that in 1988 "law enforcement . . . had details of BCCI's shenanigans".

US indicts BCCI officials on drug money charges

By Alan Friedman in Washington and Richard Waters in London

Financial Times 9/9/91

THE US yesterday indicted six officials of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), along with a leader of the Medellín cocaine cartel in Colombia and Capcom Financial Services Ltd of London on charges of racketeering and laundering millions of dollars of drug money through BCCI.

Among those indicted was Mr Syed Ali Akbar, former BCCI treasurer and former head of Capcom, who was arrested by French customs earlier this week as he arrived in Calais. The US Justice Department said it had asked France to extradite Mr Akbar to the US to stand trial.

Mr Swaleh Naqvi, the BCCI president who was first charged in New York last July, was listed as another of the 12 defendants in yesterday's indictments. The Justice Department has not asked Abu Dhabi to extradite Mr Naqvi because of "technicalities".

The charges included the alleged use by Mr Akbar and BCCI of Capcom in the UK to hide and transfer $23m (£13.6m) of funds controlled by Mr Manuel Noriega, the former Panamanian dictator, who went on trial in Miami on drug charges yesterday.

Also indicted in the BCCI case was Mr Gerardo "Don Chepe" Moncada, a leader of the Medellín cocaine cartel, and four of his associates. They are accused of using the bank's network between 1988 and 1989 to launder more than $14m of drug proceeds.

Mr Robert Mueller, assistant attorney general of the US, said the latest BCCI indictments had been delivered by a grand jury in Tampa in sealed form on August 23 and kept secret until yesterday in order to seek the arrests.

Mr Akbar, however, is the only defendant thus far arrested. Mr Mueller said Washington had been working with Scotland Yard and the Serious Fraud Office in London to seek the arrest of Mr Dilder Rizvi, a former BCCI treasurer, also charged yesterday. "We had reason to believe Mr Rizvi was in England, but our efforts to arrest him have been unsuccessful," Mr Mueller said.

In London last night, Mr Michael Barrett, a Capcom director, said: "We were named in the earlier indictment in Tampa, but that was never followed up on." Mr Akbar was sentenced in the UK last October to 18 months imprisonment for drug money laundering. He was released this year on bail, one of the terms being residence at a UK address.

Mr Akbar, in an interview with the Financial Times last month, claimed to have been made the scapegoat for failings at BCCI, and denied involvement in money laundering.

He claimed that the $23m mentioned in yesterday's indictment, and which had been paid into Capcom by Fin-

BCCI Affair Highlights Complex Tangle Of Regulators and Regulated in Washington

By Paula Treadwell
Staff Reporter

WASHINGTON — It was a crucial moment at the U.S. Federal Reserve.

After years of dallying, the Fed had awakened to the secret ownership of Washington's biggest bank holding company, First American Bankshares Inc., by the notorious Bank of Credit & Commerce International. Now — Jan. 30, 1991 — the Fed was preparing to crack down with cease-and-desist orders against both banks.

The matter was before the Fed's Board of Governors for a final vote. Finally, the action was unanimously approved — but with one notable exception. "Abstaining from this action," according to the minutes, was Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan.

Mr. Greenspan explains that he bowed out of the vote — one of the Fed's most important enforcement actions in decades — because he had socialized "on several informal occasions" with Robert Altman, who until last month was president of First American.

Many Links

In the realm of conflicts of interests, Mr. Greenspan's may be small, but it is one of many links involving the Fed, BCCI and First American. Individually, none of the relationships may be all that significant. But taken together they show that the Fed and First American were very much a part of revolving-door Washington in which it's sometimes difficult to distinguish between the regulators and the regulated.

For instance, Michael Bradfield, as a Fed lawyer, played a role in monitoring the takeover of First American by several Arab investors once the transaction had been approved. (Those investors, as it turned out, were actually fronting for BCCI.) After leaving the agency in 1988, Mr. Bradfield became a partner in the Washington office of the law firm Jones Day Reavis & Pogue, where he has done work related to First American and BCCI's share in it. Jones Day also does legal work for First American's oversight committee.

Or consider Robert Mannion, who, as deputy general counsel at the Fed, presided over 1981 hearing at which BCCI was expressly prohibited from playing a direct role in financing, taking over or controlling First American. After leaving the Fed in 1983 he joined the law firm of Arnold & Porter, which has handled important legal work for First American. Mr. Mannion says he personally isn't involved in representing the bank, however.

And there is Baldwin Tuttle, a lawyer who, after leaving the Fed general counsel's office in 1977, played an important role in helping Mr. Altman and his law partner, Clark Clifford, obtain approval for the Arab investors to buy into BCCI. (Messrs. Clifford and Altman, who acted as lawyers for the investors, went on to become chairman and president, respectively, of First American. They now say they had no idea the investors were actually fronting for BCCI.)

Warning Signs

Whether these links played a role, clearly something created a regulatory state of mind at the Fed regarding First American and BCCI — something that caused the agency, year after year, to do little more than take note of explicit warning signs in the BCCI-First American relationship.

Among these warning signs:

— In December 1988, David Burris, who was investigating money laundering at BCCI for the Internal Revenue Service, telephoned William Ryback, the Fed's deputy director of banking supervision. Mr. Burris explained that an undercover agent had tape-recorded a BCCI official boasting that the bank secretly controlled First American. But Mr. Ryback "showed little interest," according to a report released Thursday by a House subcommittee. Fed general counsel Virgil Mattingly disputes this account, saying that Mr. Burris was asking what information Mr. Ryback would require to take action against BCCI.

— In June 1989, a federal grand jury in Tampa also investigating BCCI for money laundering subpoenaed the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond for information on BCCI and "various foreign and U.S. affiliates." Mr. Mattingly instructed the Richmond Fed in writing to comply with the subpoena without ever asking how BCCI, which the Fed had explicitly barred from U.S. banking, could even have "U.S. affiliates." He explains today that the wording of the subpoena reflected only the suspicions of the Tampa investigators, rather than any concrete information of ownership links.

— In October 1989, Luxembourg banking authorities informed the Fed that the owners of record in First American's holding company has been financed by BCCI — a tip-off that, as the Fed later discovered, they were apparently acting as front men for BCCI.

This time, the Fed's Mr. Ryback took action, although not until two months had passed. In a letter, he asked First American's Mr. Altman for an explanation. Two months after that, Mr. Altman replied that he personally had no way of knowing himself how the shareholders were financed. Mr. Altman did, however, attach a letter from a senior BCCI official asserting that the bank had no role in financing First American's shareholders.

The Fed did, of course, eventually take action, not only issuing the cease-and-desist order but also, on July 29, seeking a proposed fine of $200 million against the same bank. BCCI, it alleged, had accumulated a 60 interest in First American acting through its Middle Eastern front men. The Fed also sought to bar several individuals associated with BCCI from U.S. banking.

Hands-Off Attitude

Finally, it appeared, the Fed was getting tough. But in some respects the Fed's hands-off attitude persisted even after it began taking this official action.

The Fed publicly has claimed that it played a vital role in a long-running Herculean struggle that recently forced Mr. Altman to resign as president of First American and his mentor, political power house Clark Clifford, to resign as chairman. But recent correspondence between First American and the Fed makes it plain that the Fed was, in fact, willing to tolerate the executives' continued involvement with the bank.

On July 18, Mr. Mattingly, the Fed general counsel, wrote a file memo referring to an arrangement under which the Fed would have allowed the two men to remain directors of at least one of First American's main holding company boards. William Taylor, the Fed's director of banking supervision, even commended Messrs. Clifford and Altman for being "quite forthcoming" in discussions of the plan, according to Mr. Mattingly's memo.

By July 27, Mr. Taylor has a change of heart. At a meeting of Fed officials it is asserted that the "continued presence of Clifford and Altman would be damaging to the banks," according to a further file memo from Mr. Mattingly.

In dealings outside the Fed, however, Mr. Taylor seems to have been less explicit. On Aug. 2, Charles Mathias, a former U.S. Senator who serves as First American's senior outside director, demanded to know exactly where the Fed stood. "During the past week," he said in a letter, "there has been confusion with respect to your position on the question of Messrs. Clifford and Altman remaining as officers and directors of First American."

'Worrisome Outflow'

That very day, Mr. Mathias also wrote a letter to his good friend, Clark Clifford, urging him to quit the bank.

"In recent weeks," he said, "there has been a worrisome outflow of deposits (from First American) which continues each day." In the public eye, he added, "you and Bob are perceived as the link between BCCI . . . and First American."

He was particularly mindful of the effect of televised congressional hearings at which the men are scheduled to testify next week before the House Banking Committee. "The glare of publicity will be especially intense," he wrote. The two men resigned effective Aug. 12.

New Laundering Indictments Are Returned Against BCCI

W.S.J., Sept. 9, 1991

By Paul M. Barrett
And Peter Truell
Staff Reporters

WASHINGTON — A U.S. grand jury returned more money-laundering indictments involving Bank of Credit & Commerce International even as a congressional report charged that the "government simply overlooked the repeated run-ins it had with BCCI."

A grand jury in Tampa, Florida, indicted six more BCCI officials and a reputed Colombian cocaine trafficker for laundering alleged drug profits through the bank's branches around the world.

Much of the new indictments, however, appears to be based on material available to the government in 1988 and 1989. They also implicate additional people in the same transactions that were the basis of earlier charges against BCCI. Those earlier charges resulted in two BCCI units pleading guilty in January 1990 and forfeiting $15 million.

'Racketeering Enterprise'

BCCI was described in the new indictments as a "racketeering enterprise" that solicited drug traffickers' business, but the bank itself wasn't named as a defendant. As part of the 1990 plea agreement, federal prosecutors in Tampa promised they wouldn't press additional charges against the bank. Reiterating previous allegations, the indictments charged that one of the bank's major drug-related customers was Manuel Noriega, the former Panamanian ruler whose trial in a separate drug case began this week in Miami.

Rep. Charles Schumer, a New York Democrat who is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on crime and criminal justice, applauded Thursday's indictments saying "finally the government is beginning to act." But he charged the government "had enough information on BCCI to put the bank on its most-wanted list many years back in the mid-1980s."

Mr. Schumer directed his committee staff to prepare the report released Thursday, which reconstructs how federal law enforcement agencies handled allegations involving BCCI. The 32-page report charged, for instance, that the Internal Revenue Service had 15 separate matters in its files related to BCCI, but no one at the agency appeared to have noticed a pattern. Furthermore, senior IRS officials three times in 1988 refused requests from a South Florida agent for an undercover operation.

'A Step Away'

In addition, in 1988 the U.S. Customs Service was "a step away from discovering that BCCI was involved in a massive coffee-smuggling scheme" out of South Florida, according to the report. The alleged coffee smuggler, Mandur Bilgrami, only recently was indicted and now awaits trial on tax-evasion charges, but the smuggling charges are now mostly past the statute of limitations. Moreover, Customs never expanded its investigation, which "would have uncovered that the bank issued phony letters of credit to finance the smuggling," the report said. Mr. Bilgrami, who is a resident of Jordan, has denied committing tax evasion and and smuggling coffee.

Justice Department officials said that the new indictments demonstrated that U.S. authorities were, in fact, aggressively pursuing cases against BCCI and its officials. They also angrily dismissed criticism from Rep. Schumer that U.S. law enforcement agencies have moved sluggishly. "The congressman's report indicates that which is often found in difficult cases, in which there are a number of law enforcement agencies participating," Assistant Attorney General Robert Mueller said.

"This is a very important stage in a continuing investigation," Mr. Mueller said of the indictments announced Thursday. "There quite probably will be more" charges involving the bank or its employees, he added. Mr. Mueller insisted that the 1990 plea agreement had only prevented prosecutors in Tampa from bringing new charges against the bank; U.S. attorneys elsewhere, he said, have no such constraints.

Officers Named

Also named in the indictments Thursday were Swaleh Naqvi, acting president of BCCI; S.Z.A. Akbar, former BCCI treasurer; Dildar Rizvi, BCCI's current treasurer; and Bashir Sheikh, Wilfredo Chirino and A.W. Bilgrami, all former managers of BCCI operations in Panama.

Top BCCI man held leaving Channel ferry

By Nikki Fielding

ONE OF the key figures at the centre of Bank of Credit and Commerce International's money-laundering operations, Syed Ziauddin Ali Akbar, has been arrested in Calais as he tried to escape the reach of the huge international investigation into the collapsed bank.

Mr Akbar was arrested at 5pm on Tuesday after leaving the Dover-Calais ferry, following a joint operation involving the Serious Fraud Office, the US Department of Justice, the City of London police and French authorities.

The day before, the High Court in London had issued an injunction freezing his assets in a case concerning $23m allegedly stolen by the former Panamanian dictator General Manuel Noriega and laundered through Mr Akbar's BCCI-connected company, Capcom Financial Services. He fled before court papers could be served.

According to UK sources, Mr Akbar was using a fake passport, his own having been impounded by the British courts. He is presently on parole having served six months of an 18-month sentence imposed at the Old Bailey last October after a conviction for conspiracy to launder drug money.

Mr Akbar is now likely to be the subject of extradition proceedings to the United States. Delicate negotiations between British and US regulatory authorities have been going on for several days over who should extradite him. He was yesterday indicted on drug money-laundering charges along with five other former BCCI officials by an American grand jury in Tampa, Florida.

It appears that if Mr Akbar were brought back to the UK for violating his parole conditions that would make it difficult to charge him with other offences. This is likely to be a serious blow to the British police fraud inquiry into both BCCI and Capcom, the futures firm set up by Mr Akbar in the mid-1970s while he was head of the bank's Treasury operation. He was probably the only senior former BCCI official in Britain, the rest having fled to Pakistan or the Gulf.

The High Court hearing on Monday was brought by lawyers representing the government of Panama. It named five defendants including Mr Akbar, Capcom, General Noriega and his wife Felicidad, and Finley International, a company of which Mr Akbar was a director.

Lawyers acting for Panama were back in the High Court yesterday, where they obtained extensions to the freeze orders until the trial and an order against Capcom to disclose its world-wide assets.

The official turned down the offer. Two years later, in January 1991, the Federal Reserve made a criminal referral on these same allegations on its own.

BCCI officials indicted by US grand jury

By Nick Fielding

SIX officials of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International have been indicted by a US grand jury on charges of laundering millions of dollars of drug money through its international banking network.

They include the convicted drug money launderer Syed Ziauddin Ali Akbar, former acting chief executive Swaleh Naqvi and former deputy head of BCCI's American operations Dildar Rizvi.

The indictment, which was made available by the Justice Department in Washington, refers to BCCI as a "racketeering enterprise" but does not formally charge the bank.

As well as naming the senior BCCI officials, it indicts three former members of the bank's Panama staff. It alleges that between 1985 and 1989 they laundered more than $14m (£8.3m) of drug money and engaged in a worldwide conspiracy involving more than 145 acts.

Money was allegedly placed in banks in France, Panama, Uruguay, the Bahamas, Luxembourg, Britain and elsewhere.

Akbar, arrested by French police yesterday, has already been sentenced for his part in conspiring to launder drug money in a court case at the Old Bailey last October. He served six months of an 18-month sentence before his release earlier this year.

Akbar's earlier conviction was part of a wider series of court cases which resulted in five BCCI officials being sentenced to terms ranging up to 12 years for laundering drug money. They included Amjad Awan, who ran the bank's Miami branch.

Their arrests followed a US Customs undercover operation which netted more than 80 narcotics traffickers and money launderers, most of whom were arrested at a fake wedding planned by customs agents.

However, despite the growing pace of court actions in America against BCCI a report published yesterday by a committee of the House of Representatives makes strong criticisms of law enforcement agencies for failing to take action earlier against the bank.

The report from the House Judiciary Committee's sub-committee on crime and criminal justice, chaired by Charles Schumer, says the government "had enough information on BCCI by the mid-1980s to have put BCCI on the most wanted list".

It says that on at least two occasions high-ranking officials quashed actions recommended by rank-and-file investigators that might have led to full-scale investigations of what it refers to as "a criminal enterprise of international proportions".

The report notes that the Internal Revenue Service has so far identified 15 separate matters involving BCCI from 1984 to the present that may involve criminal activities. Of these, 10 were referred to the Justice Department for criminal action, with seven resulting in indictment.

It adds that various federal authorities, such as Customs and the Drug Enforcement Administration, knew of BCCI's involvement in criminal activities from 1983.

Among the failures of American regulators, it mentions that in December 1988 an IRS special agent in Tampa offered to direct a senior official of the Federal Reserve Board in Washington to fin

BCCI treasury chief held over $1bn loss cover-up

EUROPEAN 9/6-8/9,

Charles McVeigh

FRENCH police have made the first arrest following the collapse of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International.

Syed Valuddin Ali Arbar, head of BCCI's treasury department in London until 1986, was taken into custody in Calais on charges that he laundered drug money and that he covered up losses of $1 billion at the bank.

Arbar, who denies the allegations, was arrested following a joint investigation by the British Serious Fraud Office, the US Department of Justice and the French authorities. He is being held pending extradition to the US. BCCI was closed down on July 5 on suspicion of what investigators believe may have been the biggest fraud in financial history.

Six men were named in a US indictment, which was returned by a grand jury in Florida. The justice department called BCCI a "racketeering exercise" but did not formally charge the bank with any wrongdoing. The six included Arbar, treasurer Dildard Rizzi, acting president Swaleh Naqvi and three former BCCI officials in Panama. The indictment alleges that the six officials laundered drugs cash worth more than $14 million and engaged in a conspiracy involving more than 145 accounts.

Assistant Attorney General Robert Mueller said that the indictment was the first major step in the criminal investigation of BCCI. The money was allegedly placed in bank branches in France, Uruguay, the Bahamas, Luxembourg, Britain and elsewhere. If they are convicted, the BCCI defendants face 25 years in prison.

Former BCCI treasurer held in Calais

By GEORGE SIVELL AND SUSAN ELLICOTT

SYED Ali Akbar, the former treasurer of the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, has been arrested in Calais, it was disclosed last night. He has been detained in prison pending a decision on extradition which must be made by the French authorities within 40 days.

After the arrest the US Justice Department revealed an indictment against Mr Ali Akbar, five other BCCI officials, and a reputed Colombian drug baron, of laundering drug funds through BCCI's banking network.

The indictment was returned by a grand jury in Tampa, Florida, and made public by the Justice Department in Washington. It described BCCI as a "racketeering enterprise".

The other BCCI officials named in the indictment were Dilderd Rizzi, the treasurer, Swaleh Naqvi, the acting president, and three former BCCI officials in Panama. The alleged drug baron was named as Gerardo Moncada. Only Mr Ali Akbar was in custody, but Mr Naqvi was believed to be in Abu Dhabi and Mr Rizzi in Britain, officials said.

The indictment claimed that the six BCCI officials laundered more than $4 million in drug proceeds from 1983 to 1989 and engaged in a worldwide conspiracy involving more than 145 acts.

Mr Ali Akbar, aged 47, lived in London and has dual British and Pakistani nationalities. In 1990 he was sentenced to 18 months in prison in Florida for laundering drug money. Mr Ali Akbar was released after six months. He was head of treasury services of BCCI in London until 1986.

French border police first took Mr Ali Akbar in for questioning on Monday on suspicion of illegal entry into France. He was detained near a Calais hotel where he had stayed for a week since leaving Britain. Sources said that the police seized letters which he had prepared for his defence, accounting documents and bank statements.

In a recent interview Mr Ali Akbar denied allegations that he concealed losses at the department he headed at BCCI.

BCCI six indicted in Florida

By Susan Elliott in Washington and George Sivell in London

A FLORIDA grand jury has indicted six Bank of Credit and Commerce International executives and the alleged leader of a Colombian cocaine cartel for laundering more than $14 million of drug profits through at least 145 accounts around the world.

The American justice department announcement followed the release of a congressional report accusing federal officials of ignoring evidence of BCCI's misconduct for years, before taking action against the bank this summer.

Robert Mueller, the deputy attorney general, made the charges public after Syed Ali Akbar, former BCCI treasurer, was arrested in Calais, northern France. Ali Akbar, who lives in London and has British and Pakistani nationalities, was detained pending a decision on extradition by a court, which must rule within 40 days.

The justice department said it knew three months ago of the indictments by a grand jury in Tampa investigating the BCCI scandal. But the Bush administration waited before advancing its criminal enquiry until Charles Schumer, the Democratic chairman of a house subcommittee, released a report critical of the government's handling of the affair. The 29-page document said that federal officials "simply overlooked the repeated run-ins" with customers and executives of the Luxembourg-based bank for at least five years. The report also charged unnamed senior Internal Revenue Service staff with refusing, in 1986, to follow up a request from a Florida tax agent to investigate the bank in the light of information he received from ex-BCCI staff.

The indictment against the former BCCI directors coincided with the opening of the trial of General Manuel Noriega in Miami.

He is pleading innocent to charges of drug trafficking, racketeering, money laundering and accepting $4.6 million in bribes from Colombian drug barons.

The High Court in London yesterday renewed asset-freezing injunctions won by the Panamanian government, which is trying to recover £14 million allegedly stolen by the general. The five defendants, include Noriega and his wife, a brokerage firm Capcom Financial Services Ltd, a company linked to the collapse of BCCI, and Ali Akbar, Capcom's former boss and former BCCI treasury chief.

The defendants are prevented, until full hearing of an action over the disputed money, from removing from the English court's jurisdiction, or otherwise dealing in or disposing of, the £14 million in the account. Mr Justice Mummery also gave Panama access to all documents relating to £14 million said into an account of Finley International at the Middle East Bank in the City of London in September 1988.

Former BCCI treasurer held in Calais

By GEORGE SIVELL AND SUSAN ELLICOTT

SYED Ali Akbar, the former treasurer of the collapsed Bank of Credit and Commerce International, has been arrested in Calais, it was disclosed last night. He has been detained in prison pending a decision on extradition which must be made by the French authorities within 40 days.

After the arrest the US Justice Department revealed an indictment against Mr Ali Akbar, five other BCCI officials, and a reputed Colombian drug baron, of laundering drug funds through BCCI's banking network.

The indictment was returned by a grand jury in Tampa, Florida, and made public by the Justice Department in Washington. It described BCCI as a "racketeering enterprise".

The other BCCI officials named in the indictment were Dildard Rizzi, the treasurer, Swaleh Naqvi, the acting president, and three former BCCI officials in Panama. BCCI treasury chief held over $1bn loss cover-up

FRENCH police have made the first arrest following the collapse of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International.

Syed Vaiuddin Ali Akbar, head of BCCI's treasury department in London until 1986, was taken into custody in Calais on charges that he laundered drug money and that he covered up losses of $1 billion at the bank.

Akbar, who denies the allegations, was arrested following a joint investigation by the British Serious Fraud Office, the US Department of Justice and the French authorities. He is being held pending extradition to the US. BCCI was closed down on July 5 on suspicion of what investigators believe may have been the biggest fraud in financial history.

Six men were named in a US indictment, which was returned by a grand jury in Florida. The justice department called BCCI a "racketeering exercise" but did not formally charge the bank with any wrongdoing. The six included Akbar, treasurer Dildard Rizzi, acting president Swaleh Naqvi and three former BCCI officials in Panama. The indictment alleges that the six officials laundered drugs cash worth more than $14 million and engaged in a conspiracy involving more than 145 accounts.

Assistant Attorney General Robert Mueller said that the indictment was the first major step in the criminal investigation of BCCI. The money was allegedly placed in bank branches in France, Uruguay, the Bahamas, Luxembourg, Britain and elsewhere. If they are convicted, the BCCI defendants face 25 years in prison.

BCCI officials indicted by US grand jury

SIX officials of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International have been indicted by a US grand jury on charges of laundering millions of dollars of drug money through its international banking network.

They include the convicted drug money launderer Syed Ziauddin Ali Akbar, former acting chief executive Swaleh Naqvi and former deputy head of BCCI's American operations Dildar Rizvi.

The indictment, which was made available by the Justice Department in Washington, refers to BCCI as a "racketeering enterprise" but does not formally charge the bank.

As well as naming the senior BCCI officials, it indicts three former members of the bank's Panama staff. It alleges that between 1983 and 1989 they laundered more than $14m (£8.3m) of drug money and engaged in a worldwide conspiracy involving more than 145 acts.

Money was allegedly placed in banks in France, Panama, Uruguay, the Bahamas, Luxembourg, Britain and elsewhere.

Akbar, arrested by French police yesterday, has already been sentenced for his part in conspiring to launder drug money in a court case at the Old Bailey last October. He served six months of an 18-month sentence before his release earlier this year.

By Nick Fielding

Akbar's earlier conviction was part of a wider series of court cases which resulted in five BCCI officials being sentenced to terms ranging up to 12 years for laundering drug money. They included Amjad Awan, who ran the bank's Miami branch.

Their arrests followed a US Customs undercover operation which netted more than 80 narcotics traffickers and money launderers, most of whom were arrested at a fake wedding planned by customs agents.

However, despite the growing pace of court actions in America against BCCI a report published yesterday by a committee of the House of Representatives makes strong criticisms of law enforcement agencies for failing to take action earlier against the bank.

The report from the House Judiciary Committee's sub-committee on crime and criminal justice, chaired by Charles Schumer, says the goverment "had enough information on BCCI by the mid-1980s to have put BCCI on the most wanted list".

It says that on at least two occasions high-ranking officials quashed actions recommended by rank-and-file investigators that might have led to full-scale investigations of what it refers to as "a criminal enterprise of international proportions".

The report notes that the Internal Revenue Service has so far identified 15 separate matters involving BCCI from 1984 to the present that may involve criminal activities. Of these, 10 were referred to the Justice Department for criminal action, with seven resulting in indictment.

It adds that various federal authorities, such as Customs and the Drug Enforcement Administration, knew of BCCI's involvement in criminal activities from 1983.

Among the failures of American regulators, it mentions that in December 1988 an IRS special agent in Tampa offered to direct a senior official of the Federal Reserve Board in Washington to tip or six former BCCI officers who could testify about BCCI's secret ownership and control of First American Bank in Washington.

The official turned down the offer. Two years later, in January 1991, the Federal Reserve made a criminal referral on these same allegations on its own.

☐ Neil Kinnock yesterday called for a "viable restructuring of BCCI", regardless of any action against those responsible for criminal acts. His call followed a meeting with a BCCI staff group led by the Labour MP Keith Vaz.

The Labour leader also accused John Major of reneging on his promise of a public inquiry into the affair and said the Prime Minister should reverse his decision.

For the information of receiving offices, captioned title 'HIDDEN INTERESTS' is a wide ranging investigation into the involvement of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) with the U.S. banking industry. One aspect of the investigation deals with Centrust Savings Bank (Centrust) of Miami, Florida and the 'Parking' of $25 million of Centrust Subordinate Debentures (Sub Debt).

In May 1988, Centrust, through Drexel, Burhnam, Lambert and Merrill Lynch began placing (selling) a $150 million Sub Debt offering to the public. GHAITH R. PHARAON, a major stock holder (24.9%) of Centrust and a major player within BCCI, made arrangements with BCCI to purchase $25 million of the total $150 million Centrust Sub Debt, with the fore-knowledge that Centrust would repurchase the debt within 3 months. On May 18, 1988, PHARAON/BCCI purchased $25 million of Centrust Sub Debt and Centrust subsequently repurchased the same debt in late July, 1988, six (6) weeks after the initial

MR. CHAIRMAN, my name is Paul Maloney. I am a Deputy Assistant Attorney General for the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice. On behalf of the Department, I wish to thank the subcommittee for the opportunity to present the Department's views on the need for legislation concerning the regulation of foreign banks.

Your invitation letter requested testimony in two areas: the BCCI money laundering case, as an example of a recent prosecution of a foreign bank that might serve as a model around which to explore the need for legislation in this area, and S. 1019, legislation recently introduced by Senator Reigle. I am prepared to testify and to answer the subcommittee's questions with respect to both of these matters. I must say at the outset, however, that beyond relating a few of the facts that are already a matter of public record, I will not be able to comment on matters which are presently under review by the Department including relationships between BCCI and First American Bank. That matter is the subject of an ongoing criminal investigation and it would not be appropriate for me to say anything that might jeopardize the outcome of this or any case.

As federal prosecutors, we are governed by very clear rules. In the case of a grand jury investigation, we can neither confirm nor deny that an investigation is taking place. In the case of other investigations, we may only relate the general subject matter of the investigation and indicate that it is continuing or that it is concluded. As the members of this subcommittee can appreciate, there are very good reasons for this policy. First and foremost, is the matter of fairness to persons under investigation. We must act responsibly so that citizens are judged on the basis of evidence formally presented, not on rumors and incomplete information.

Moreover, law enforcement suffers when an investigation is conducted in public. Sources dry up, persons who might be inclined to cooperate with the government are less inclined to do so, on-going undercover operations may be compromised, and the targets of the investigation, having been apprised of what the government is after, have an opportunity to fabricate evidence, and coordinate their stories before they are approached by law enforcement agents. For all of these reasons; we cannot discuss the matter of BCCI and First American in any detail today.

The money laundering prosecution against BCCI, of course, is now a matter of public record, and I am happy to discuss the facts of that case with the subcommittee.

CHRONOLOGY OF BCCI INVESTIGATION

The BCCI investigation began in December of 1986 when two undercover Customs agents in Tampa formed a "partnership" with a Colombian money launderer from Medellin. The original object of their investigation was to trace the flow of cocaine proceeds from the United States to South America in order to identify and prosecute major Colombian drug traffickers operating in United States cities. The money launderer would notify the agents by telephone when large sums of currency, all proceeds of cocaine sales, were available for a pick-up. The agents would then arrange to collect the currency from the couriers, deposit it in U.S. banks, and within seven to ten days make transfers in "laundered" form to Colombia. The evolution of this investigation into the prosecution of an international bank, BCCI, was only a result of subsequent developments.

The drug money, which amounted to about $33 million by the conclusion of the operation, was initially deposited by undercover Customs agents into accounts at various U.S. banking institutions that were cooperating with the government. Currency Transaction Reports (CTRs) were filled out by each of these cooperating banks, albeit in fictitious "undercover" names. All funds were then channelled by wire transfers between U.S. banks to a single account in the name of Financial Consulting, Inc., that was opened by the principal undercover agent at Florida National Bank, St. Petersburg, Florida. At the behest of the perpetrators, the funds were further transferred to Colombia from the St. Petersburg account by check. The checks were then sold by the Colombian launderer on the "black market" in Medellin.

BCCI was not targeted by the agents in this investigation; it targeted itself. The Colombian money launderer had insisted that the undercover agents establish a bank account in Panama because checks drawn on Panama accounts were more freely marketable and sold at a higher price than checks in the same dollar amounts drawn on United States banks. Drug traffickers value Panamanian bank secrecy laws which make it much more difficult to trace their transactions; also, Panama is closer to Colombia than the United States, and Panamanian checks clear more rapidly. We hope that this problem will be effectively addressed by the recently signed Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty (MLAT) with Panama. The undercover agent therefore opened an account in the name of a "shell" corporation at the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) in Panama City, Panama. BCCI was chosen essentially because it was the only international bank with branches in Panama that also had an agency in Tampa. The customs agent was able to walk in off the street in Tampa and make arrangements to open up a Panamanian checking account simply by completing the account opening forms. There was no need to leave Tampa. The shelf corporation, IDC International, in whose name the BCCI checking account was opened, was purchased by the undercover agent through the mails from a Panamanian attorney whose services were advertised in the classified section of a magazine freely available in the United States.

During this period (late 1987) BCCI worldwide was involved in a very aggressive deposit drive. Ultimately, an officer of the Panama City branch, Aftab Hussein, having detected apparent laundering activity in the IDC International account, placed a long distance telephone call to the signatory of the account, "Robert Musella," the principal undercover agent. In November of 1987 Hussein suggested to Musella that they get together in Miami to discuss how BCCI could help Musella's business. At their first meeting in early December of 1987, Hussein explained that by using checks Musella was making himself more vulnerable to U.S. government investigation. Hussein explained that many accounts at BCCI in Panama had been seized by U.S. drug agents, because the account holders used checks in their operations.

Hussein suggested that Musella stop using a checking account and instead purchase certificates of deposit (CD) with his clients' funds. According to Hussein, a CD purchased at BCCI's branch in Panama with funds wired from the United States, for example, might be used to collateralize a loan in the same amount from BCCI to a shelf corporation in Europe. That corporation, in turn, could use the loan proceeds to wire transfer still another loan to Musella's customers, the drug dealers. In this way, the "clients" would have the value of their illegal proceeds in the form of a loan from an ostensibly legitimate source, Musella could obtain greater security, and Hussein could receive credit for increasing BCCI's deposit base since the original CD would remain indefinitely at the Panama branch. (This type of money laundering scheme is often referred to as a back-to-back loan scheme.)

The undercover agent accepted Hussein's proposals and was soon introduced to a number of other, higher ranking, BCCI officers in Miami, Paris and London. These officers, all having been advised that Musella's funds were generated by cocaine trafficking, eagerly assisted in laundering the money through a wire transfer system involving certificates of deposit as collateral for back-to-back loans in like amounts. Many of the transactions were extremely complex. However, they all had certain common characteristics: In every case the transaction was initiated by a collection of cash generated by drug trafficking in some U. S. city. In every case this cash was deposited to an account in a U. S. banking institution that was cooperating with the U. S. Customs Service. In virtually every case, CTRs were filed by the cooperating bank, usually in some fictitious name provided to the bank by the undercover customs agent who brought the cash to the teller. After the initial deposit, the funds were transmitted by wire to the Florida National Bank in St. Petersburg, where the undercover customs agent maintained an account in the name of Financial Consulting, Inc. The next step normally involved a wire transfer of the funds in that account either to BCCI Panama City, or to some other BCCI branch or BCCI affiliate, such as BCP Geneva. Variations were often introduced after this juncture. A certificate of deposit might be purchased and held in another corporate account, say in Panama City. Based on this certificate of deposit in Panama a letter of credit could be issued in favor of a shelf corporation in whose name another account might be opened. Once funds were transferred to this account they might be disbursed by check or wire to accounts in Banco de Occidente or Banco Cafetero, two Colombian banks with branches in Panama that were frequently used by Colombian traffickers.

Let me digress from the chronology of the BCCI case for the moment to comment on what I understand to be the subcommittee's principal interest in this matter. How might additional regulation of foreign banks such as BCCI by federal regulators have prevented this type of money laundering activity from occurring or made it easier to discover it once it occurred? Unfortunately, while we certainly support the efforts of bank regulators to supervise foreign banks, and while we agree that such supervision could help to detect violations of the money laundering laws in cases such as this, the BCCI case also illustrates the limitations of regulation by United States banking authorities as a law enforcement tool with respect to money laundering. More than anything else, this case focuses our attention on the need for cooperation and the sharing of information concerning banking transactions among foreign governments, and it provides a prime example of the need for sophisticated law enforcement work by well-trained agents who are able to carry on undercover operations.

In the BCCI investigation, the initial "laundering" of drug proceeds occurred in the United States when cash was deposited into American banks that were cooperating with the investigation. BCCI's criminal involvement occurred at the point where, with knowledge that the funds represented drug proceeds, the funds were transferred by wire from Florida to BCCI's Panama City branch and then onward, in the fashion described above. In other words, virtually all of BCCI's criminal activity took place outside of the United States. Regulators examining the records of BCCI's operations in Florida might have picked up some unusual activity involving the wire transfers out of the United States; but records of the certificates of deposit and back-to-back loans which underlay the various criminal transactions were all located in Panama, the Bahamas, Switzerland, Luxembourg and France, all countries utilized by BCCI that have bank secrecy laws that would have made it virtually impossible for U.S. regulatory authorities to have obtained the necessary documents.

Indeed, even with the sharing of bank record information between governments, if a government agent had not been an "insider" in these transactions, which permitted him to request, without raising suspicion, copies of records pertaining to his own accounts, it would have been extremely difficult to prove this case. The bank records alone contained no clear evidence of criminality. Successful prosecution was possible not only because the agent was able to request copies of all of his own account records, but because he tape-recorded conversations in which the fact that the money came from cocaine was discussed openly.

In October of 1988 an indictment was returned against the two principal BCCI subsidiaries involved in the money laundering transactions, as well as BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., the holding company. In addition, five BCCI officers were arrested and charged with numerous counts of money laundering and conspiracy. In January of 1990, on the eve of the trial, the two

BCCI subsidiaries, operating companies who had actively participated in the money laundering, entered pleas of guilty pursuant to an agreement with the United States Department of Justice. The bank officers persisted in their pleas of not guilty and were ultimately convicted of virtually all counts after a six-month jury trial in U. S. District Court in Tampa. The BCCI officers were sentenced to terms of imprisonment, without parole, ranging from three to twelve years.

In April of this year the highest ranking officer among the indicted BCCI officers, Nazir Chinoy, was extradited and transported to Tampa by Scotland Yard. Chinoy, who had been BCCI's general manager for France and French-speaking Africa, as well as a member of BCCI's governing central committee, had fought extradition since October of 1988 when he was arrested in London where he had gone to attend a board meeting.

THE PLEA AGREEMENT

Pursuant to their agreement, the two guilty operating entities of BCCI, Bank of Credit and Commerce International, S.A., and Bank of Credit and Commerce (Overseas) Limited, entered guilty pleas to each and every count in the indictment except Count One, which charged a conspiracy to aid and abet the distribution of cocaine. Prior to trial, the trial judge had stated that, absent evidence in addition to money laundering, he did not believe that either the corporations or the individuals were guilty of narcotics conspiracies, even though their activities in laundering drug proceeds had knowingly benefitted the narcotics business. In short, the judge indicated his belief that money laundering offenses should be prosecuted under the money laundering statutes, not the drug statutes, and that if the government persisted in pursuing a drug conspiracy theory, he would dismiss that count of the indictment.

For this reason, the government agreed to dismiss the narcotics count as part of the plea agreement with BCCI. The government did go to trial on the narcotics conspiracy theory against the individual defendants, but the trial court dismissed this charge at the close of the government's case in chief.

As part of the plea agreement, BCCI was made to forfeit about $15 million, a sum equal to the total of the drug funds that had passed through the bank during the undercover investigation, plus interest. (Although about $33 million in drug proceeds was collected in cash in various American cities, only about half that total was laundered through the BCCI system.) The $15 million collected from BCCI under the plea agreement was characterized as a criminal forfeiture, rather than a fine. As a result of this characterization, the funds were specifically earmarked for law enforcement purposes. Had the United States Attorney's Office in Tampa not negotiated with BCCI, and forced the bank to trial, the outstanding result obtained might very well not have been achieved. While the maximum fine to which BCCI would have been exposed upon conviction after trial would have been $28 million, the consensus of all involved was that the trial court would limit any fine to approximately $2 - 5 million. Courts tend to be guided by precedent in sentencing decisions. Prior to the BCCI plea agreement, the largest monetary penalty ever imposed on any banking institution for a money laundering offense was $5 million levied by the Atlanta federal court against a Colombian bank with branches in the Republic of Panama which had laundered more than twice as much drug money as BCCI. The $5 million dollar fine in that case, however, was an agreed upon plea. The largest fine ever imposed by a court over the objection of the convicted institution was the $2.5 million fine imposed against Ponce Federal in Puerto Rico in 1989.

In short, it is extremely unlikely a fine in excess of $5 million would have been levied. Nor is it likely that without the plea agreement the government would have obtained any significant amount of money in the criminal prosecution through forfeiture. At the time these money laundering offenses occurred, the forfeiture statute, 18 U.S.C. 982, did not permit the forfeiture of laundered money; it permitted the forfeiture only of the commission paid to the money launderer. That statute has since been amended; but since criminal forfeiture is a form of punishment imposed on a criminal defendant, and since penal statutes do not apply retroactively, the amendment could not have applied to BCCI's activities in this case. Therefore, if the case had gone to trial, it is unlikely that there would have been any forfeiture, and punishment would have been limited to the fine imposed by the court.

Thus, the $15 million forfeiture extracted under the plea agreement, three times more than any previous money laundering case was an outstanding disposition of the case against BCCI. Although the bank could avoid damaging adverse publicity by not going to trial, it nevertheless had to face much the same publicity, since its officers were on trial from January through July, 1990.

Following the plea agreement, the Justice Department received criticism for not taking steps to see that BCCI "ceased doing business in the United States." However, under the money laundering statutes as presently written, there is no provision for the court to close down a banking institution, or to expel a foreign institution from the United States upon conviction. In short, this was legally impossible.

Another section of the plea agreement that has been misperceived by some is the provision that operates as a final settlement of all existing criminal charges against the bank known to the prosecuting United States Attorney's Office at the time of signing. Clauses of this nature are standard inclusions in virtually all formal written plea agreements. In the BCCI plea agreements this provision was carefully crafted so that the government, in effect, gave away virtually nothing. Paragraph 1(f) provided that if the plea agreement was accepted by the Court, then the United States Attorney's Office for the Middle

District of Florida would "not charge BCCI or any of the offices, subsidiaries, affiliates, related or controlled entities thereof, as listed in the BCCI Annual Report and Accounts for 1988 at pages 10 and 11 with committing any other federal criminal offenses under investigation or known to the government at the time of the execution of this agreement. . . ." Thus, the only subsidiaries of BCCI protected from further prosecution were those listed in BCCI's 1988 Annual Report. If there are any other affiliates, "related or controlled entities" not listed in BCCI's 1988 Annual Report, such as, for example, First American Bank, such an entity would not be protected.

Moreover, the agreement binds only the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Middle District of Florida, and no other U.S. Attorney's Office, Justice Department component, or regulatory agency is precluded from taking further action. Finally, the plea agreement did not preclude the government from prosecuting any other individuals and BCCI officers for any federal crime. Contrary to some insinuations in the media, no one in Washington, whether in the Justice Department, on Capitol Hill, or elsewhere, ever pressured the U.S. Attorney's Office regarding the plea agreement.

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS

You also have requested comments from the Department with regard to Senate Bill 1019. We appreciate this opportunity and have reviewed the bill for potential impact on the law enforcement initiatives of the Department. While the bill is a proposal for enhanced regulatory authority, and will not directly effect law enforcement concerns in the banking area, we believe it has the potential to aid indirectly in the prosecution of banking crimes through continued cooperation between the Federal Reserve and the Department.

Of primary concern to the Department is the absence of a criminal provision in the penalties section of the proposal. As the committee is aware, Section 8 of the proposal calls for civil money penalties for violations of the Act. There is a provision for the imposition of increased penalties for knowingly submitting a false report to the appropriate banking agency. The Department believes that a criminal provision is warranted and would be useful in the prosecution of intentional misrepresentations made by foreign banking agencies or their agents. The Bank Holding Company Act has such a provision for knowing violations of the Act and provides a criminal penalty (12 USC §1847a). In this regard, I would like to point out that the Bank Holding Company Act contains a provision that makes foreign banking agencies subject to the provisions of that act (12 USC § 3106a), while conducting business as a bank holding company. If a foreign bank agency were to commit a violation of any other banking law, however, it would not be subject to the criminal provision found in the Bank Holding Company Act. We believe therefore that a criminal provision in the International Bank Act is necessary to fully enforce its provisions.

The Department believes that S.1019 would provide enhanced enforcement of the existing federal law to the extent that it calls for all foreign banking offices to be approved and regulated by the federal banking agencies thereby making them subject to federal prosecution for violations of the act. While we support the goal of enhanced Federal oversight, we would prefer that the responsibility within the Federal Government be assigned consistently with the Administration's approach contained in S. 713.

With respect to the BCCI and Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (BNL) cases, the enhanced approval and examination provisions of the bill could lead to early detection and prevention of the type of abuses found in these cases. As this committee is aware, however, a regulatory system which relies on reporting requirements and representations can be circumvented by misrepresentations and deception. It is the hope of the Department that this legislation will assist in the criminal prosecutions of those cases.

On behalf of the Department, I would like to thank the Committee for this opportunity to testify. I would be pleased to answer any questions the subcommittee may have.

This financing is arranged through capitalization of the holding company initially with a sum of U.S. Dollars 10 million in the form of equity and a term loan of U.S. dollars 28 million which has already been negotiated and finalized with First National Bank of Boston. Additional capital of U.S. Dollars 29 million has been provided through contribution of National Bank of Georgia's stock to the holding company. Total capitalization of GRP, Inc. at this point is 39 million dollars worth of equity and 28 million dollars worth of debt. The holding company balance sheet reflects a total acquisition debt amounting to approximately 72% of equity. This level is considered quite high in relation to multi-bank proposals and Federal Reserve Bank standards. The Federal Reserve Bank Guidelines normally require (for multi-bank holding companies of over 150 million dollars U.S. in assets) that debt should not exceed approximately 50% of equity funds. After consulting with the local Federal Reserve officials, and Dr. Ghaith Pharaon and your good self, we made a representation to the Federal Reserve authorities that an additional 10 million dollars in equity funds would be provided to GRP, Inc. to bring this ratio down to approximately 50% of equity funds. Bank of Georgia have not as yet participated in the management of First Commercial Bank since it was deemed to be inappropriate to do so prior to the acquisition of said bank unless management of the bank specifically requested our intervention. Management of The National Bank of Georgia has been active in the Clayton County Bank's ongoing affairs at the request specifically of Clayton County Bank's management prior to the actual consummation of the merger. We expect to end up 1982 with approximately total combined banking assets in excess of 1.2 billion dollars which would represent a growth rate from 1981 in banking assets of approximately 100%. As is the case with any growing business, but particularly banking, as you well know, earnings tend to lag asset growth in terms of time. We none-the-less expect that the earnings of the group, before taxes and loan loss provision and interest expense on the holding company debt incurred to acquire the banks, will be in excess of 15 million dollars U.S. in 1982. This would of course increase in the subsequent year. Through the first quarter of 1982, the banking group earned 2.7 million dollars U.S. before loan loss provision and taxes and interest expense. This shows a decline from the first quarter of 1981 of approximately $400,000.00 U.S. The primary reason for this earnings decrease is a result of increased efforts on behalf of management of The National Bank of Georgia to develop manpower to help the group achieve its desired growth objectives in 1982. We have also committed substantial resources and machinery so desperately needed to upgrade the morale and facilities of the banking group in Georgia as a whole. As you are aware, we are in the process of building what we hope to be a first-class, quality infrastructure to support the quality banking organization which we aspire to become in 1982 and 1983. In our forthcoming meeting we will of course be prepared to discuss first quarter results and the overall plans of the group in greater detail with your good self. In closing, I trust that you will find the above information to your satisfaction. eference above and our telephone conversation this fternoon. I would like to submit the following nformation:

[redacted] b6 b7C involved, [illegible] holding company [redacted] in Atlanta which is 100% owned by Dr. Ghaith [redacted]on and which will acquire 100% of the voting [redacted]s of National Bank of Georgia, Atlanta, Clayton [redacted] Bank, [redacted] Buford, Georgia and First Bank & Trust Company, Marietta, Georgia. The purchase prices of the above [redacted] are as follows:

1. First Bank & Trust Company - 24 million dollars
2. Clayton County Bank -6 1/4 million dollars
3. First Commercial Bank, Buford, Ga. - 6 1/4 million dollars
4. National Bank of Georgia - although Dr. Ghaith Pharaon owns 98.6% of the existing stocks, we shall need to spend an additional $250,000.00 to buy out the remaining minority shareholders in order to acquire 100% control.

he above program involves a financial outlay of U.S. ollars 36.75 million approximately. This financing is rranged through capitalization of the holding company nitially with a sum of U.S. Dollars 10 million in the orm of equity and a term loan of U.S. dollars 28 illion which has already been negotiated and finalized ith First National Bank of Boston. Additional capital f U.S. Dollars 29 million has been provided through ontribution of National Bank of Georgia stock to olding company. Total capitalization of GRP, In his point is 39 million dollars worth of equity illion dollars worth of debt. The holding compa alance sheet reflects a total acquisition debt mounting to approximately 72% of equity. This is s considered quite high in relation to multi-bank roposals and Federal Reserve Bank standards. The ederal Reserve Bank Guidelines normally require (fo ulti-bank holding companies of over 150 million ollars U.S. in assets) that debt would not exceed pproximately 50% of equity funds. After consulting ith the local Federal Reserve officials, and Dr. haith Pharaon and your good selves, we made a epresentation to the Federal Reserve authorities that n additional 10 million dollars in equity funds would e provided to GRP, Inc. bringing this ratio down to pproximately 50% of equity funds. While the holding ompany handed the additional 10 million dollars for accounting equity to solve the Federal Reserve Bank ratios problem, the holding company did not need the use of the 10 million dollars in cash funds to meet its cash flow needs under the repayment schedule of the 28 million dollar debt agreement with First National Bank of Boston. We have previously submitted information to your good self which provide pro-forma cash flows of the group after this acquisition, demonstrating that under various assumptions, both pessimistic and optimistic in nature that the group could very easily handle the amortization of the 28 million dollars in acquisition debt employed in this program without the second 10 million dollars asked for by the Federal Reserve Bank. These pro-formas submitted to your good self indicate that under very conservative growth and profit assumptions for the group through 12/31/91, the initial 39 million dollars in equity provided by Dr. Ghaith Pharaon for the formation of the holding company would increase to 155 million dollars by this date in 1991. This increase is a result of the repayment of the 28 million dollars in debt borrowed from First National Bank of Boston and the increased profits generated and retained by the group during this 10 year period.

As previously mentioned to your good self by telepone, we have already represented to the Federal Reserve that this additional 10 million dollars in equity funds would be forthcoming within five (5) business days of closing on the acquisition of the Clayton County Bank and the First Commercial Bank which is to take place on Friday, April 30, 1982. It is therefore imperative that these funds be wired as instructed to GRP, Inc.'s, First National Bank of Boston account no. 5152431, Main Office in Boston, Massachusetts U.S.A. I would like to reiterate that GRP, Inc. does not need the use of this 10 million dollars inasmuch as it merely needs the 10 million dollars to flow through its balance sheet in the form of accounting equity five (5) business days prior to the acquisition of these banks and to remain for approximately five (5) business days after the acquisition before being returned to GRP, Inc.'s B.C.C.I. account.

As requested by your good self, following is some financial information as of March 31, 1982 regarding the group:

The group's total assets have increased by approximately 175 million dollars since the beginning of the first quarter of 1981. NBG's total assets are up approximately 121 million dollars; First Bank & Trust's total assets have increased by approximately 45 million dollars; Clayton County Bank's assets have increased approximately 10 million dollars and First Commercial Bank of Gwinnett County assets have decreased from the first quarter of last year by approximately 1 million. The slight decrease in assets by the First Commercial Bank of Gwinnett County is due to the fact that members of management of the National

The Manners and Means of the Conspiracy

It was a part of the conspiracy that:

20. The Defendants would enrich Defendants AGHA HASAN ABEDI, SWALEH NAQVI, the BCCI Defendants, ICIC Overseas and GHAITH PHARAON and their associates, by taking advantage of opportunities to deceive and exploit United States financial institutions, deceive United States Federal regulatory agencies, and deceive persons and entities throughout the United States.

It was further a part of the conspiracy that:

21. The BCCI Defendants, ICIC Overseas, AGHA HASAN ABEDI and SWALEH NAQVI would acquire and maintain control and influence over Independence with the aid of Defendant GHAITH PHARAON, through deceptive stock purchases by way of hidden stock pledges, nominee agreements, nonrecourse loans, loan releases, beneficial interest agreements and outright falsehoods, fabrications and omissions in applications and reports filed with state and federal regulatory agencies;

22. The Defendants would use Defendant ICIC Overseas to facilitate deception of the Board, FDIC, FSLIC, and FHLBB concerning the involvement of the BCCI Defendants, AGHA HASAN ABEDI, and SWALEH NAQVI with Defendant GHAITH PHARAON;

23. Defendant GHAITH PHARAON, the owner of approximately 25 percent of the stock of CenTrust, would use his relationship with the BCCI Defendants and SWALEH NAQVI to arrange for a branch of the BCCI Group to purchase approximately $25,000,000 of the total $150,000,000 CenTrust subordinated debentures in order to mislead and deceive regulators and investors as to the true market for the CenTrust subordinated debentures;

24. The BCCI Defendants, Defendant GHAITH PHARAON and another would cause material misrepresentations and omissions to be made to investors;

25. The Defendant GHAITH PHARAON and another would promise the BCCI Defendants and SWALEH NAQVI that CenTrust would repurchase any CenTrust subordinated debentures purchased by the BCCI Group;

26. The BCCI Defendants and Defendant SWALEH NAQVI would direct BCCI (Overseas) Paris to purchase approximately $25,000,000 of CenTrust subordinated debentures;

27. Defendant GHAITH PHARAON and another would cause CenTrust Trust to repurchase said subordinated debentures from BCCI (Overseas) Paris, after approximately six weeks, thus making the BCCI Defendants whole and completing the deception of other investors as to the true market for the CenTrust subordinated debentures.

> "According to [the Chief Executive Officer of Independence], and even if I established a holding co. for the purpose of sheltering some of the bank's income it is unlikely that under the present capital structure the bank would greatly grow without any additional capital. In the present circumstances, and until I have worked out some kind of re-scheduling with the Redec banks, I may face some difficulties in arranging independent facilities for Independence Bk for additional capital.
> "Therefore I would suggest that for the time being the 15/85 arrangement be maintained until we can determine the course we want Independence to take, and the degree of capital that needs to be made available, if we want the bank to grow, as well as the return on this capital, when compared to other investment opportunities.
> "If after meeting with [the Chief Executive Officer of Independence] you are convinced that additional capital is required and the returns on such capital are attractive, I would be prepared to meet with you and modify the 15/85 arrangement in accordance with my earlier discussion with you and Mr. Abedi. ORDER OF FORFEITURE

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered. Paragraph 1(e) of that Order of Forfeiture provides that the four corporate defendants named in this action shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including, without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered pursuant to paragraph 10 of the plea agreement, in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the plea agreement.

On April 13, 1992, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963, the plea agreement, and paragraph 1(e) of the January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, counsel for the United States of America filed a motion requesting that the Court order forfeiture of a quantity of personal property of unknown value, including office furniture and equipment, held by The Fortress Corporation, 1630 N.E. 1st Avenue, Miami, Florida, and owned by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd., one of the four named corporate defendants. Attached to the motion as Exhibit B was an inventory list describing with particularity the property held by The Fortress Corporation which the government seeks forfeited.

Without objection by counsel for the corporate defendants, and it appearing that all assets listed in Exhibit B to the United States' Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Additional Property are assets of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. and are located within the United States, it is hereby ORDERED that the assets held by The Fortress Corporation and listed on the attached page entitled "Exhibit 'B' Crim. No. 91-0655 (JHG)" are declared forfeited and subject to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize those assets forthwith.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that upon receipt of notice from the United States Marshals Service that the property has been seized, it shall be the responsibility of the United States of America to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) asserting legal right, title or interest in the property.

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered. Paragraph 1(e) of that Order of Forfeiture provides that the four corporate defendants named in this action shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including, without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of court-appointed fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the plea agreement.

On June 24, 1992, the government filed a Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Additional Property, seeking forfeiture of assets in newly discovered bank accounts held in the names of the corporate defendants, proceeds from the sale of a condominium purchased with resources provided by a corporate defendant, money remaining in a "BCCI Legal Fund" established by one of the corporate defendants for the defense of its employees' legal interests, a bankruptcy distribution to one of the corporate defendants, and assets held at various New York financial institutions in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. ("Investments"), a sibling corporation of defendant ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. ("Overseas"). Accompanying the motion were a Memorandum of the United States in Support of its Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Assets Held in the Name "ICIC Investments Limited," a motion for leave to file the memorandum in excess of page limit,[1] and numerous exhibits supporting the government's claims of forfeitability. While implicitly recognizing that Investments was not charged as a defendant in this action, that Investments was not a party to the plea agreement, and that Investments was not specifically named in the Court's January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, the government argues in its memorandum that assets held in the name of Investments are nonetheless forfeitable because

[1] The motion for leave to file in excess of page limit has been granted in a separate order.

Investments was the alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants and because assets held in the name of Investments were transferred to Investments by the defendants after the United States' interest in them arose. Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A), the Court restrained fourteen New York financial institutions from interfering with, moving, transferring, disposing, altering, or otherwise changing the status quo of any assets held in the name of Investments pending resolution of the government's motion to amend.

In a filing dated July 7, 1992, the court-appointed fiduciaries for the four corporate defendants represented that they do not object to forfeiture of the assets of Investments as set forth in the government's motion, subject to the filing of claims pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l). Counsel for Investments, however, submitted to the Court on July 7, 1992 a Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Opposition to Government's Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture. The government filed a reply to Investments' opposition, claiming, inter alia, that Investments may challenge the forfeiture of assets only by filing a petition pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) after the assets are forfeited. On July 24, 1992, counsel for Investments filed a Motion for Leave to File Sur Reply Memorandum in Opposition to the Government's Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture. Because Investments does not have standing to challenge the forfeiture at this time, see 18 U.S.C. § 1963(i), its motion for leave has been denied in a separate order.

Through its motion to amend and the exhibits attached thereto, the government has satisfactorily established that the accounts held by the various financial institutions in the names of the corporate defendants, the proceeds from the sale of the condominium purchased by Amjad Awan with funds from one of the corporate defendants, the legal fund established by one of the corporate defendants, and the claim filed on behalf of BCCI Overseas (Miami Agency) in the Florida bankruptcy proceeding of General Coffee Corporation are forfeitable under 18 U.S.C. § 1963, the plea agreement between the parties, filed December 19, 1991, and the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992. Consequently, the forfeiture of those assets is ordered below. Additionally, because treating Investments as an alter ego of the corporate defendants is appropriate under the relevant law and facts for the reasons stated below, forfeiture of assets held in the name of Investments is also ordered.

Title 18 U.S.C. § 1963, the applicable forfeiture provision in this case, states in the most general of terms that "interests," "securities," and "claims" in property or "enterprises" relating to racketeering activities are forfeitable.[2] Numerous courts,

[2] Subsection (a) of § 1963 states in relevant part:

> Whoever violates any provision of section 1962 of this chapter ... shall forfeit to the United States, irrespective of any provision of State law --
>
> (1) any interest the person has acquired or maintained in violation of section 1962;
> (2) any --
> (A) interest in;
> (B) security of;
> (C) claim against; or
> (D) property or contractual right of any

including the Supreme Court, have acknowledged that the broad terms used to define forfeitable assets in § 1963 reflect a strong and unambiguous legislative intent to separate a convicted racketeer from all assets, in whatever form, obtained from and used to further racketeering activities. See, e.g., United States v. Busher, 817 F.2d 1409, 1412-13 (9th Cir. 1987) ("Section 1963 is purposely broad. ... [It] was designed to totally separate a racketeer from the enterprise he operates."); United States v. Ginsburg, 773 F.2d 798, 802 (7th Cir. 1985), cert. denied, 475 U.S. 1011 (1986) ("The statute is replete with words and phrases of extraordinary breadth further evidencing congressional intent to enact a statute of exceedingly broad scope."); United States v. Jacobson, 691 F.2d 110, 113 (2nd Cir. 1982) (use of the terms "interest" and "property ... right" reflects a Congressional intent to insure a broad reach of forfeiture sanctions). As the Supreme Court has stated:

> It undoubtedly was because Congress did not wish the forfeiture provision of § 1963(a) to be limited by rigid and technical definitions drawn from other areas of the law that it selected the broad term "interest" to describe the things that are subject to forfeiture under the statute. Congress selected this general term apparently because it was fully consistent with the pattern of the RICO statute in utilizing terms and concepts of breadth.

> kind affording a source of influence over; > any enterprise which the person has established, operated, controlled, conducted, or participated in the conduct of in violation of section 1962; and
> (3) any property constituting, or derived from, any proceeds which the person obtained, directly or indirectly, from racketeering activity or unlawful debt collection in violation of section 1962.

Russello v. United States, 464 U.S. 16, 21 (1983). In light of the deliberately broad language of § 1963 and the ambitious purpose of RICO, interpretation of the term "interest" to include the assets of a racketeering corporation's alter ego clearly is warranted.[3]

The government's motion to amend and the voluminous exhibits attached thereto satisfactorily establish that Investments was the alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants. It is unnecessary to reiterate every relevant fact supporting the Court's determination; it is sufficient to note as particularly significant the frequent commingling of property and business affairs of Investments and Overseas, the financial dependence of Investments on Overseas and related entities, the commonality of ownership and management of Investments and Overseas, and the sharing of the same building, business logo, telex, post office box, and telephone line for facsimile. Facts contained in the Report of the Joint Provisional Liquidators of International Credit and Investment Company (Overseas) Limited, attached to the court-appointed fiduciaries' response to the government's motion to amend, also lend support for the disregard of Investments' separate corporate form. Page 2 of the Report, dated August 30, 1991, states:

In a number of material respects, the ICIC Group [i.e.,

[3] Although it has not addressed piercing the corporate veil in a RICO context, the Supreme Court has consistently held that a corporate form should not be respected when to do so would defeat a legislative policy or work fraud or injustice. See, e.g., First National City Bank v. Banco Para el Comercio Exterior de Cuba, 462 U.S. 611, 630 (1983); Anderson v. Abbott, 321 U.S. 349, 363, reh'g denied, 321 U.S. 804 (1944); Taylor v. Standard Gas & Electric Co., 306 U.S. 307, 322 (1939).

> Investments, Overseas, and their sibling and parent corporations] appears to have conducted its affairs as a single entity, without clearly identifying which company or entity within the ICIC Group was concerned with or responsible for any particular transaction. This has further complicated the Provisional Liquidators' investigations.

Given the relationship between Investments and the named defendants as established by the government's exhibits and, to a lesser extent, the Report of the Joint Provisional Liquidators submitted by the court-appointed fiduciaries for the four corporate defendants, and in light of the broad language of § 1963(a) and the legislative history of RICO, the Court disregards the corporate form of Investments and considers the assets of Investments forfeitable "interests" of the named corporate defendants. To do otherwise would seriously undermine the legislative purpose of § 1963, namely, to "'punish, deter, incapacitate, and ... directly to remove the corrupting influence from the channels of commerce.'" Russello at 28 (quoting 116 Cong.Rec. 18955 (remarks of Sen. McClellan)).[4]

Accordingly, for the reasons stated above, it is hereby ORDERED that the assets listed on the attached pages entitled "Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" and all property held in the United States in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. whether or not listed on the attached pages are declared forfeited and subject to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992.

---

[4] The Court, of course, may be required to revisit the forfeitability of assets held in Investments' name if a third party properly raises the issue in a petition filed pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l).

It is FURTHER ORDERED that the United States Marshals Service shall seize all assets forfeitable under this Order which are enumerated on the "Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" attached hereto. In the case of each bank account appearing on the "Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property," the United States Marshals Service is directed to seize the property forthwith. In the case of the claim in bankruptcy appearing under the heading "Esanu Katsky Korins & Siger" on the "Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property," the United States Marshals Service is directed to inform the bankruptcy trustee, Mr. Joel Weiss of Esanu Katsky Korins & Siger of New York, New York, of the manner in which any distribution from the bankruptcy estate to BCCI shall be transferred to the United States Marshals Service.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that upon receipt of notice from the United States Marshals Service that the property has been seized, it shall be the responsibility of the United States of America to notify all interest parties by fastest means available of their right to file a claim pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) asserting legal right, title or interest in the property.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

FILED

MAR 24 1992

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered. Paragraph 1(e) of that Order of Forfeiture provides that the four corporate defendants named in this action shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including, without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered pursuant to paragraph 10 of the plea agreement, in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the plea agreement.

On March 20, 1992, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963, the plea agreement, and paragraph 1(e) of the January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, counsel for the United States of America filed a motion requesting that the Court order forfeiture of a quantity of personal property of unknown value, including office furniture and computer equipment, held by Withers Transfer & Storage of Coral Gables, 357 Almeria Avenue, Coral Gables, Florida and owned by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd., one of the four named corporate defendants.[1] Attached to the motion as Exhibit A were inventory lists describing with particularity the property held by Withers Transfer & Storage which the government seeks forfeited.[2]

Without objection by counsel for the corporate defendants, and it appearing that all assets listed in Exhibit A to the United States' Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Additional Property are assets of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. and are located within the United States, it is hereby

[1] According to the government's motion, the court-appointed fiduciaries advised counsel for the government of the existence of the property which is the subject of this Order.

[2] Although one of the inventory lists contained in Exhibit A and entitled "Packing List" was printed on the letterhead of Security Forwarding Ltd. of Sixth Terrace, Centreville, Nassau, Bahamas, counsel for the government represents that all assets listed in Exhibit A, including those contained in the "Packing List," are held in the United States by Withers Transfer & Storage of Coral Gables.

ORDERED that the assets held by Withers Transfer & Storage of Coral Gables and listed on the attached pages entitled "Ex. A. Crim. No. 91-0655 (JHG)" are declared forfeited and subject to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992. The United States Marshal's Service is directed to seize those assets forthwith.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that upon receipt of notice from the United States Marshal's Service that the property has been seized, it shall be the responsibility of the United States of America to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) asserting legal right, title or interest in the property.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. BCCI HOLDINGS (LUXEMBOURG), S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL, S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, Defendants.	Criminal No. 91-0655 (JHG)

FILED

JAN 3 1 1992

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered directing the United States Marshal Service to seize certain assets forthwith. The Order of Forfeiture also provided that upon receipt of an updated and verified list of forfeitable assets held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California Corp., Capital Bank, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. (hereafter, the "list"), and upon approval by the Court of the list, the assets attributed to those four institutions would become subject to the Order of Forfeiture and should then be seized forthwith.

Pursuant to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, counsel for the United States filed a "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" which, according to the United States, reflected the verification of the amounts previously listed on page four of Exhibit A to the Court's January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture. Accompanying the list was a brief memorandum advising the Court of certain matters pertaining to the First Supplemental List.

It should be noted from the outset that, among the numerous filings received by the Court, the names of certain entities holding assets have not always been consistently or correctly referred to. For example, in certain submissions, Capital Bank has been referred to as "Capital Bank Miami." In addition, American Express Bank Ltd. has sometimes been referred to as "American Express," Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. has been mentioned as "Oppenheimer & Co.," and ICIC Investments Ltd. has been listed as "ICIC Investment Ltd." On this date the names of institutions contained in lists submitted with the Court have been clarified and, by this Order, the Court amends all past incorrect references to those entities.

In its memorandum accompanying the First Supplemental List, the United States advised the Court, inter alia, that although the amounts and numbers of the accounts held by Capital Bank have been confirmed with the account holder, the Comptroller of the State of Florida, Capital Bank has declined to provide direct confirmation of that information without further Order of this Court. Because the account holder has confirmed the accuracy of the amount and numbers of the accounts held by Capital Bank, and because the defendants in this case do not challenge the forfeitability of the assets attributed to Capital Bank in the First Supplemental List, the Court finds additional confirmation by Capital Bank unnecessary.

In addition to the United States' representations concerning assets held by Capital Bank, the memorandum accompanying the First Supplemental List also advises the Court that on January 28, 1992, in the course of confirming account information with Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., it was learned that an account or accounts at that institution, numbered 05391180, are held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. and not in the name of any of the four corporate defendants. The United States alleges that although not specifically listed in the name of any of the defendants in this case, the assets held in the account or accounts numbered 05391180 are nonetheless the assets of the corporate defendants and are subject to forfeiture pursuant to paragraph 1(e) on the January 24, 1992.

Although the government asserted this position in its most recent filing, after discussion at a hearing held this date, the United States proposed, and counsel for the court-appointed fiduciaries agreed, that there should be a period of time before those assets were forfeited in which the government could make a detailed investigation to determine whether or not it was entitled to those funds contained in account or accounts numbered 05391180. Pursuant to its proposal, the government moved for entry of an order restraining the movement or other disposition of any assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. at Oppenheimer & Co.,

1325015-000-11043

Inc. as well as at other institutions. The BCCI defendants consented to the motion. Since the action is deemed appropriate, prudent, and in the public interest, the Court has issued a separate Order granting the government's motion. Accordingly, those amounts in account or accounts named ICIC Investments Ltd. and numbered 05391180 at Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. will not be forfeited at this time.

Therefore, it is hereby

ORDERED that the assets listed on the attached pages entitled "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" are declared forfeited and subject to this Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that all references to account or accounts numbered 05391180, Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., contained in Exhibit A attached to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 are stricken and those accounts named ICIC Investments Ltd. and numbered 05391180 presently held by Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. shall not be forfeited pending further Order of this Court.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that, in addition to those assets ordered forfeited by the January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, and pursuant to Rule 32(b)(2), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, the assets listed in the "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" attached hereto shall be seized forthwith by the United States Marshal Service or its duly authorized representative and disposed of in accordance with the law.

1325015-000-11044

It is FURTHER ORDERED that all references to "American Express," "Capital Bank Miami," "ICIC Investment Ltd.," and "Oppenheimer & Co." are hereby amended to read "American Express Bank Ltd.," "Capital Bank," "ICIC Investments Ltd.," and "Oppenheimer & Co., Inc." respectively.

The Clerk of the Court is hereby directed to send copies of this Order to all counsel of record and the United States Marshal.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
Entered this 31th day of January, 1992.

FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. BCCI HOLDINGS (LUXEMBOURG), S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, Defendants.	Criminal No. 91-0655 (JHG)

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

The United States of America and the four corporate defendants in this case (collectively, "BCCI") have entered into a Plea Agreement dated December 19, 1991, by which the defendants agree to plead guilty to an offense under Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962, and to forfeiture of the assets of the four corporate defendants located in the United States pursuant to Section 1963 of Title 18.

As recited on the record today in open court, the Court has determined pursuant to Rule 11(e), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, that the Plea Agreement is acceptable to the Court. The Court has determined pursuant to Rule 11(f), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, that there is a factual basis for the pleas of guilty and for the forfeiture of the defendants' assets as set forth in the Superseding Information, the Plea Agreement, the statements of counsel in open Court, and the testimony of the representative of the defendants.

It is hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED as follows:

1. Pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1963(a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(3), the following property located in the United States of the four corporate defendants is hereby condemned and forfeited to the United States of America:

(a) the deposits and other assets listed on Exhibit A, which Exhibit A is hereby made a part of this Order, except those funds listed on Exhibit A which are held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California, Capital Bank Miami, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., because counsel have been unable at this time to reconfirm or update the list of assets held by those institutions. Counsel for the parties to this case shall provide to the Court, by January 29, 1992 at 12:00 noon, an updated list of forfeitable assets held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California, Capital Bank Miami, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., at which time, upon approval by the Court, such assets shall become subject to this Order of Forfeiture.

(b) the net proceeds from the future sale or other disposition or transfer of any stock, security or other interest in Independence Bank, but not the stock, security or other interest itself;

(c) the net proceeds from the future sale or other disposition or transfer of any stock, security or other interest in First American Bankshares, Inc., but not the stock, security or other interest itself;

(d) the balance of the liquidation estates of the Los Angeles and New York agencies of BCCI, S.A., but not the estates themselves, upon completion of liquidation proceedings conducted by the New York banking and the California banking entities in accordance with the laws of California and New York. For purposes of the foregoing, the "liquidation estates" shall consist of all of the rights and interests of the Superintendent of Banks of the states of New York and California under their respective state law banking statutes with respect to the assets of BCCI, S.A. located in their respective states and the assets of the New York and California agencies of BCCI, S.A. The liquidation estates do not include the assets enumerated in Exhibit A; and

(e) the entirety of BCCI's ownership interests in all other property located in the United States, including, without limitations, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered pursuant to paragraph 10 of the Plea Agreement, in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the Plea Agreement.

2. The Court finds that the above-listed forfeited assets constitute interests acquired or maintained by the defendants, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962; or are interests in, securities of, claims against, or property or contractual rights of various kinds affording a source of influence over an enterprise which the defendants established, operated, controlled, conducted, or participated in, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962; or are property constituting or derived from, proceeds the defendants obtained, directly or indirectly, from racketeering activity, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962.

3. It is further ORDERED that, except as specifically excepted in paragraph 1(a) and as noted in paragraph 4, each of the financial institutions and entities listed on Exhibit A shall immediately pay to the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia or his duly authorized representative:

1) the entire contents of the accounts listed on Exhibit A, including interest accrued;

2) any funds transferred since July 5, 1991, from any account listed on Exhibit A that are still within the possession or control of the financial institution, regardless of the account into which those funds were transferred and regardless of the reason for the transfer; and

3) any other funds in any other account held by BCCI (Overseas) or International Credit and Investment Company (Overseas).

Such payments shall not be limited to the "Approximate Amounts" listed on Exhibit A if the balance as of this date is greater than the Approximate Amount. For the purposes of this paragraph, an

"account listed on Exhibit A" includes any account that previously held funds listed on Exhibit A, or any account to which such funds have been transferred.

4. With respect to the funds listed on Exhibit A as being held on deposit in the Court Registry Investment System ("CRIS") interest-bearing account administered by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas, such funds are hereby ORDERED forfeited to the United States. In lieu of the immediate transfer of those funds pursuant to paragraph 3, the United States shall take all necessary steps pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, Section 2042, to obtain an order directing the transfer of those funds to the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia.

5. It is further ORDERED that to the extent necessary to carry out the terms of this Order, BCCI, pursuant to the Plea Agreement, shall assist the financial institutions and entities listed on Exhibit A in the transfer of such funds.

6. It is further ORDERED that the United States Marshal's Service shall deposit all funds received pursuant to this Order of Forfeiture in the Department of Justice Seized Asset Deposit Fund Account (hereafter, "the Account") and invest it with interest as permitted by Title 28, United States Code, Section 524(c), as amended October 28, 1991.

7. Pursuant to the ancillary hearing procedures set forth in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963(l), no disbursements shall be made from the Account without further Order of this Court.

Should it appear that no claim has been made with respect to particular assets transferred to the Account pursuant to Section 1963(l), or at such time as such claims to such assets have been resolved, the Court will entertain motions from the government for the disbursement of those assets.

8. As the proceeds identified in paragraphs 1(b) through (e) become available, the Department of Justice, on behalf of the United States, shall apply to this Court for appropriate Orders effecting the transfer and deposit of such proceeds into the Account. The notice provisions of Section 1963(l) shall apply to each asset so transferred to the Account pursuant to such further Orders.

9. Pursuant to Rule 32(b)(2), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, it is further ORDERED that each of the above listed properties, except as specifically excepted in paragraph 1(a) and as noted in paragraph 4, shall be seized forthwith by the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia or his duly authorized representative and disposed of in accordance with the law and this Order of Forfeiture.

The Clerk is hereby directed to send copies of this Order to all counsel of record and the United States Marshal.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

By telephone on August 3, 1993, Ms. [redacted] Orlando, FL 32854; telephone [redacted] requested information about how she might reacquire the house she said she formerly owned at [redacted] Drive, Orlando, Florida 32804; property which, in 1989, apparently was seized in a BCCI-related case in the Middle District of Florida, further identified only as "89-A12CIVT NIMMONS." Both the Orlando U.S. Marshal's Office and a realtor (Coldwell Banker) reportedly told her that the property had been forfeited to the government. b6 b7C

This is office has no information relating to the referenced matter other than that received from Ms. [redacted]. Therefore, we would appreciate it if you would provide Ms. [redacted] with any available information. b6 b7C

SUBJECT : HIDDEN INTERESTS;
MAJOR CASE #38;
FIF; FAG;
OO: WMFO

As New York will recall, captioned matter is the investigation to determine the nature and extent of the illegal activities of the BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI) in the U.S.; and that, as a part of its 1991 plea-negotiations with the U.S., BCCI was ordered by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia to forfeit any and all of its assets, either known or discovered, in the U.S. To date, such forfeitures have exceeded $750 million.

Part of BCCI's activities in the U.S. involved the ownership and control of FIRST AMRICAN BANK OF NEW YORK (FABNY), which was approved to open and operate in NY State in 1983. FIRST AMERICAN BANKSHARES (FABS), parent of FABNY, was itself a wholly-owned subsidiary of CREDIT AND COMMERCE AMERICAN HOLDINGS (CCAH), which BCCI illegally acquired and controlled through nominees. As a matter of practice, BCCI used undisclosed nominees, both individual and corporate, to hold its U.S. assets.

FABNY established its headquarters at 350 Park Avenue, New York, NY, for which space subject [redacted] as FABS' [redacted], signed a long-term lease in or about September, 1982. Witnesses have told WMFO that BCCI personnel found and selected that "excessively large and expensive" location, and that, along with [redacted] subjects CLARK M. CLIFFORD, AGHA HASAN ABEDI and [redacted] worked together to cause FABS to enter into the lease and, in January, 1984, to assign it to FABNY. The space was so large that some of it was never occupied. Between 1982 and 1992, the lease supposedly cost FABNY $30 million for space that was not used. Even [redacted] at one point is reported to have lamented the fact FABNY's profitability was hurt by the fact that FABNY had to pay such exorbitant rent. b6 b7C

WMFO strongly suspects that the building at 350 Park Avenue was owned and controlled by BCCI through nominees, who probably would have been associated with Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates or Saudi Arabia. If BCCI's ownership can be established, the building would be forfeitable to the U.S.

Witnesses have told WMFO that BCCI personnel introduced [redacted] to two groups of brokers during the search for suitable office space: HUBERT & HUBERT, represented by [redacted] and CUSHMAN & WAKEFIELD, represented by [redacted] and a Mr. FNU [redacted] The lessor of the space was FOSTER LYNN COMPANY, represented by a Mr. FNU [redacted] (phonetic). b6 b7C

LEADS

NEW YORK DIVISION

At New York, NY: will conduct investigation to develop a complete picture of the ownership of the building at 350 Park Avenue, particularly from 1980 onward, to include all recorded title and mortgage information, and interviews of anyone who may have dealt with or represented the owners in leasing the property.

Dear Special Agent [redacted] b6 b7C

The attached letter was received in our office last week, apparently from a citizen who wishes to assist in the BCCI litigation for a fee. I am making the referral to you to determine in what manner to respond to the citizen's inquiry.

Please let me or Stefan Cassella know what you decide.

Re: Information on Additional BCCI Assets

Dear Mr. Cassella:

The reason I am writing you is to inquire as to whether the United States will pay a fee of twenty five (25%) for information which will provide the government additional forfeiture concerning the Bank of Credit and Commerce International SA interest in additional bank accounts in the United States either through its subsidiaries or otherwise.

I believe that I have information available concerning additional accounts which BCCI SA had either a direct or indirect interest through their subsidiaries.

I understand that under 18 USC 1963(g)(3) the Attorney General can award compensation to indiduals who provide information which leads to forfeiture under 18 USC 1963.

Please let me know if you will agree on behalf of the United States to pay the 25% fee of any additional amount that may be forfeited to the United States based on the information that I supply your office or the United States.

Your early reply will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. AGHA HASAN ABEDI SWALEH NAQVI, and GHAITH R. PHARAON, Defendants	CRIMINAL NUMBER 91-0655 (JHG) Defendant 03

FILED

FEB 0 8 1995

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

EX PARTE PRE-TRIAL RESTRAINING ORDER

This matter having come before the Court upon the Motion of the United States of America for the entry of restraining and repatriation orders pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A) and it appearing to the satisfaction of this Court:

1. That the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System issued a Notice of Assessment of Civil Money Penalties against the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon on July 29, 1991 (amended on September 13, 1991), and that on September 17, 1991, upon motion of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the District Court for the Southern District of New York in Case Number 91 Civ. 6250, styled "Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System v. Ghaith R. Pharaon," issued an Order to Show Cause and Temporary Restraining Order directed to defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon;

(N)

2. That on October 11, 1991, the District Court for the Southern District of New York, with the consent of the Parties, modified its Order of September 17, 1991, by appointing a monitor to, inter alia, oversee the continuing business operations of InterRedec, Inc., with the objective of preserving the value and assets thereof;

3. That on January 15, 1993, a federal grand jury of this district returned a Superseding Indictment charging the above-named defendants with violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1962(d) and alleging that the proceeds they obtained directly and indirectly from said violation, as set forth in Racketeering Acts One through Six of Count Three of the Superseding Indictment, or an amount of cash equivalent thereto, were forfeitable to the United States of America pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(a)(3);

4. That the restraining order of the District Court for the Southern District of New York may, at any time, be dissolved and the presently restrained property, or a portion thereof, returned to the control of Defendant Ghaith Pharaon through InterRedec, Inc.;

5. That the United States has moved, ex parte, for restraining and repatriation orders pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A) in order to preserve the availability of the property alleged to be forfeitable in the Superseding Indictment and to prevent the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon or others from alienating, encumbering or wasting said property;

6. That, based upon the Superseding Indictment and the supporting Application and Memorandum submitted by the United States, there is reasonable cause to believe that the value of the property alleged to be forfeitable in the Superseding Indictment is not less than $102,500,000.00;

7. That, based upon the Superseding Indictment and the supporting Application and Memorandum submitted by the United States, there is reasonable cause to believe that the property described in Attachment A is a portion of the direct or indirect proceeds described in the Superseding Indictment, supporting Application and Memorandum or represents the cash equivalent thereof; and

8. That, based upon the Superseding Indictment and the supporting Application and Memorandum submitted by the United States, reasonable cause has been shown for the entry by this Court of a restraining order to preserve the property described in Attachment A up to a value of $102,500,000.00, should any such property be released, in whole or in part, other than for the purpose of satisfying a civil money penalty imposed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, from the Temporary Restraining Order of September 17, 1991 (modified by the Order of October 11, 1991), as amended, entered by the District Court for Southern District of New York in case number 91 Civ. 6250 (PKL) and for the entry by this Court of a repatriation order directing the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon to deposit into the registry of this Court money or other property in the amount of $102,500,000.00.

It is, therefore, the ORDER or this Court that:

9. The defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon, InterRedec, Inc., and any other person or entity, including their agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and/or any others acting in concert with them, having any interest or control over the property described in Attachment A, should any such property be released, in whole or in part, other than for the purpose of satisfying a civil money penalty imposed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, from the Temporary Restraining Order of September 17, 1991 (modified by the Order of October 11, 1991), as amended, entered by the District Court for Southern District of New York in case number 91 Civ. 6250 (PKL), shall not, without approval of this Court upon notice to the United States and an opportunity for the United States to be heard:

a) alienate, dissipate, transfer, sell, assign, lease, pledge, encumber, or dispose of, in any manner, directly or indirectly;

b) cause to be alienated, dissipated, transferred, sold, assigned, leased, pledged, encumbered, or disposed of in any manner; or

c) take, or cause to be taken, any action which could have the effect of concealing or moving from the jurisdiction of this Court, or that would have the effect of depreciating, damaging or in any way diminishing the value of any property named in this Order;

EXCEPT THAT InterRedec, Inc. shall be permitted to conduct, either directly or through entities controlled by it, ordinary, arm's length, and reasonable business activities necessary and appropriate to preserve the business entities which it owns or controls as going concerns and to continue to do business in the ordinary course, so long as such actions do not result in the transfer of assets or monies, directly or indirectly, to the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon.

10. It is further ORDERED that the Parties shall, should the property described in Attachment A be released, in whole or in part, other than for the purpose of satisfying a civil money penalty imposed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, from the Temporary Restraining Order of September 17, 1991 (modified by the Order of October 11, 1991), as amended, entered by the District Court for Southern District of New York in case number 91 Civ. 6250 (PKL), present to this Court, within one week of any such release, a plan for the appointment of a monitor to oversee InterRedec's compliance with this Order.

11. It is further ORDERED that the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon, InterRedec, Inc., and any other person or entity having any interest or control over the property, or portions thereof, described in Attachment A, should any such property be released, in whole or in part, other than for the purpose of satisfying a civil money penalty imposed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, from the Temporary Restraining Order of September 17, 1991 (modified by the Order of October 11, 1991), as amended, entered by the District Court for Southern District of New York in case number 91 Civ. 6250 (PKL), will be allowed to execute a satisfactory performance bond pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1). The Court will make the determination as to whether the performance bond is satisfactory, and this Order will be in effect until such time as the Court determines that the proffered bond is satisfactory.

12. It is further ORDERED that the defendant Ghaith R. Pharaon shall FORTHWITH repatriate to the United States and deposit into the registry of the Court all proceeds of the racketeering activity located outside the United States in which he has any interest valued at $1,000 or more, up to a total value of $102,500,000.00.

13. It is further ORDERED that, pursuant to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 49(b), service of this Order, the United States' Ex Parte Application for Pre-Trial Restraining Order, and the United States' Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of Ex Parte Application for Pre-Trial Restraining Order may be effected by service upon Richard Lawler, Esquire, of Whitman & Ransom, counsel for Ghaith R. Ghaith R. Pharaon at his last known address, by service on Dooley E. Culbertson, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of InterRedec, Inc., and by service upon K. Chris Todd, counsel for InterRedec Inc.

14. This Order shall remain in effect until further order of the Court or until the Court modifies the Order as appears necessary in the interest of justice and consistent with the purposes of 18 U.S.C. § 1963.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

ROBERT EVANS, Trustee for the United States of America, 725 South Figueroa Street, Suite 2260, Los Angeles California 90017-5422 was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent and the nature of the investigation. He voluntarily provided the following information:

EVANS was appointed by the Department of Justice as trustee overseeing the complex assets listed in the criminal BCCI forfeiture orders. The trustee has never tracked specific asset being liquidated from a particular forfeiture order but has maintained a list of the wire transfers when assets have been sold and transferred to the Marshal's Service. To date EVANS has liquidated $73,500,000.00 (seventy-three million five hundred thousand dollars) of assets and provided the United States Marshal's Service in New York with eleven bank remittance wire transfers.

On 2/13/95, EVANS provided BOB JOHNSON, United States Marshal Service with a $17,000,000.00 (seventeen million dollar) wire transfer from assets liquidated predominately from the fourth order of forfeiture. EVANS could not be more specific as to the type of property sold which generated this most recent money transfer. He concluded the conversation by advising he would furnish SA [redacted] with a copy of all eleven wire transfers. b6 b7C

Dear Mr. Evans,

Pursuant to our conversation on May 1, 1995, concerning the tracking of assets listed in the four forfeiture orders involved in the BCCI investigation.

Please provide the thirteen bank remittance records ie, receipts documenting the liquidation of assets to the United States Marshal's Service and any reports analyzing and or identifying the source of assets the trustee has liquidated to date. I'm especially interested in the fourth forfeiture order specifically a February 13, 1995, transaction involving $17,000,000.00.

Sincerely,

2 Sheikhs Pay $10 Million to Settle Claims From BCCI's Demise

Reuter

NEW YORK, May 22—The rulers of two of the seven United Arab Emirates have paid $10 million to settle claims resulting from the collapse of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), officials said today.

Sheikh Humaid bin Rashid al-Nuaimi, emir of Ajman, and Sheikh Hamad bin Mohammed al-Sharqi, emir of Fujairah, were nominee shareholders—they allowed their names to be used as stockholders when they really were not—in a holding company BCCI set up for its illegal ownership of a U.S. bank, according to a statement by Manhattan District Attorney Robert Morgenthau, the Federal Reserve and the Justice Department.

The $10 million payment is part of the terms of two agreements reached by Sheikh al-Nuaimi and Sheikh al-Sharqi, officials said.

Of that sum, $2 million will go toward settlement of claims by creditors and depositors of BCCI, and $1 million will go to the Federal Reserve for processing BCCI records, they said.

The two also paid $7 million to settle a lawsuit in connection with BCCI's ownership of the District-based First American Bank. The two emirs were nominee shareholders in Credit and Commerce American Holdings N.V., which BCCI set up illicitly for its ownership of First American.

Luxembourg-registered BCCI was closed down in July 1991 by banking regulators around the world after it was alleged to have perpetrated the largest international bank fraud ever.

The $10 million settles all the claims against the two emirs regarding their roles in the holding company, officials said. Also as part of the agreement, neither sheikh was charged with nor admitted to any criminal acts. Both are cooperating with ongoing investigations and prosecutions, officials said.

Meanwhile, Saudi Sheikh Khalid bin Mahfouz welcomed a Luxembourg court settlement in which he agreed to pay $245 million to the liquidators of BCCI in return for lawsuits being dropped against him.

"This settlement terminates litigation in several countries and involves the withdrawal of all allegations made against me by the liquidators, just as all charges were withdrawn by the U.S. authorities some 18 months ago," Mahfouz said in a statement.

Under last Friday's deal, BCCI's liquidators agreed to drop all lawsuits totalling $50 billion in five countries against the sheikh, his associate, Pakistani banker Haroon Kahlon and the National Commercial Bank of Saudi Arabia. The sheikh, Kahlon and the NCB withdrew their countersuits, the statement said.

It stressed that the NCB, which is 98.8 percent-owned by the Mahfouz family, had made no financial contribution to the settlement, and that with $600 million in deposits and loans to BCCI, Mahfouz was one of the victims of its demise.

The main $1.8 billion payment settlement by Abu Dhabi, the bank's main shareholder, to liquidators, has been stalled since four former London-based BCCI employees filed an appeal against the deal.

APR 15 1992

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered. Paragraph 1(e) of that Order of Forfeiture provides that the four corporate defendants named in this action shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including, without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered pursuant to paragraph 10 of the plea agreement, in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the plea agreement.

On March 20, 1992, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963, the plea agreement, and paragraph 1(e) of the January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, counsel for the United States of America filed a motion requesting that the Court order forfeiture of a quantity of personal property of unknown value, including office furniture and computer equipment, held by Withers Transfer & Storage of Coral Gables, 357 Almeria Avenue, Coral Gables, Florida and owned by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd., one of the four corporate defendants. Attached to the motion as Exhibit A were inventory lists describing with particularity the property held by Withers Transfer & Storage which the government sought forfeited. On March 24, 1992, without objection by counsel for the corporate defendants, the Court granted the government's motion, ordered the property forfeited, and directed the United States Marshals Service to seize the assets forthwith.

On April 13, 1992, counsel for the government filed a motion to amend the March 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture to include newly discovered property also belonging to BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. and located at Withers Transfer & Storage. Attached to the motion as "Exhibit 1 Crim. No. 91-0655 (JHG)" were two inventory lists describing with particularity the property which the government seeks forfeited.

Without objection by counsel for the corporate defendants, and

it appearing that all assets listed in Exhibit 1 to the United States' Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Additional Property are assets of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. and are located within the United States, it is hereby ORDERED that the assets held by Withers Transfer & Storage and listed on the attached pages entitled "Exhibit 1 Crim. No. 91-0655 (JHG)" are declared forfeited and subject to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize those assets forthwith.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that upon receipt of notice from the United States Marshals Service that the property has been seized, it shall be the responsibility of the United States of America to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) asserting legal right, title or interest in the property.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. BCCI HOLDINGS (LUXEMBOURG), S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL, S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, Defendants.	Criminal No. 91-0655 (JHG)

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER GRANTING THE PETITION OF UBAF BANK LIMITED

The following represents the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law as a result of the hearing on the petition of UBAF Bank Limited ("UBAF") held on August 17, 1995. For the reasons expressed below, the petition is granted.

I. Findings of Fact

A. Background

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, and in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1963, an Order of Forfeiture was entered. Paragraph 1(e) of the Order provides that the corporate defendants named in this action shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including, without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of court-appointed fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the plea agreement. Attached to the January 24, 1992 Order as Exhibit A was a list of specific BCCI accounts, with corresponding numbers, names, and approximate balances, which the United States Marshals Service was directed to seize forthwith. Because the government was unable to verify certain information concerning additional forfeitable accounts at the time the Order of Forfeiture was entered, the Court issued a supplemental Order on January 31, 1992 which directed immediate seizure of the specific assets listed therein.

In satisfaction of 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(1), and to inform third parties of potential rights to seek recovery of assets declared forfeited, the United States published notice of the Order of Forfeiture, as amended, during the period between February 13, 1992 and March 27, 1992 in eleven major United States newspapers including the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, the Chicago Tribune, and the Los Angeles Daily Journal. See Government's Compliance with Order of May 8, 1992, filed May 12, 1992. In addition, personal notice was sent to over 340 persons and entities as late as April 3, 1992. Id.

On June 24, 1992, the government filed a Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Additional Property, seeking forfeiture and seizure of assets in newly discovered bank accounts held in the names of the corporate defendants, proceeds from the sale of a condominium purchased with resources provided by a corporate defendant, money remaining in a "BCCI Legal Fund" established by one of the corporate defendants for the defense of its employees' legal interests, a bankruptcy distribution to one of the corporate defendants, and assets held at various New York financial institutions in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd., a sibling corporation of defendant ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. The Court granted the government's motion and issued an Order of Forfeiture on July 29, 1992. The United States subsequently provided notice of the Order to potential claimants.

The government subsequently filed another motion to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. Attached to this motion was the proposed Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, which included accounts held at various financial institutions in the United States in the names of the corporate defendants as well as money held by the Court-Appointed Liquidators, the Trustee and several law firms. This motion was granted on August 19, 1993. The United States provided notice of this Order of Forfeiture in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(1) by mailing a Notice of the Order of Forfeiture to 523 individuals and entities with a possible legal right, interest or title in the forfeited property and by causing a copy of the same Notice to be published in nine newspapers of general circulation, including the

New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, the Washington Post and the USA Today. See Notice to the Court, filed September 21, 1993.

In response to the August 19, 1993 Order of Forfeiture, a number of claimants, including UBAF, filed claims. In accordance with a briefing schedule established by the Court, the United States filed a motion to dismiss UBAF's petition. The government asserted that this petitioner lacked standing to assert its claim and that it failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. After oral argument, this Court denied the United States' motion to dismiss. The parties then engaged in discovery, after which this Court held the August 17, 1995 evidentiary hearing.

B. UBAF's Petition

On May 2, 1991, Banque Marocaine du Commerce Exterieur, Casablanca ("BMCE"), issued a letter of credit through UBAF for approximately $16,000,000.[1] The letter of credit was intended to cover a shipment of crude oil, and was issued at the request of the buyer of the crude oil, Societe Anonyme Marocaine De L Industrie De Raffinage. It was to be paid through Bank of Credit and Commerce (Emirates) ("BCC(E)").[2] See Declaration of George C. Kimber ¶ 4, United States Ex. P.

Pursuant to this letter of credit, UBAF was obligated to pay BCC(E)'s main branch, located in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates. See Id.; UBAF Exs. 1-3; United States Exs. H-I. On June 16, 1991, BCC(E) transmitted a telex to UBAF demanding payment under the letter of credit. UBAF Ex. 4. Two weeks later, on July 1, 1991, BCC(E) sent a revised telex to UBAF demanding payment in the amount of $16,438,492.28. UBAF Ex. 5. This revised telex instructed UBAF to send the payment to BCC(E)'s account number 86058[3] at BankAmerica International in New York ("BankAmerica"). Id.

On July 5, 1991, UBAF's letter of credit department attempted to effect the payment by requesting, via a written "Remittance Instruction", that the UBAF General Payments Department ("General Payments"), make the payment. United States Exs. K, L; Deposition of Fatema Rasiwalla ["Rasiwalla Dep."] at 8, 13; Deposition of Eva M. Kemble at 48-49. The Remittance Instruction named "Bank of Credit and Commerce Int Abu Dhabi", account number 86058 as the beneficiary of the payment. In processing this instruction, General Payments selected the "Short Name" "CRCOMCAYAD" from the "Short Names List".[4] Deposition of Despo Pieri at 16-20, 28-29; Deposition of Ian M. MacLeod at 43-44, 76; Rasiwalla Dep. at 30. The selection of the "Short Name" "CRCOMCAYAD" generated "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" for use as the beneficiary in the July 5, 1991 payment order and telex confirmation. It is undisputed that [3]BCC(E)'s account at BankAmerica was number 86058, BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi's account at BankAmerica was 86052. The similarity between these account numbers is irrelevant to this patition.

[4]The "Short Name" was a code that generated a particular name and address to be inserted into the beneficiary name section of a payment order and confirmation telex. Stipulation ¶ 9; Rasiwalla Dep. at 30-31.

1325015-000-11241

the selection of "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" as the beneficiary was the result of a clerical error at UBAF.

At 11:12 a.m.[5] on July 5, 1991, General Payments sent a payment order to Bankers Trust Company in New York ("Bankers Trust") directing it to pay $16,438,472.28 to BankAmerica. The payment order identified "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dhabi" as the beneficiary and did not specify a bank account or other numerical identifier. At 3:24 p.m., Bankers Trust sent a payment order through CHIPS to BankAmerica directing it to make a payment in the amount of $16,438,472.28 to "Bk Credit & Commerce; (GC)Abu Dh". See UBAF Ex. 11; United States Ex. A. The originator of the payment order was identified as UBAF. BankAmerica received the payment order at 3:25 p.m.

By the time BankAmerica received the payment order, it was aware of the situation involving BCCI. Early that morning, before 9:00 a.m., BankAmerica personnel became aware that BCCI had been seized by regulators. Deposition of June A. Findlay ["Findlay Dep."] at 151. Throughout the day, bank regulators were at BankAmerica. Due to the seizure, BankAmerica would not make any payments on the BCCI accounts and any reference to a BCCI account had to go through BankAmerica's legal department. Id. at 158, 190, 230 (noting that no payments could be made out of the BCCI S.A. Abu [5]Any reference to a time of day in this opinion will be to the time it was in New York when a particular event occurred. It is understood that there was a five-hour time difference between New York and London on July 5, 1991. For example, the payment order sent to Bankers Trust at 11:12 a.m. New York time was sent at 4:12 p.m. London time.

Dhabi account on July 5, 1991).[6] This information was transmitted to the Money Transfer Unit around noon.

There was, however, no change in BankAmerica's treatment of incoming credits to BCCI accounts, id. at 158-59, so BankAmerica's Money Transfer Unit attempted to process the payment order received from Bankers Trust. Because the payment order included the name of the beneficiary but no account number or other numerical identifier, BankAmerica's Money Transfer Unit had to process it manually.[7] Although BankAmerica had "no written guidelines" for the manual processing of payment orders, several steps were commonly taken to determine the proper beneficiary. Id. at 48. BankAmerica personnel could rely on directories, lists of account holders, BankAmerica policies and experience. Money Transfer Unit personnel also had the discretion to seek assistance from BankAmerica's Account Administration[8] department who could consult "you will receive" messages[9] or contact the remitting bank or the [6]BankAmerica's computer system was also programmed so that a note was displayed to signal that a payment order might be related to a BCCI entity; such a note was displayed upon receipt of the UBAF payment order.

[7]This was not an uncommon occurrence at BankAmerica. Ricci Acosta, then-operations manager in the Money Transfer Unit, testified that of the approximately 20,000 payment orders received each day in 1991, BankAmerica's Money Transfer Unit had to process 4000-5000 manually.

[8]The department currently known as Global Sales Support Services was known as Account Administration in 1991. Findlay Dep. at 8.

[9]A "you will receive" message is a notification from a customer to a bank that the bank should expect to receive a particular money transfer. Findlay Dep. at 106. Relevant to this proceeding, BCC(E) sent a telex to BankAmerica on July 4, 1991 indicating that customer to verify the beneficiary. Id. at 33, 44, 46-48, 106, 149, 283. It is also perhaps noteworthy that there was more pressure to process incoming payment orders (as opposed to outgoing payment orders) in a timely fashion. Id. at 50-51.

The Money Transfer Unit completed processing the payment order at 6:03 p.m. The money was credited to BCCI S.A.'s account number 86052. Notwithstanding that the incoming payment order instructed BankAmerica to credit as beneficiary "Bk Credit and Commerce; (GC)Abu Dh", BankAmerica credited BCCI S.A. as the "beneficiary's bank", and noted that BCC (GC) Abu Dhabi was the beneficiary. UBAF Ex. 11. BankAmerica transmitted this information to BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi via BankAmerica's BAMTRAC electronic communication system.

Because July 5, 1991 was a Friday, the erroneous transfer was not detected until July 8, 1991, the next business day. On this date, BankAmerica received a telex from BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi indicating that the $16 million credit was in error. Later that morning, UBAF, having realized the mistake, sent a revised payment order through Bankers Trust to BankAmerica. See Deposition of Gary Bishop at 44. Because BCCI S.A.'s accounts had been frozen, however, the money could not be retrieved.

This was not the first time that BCCI S.A. and BCC(E) had been mistaken at BankAmerica. There had been a history of confusion between the BCC(E) and BCCI accounts at BankAmerica, and a similar mistake had been made on July 4, 1991. Id. at 213; UBAF Ex. 18; see Findlay Dep. at 219-20 (noting that not all the confusion was the fault of BankAmerica). In fact, on July 5, 1991, BankAmerica had no fewer than 13 accounts that began with the words "Bank of Credit and Comerce" or "BCC".[10] It is undisputed, however, that there was no account at BankAmerica in the name of "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh", "Bank of Credit and Commerce (Grand Cayman) Abu Dhabi", or with the words "Bank of Credit and Commerce" "Grand Cayman" and "Abu Dhabi" in it. Findlay Dep. at 93, 117-18; Deposition of Roger S. Burden at 28-30.

Nonetheless, the association between the BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi account and a payment order referencing Grand Cayman was not taken out of thin air. BCCI S.A. had a division known as the Treasury Portfolio Management Division ("TPMD"), which was located in Abu Dhabi and managed the surplus funds of BCCI S.A., BCCI (Overseas) and their branches, subsidiaries and affiliates. Every day, the surplus liquidity of these entities was transferred to BCCI's Central Treasury, which was maintained by BCCI (Overseas). The Central Treasury was located in Grand Cayman and was often referred to as the Grand Cayman Treasury.

TPMD made the investment and other decisions regarding funds of the Central Treasury. To perform this function, TPMD had control of certain accounts which were used to receive and transfer funds owned by the Grand Cayman Treasury. Certain of these accounts were held in the name BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi. Account 86052 at BankAmerica was one such account.

II. Conclusions of Law

A. Forfeitures Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963

Title 18, United States Code, § 1963 sets forth an orderly procedure by which third parties seeking to recover interests in forfeited property may obtain judicial resolution of their claims. The provision granting standing to parties seeking to amend an order of forfeiture to exclude certain property states:

> Any person, other than the defendant, asserting a legal interest in property which has been ordered forfeited to the United States pursuant to this section may, within thirty days of the final publication of notice or his receipt of notice . . ., whichever is earlier, petition the court for a hearing to adjudicate the validity of his alleged interest in the property.

18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(2); see generally United States v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), S.A., 46 F.3d 1185 (D.C. Cir. 1995). Section 1963(l)(6) sets forth the substantive elements which a third party must establish to successfully obtain amendment of an order of forfeiture and provides in full:

1325015-000-11246

> If, after the hearing, the court determines that the petitioner has established by a preponderance of the evidence that--
>
> (A) the petitioner has a legal right, title, or interest in the property, and such right, title, or interest renders the order of forfeiture invalid in whole or in part because the right, title, or interest was vested in the petitioner rather than the defendant or was superior to any right, title, or interest of the defendant at the time of the commission of the acts which gave rise to the forfeiture of the property under this section; or
>
> (B) the petitioner is a bona fide purchaser for value of the right, title, or interest in the property and was at the time of purchase reasonably without cause to believe that the property was subject to forfeiture under this section;
> the court shall amend the order of forfeiture in accordance with its determination."[11]

Only by establishing standing and satisfaction of all requisite elements of either § 1963(l)(6)(A) or (B) may a party obtain judicial relief from an order of forfeiture. See United States v. Schwimmer, 968 F.2d 1570, 1584 (2d Cir. 1992) ("The only role of the District Court is to amend the order of forfeiture where a genuine property interest of the sort specified in § 1963(l)(6) is demonstrated.") (emphasis in the original); United States v. Lavin, 942 F.2d 177, 187 (3d Cir. 1991) ("Those third parties who fall outside of the [limited avenues of relief], regardless of how sympathetic they are, must petition the Attorney General for [11]Title 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(6) contains exactly the same language as 21 U.S.C. § 853(n)(6), the statute providing for forfeiture in criminal narcotics cases, and it appears that no court has interpreted these two provisions differently. Because the two subsections are identical and because of the relative dearth of case law interpreting and applying § 1963(l), the Court's opinion relies on reasoning contained in § 853(n) cases as well as in § 1963(l) cases.

relief.") If a third party fails to allege in its petition all elements necessary for recovery, including those relating to standing, the court may dismiss the petition without providing a hearing. See United States v. Campos, 859 F.2d 1233, 1240 (6th Cir. 1988); United States v. Magsean, 649 F. Supp. 820, 825 (D. Nev. 1986), aff'd without opinion, 822 F.2d 62 (9th Cir. 1987); S. Rep. No. 225, 98th Cong., 2d Sess., reprinted in 1984 U.S.Code Cong. & Ad. News 3374, 3391.

As noted above, a party must have a "legal interest in property which has been ordered forfeited to the United States" to have standing pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(2). A general, unsecured creditor does not possess an interest in any specific asset of a debtor and merely has a general interest in the debtor's entire estate. See BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), S.A., 46 F.3d at 1191 ("bank depositors, as general creditors, have no interest in the specific accounts to which their deposits might be traced, only in the defendant's estate as a whole--and therefore have no interest in particular assets forfeited"); United States v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), S.A., 814 F. Supp. 106, 110 (D.D.C. 1993); Schwimmer, 968 F.2d at 1581 ("A general creditor has no interest in a particular asset or particular funds that is either vested or superior to a defendant's. He may have a right to receive payment, but he does not have a property interest superior to defendant's in any particular asset or funds . . . ."); Campos, 859 F.2d at 1240 (unsecured creditors who filed third-party claims "failed to allege or make a prima facie showing of any legal right, title, or interest in the forfeited property") (emphasis added); United States v. Reckmeyer, 836 F.2d 200, 206 & n. 3 (4th Cir. 1987) ("Unlike secured creditors, general creditors cannot point to any one specific asset and claim that they are entitled to payment of the value of that specific asset. General creditors instead enjoy a legal interest in the entire estate of the debtor."); Hageman, 649 F. Supp. at 828 ("The Court . . . concedes the trade creditors do not, in a technical sense, have legal interests in the forfeited property."). Because general creditors are unable to assert interests in specific assets, they cannot assert legal rights, titles, or interests "in property which has been ordered forfeited" as required by § 1963(l)(2), at least in situations where a defendant's entire estate is not subject to forfeiture. See Reckmeyer, 836 F.2d at 206 n. 3 ("It is the dilemma of linking their interest to a specific asset rather than the problem of asserting a legal interest in the debtor's estate that frustrates general creditors who attempt to contest . . . forfeitures.").

B. Wire Transfers Under UCC Article 4A

The critical question with regard to the instant petition is whether UBAF has a "legal interest" in the disputed funds. Such an interest is necessary to satisfy the standing requirements of § 1963(l)(2) and, as this Court has previously noted, such an interest would operate to the exclusion of any interest of BCCI, thereby satisfying the substantive requirements of § 1963(l)(6)(A).

UBAF's interest in the disputed funds arises out of electronic wire transfers. It is, therefore, governed by Article 4A of the 1325015-000-11249

Uniform Commercial Code ("U.C.C.").[12] See U.C.C. § 4A-101, Official Comment (this article provides a "comprehensive body of law that defines the rights and obligations that arise from wire transfers"). Pursuant to Article 4A, a funds transfer is completed when the bank of the beneficiary of the funds transfer accepts a payment order. U.C.C. § 4A-104(a). Such acceptance occurs, subject to certain conditions, at the earliest of: (1) when the bank pays the beneficiary or notifies the beneficiary of receipt of the order or that the account has been credited; (2) when the bank receives payment of the entire amount of the transfer; or (3) the beginning of the bank's next funds-transfer business day. U.C.C. § 4A-209(b). Because an accepted transfer cannot be revoked without the consent of the beneficiary, Middle East Banking Co. v. State Street Bank Int'l, 821 F.2d 897, 901-02 (2d Cir. 1987) ("Returns and refunds to a third party that are unauthorized by a customer give rise to an action against the bank . . . and unilateral actions of this nature are undertaken by a bank at its own peril") (citation omitted), and the beneficiary's bank incurs an obligation to the beneficiary upon acceptance of the funds, see U.C.C. § 4A-404 ("if a beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order, the bank is obliged to pay the amount of the order to the beneficiary of the order"), the ownership interest in those funds must pass from the originator upon completion of the funds transfer. See Shawmut Worcester County Bank v. First American Bank [12]Article 4A has been adopted in over forty states and was adopted in New York on January 1, 1991. U.C.C. § 4A-102, Official Comment.

& Trust, 731 F. Supp. 57, 60 (D. Mass. 1990) (completion of a wire transfer "extinguished Shawmut's 'ownership interest' in the funds as personal property" prohibiting recovery on a conversion theory).

UBAF asserts that the funds transfer at issue was never "accepted" by BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi on two independent Article 4A grounds. First, relying on the fact that BankAmerica credited the account of BCCI S.A. as a "beneficiary's bank" not as a "beneficiary", UBAF Ex. 11, UBAF asserts that the wire transfer was rejected. Pursuant to the New York U.C.C. Law[13]:

> If a receiving bank suspends payments, all unaccepted payment orders issued to it are deemed rejected at the time the bank suspends payments.

N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-210(3).[14] Thus, UBAF argues, when BankAmerica issued the notification to BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi via BAMTRAC, it issued a payment order to BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi as beneficiary's bank to credit the account of the beneficiary "Bk Credit & Commerce (CC) Abu Dh". Because BCCI S.A. had been seized by regulators before this payment order issued, UBAF claims that the payment order was rejected when issued and the funds never were properly credited to the BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi account.

Second, UBAF claims that even if UBAF credited BCCI S.A. as "beneficiary", it could not do so. Pursuant to Article 4A:

[13]It is undisputed that New York U.C.C. Law applies to this case.

[14]See N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-104(m) ("'Suspends payments' with respect to a bank means that it has been closed by order of the supervisory authorities, that a public officer has been appointed to take it over or that it ceases or refuses to make payments in the ordinary course of business"); see also N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-105(3) (incorporating this definition into Article 4A).

> if, in a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank, the name, bank account number, or other identification of the beneficiary refers to a nonexistent or unidentifiable person or account, no person has rights as a beneficiary of the order and acceptance of the order cannot occur.

N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-207(1). UBAF argues that "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" referred to a "nonexistent" and "unidentifiable" entity within the meaning of this section.

This second contention is dispositive.[15] It is undisputed that there was no account at BankAmerica on July 5, 1991 under the name "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh". Critically, of all the accounts at BankAmerica on July 5, 1991 that contained the words "Bank of Credit and Commerce" or "BCC" in the name, not one included "Grand Cayman" (or "GC"). Under these circumstances, this Court simply cannot conclude that "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" referred to anything but a "nonexistent" beneficiary. The [15]Because this issue is dispositive, the Court need not resolve UBAF's alternative theory of recovery. The legal questions presented by the alternative theory are novel, more complex and, because some arose at the hearing, have not been adequately briefed by the parties. For example, UBAF can only recover under this theory if BCCI S.A. had "suspend[ed] payments" within the meaning of N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-210(3). Because Article 4A treats separate branches of banks as distinct banks and the Abu Dhabi branch of BCCI S.A. was not shutdown until July 17, 1991, it is unclear whether BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi had "suspend[ed] payments" on July 5, 1991. See N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-105(1)(b) ("A branch or separate office of a bank is a separate bank for purposes of this article."). Further, the United States claims that the payment order BankAmerica received from Bankers Trust defined BankAmerica's role as that of beneficiary bank and instructed BankAmerica to credit the account of the beneficiary, "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh". It is unclear whether BankAmerica could change its role in the funds transfer to that of intermediary bank or whether the law presumes that it complied with the payment order as it was issued. Certainly Professor Benjamin Geva, the United States' expert, testified that BankAmerica could not "magically" change its own role in the funds transfer.

United States' attempt to demonstrate that the Grand Cayman Treasury account somehow renders "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" an existing beneficiary, is simply unavailing. Where, as here, a payment order identifies a beneficiary only by name, and the words or abbreviations used to express that name collectively reference no account or entity, the intended beneficiary is "nonexistent" and there can be no acceptance of the payment order. Any attempt to explain why BankAmerica believed that the intended beneficiary was identifiable as BCCI S.A. Abu Dhabi plainly ignores the disjunctive wording of the statute. N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-207(1) ("if, in a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank, the name . . . of the beneficiary refers to a nonexistent or unidentifiable person or account, no person has rights as a beneficiary of the order") (emphasis added). Cf. Reves v. Ernst & Young, 113 S. Ct. 1163, 1169 (1993) ("if the statutory language is unambiguous, in the absence of a clearly expressed legislative intent to the contrary, that language must ordinarily be regarded as conclusive") (quotation omitted).

The result might be different if the payment order listed the intended beneficiary simply as "Bank of Credit and Commerce". These words (or their abbreviations) collectively refer to a number of accounts, and the intended beneficiary would likely be merely ambiguous, not "nonexistent". In contrast, the words (or their abbreviations) used in the payment order in the instant case--"Bank of Credit and Commerce", "Grand Cayman" and "Abu Dhabi"--did not collectively reference any account at BankAmerica. The Court is not unaware of the volume of transactions that occur via electronic transfers on a daily basis[16], and that inaccuracies and mistakes are not uncommon. The only logical conclusion, however, is that "Bk Credit & Commerce (GC) Abu Dh" refers to a "nonexistent" entity and no acceptance of the payment order occurred by operation of N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-207(1).

Even were the beneficiary merely ambiguous, UBAF would still prevail because BankAmerica did not take reasonable steps to identify the intended beneficiary.[17] Because BCCI S.A. had been shutdown on July 5, 1991 and no money could be taken from its accounts--a fact clearly known to BankAmerica personnel--BCCI's accounts should have been considered "special handling accounts" and treated differently than usual.[18] BankAmerica personnel recognized that the events of July 5, 1991 involving BCCI were "an entirely unusual situation". Findlay Dep. at 154. This need for [16]Professor Hal S. Scott, UBAF's expert, testified that $1 trillion is transferred by wire each day.

[17]The parties do not dispute the use of a "reasonableness" inquiry to determine whether an intended beneficiary is "unidentifiable". Such an approach will be adopted here. To apply the literal terms of the statute would render the term "unidentifiable" virtually superfluous because the intended beneficiary will almost never be "unidentifiable" if the bank takes reasonable steps to ascertain the beneficiary's identity. For example, the bank could always call its customer (or its customer's customer) and there would be no doubt.

[18]For example, BankAmerica could have searched the "you will receive" messages before crediting the account of BCCI S.A. Such a simple inquiry, which was used on occasion at BankAmerica, would have revealed that BCC(E) was expecting to receive a wire transfer of over $16 million--not the exact sum but strikingly similar--on July 5, 1991. But see Findlay Dep. at 150 (noting that there had been a problem in the past with "you will receive" messages from BCC(E)).

special treatment was exacerbated by the history of confusion between the BCCI S.A. and BCC(E) accounts at BankAmerica, and the fact that BankAmerica could have placed the money in a virtually risk-free "suspense" account pending a determination of the beneficiary of the payment order. See Findlay Dep. at 129-30, 133-34.[19] In short, a reasonably prudent banker presented with this inexact payment order on the day of an enormous, worldwide bank seizure would have taken further steps to ensure that the money was not erroneously--and inextricably--credited to one of the seized accounts. The beneficiary of the payment order was, therefore, "unidentifiable" within the meaning of N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-207(1) and no acceptance of the payment order occurred.

III. Conclusion

This Court concludes that by operation of N.Y. U.C.C. Law § 4-A-207(1), UBAF has a "legal interest" in the forfeited funds sufficient to satisfy both the standing requirements of 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(2) and the substantive requirements of 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l)(G)(A). Accordingly, it is hereby ORDERED that the petition filed by UBAF Bank Limited is granted. This Court's August 19, 1993 Order of Forfeiture shall be [19]Although Ms. Findlay testified that BankAmerica discourages the use of the suspense accounts, Findlay Dep. at 130, the fact that any money erroneously placed in BCCI accounts was practically irretrievable should have constituted "a good reason" to use such an account. Id.

BCCI—Still Playing, and Paying, at a Cour

By Sharon Walsh
Washington Post Staff Writer

Maybe you thought that the cases spawned by the BCCI international banking scandal, which led to full employment for dozens of white-collar lawyers in the defense of various individuals and corporations, were over.

Think again.

It has been more than two years since Washington lawyer Robert A. Altman was acquitted of all criminal charges stemming from his involvement with BCCI. And it has been 2½ years since First American Bankshares Inc., which was found to be illegally owned by BCCI, was sold to banking giant First Union Corp. for more than $450 million.

But those four letters—standing for the Bank of Credit and Commerce International—which came to symbolize the largest and, perhaps, most complicated banking fraud in history, still are at the heart of a number of legal cases bringing in millions of dollars for lawyers, including some in Washington.

"At its peak, it was a massive case, with lawyers in London, Luxembourg and the U.S.," said Washington attorney Plato Cacheris, who represented the former head of Saudi intelligence, Kamal Adham, who paid $105 million in restitution in New York for his role in BCCI. "And it's still keeping a lot of lawyers employed."

Starting today, yet another piece of the BCCI saga is scheduled to unfold as the Federal Reserve Board's enforcement action against Saudi businessman Ghaith R. Pharaon begins in New York. Pharaon, the Fed has alleged, was the front man for BCCI in illegally purchasing Independence Bank in Encino, Calif. The failure of that bank cost taxpayers, through the bank insurance fund, more than $100 million.

Pharaon won't attend the hearing by an administrative law judge, which should determine whether the Fed may assess a $37 million fine against him. That's because he is a fugitive residing in Saudi Arabia.

But his attorney, John M. Newell of New York's Whitman, Breed, Abbott & Morgan, will be there. Newell is just one of dozens of lawyers in New York and Washington who are still sending out bills in the BCCI case. Newell did not return phone calls seeking comment last week.

Richard A. Small, special counsel to the Fed, and Thomas C. Baxter Jr., general counsel of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, are leading the Fed's team.

High on the list of Washington law firms with big fees in the BCCI case are Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue and Corbin Silverman & Senseverino, the firms working for Harry W. Albright Jr., the court-appointed trustee for First American Bankshares Inc., and its board.

Albright reported to the court a year ago that the cost of pursuing various lawsuits on behalf of First American was $9.8 million. Of that amount, $7.8 million has been spent on legal fees and $1.7 million on salaries of First American personnel involved in supporting the litigation.

The bulk of the legal fees have gone to Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue for work on cases ranging from fighting the move to pay Clifford and Altman's legal fees to suing various BCCI shareholders and winning a fight with the Internal Revenue Service over a $220 million tax claim.

- The government has recovered $1.6 billion from various defendants in the BCCI case.
- U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green has ordered that $450 million be released for the use of the U.S. government and BCCI's worldwide victims fund.
- The U.S. government lost $255 million because of BCCI's illegal ownership of U.S. financial institutions.
- The cost of civil litigation to First American's board and its trustee arising out of the BCCI scandal is $9.8 million from July 1992 to June 1994.
- Clark M. Clifford and Robert A. Altman are seeking to be reimbursed for $10 million in legal defense fees.

THE WASHINGTON POST

Jones, Day, with Washington managing partner Stephen J. Brogan at the helm, has represented the bank in numerous lawsuits, including a $1.5 billion civil racketeering suit brought against Clifford, Altman and other defendants. At the end of last month, U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green denied a motion by Clifford and Altman's attorneys to throw the case out.)

The Justice Department's asset forfeiture office asked Green last year to institute a procedure to disburse some of the assets from the sale of First American, in part, to "include some effective means of controlling costs," said the government brief, citing the legal fees.

Green declined to do so.

Also working for Albright is Sol Corbin of the New York firm of Corbin Silverman & Senseverino, which has collected about $2.4 million in fees since the trustee was appointed in June 1992.

Albright, a New York lawyer and former chairman of the Dime Savings Bank, is paid $300,000 a year plus expenses for his services as trustee. He is said to believe that the fees charged by Jones, Day are "a bargain," for the results the firm has gotten.

Clifford and Altman still face huge legal fees from the civil racketeering suit brought by the board of First American and an enforcement action brought by the Federal Reserve Board. The Fed's action seeks $10 million from the two, who provided legal representation for both BCCI and First American, for allegedly concealing the true ownership of First American.

The two men, who have vehemently denied wrongdoing, would not comment on the upcoming cases. Clifford, who has not gone to his office in more than a year, and Altman, who has a law office in the District, are represented in the Fed cases by William B. Shields, a New York attorney, and by Carl S. Rauh and Mitchell S. Ettinger of Skadden, Arps, Slate Meagher & Flom. Altman has also filed to represent himself before the Fed.

William H. Jeffress at Miller, Cassidy, Larroca & Lewin represents Clifford and Altman in the civil suit filed by Jones, Day. In addition, Miller Cassidy has filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking to have the First American board pay $10 million in legal fees that went to Skadden, Arps, and the New York firms of Newman & Schwartz, and Stillman, Friedman & Shaw for Clifford and Altman's legal bills there.

Clifford and Altman argue that because they were indicted and Altman was tried—and acquitted—as officers of First American, the bank should pay those legal fees. The bank has replied that Clifford and Altman harmed the bank to the tune of millions of dollars and, in turn, has sued them and other defendants for $1.5 billion.

Miller, Cassidy has also filed suit in Superior Court in the District on behalf of Clifford as managing partner of the now-defunct law firm of Clifford & Warnke. That suit seeks $1.6 million in legal fees Clifford says the law firm was owed by First American.

Another huge chunk of money—perhaps as much as $100 million, according to sources—has been paid in the past several years to lawyers outside the country who work for BCCI's liquidators. While the court-appointed liquidators of BCCI, which had offices in 70 countries, has lawyers all over the world, they're represented in Washington by Nussbaum & Wald. Michael Nussbaum was out of the country and could not be reached for comment late last week.

Another firm that has been well compensated for its efforts is Washington's Patton, Boggs, representing the ruling family of Abu Dhabi, which was the majority owner of BCCI when the bank failed. There are no public records on how much Patton, Boggs has been paid and lawyers working for Abu Dhabi did not return telephone calls.

There also are scores of lawyers who have been involved in litigating 156 claims of third parties who say that BCCI owed them money or that their money was trapped in wire transfers going through BCCI on the fateful day when the international bank was shut down. The third parties include American Express Bank, Bank of New York, Bank of California, Bank of Yokohama and Barclay's Bank.

Stefan D. Cassella and half a dozen other lawyers at the Justice Department's office of asset forfeiture have handled the third-party claims for the government.

None of the government prosecutors or agencies who have worked for years on the BCCI case could say how much the government's cases have cost. But they point out that the government has recovered $1.6 billion from various sources. Half of that will go to the U.S. government and half will be turned over to the worldwide victims' fund for BCCI depositors.

Green recently issued an order disbursing $450 million to be divided between the government and the victims' fund. But, thus far, the depositors who lost billions in BCCI, virtually all of whom live outside the United States, have received none of their money.

Referred to a Higher Court

One witness who will not appear in future cases involving BCCI is Agha Hasan Abedi, the founder of the bank. As Judge Joyce Hens Green noted in a recent court ruling: "Although no formal suggestion of death has been filed in this litigation, it has been widely reported that the defendant Abedi is now deceased."

Abedi died on Aug. 5.

No Objections

There really are times when defense lawyers and prosecutors can agree.

Take this Wednesday, when U.S. Attorney Eric H. Holder Jr. and white-collar lawyer Reid H. Weingarten, longtime friends, are teaming up to launch "See Forever," a program to provide education, job training and family services to small groups of youths coming out of the Oak Hill Youth Center and Spruce Cottage, the District's juvenile correctional facilities.

The program will be competitive, serving only those youths, ages 16 to 18, who "demonstrate the most promise and sincere interest in changing their lives" when they leave these facilities, the founders said.

Holder said the program will be one "kids want to get into. It will . . . jam-pack their day with activities, so when we drop them off at night they are too tired to do anything but go to sleep, and then come back and hang out with us again."

There's still a lot to be done, Weingarten said, adding, "If the world were perfect, we'd start accepting kids at the beginning of the year, we hope."

Enclosures: Facsimile of schedule of distribution to USMS Service from May 5, 1993 to December 31, 1995 & summary of cumulative distribution to USMS.

Details: On 1/15/96, Robb Evans and [redacted] b6 b7C handling the liquidation of assets in the captioned investigation provided the attached chart. From 5/15/93 until 12/31/95, $88,000,000.00 has been remitted to US Marshals Service (via wire transfer) pursuant to four criminal orders of forfeiture.

Assets being liquidated range from fungible property i.e. cash to real estate involving other investors not associated with this investigation. Assets are continually being liquidated from all four forfeiture orders. More complex assets take longer to liquidate depending on the real estate market and other economic indicators.

Assets remitted to date off the December 1994 fourth order equal approximately $19,000,000.00. A fifth order of forfeiture is scheduled in late January of 1996.

Details: On 4/10/96, [redacted], Asset Forfeiture/Money Laundering Section, Department of Justice furnished the following information: The fifth order of forfeiture in the above captioned investigation has been delayed. No specific date has been scheduled but [redacted] anticipates within the next four to six weeks the court will issue the fifth order of forfeiture. The reason for the delay is to ensure DOJ has an opportunity to identify all potential assets subject to forfeiture.

b7C

[redacted] concluded the conversation by stating the BCCI investigation is "getting toward the end." She does not believe additional orders of forfeiture are "imminent." However, it may take Robb Evans, the court appointed trustee a significant length of time to liquidate assets (i.e real estate). Then [redacted] promised to contact SA [redacted] when the fifth order of forfeiture becomes available.

Dear [redacted]

b7C

Visit by officials on Wednesday, 24th July, 1996.

After the visit yesterday, I remembered the following:

On acquisition of shares in Chartouni Bank, later named Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Lebenon), by BCCI S.A. Luxembourg in 1973 or 1974, I along with Mr. [redacted] Board of this sibsidiary. When Mr. [redacted] of the bank, divested his remaining shares at the begining of the civil war in that country, and BCCI (Lebanon) became a wholly owned subsiidary of BCCI Holdings, I replaced Mr. [redacted] BCCI (Lebanon). This was, however not an executive position and was a nominal position in addition to my other responsibilities based at Central Support Organization of BCCI Group at London. During the Lebanese civil war, occasional meetings of its Board of Directors and annual meeting of its shareholders were held at London to dispose of routine business, which were [redacted]. After some years, when the civil hostilities intensified and Mr. [redacted] BCCI Lebanon had to be called back to London, I relinquished my position as [redacted] in favour of Mr. [redacted]

I shall be grateful if this information is passed on to:

Mr [redacted] Special Agent,
Tel.: (202) 324- 9073
Fax.: (2020 324- 6426

b6

I also requested Mr. [redacted] who interviewed me yesterday, to advise the Department of Justice of my co-operation, to which he was kind enough to agree. I shall be thankful if you will kindly follow up this with him. If he has any further questions about my functions as [redacted] of BCCI (Lebanon), I shall be glad to answer them.

Re: 29B-WF-171994 (FF), 06/24/1996

During the course of the interview the following topics should be discussed with [redacted] b6 b7C

(1) Whether BCCI Holding Group and BCCI Lebanon entered into any management agreements?
(2) Whether BCCI Holding Group supplied staff from the home office to BCCI Lebanon?
(3) What regional organization did BCCI Lebanon belong to in the company hierarchy?
(4) Whether BCCI Holding Group had to approve of certain BCCI Lebanon loan agreements if a certain high dollar threshold was triggered?
(5) Whether BCCI Lebanon engaged in any "loan parking" at the request of BCCI Holding Group? This practice would hide bad loans from bank regulators.
(6) What type of shareholder agreements did BCCI Lebanon have?
(7) Did BCCI Lebanon use nominee shareholders to hide who had true ownership?
(8) How much real capitol (capitol at risk) did BCCI generate through shareholder agreements and how much subordinate capitol (capitol not at risk) was raised?
(9) Whether BCCI Lebanon engaged in "nonrecourse lending"? This technique utilizes a nominee shareholder and allowed the stock issuing subsidiary never to loose control of the shares.
10) Whether BCCI Lebanon used " routing account," to transfer money from BCCI Group without the source of the assets being identified?.
11) What is the status of BCCI Lebanon? Is it still in business?
12) What is the status of [redacted]? b6 b7C
13) Did BCCI Lebanon and BCCI Holding Group use the same letterhead?
14) Who were the BCCI Lebanon corporate officers and who did they report to?
15) Was [redacted] a standard nominee used by BCCI? b6 b7C

[redacted] concluded the meeting by stating she will contact [redacted] defense attorney and schedule a date and a time during the latter part of July 1996 when the interview can be conducted. The fifth order of forfeiture in the BCCI investigation is scheduled for July 31, 1996. b6 b7C

[redacted] also known as (AKA) [redacted], a Pakistani male, born in Agra, India, on [redacted], voluntarily provided the following information regarding BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI) LEBANON. b6 b7C

In approximately 1972, BCCI LUXEMBOURG was established. In approximately late 1973 or early 1974 BCCI LUXEMBOURG purchased the CHARTOUNI family owned bank located in Lebanon and formed BCCI LEBANON. In 1974, BCCI HOLDING COMPANY acquired BCCI LEBANON from BCCI LUXEMBOURG as part of an internal transaction between the two entities.

The management positions within BCCI LEBANON were made by appointment from the home office (BCCI LUXEMBOURG). [redacted] was named [redacted] Board and [redacted] was named BCCI LEBANON's [redacted] (job description unknown) was an additional bank officer assigned to the credit department. [redacted] stated he would contact the writer if he could recall any other additional names of bank officials appointed to BCCI LEBANON. b6 b7C

[redacted] was unaware of any official management agreement between BCCI LEBANON and BCCI LUXEMBOURG. However, BCCI LEBANON would have adhered to the following guidelines: b6 b7C

1) The name of the bank was changed from CHARTOUNI to BCCI LEBANON.

2) The bank was required to follow the CENTRAL BANK OF LEBANON's rules and regulations especially in the area of credit. Strict capital limits on credit extensions had to be followed. [redacted] was unable to recall any specific dollar threshold requirements. b6 b7C

3) BCCI LEBANON was not to over extend its capital by engaging in long term business loans.

4) All bank employees were hired locally by BCCI LEBANON except for the individuals mentioned above.

Investigation on 7/24/96 at Allenwood PA

File # 29B-WF-171994 (FF)

by [redacted] Date dictated 7/29/96 b6 b7C

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

b6 b7C

5) BCCI LUXEMBOURG controlled the majority of BCCI LEBANON'S stock and [redacted] and his family were [redacted] was unaware of the details of the stock break down. [redacted] was unaware of any nominee shareholders.

b6 b7C

6) BCCI LEBANON established its own local board of directors including but not limited to CHARTOUNI and ABIDI.

In approximately 1975 or 1976 the civil war in Lebanon intensified and [redacted] was transferred to BCCI's London office and [redacted] replaced him. Because of the hostilities [redacted] to BCCI HOLDING GROUP. During this time frame BCCI LEBANON's primary business activity remained in small commercial loans to local businesses which were secured by real estate as collateral. BCCI HOLDING GROUP's position regarding BCCI LEBANON was to "hold the fort" until the war was over and real estate values had an opportunity to rise and a buyer could be found to sell the bank.

b6 b7C

[redacted] recalled the office building housing BCCI LEBANON was hit by a shell during the civil war and the home office became very concerned for their employees safety. By 1990, [redacted] was recalled to the London because of the dangerous conditions which existed. First name Unknown (FNU) [redacted] BCCI LEBANON's [redacted] was appointed [redacted] during the interim. [redacted] continued to report to [redacted] and periodically visited the home office once every six months.

b6 b7C

[redacted] had no direct knowledge of [redacted] reports to [redacted] However, occasionally [redacted] met with [redacted] on approximately two or three visits characterized as "routine courtesy calls" in London. [redacted] was under pressure from the LEBANESE bank regulators to ensure BCCI LEBANON had sufficient assets to remain solvent. Sporadically, the HOLDING GROUP would infuse capital in small increments of $50,000 or $100,000 to BCCI LEBANON. [redacted] stated he had the [redacted] these transfers up until approximately 1991. [redacted] believed [redacted] character was "honest and of good intention." He had no reason to believe [redacted] was diverting funds from the BCCI HOLDING GROUP or away from BCCI LEBANON.

b6 b7C

No one from BCCI HOLDING GROUP was anxious to visit BCCI LEBANON because of the war. Very few visits if any were conducted by the home office's management, auditors or inspection staff. BCCI LEBANON's day to day functions were independent from BCCI HOLDING GROUP. At no time did BCCI LEBANON's assets exceed five million dollars. [redacted] advised he was unaware of any significant amounts of money passing through the bank. Since the bank was so small and inconsequential auditors never included BCCI LEBANON on the HOLDING GROUP'S consolidated balance sheets.

b6 b7C

BCCI LEBANON was not part of any regional organization within BCCI HOLDING GROUP. No institutional transactions passed from BCCI LEBANON to the rest of the BCCI subsidiaries except for the possibility of individuals who may have had accounts at more than one BCCI subsidiary.

In late 1991, BCCI HOLDING GROUP's new management was no longer interested in retaining BCCI LEBANON. During this time frame [redacted] visited management in ABU DABI trying to explore different options to convince them to keep BCCI LEBANON open. He proposed BCCI HOLDING GROUP give BCCI LEBANON a soft loan whereby the bank's employees would repay the loan and eventually buy the bank. Another scenario involved a local Lebanese syndicate purchasing a majority of stock in BCCI LEBANON and infusing new capital into the enterprise. [redacted] does not believe either of these proposals were accepted as viable by management.

b7C

When queried [redacted] denied BCCI LEBANON utilized financial techniques such as loan parking, nonrecourse lending or routing accounts. The reason these techniques could not be incorporated was because the Lebanese bank regulators would not allow it and BCCI LEBANON's assets were minimal.

b7C

[redacted] concluded the conversation by suggesting investigators research BCCI LEBANON's statement of condition and balance sheets located in the BCCI office in ABU DABI. addition investigators should contact [redacted] with the FEDERAL RESERVE in Washington DC concerning BCCI LEBANON's activities.

Chronology of Events

1922—Agha Hasan Abedi is born a Shi'ite Muslim in Lucknow, India, the son of the administrator for the Rajah of Mahmudabad.

1959—Abedi founds United Bank Ltd. in Pakistan with 10 million rupees from the Saigol family.

1972—September: Fearing the impending nationalization of United and other Pakistani banks, Abedi and a group of investors including Bank of America and Sheik Zayed of Abu Dhabi found BCCI with $2.5 million in capital. The new bank's intention is to provide commercial banking services in the Third World.

1975—Acting through the Pakistani Gokal family, BCCI tries unsuccessfully to purchase New York's Chelsea National Bank.

1976—BCCI sets up International Credit and Investment Co., the Cayman Islands subsidiary that owned stock in its own parent company and was to become known as "the bank within the bank."

1977—BCCI's assets reach $2.2 billion. October: Abedi is introduced to former Carter administration official Bert Lance and hires Lance as a consultant to help BCCI buy U.S. banks.

1978—British regulators, concerned about BCCI's rapid growth, refuse to issue the bank a full banking license.

January: Ghaith Pharaon buys National Bank of Georgia on behalf of BCCI from Lance and other investors. January: BCCI hires Clark Clifford and Robert Altman to be its American lawyers. Acting through a group of clients, BCCI begins purchasing Financial General Bankshares (FGB) stock on the advice of Lance.

February: Financial General management files suit against BCCI, charging that its clients are investing in FGB as an organized group. The Securities and Exchange Commission soon files a similar suit, and the investors settle it by agreeing to disclose their relationships with each other and make a public tender offer.

July: Credit and Commerce American Holdings (CCAH) and Credit and Commerce American Investment (CCAI) are formed to purchase stock in FGB.

October: CCAH and CCAI, representing BCCI's clients, make a $70 million bid for FGB.

1979—BCCI's largest customer, the Gokal brothers' Gulf Group, is allowed to increase its borrowings from the bank in spite of the group's financial troubles.

February: The Federal Reserve Board rejects the CCAH/CCAI bid for Financial General, citing objections by Maryland regulators about the hostile nature of the takeover.

1980—Bank of America, concerned about BCCI's loan and management practices, sells its stock in the bank. BCCI establishes the Third World Prize, seen by Abedi as the equivalent of the Nobel Peace Prize.

April: CCAH and CCAI bring their attempt to buy Financial General to a vote of the company's shareholders, but it is narrowly defeated.

July: FGB management finally agrees to a takeover by CCAH and CCAI for $180 million, including an injection of new capital.

1981—Terrorist Abu Nidal opens an account at BCCI in London. Former President Jimmy Carter is introduced to Abedi by Lance. Abedi becomes a major benefactor of Carter's favorite charities.

April: The Federal Reserve Board holds an unusual hearing into the FGB takeover attempt. Clifford and Altman pledge that BCCI itself will have nothing to do with the financing or control of the bank.

August: The Fed approves Financial General takeover. September: Abedi creates the BCCI Foundation.

1982—BCCI begins opening offices in Miami, San Francisco and other U.S. cities.

January: Manuel Noriega becomes a BCCI client.

April: After approval by New York authorities, CCAH/CCAI takes over Financial General Bankshares. The bank's name is changed to First American Bankshares and Clifford and Altman are installed as its top executives.

1983—BCCI buys Banco Mercantil, a Colombian bank with branches in Medellin and Cali, centers of the cocaine trade. First American buys two Bankers Trust branches in New York in a deal allegedly negotiated by BCCI.

1984—BCCI's assets reach $16 billion. Capcom Financial Services is founded to handle commodities trading for BCCI and other clients. Shareholders include several investors with close ties to BCCI.

1325015-000-11311

1985—Concerned about BCCI's rapid growth, the Luxembourg Monetary Institute asks auditor Price Waterhouse to launch an inquiry into the bank, but ultimately concludes that any problems are the result of poor management practices. In reality, BCCI is in the process of losing $1 billion from ill-advised and fraudulent treasury trading.

April: BCCI sets up an Americas Coordinating Committee to direct the marketing efforts of BCCI, First American and National Bank of Georgia.

October: BCCI, acting through Ghaith Pharaon, purchases control of Independence Bank of Encino, Calif. A BCCI employee is named chairman of Independence.

1986—

May: BCCI contemplates buying a small bank in Miami through a front man, but the deal is later dropped.

June: Price Waterhouse reports $430 million in losses in BCCI's treasury operation. To cover the losses, Abedi siphons $150 million from the BCCI pension account in the Cayman Islands.

June: The CIA circulates a report on BCCI to law enforcement agencies suggesting that the intelligence agency knows that BCCI illicitly owns First American. The CIA itself is using BCCI to help finance Iran-contra deals and for intelligence operations in Afghanistan.

July: Clifford and Altman buy stock in First American's parent company, CCAH, using $15 million borrowed from BCCI.

July: BCCI brings in the bin-Mahfouz family as investors to help bail out losses at the bank.

December: Concerned that Pharaon's financial troubles may result in seizure of National Bank of Georgia, BCCI arranges for First American to get an option to buy NBG from Pharaon.

December: U.S. Customs Service agents begin the Operation C-Chase money-laundering investigation in Tampa.

1987—British intelligence learns of BCCI's connections with Abu Nidal.

April: Upset with the bank's internal accounting and management practices, Ernst & Whinney resigns as one of BCCI's two auditors. Price Waterhouse becomes the company's sole auditor.

April: Abedi boasts to executives of BCCI's Far East region: "You are now with the First American Group of banks."

August: After the Georgia legislature approves interstate banking law—thanks in part to $1.25 million spent by BCCI on lobbying—First American acquires NBG from BCCI for more than $220 million.

December: International "college" of regulators is created to examine BCCI.

1988—Pharaon, using money borrowed from BCCI, begins purchasing 25 percent of CenTrust Savings, giving BCCI control of the shares.

February: Abedi has a heart attack and later undergoes heart transplant surgery.

1325015-000-11312

March: Clifford and Altman sell a portion of their CCAH shares for a net profit of $9.8 million in a deal arranged by BCCI.

September: BCCI executive Amjad Awan tells an undercover federal officer that BCCI owns First American.

October: BCCI officials are arrested in Tampa at fake bachelor party; the bank and others are charged with money-laundering.

1989—Senate investigator Jack Blum, unable to interest federal prosecutors in information that BCCI owns First American, goes to New York District Attorney Robert Morgenthau, who begins an investigation of BCCI.

October: Bin-Mahfouz family sells its 20 percent stake in BCCI to Abu Dhabi royal family, giving Abu Dhabi a 55 percent stake.

November: Price Waterhouse, in a preliminary report about fiscal 1989, gives BCCI a fairly clean bill of health and says the bank had a profit of $9 million in the first nine months of 1989. BCCI's assets reach a peak of more than $23 billion.

December: Federal Reserve writes Altman asking about rumors that BCCI has made loans to First American shareholders despite assurances to the contrary. Altman tells Fed he knows of no such loans, but doesn't mention loans he and Clifford received from BCCI to buy their stock in the company.

January: BCCI pleads guilty to money-laundering charges in Tampa and is fined a record $14.8 million.

February: Price Waterhouse tells BCCI it has discovered unusual transactions that may have been fraudulent and declines to approve the bank's annual audit.

March: BCCI sets up an internal task force to investigate the irregularities found by Price Waterhouse.

April: Price Waterhouse reports to BCCI management that the bank lost $498 million in 1989. The accounting firm begins to tell authorities in Britain and Luxembourg about BCCI's problems.

April: Abu Dhabi, apparently oblivious to the full extent of BCCI's problems, takes control of the bank with 77 percent of the stock and announces plans to move headquarters to Abu Dhabi from London. After a personal appeal by the ailing Abedi, Abu Dhabi Sheik Zayed agrees to pump new funds into the bank. BCCI lays off 4,000 workers, about 25 percent of the total work force.

May: Washington business magazine Regardies publishes a detailed story raising questions about the overlaps between BCCI and First American shareholders.

July: BCCI chief executive Swaleh Naqvi flies to Abu Dhabi with his secret files on the bank, which are turned over to Price Waterhouse.

October: Sheik Zayed, grasping the problems at the bank, forces Abedi and Naqvi to resign.

1325015-000-11313

November: The Federal Reserve begins a formal investigation into the ownership of First American.

1991—

February: The Washington Post reports that BCCI appears to secretly own First American. The Federal Reserve orders First American to stop doing business with BCCI.

March: The Federal Reserve orders BCCI to sell its secret holding in First American.

March: The Bank of England appoints Price Waterhouse to thoroughly investigate BCCI's finances.

June 28: Price Waterhouse delivers a report to the Bank of England describing massive fraud at BCCI.

July 3: Luxembourg puts the Gokal family's Gulf International Holdings S.A. into receivership.

July 5: The Bank of England and other regulators around the world shut down BCCI.

July 29: The Federal Reserve formally charges BCCI, its top executives, Pharaon and several First American shareholders with the illegal takeover of the U.S. banks and proposes fining them a total of $200 million. Simultaneously, New York District Attorney Morgenthau indicts BCCI, Abedi and Naqvi for fraud, larceny and money-laundering.

August: Clifford and Altman resign from First American. Nicholas Katzenbach, former U.S. attorney general, takes over as chairman.

September: Several BCCI executives, including Naqvi, are arrested in Abu Dhabi. Extradition to the U.S., however, is uncertain.

September: Clifford and Altman appear before a congressional committee investigating BCCI and its relationship with First American. "Our consciences are clear," Clifford says.

November: Tentative plans set for liquidation of BCCI. The bank's total losses are said to exceed $9.4 billion.

December: Federal and state authorities settle charges against BCCI, which pleads guilty to racketeering charges involving money-laundering and the illegal takeover of First American and other U.S. banks. The bank agrees to forfeit more than $550 million in U.S. assets, some of which will be used to bail out financially troubled First American and Independence banks. The plea agreement does not cover any individuals, and state and federal investigations continue.

January 14: British court approves liquidation plan, under which BCCI creditors and depositors will get 30 to 40 cents on the dollar.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

v. Criminal No. 91-0655 (JHG)

BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED,

FILED
JAN 31 1992
CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER

On January 24, 1992, this Court, following findings of fact and conclusions of law with supporting reasons made in open court, accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. Thereupon, an Order of Forfeiture was entered directing the United States Marshal Service to seize certain assets forthwith. The Order of Forfeiture also provided that upon receipt of an updated and verified list of forfeitable assets held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California Corp., Capital Bank, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. (hereafter, the "list"), and upon approval by the Court of the list, the assets attributed to those four institutions would become subject to the Order of Forfeiture and should then be seized forthwith.

Pursuant to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, counsel for the United States filed a "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" which, according to the United States, reflected the verification of the amounts previously listed on page four of Exhibit A to the Court's January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture. Accompanying the list was a brief memorandum advising the Court of certain matters pertaining to the First Supplemental List.

It should be noted from the outset that, among the numerous filings received by the Court, the names of certain entities holding assets have not always been consistently or correctly referred to. For example, in certain submissions, Capital Bank has been referred to as "Capital Bank Miami." In addition, American Express Bank Ltd. has sometimes been referred to as "American Express," Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. has been mentioned as "Oppenheimer & Co.," and ICIC Investments Ltd. has been listed as "ICIC Investment Ltd." On this date the names of institutions contained in lists submitted with the Court have been clarified and, by this Order, the Court amends all past incorrect references to those entities.

In its memorandum accompanying the First Supplemental List, the United States advised the Court, inter alia, that although the amounts and numbers of the accounts held by Capital Bank have been confirmed with the account holder, the Comptroller of the State of Florida, Capital Bank has declined to provide direct confirmation of that information without further Order of this Court. Because the account holder has confirmed the accuracy of the amount and numbers of the accounts held by Capital Bank, and because the defendants in this case do not challenge the forfeitability of the assets attributed to Capital Bank in the First Supplemental List, the Court finds additional confirmation by Capital Bank unnecessary.

In addition to the United States' representations concerning assets held by Capital Bank, the memorandum accompanying the First Supplemental List also advises the Court that on January 28, 1992, in the course of confirming account information with Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., it was learned that an account or accounts at that institution, numbered 05391180, are held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. and not in the name of any of the four corporate defendants. The United States alleges that although not specifically listed in the name of any of the defendants in this case, the assets held in the account or accounts numbered 05391180 are nonetheless the assets of the corporate defendants and are subject to forfeiture pursuant to paragraph 1(e) on the January 24, 1992.

Although the government asserted this position in its most recent filing, after discussion at a hearing held this date, the United States proposed, and counsel for the court-appointed fiduciaries agreed, that there should be a period of time before those assets were forfeited in which the government could make a detailed investigation to determine whether or not it was entitled to those funds contained in account or accounts numbered 05391180. Pursuant to its proposal, the government moved for entry of an order restraining the movement or other disposition of any assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. at Oppenheimer & Co.,

1325015-000-11335

Inc. as well as at other institutions. The BCCI defendants consented to the motion. Since the action is deemed appropriate, prudent, and in the public interest, the Court has issued a separate Order granting the government's motion. Accordingly, those amounts in account or accounts named ICIC Investments Ltd. and numbered 05391180 at Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. will not be forfeited at this time.

Therefore, it is hereby

ORDERED that the assets listed on the attached pages entitled "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" are declared forfeited and subject to this Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that all references to account or accounts numbered 05391180, Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., contained in Exhibit A attached to the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 are stricken and those accounts named ICIC Investments Ltd. and numbered 05391180 presently held by Oppenheimer & Co., Inc. shall not be forfeited pending further Order of this Court.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that, in addition to those assets ordered forfeited by the January 24, 1992 Order of Forfeiture, and pursuant to Rule 32(b)(2), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, the assets listed in the "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property" attached hereto shall be seized forthwith by the United States Marshal Service or its duly authorized representative and disposed of in accordance with the law.

1325015-000-11336

It is FURTHER ORDERED that all references to "American Express," "Capital Bank Miami," "ICIC Investment Ltd.," and "Oppenheimer & Co." are hereby amended to read "American Express Bank Ltd.," "Capital Bank," "ICIC Investments Ltd.," and "Oppenheimer & Co., Inc." respectively.

The Clerk of the Court is hereby directed to send copies of this Order to all counsel of record and the United States Marshal.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
Entered this 31th day of January, 1992.

GOVERNMENT'S COMPLIANCE WITH ORDER OF JANUARY 24, 1992

The United States of America, by its counsel, in compliance with paragraph 1(a) of this Court's Order of January 24, 1992 ("Order of Forfeiture") hereby submits an updated list of forfeitable assets held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California Corp., Capital Bank, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc.[1] (See Attachment A.) This list reflects the verification, at the Court's direction, of the amounts previously listed on page four of Exhibit A to the Order of Forfeiture as unverified accounts and account balances.

The government further advises the Court that on January 28, 1992, in the course of confirming the account information with [1] The amounts and account numbers listed for American Express, Bank of California and Oppenheimer & Co. have been confirmed with counsel for those institutions. The amounts and account numbers for Capital Bank have been confirmed with the account holder, the Controller of the State of Florida. For the reasons set forth in the attached letter to counsel (see Attachment B), Capital Bank has declined to provide confirmation directly without further order of this Court.

Oppenheimer & Co., the government learned for the first time that an account at that institution, listed on Attachment A as account number 05391180, is held in the name of "ICIC Investment, Ltd." and not in the name of any of the four corporate defendants. The government also has reason to believe that other funds, not listed on Attachment A, are held in the name "ICIC Investment, Ltd." at at least two other financial institutions in the United States.

We believe that assets held in the name "ICIC Investments, Ltd." are the assets of the corporate defendants and are subject to forfeiture pursuant to paragraph 1(e) of the Order of Forfeiture. Accordingly, we have included the Oppenheimer / ICIC Investment funds on the attached list of accounts to be made a part of Exhibit A of the Order of Forfeiture, and we contemplate seeking a restraining order from this Court, pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963, restraining the movement of any funds held in the name "ICIC Investment, Ltd." at the other financial institutions to preserve the availability of that property pending confirmation of its existence and its addition to the Order of Forfeiture. See 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d).

WHEREFORE, the government asks that Exhibit A to the Order of Forfeiture be amended by striking page four and inserting the attached "First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property."

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. BCCI HOLDINGS (LUXEMBOURG), S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL S.A., BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, Defendants.	Criminal No. 91-0655 (JHG)

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

The United States of America and the four corporate defendants in this case (collectively, "BCCI") have entered into a Plea Agreement dated December 19, 1991, by which the defendants agree to plead guilty to an offense under Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962, and to forfeiture of the assets of the four corporate defendants located in the United States pursuant to Section 1963 of Title 18.

As recited on the record today in open court, the Court has determined pursuant to Rule 11(e), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, that the Plea Agreement is acceptable to the Court. The Court has determined pursuant to Rule 11(f), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, that there is a factual basis for the pleas of guilty and for the forfeiture of the defendants' assets as set forth in the Superseding Information, the Plea Agreement, the statements of counsel in open Court, and the testimony of the representative of the defendants.

It is hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED as follows:

1. Pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1963(a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(3), the following property located in the United States of the four corporate defendants is hereby condemned and forfeited to the United States of America:

(a) the deposits and other assets listed on Exhibit A, which Exhibit A is hereby made a part of this Order, except those funds listed on Exhibit A which are held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California, Capital Bank Miami, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., because counsel have been unable at this time to reconfirm or update the list of assets held by those institutions. Counsel for the parties to this case shall provide to the Court, by January 29, 1992 at 12:00 noon, an updated list of forfeitable assets held by American Express Bank Ltd., Bank of California, Capital Bank Miami, and Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., at which time, upon approval by the Court, such assets shall become subject to this Order of Forfeiture.

(b) the net proceeds from the future sale or other disposition or transfer of any stock, security or other interest in Independence Bank, but not the stock, security or other interest itself;

(c) the net proceeds from the future sale or other disposition or transfer of any stock, security or other interest in First American Bankshares, Inc., but not the stock, security or other interest itself;

1325015-000-11349

(d) the balance of the liquidation estates of the Los Angeles and New York agencies of BCCI, S.A., but not the estates themselves, upon completion of liquidation proceedings conducted by the New York banking and the California banking entities in accordance with the laws of California and New York. For purposes of the foregoing, the "liquidation estates" shall consist of all of the rights and interests of the Superintendent of Banks of the states of New York and California under their respective state law banking statutes with respect to the assets of BCCI, S.A. located in their respective states and the assets of the New York and California agencies of BCCI, S.A. The liquidation estates do not include the assets enumerated in Exhibit A; and

(e) the entirety of BCCI's ownership interests in all other property located in the United States, including, without limitations, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property, however held, whether subsequently identified, determined or discovered pursuant to paragraph 10 of the Plea Agreement, in the course of the ongoing liquidation proceedings described therein or otherwise identified, determined, or discovered in any manner at any time, but not property that may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of Court Appointed Fiduciaries of BCCI in the course of the management or disbursement of the liquidation estates as described in the Plea Agreement.

2. The Court finds that the above-listed forfeited assets constitute interests acquired or maintained by the defendants, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962; or are interests in, securities of, claims against, or property or contractual rights of various kinds affording a source of influence over an enterprise which the defendants established, operated, controlled, conducted, or participated in, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962; or are property constituting or derived from, proceeds the defendants obtained, directly or indirectly, from racketeering activity, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962.

3. It is further ORDERED that, except as specifically excepted in paragraph 1(a) and as noted in paragraph 4, each of the financial institutions and entities listed on Exhibit A shall immediately pay to the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia or his duly authorized representative:

1) the entire contents of the accounts listed on Exhibit A, including interest accrued;

2) any funds transferred since July 5, 1991, from any account listed on Exhibit A that are still within the possession or control of the financial institution, regardless of the account into which those funds were transferred and regardless of the reason for the transfer; and

3) any other funds in any other account held by BCCI (Overseas) or International Credit and Investment Company (Overseas).

Such payments shall not be limited to the "Approximate Amounts" listed on Exhibit A if the balance as of this date is greater than the Approximate Amount. For the purposes of this paragraph, an

"account listed on Exhibit A" includes any account that previously held funds listed on Exhibit A, or any account to which such funds have been transferred.

4. With respect to the funds listed on Exhibit A as being held on deposit in the Court Registry Investment System ("CRIS") interest-bearing account administered by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas, such funds are hereby ORDERED forfeited to the United States. In lieu of the immediate transfer of those funds pursuant to paragraph 3, the United States shall take all necessary steps pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, Section 2042, to obtain an order directing the transfer of those funds to the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia.

5. It is further ORDERED that to the extent necessary to carry out the terms of this Order, BCCI, pursuant to the Plea Agreement, shall assist the financial institutions and entities listed on Exhibit A in the transfer of such funds.

6. It is further ORDERED that the United States Marshal's Service shall deposit all funds received pursuant to this Order of Forfeiture in the Department of Justice Seized Asset Deposit Fund Account (hereafter, "the Account") and invest it with interest as permitted by Title 28, United States Code, Section 524(c), as amended October 28, 1991.

7. Pursuant to the ancillary hearing procedures set forth in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963(l), no disbursements shall be made from the Account without further Order of this Court.

Should it appear that no claim has been made with respect to particular assets transferred to the Account pursuant to Section 1963(l), or at such time as such claims to such assets have been resolved, the Court will entertain motions from the government for the disbursement of those assets.

8. As the proceeds identified in paragraphs 1(b) through (e) become available, the Department of Justice, on behalf of the United States, shall apply to this Court for appropriate Orders effecting the transfer and deposit of such proceeds into the Account. The notice provisions of Section 1963(l) shall apply to each asset so transferred to the Account pursuant to such further Orders.

9. Pursuant to Rule 32(b)(2), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, it is further ORDERED that each of the above listed properties, except as specifically excepted in paragraph 1(a) and as noted in paragraph 4, shall be seized forthwith by the United States Marshal for the District of Columbia or his duly authorized representative and disposed of in accordance with the law and this Order of Forfeiture.

Probable Cause

The Washington Field Office (WFO) has been acting primarily as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from several criminal orders of forfeiture in U.S. v. Hidden Interests; Major case number 38. Robb Evans, trustee has been appointed to oversee the complex assets listed in the criminal BCCI forfeiture orders.

On October 4, 1998, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI holdings (Luxumbourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI"), [redacted] b6 b7C BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with [redacted]. The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers, [redacted] and two narco-traffickers, [redacted] were indicted on May 4, 1989.

[redacted] b7E

On January 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI") and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. An order of forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Title: U.S. v. BCCI Holdings

Synopsis: CLOSING COMMUNICATION

Details: The purpose of this communication is to summarize recent events surrounding the 63 seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation. On 2/1/99, several members of DOJ, USMS, and FBI met to determine how to close out the BCCI seizures entered in the CATS database as the Sixth and Final Order of Forfeiture had been entered into as of 12/22/98. A summary of this meeting is attached as reference. In brief, it was decided that the 63 BCCI individual seizures entered into CATS would be deleted in exchange for 6 seizures entered into CATS corresponding to each of the six orders of forfeiture. The following CATS ID numbers and corresponding seizure numbers were utilized for the respective orders of forfeiture.

92-FBI-000461 (3920-92-F-0116; 2nd Order - 7/29/92)
92-FBI-000462 (3920-92-F-0117; 3rd Order - 8/19/93)
95-FBI-003535 (3920-95-F-0097; 4th Order - 12/21/94)
96-FBI-003688 (3920-96-F-0097; 5th Order - 9/20/96)
99-FBI-000970 (3920-99-F-0092; 6th Order - 12/22/98)

The USMS has taken the responsibility for associating each of the 63 individual seizures with the 6 seizures for each order of forfeiture. Attached for reference is a spreadsheet which correlates each of the 63 seizures with the appropriate order of forfeiture. The USMS will make entries to the itemized list in CATS which will detail the total amount received for each order of forfeiture and how such amount will be distributed (i.e., claims, Worldwide Victims Fund, etc.).

As WFO has only been involved with the BCCI forfeiture files in an administrative capacity and as WFO has no means other than relying on the CATS database of determining when income has been received and how income will be distributed for each of the orders of forfeiture, WFO is closing its seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation (specifically, 3920-95-F-0058, 3920-95-F-0059, 3920-95-F-0060, 3920-95-F-0097, 3920-96-F-0024, 3920-96-F-0097, 3920-96-F-0134, 3920-96-F-0186, 3920-96-F-0195, 3920-97-F-0028, 3920-97-F-0052, 3920-97-F-0075, and 3920-97-F-0126). Attached are printouts from the CATS database for each of the six seizures which reflect income and distribution of seized funds as of 4/1/99.

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of CAPTIONED MATTER INVOLVES INVESTIGATION OF FALSE STATEMENTS MADE OVER MORE THAN 10 YEARS TO THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM (BGFRS), WASHINGTON, D.C. (WDC), BY SUBJECTS TO HIDE TRUE OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE AMERICAN HOLDINGS, N.V. (CCAH), NETHERLANDS, ANTILLES, AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES, BY BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI). IN 1982, BASED ON REPRESENTATIONS MADE BY CLARK MCADAMS CLIFFORD, [redacted] AND FOUR MIDDLE EASTERN "INVESTORS," THE BGFRS APPROVED CCAH AS A BANK HOLDING COMPANY TO OWN FIRST AMERICAN BANKSHARES (FABS), WDC. INVESTIGATION TO DATE INDICATES THAT THE "INVESTORS" WERE MERELY NOMINEES FOR BCCI, A LUXEMBOURG-BASED BANK WHICH WAS UNACCEPTABLE TO THE BGFRS FOR ANY OWNERSHIP OR CONTROL OF ANY AMERICAN BANK. YEARLY CCAH FILINGS TO BGFRS SINCE 1982 HAVE DENIED EXISTENCE OF ANY BCCI ROLE IN ITS OPERATIONS. SUBSEQUENTLY, BCCI HAS ALLEGEDLY USED SIMILAR NOMINEE TRANSACTIONS TO OBTAIN CONTROL OF BANKS IN GEORGIA AND CALIFORNIA.

OO: WMFO.

RE DIRECTOR TELETYPE TO ALL FBI FIELD OFFICES AND ALL LEGATS DATED 7/26/91.

CAPTIONED MATTER INVOLVES INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGATIONS OF FALSE STATEMENTS MADE OVER MORE THAN 10 YEARS TO THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM (BGFRS), WASHINGTON, D.C., BY SUBJECTS TO HIDE TRUE OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE AMERICAN HOLDINGS, N.V. (CCAH), NETHERLANDS, ANTILLES AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES, BY THE BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI). ON 2/7/91, WMFO INITIATED A FINANCIAL INSTITUTION FRAUD INVESTIGATION (29B-WF-171994) CONCERNING CAPTIONED MATTER BASED ON A CRIMINAL REFERRAL FROM THE BGFRS, ALLEGING THAT CLARK CLIFFORD AND [redacted] HAD MADE FALSE AND FRAUDULENT STATEMENTS CONCERNING BCCI'S OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL OF CCAH, THE PARENT HOLDING COMPANY OF FIRST AMERICAN BANK SHARES WHICH OWNS FIRST AMERICAN BANK, WASHINGTON, D.C. SUBSEQUENTLY, WMFO RECEIVED ADDITIONAL CRIMINAL REFERRALS FROM THE BGFRS b6 b7C

ALLEGING THAT GHAITH PHARAON ACTED AS A NOMINEE FOR BCCI IN THE PURCHASE OF TWO BANKS, ONE IN GEORGIA AND ONE IN CALIFORNIA.

ON 7/5/91, AS A RESULT OF ALLEGED FRAUDULENT CONDUCT BY BCCI, BANK REGULATORS IN BRITAIN AND SIX OTHER COUNTRIES CLOSED DOWN BRANCHES OF BCCI WITHIN THEIR RESPECTIVE JURISDICTIONS. INFORMATION DEVELOPED TO DATE INDICATES THAT FROM AT LEAST 1977 THROUGH 1990, BCCI, ITS PRINCIPALS AND ITS AFFILIATES, ORCHESTRATED A DELIBERATE SUSTAINED CRIMINAL ATTEMPT TO UNDERMINE THE STRUCTURE OF AMERICAN BANKING AND SECURITIES LAWS BY ACQUIRING CONTROL OF U.S. BANKS AND THRIFTS WITHOUT DISCLOSING BCCI'S CONTROLLING ROLE, AS REQUIRED BY STATE AND FEDERAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS. PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION OF BCCI'S U.S. BANK TAKEOVERS INDICATES A COMMON SCHEME AND PRACTICE INVOLVING NUMEROUS, REPEATED AND CONSISTENT VIOLATION OF FEDERAL STATUTES INCLUDING THOSE WHICH ARE PREDICATE ACTS TO A RICO VIOLATION UNDER 18 U.S.C. 1962.

IN RECENT WEEKS, ACTIONS BY THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD, BY NEW YORK OFFICIALS AND CHARGES IN SENATE HEARINGS ALLEGE AN EXTRAORDINARY RANGE OF WORLDWIDE CRIMINAL VIOLATIONS BY BCCI AND ITS AFFILIATES INCLUDING: REPEATED UNLAWFUL ACQUISITIONS OF U.S. BANKS AND THRIFTS; PUBLIC CORRUPTION AND BRIBERY IN THE U.S. AND

ELSEWHERE; MONEY LAUNDERING AND FINANCING OTHER CRIMINAL ACTIVITY; SUPPORT FOR TERRORIST ACTIONS; AND HUGE FRAUDS AND FALSIFICATIONS ON THE BOOKS AND RECORDS OF BCCI AND ITS AFFILIATES. INVESTIGATION OF THESE ALLEGED ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES MAY HAVE FAR REACHING IMPACT INVOLVING INVESTIGATION THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES AND VARIOUS FOREIGN COUNTRIES. AS THIS INVESTIGATION DEVELOPS AND AS LEADS ARE ASSIGNED, IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT EACH OFFICE PROMPTLY ASSIGN SUFFICIENT RESOURCES TO ENSURE THAT ALL ASSIGNED CASE RESPONSIBILITIES ARE HANDLED IN AN EXPEDITIOUS MANNER. RESULTS OF ALL INVESTIGATION SHOULD BE REPORTED TO BOTH WMFO (29B-WF-171994) AND TO THE FINANCIAL INSTITUTION FRAUD UNIT, WHITE-COLLAR CRIMES SECTION, FBIHQ.

THIS INVESTIGATION HAS BEEN DESIGNATED AS MAJOR CASE NUMBER 38. ALL OFFICES INVOLVED IN THIS CASE SHOULD INSTRUCT THEIR AGENTS TO RECORD THEIR TIME TO MAJOR CASE 38 ON THEIR NUMBER 3 CARD, FOR TURK PURPOSES. PART II, SECTION 3-3.2, PAGES 360 AND 361 OF THE MANUAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS AND PROCEDURES FURTHER EXPLAINS THE RECORDING OF TIME OF MAJOR CASES. ALL FIELD OFFICES INVOLVED IN CAPTIONED MATTER SHOULD UTILIZE THE CASE TITLE AS FOLLOWS: HIDDEN INTERESTS; MAJOR CASE 38; OO: WMFO.

Cleveland Division is currently conducting an investigation into a money laundering scheme being run by captioned subjects with the funds being funneled to Foreign Bank Accounts (FBA) and into this country through various banks using wire transfers, bank drafts, and cashier's checks.

USCS reports that [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] b6 b7C b7D

At the time of [redacted]s arrest, he had in his possession seven bank checks drawn on the Ameritrust Bank, Cleveland, Ohio made payable to [redacted] and [redacted] all in the amount of $10,000.00 each. These checks were given back to [redacted] and have subsequently been cashed and returned to Ameritrust for payment. The checks have been stamped across the front "Jordan - Gulf Bank S.A., Mecca Street Branch". The checks were enclosed by printing the name of the payee and an illegible signature, which appears to be the same on each check, is written below each printed payee name. Machine printed across the back of each check are the number [redacted] b6 b7C

Additionally, [redacted] had in his possession Power of Attorney for [redacted], aka., [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C made out to [redacted]

All of the captioned individuals own more than one grocery store and are associated with or have some type of proprietary interest in many more. Each is involved in a closely knit organization of Arab store owners who are currently purchasing U.S. Foodstamps issued by the Department of Agriculture, Food and Nutrition Services, for 20 to 50 cents on the dollar. These foodstamps are then exchanged for cash, making anywhere from 50 to 80 percent profit. Most, if not all, of the stores run through anywhere between $30,000.00 and $50,000.00 per month of foodstamps. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] Foodstamps come in $1.00, $5.00, and $10.00 denominations. The $1.00 denominations are wrapped in $100.00 bundles, the $5.00 denominations are wrapped in $500.00 bundles, and the $10.00 denominations are wrapped in $1,000.00 bundles. The bundles are then taken to the respective bank where they are again counted automatically and tallied for the bank. The amount is credited to the store's account and once that is done, the store is able to withdraw part or all of that money. The stamps then go to the Federal Reserve Bank where they are kept for a certain period of time, depending on the storage facility of the Federal Reserve. Unless the bank teller processing the foodstamps is observant, the counterfeit foodstamps go undetected. As long as the store owners withdraw less then $10,000.00 from their accounts at one time, no CTR is required. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Of immediate concern are assets in the International Credit and Investment Company (Overseas), LTD (ICIC), ICIC Investment, LTD, ICIC Holdings, LTD, and ICIC Investment. On 1/31/92, $47 million in cash assets, currently held in the US by Oppenheimer & Co., New York, New York (NY); Bear Stearns & Co., NY, NY; Bank of New York, NY, NY, were frozen by the US government to allow the investigation to determine the ties with BCCI (the freeze on these assets has been extended for an additional 60 days and will expire on May 1, 1992).

4. Unknown Assets. These assets no one knows about, as of this date, and just appear one way or another. One example is that of a computer software company in California: BCCI apparently held a note against the company, the company went bankrupt and then BCCI took the assets of the company. These assets were turned over to the US government. Another example is a piece of property in Alexandria, Virginia which BCCI currently holds a note to, the property is an old Church, with an estimated value of $4 - $5 million.

LEADS:

All receiving offices are to note the above and index the four defendants, the listed subsidiaries and the listed associated entities. Should any investigation determine that there are assets (cash/stocks/bonds/real estate) being held in any of the above named entities, advise WMFO so it can be determined if any of the assets are forfeitable.

DUE TO CIRCUMSTANCES PRESENT IN THE CASE, FA [redacted] ALONG WITH THE OTHER FAS WHO WERE BROUGHT TO MIAMI, WAS GIVEN GUIDELINES FOR THE REVIEW (CONSISTING OF LISTS OF PERTINENT PERSONS AND COMPANIES; ALLEGATIONS BEING INVESTIGATED, AND EXISTING INDICTMENTS) AND, WITH MINIMAL SUPERVISION PROVIDED BY WMFO AND/OR MIAMI SAS, WAS EXPECTED TO REVIEW AND SUFFICIENTLY ANALYZE THE RECORDS TO SELECT FROM AMONG THEM DOCUMENTS HAVING POTENTIAL AS EVIDENCE. b6 b7C

OTHER FAS WHILE EFFECTIVELY AND EFFICIENTLY ACCOMPLISHING HER OWN TASKS.

RE: ASSET FORFEITURE

On 2/23/93 SSA [redacted] advised the writer that [redacted] First American Bank (FAB) had information and questions concerning the FAB building in New York at 350 Park Avenue. b6 b7C

The writer spoke with [redacted] on 2/23/93 and obtained a brief history of the ownership and possible sale of FAB building at 350 Park Avenue, New York, New York. [redacted] immediate concern was who actually owns the building. b6 b7C

[redacted] (ph), the court appointed trustee for FAB. [redacted] advised that the owners of the building "Who ever they are?" are currently represented by the law firm of SHERMAN & STERLING. [redacted] added that the law firm of CLEARY, GOTTLIEB, STEIN & HAMILTON had previously represented the owners. b6 b7C

A Partnership, '350 PARK AVENUE ASSOCIATION', was set up to purchase the building in September of 1981, which it did and the partnership is still the "on paper" owners of 350 Park Avenue. The original partners were: Solomon Brothers Holding Company (SBHC) (Limited Partner) and Republic New York Corporation (RNYC) (General Partner). [redacted] has learned that when the partnership purchased the property there was an agreement signed with a third party for debt financing [redacted] did not know the name of the third party in the agreement. [redacted] stated that RNYC also had an option to sell its interest in the partnership at the original cost, thus assuring them they had a risk free investment. b6 b7C

Eight days after the building was purchased SBHC, which it self was a partnership, filed to dissolve and stop doing business. In early 1983 RNYC sold its share in the partnership to '51st and Park Investment Corp' (51st) a company incorporated in Delaware. Then, in March of 1983 SBHC claimed they had changed their name to 'SBHC Liquidation Partnership' and got out of the partnership by "with drawing" in favor of another Delaware corporation named 'Park and 52nd Lenders Corporation' (52nd). The '350 Park Avenue Association' partnership continued with 51st acting as the General Partner and 52nd acting as the Limited Partner. [redacted] discovered that the two corporations, 51st and 52nd, were incorporated the day before the building was originally purchased in 1981 and that the two corporations were then activated in early 1983. b6 b7C

[redacted] believes that Kuwaiti Investment Authority (KIA), [redacted] in London, is and has been involved in the ownership of the property since 1981. Some of the KIA shareholders were also owners of CCAH shares. Some of the companies involved with KIA were; Real Estate Development Co. (or Real Estate Investment Co.); Gulf Investment and Real Estate, which is a possible [redacted] company; and I.Z. Commerce and Exchange, which possibly is 74% owned by BCCI. b6 b7C

The partnership purchased the property for $ 161 million in 1981 and in May of 1987 the mortgage was rewritten for $ 160 million from Prudential. The tax bills are currently being paid by Chase Manhattan. The owners of the building are believed to be trying to fetch about $ 52 million for the sale. The owners are also trying to get this issued settled very quickly, with in the next 2 weeks.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] for FAB [redacted] had spoken to him concerning some FAB accounts which were still being held in the name of some BCCI entities. When FAB-New York was sold to Key Corporation (Key Bank) these accounts were not sold. [redacted] further believes that BCCI owes FAB money from previous lending deals between the two banks. He believes that BCCI Hong Kong, which is also in liquidation, owes the money and that the liquidators are paying off the depositors and creditors, however FAB has not received any funds to his knowledge. b6 b7C

[redacted] New York, [redacted] Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), New York Agency (NYA) was advised the identity of the interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview. He then provided the following information:

[redacted] began his employment with BCCI-NYA on the day the NYA opened in March of 1984 and stayed with the NYA until the office was closed. He was going to be working as the Head of Corporate Banking Group, however he ended up working in the Correspondent Banking Division. [redacted] stayed in that department all the time he was employed with BCCI-NYA. His duties were to contact banks up and down the east coast in an attempt to set up correspondent banking relationships. However, most of his time was spent working in the Private Correspondent Banking section of the Correspondent Banking Division. [redacted] was responsible for making contact with Middle Eastern companies. b6 b7C

[redacted] came to know about the opening of the BCCI-NYA while he was employed at Citibank in New York, where he also worked in the Correspondent Banking Division of Citibank. A friend of his, [redacted] was working in the New York Rep Office of BCCI and advised that BCCI was going to open an office in New York and that [redacted] should speak with BCCI. [redacted] interviewed with [redacted] He was offered the position and made the switch because his salary would be doubling. b6 b7C

[redacted] first came to know of Real Estate Operations, Inc. (REO) when BCCI-NYA extended a loan to the 330 Madison Company. [redacted] REO and also employed with the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA), spoke with [redacted] regarding the loan. At that time [redacted] inquired about other accounts which might have been associated with REO. [redacted] to contact [redacted] both of them were employed with Patton, Boggs and Blow. [redacted] understood REO to be a Holding Company for a number of different companies, he did not know the specific number of companies nor did he initially remember any specific company names. When asked if he recalled the following company names [redacted] did acknowledge they were companies associated with REO: Miretta Management Co.; Marten Management Co.; Mano Management Co.; Martinet Management Co.; Marmot Management Co.; Magister Management Co.; Chandon Investment Co.; Chariot Investment Co.; and Chadison Investment Co. [redacted] then recalled three additional company names he believed were also associated with REO: Chesterfield; Tandom; and Calbert. [redacted] thought REO was a Delaware corporation as well as all the companies for which REO was the Holding Company. However, originally some of the companies may have been set up as off-shore companies, possibly in the Netherlands Antilles.

[redacted] involvement with REO was setting up and monitoring the accounts of REO and the various companies associated with REO. The accounts of the companies already existed at other banks in New York. The C accounts came from Chase Manhattan, the M accounts came from Morgan Guaranty, and the T accounts came from Citibank. He knew that some of the funds came form rental and property management accounts. [redacted] did not work on any other loans regarding REO or its companies, other than the 330 Madison loan. b6 b7C

[redacted] did not recall any specific dates or time frames of any of the above occurrences. He did not know when REO was originally set up. He did not have any records/notes/diaries or anything else in his possession regarding REO. [redacted] did not know of any assets being held in the United States, in the name of REO, except that of 330 Madison Avenue. RE: LEAD # 30 - FORFEITURE
REAL ESTATE OPERATIONS, INC. (REO)

On 3/22/93 the writer traveled to New York to search and review BCCI documents concerning REO.

A May 20, 1992 'Wall Street Journal' article indicated that there possibly was a tie between BCCI and REO. The article further stated that REO had real estate holdings of about $ 1 billion in the United States (U.S.).

There was no indication from the documents, which were reviewed, that BCCI had any ownership ties to REO. There were two organizational charts located (see attachments) which indicate that ADIA (Abu Dhabi Investment Authority) was the eventual owner of REO through RENA Trust # 2, a Grand Cayman Holding Co.

REO, a Delaware Holding Co., had several accounts managed by Chase Investors and Citicorp Management (see attachments). Copies of the Certificate of Incorporation documents were located for REO and several of the subsidiary companies. In all cases the companies were incorporated in Delaware and the name/mailing address of the incorporator is:

Also located were: balance sheets of REO and RENA Trust # 2 for December 31, 1988 and 1987; a listing of properties, with valuations, of the subsidiaries; and a listing of the checking and money market accounts of the subsidiaries (see attachments).

REO letterhead has an address as follows:

Real Estate Operations, Inc.
2550 M Street, N.W. Suite 800
Washington, D.C.

The writer was unable to make copies of all the documents reviewed, however documents which appeared to be of importance were copied. A number of the documents (memos) generated by BCCI concerning REO were from [redacted] (previously interviewed) and were sent to [redacted] Abu Dhabi. b6 b7C

As stated previously there is no indication in the documents reviewed that REO or any of its subsidiaries were owned by BCCI. Its possible that documents at Chase Investors, Citicorp Management and REO may have more detailed information concerning the ownership of REO and its subsidiaries. However, unless advised otherwise, by DOJ-AFO, the writer considers the matter of REO complete.

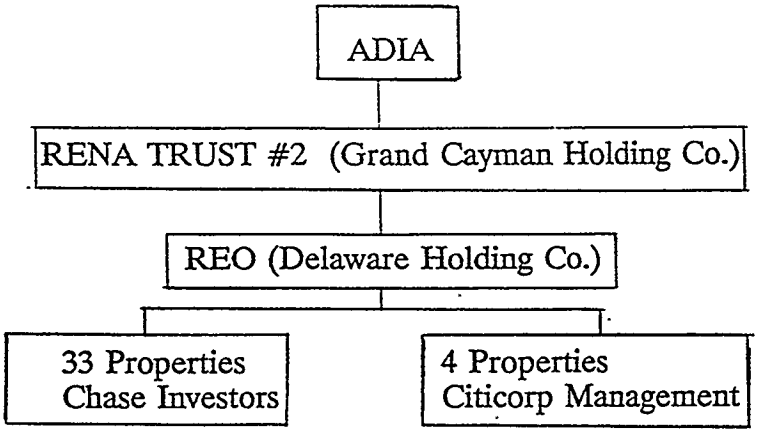
SUBJECT: Property Accounts related to Real Estate Operations

Thank you for time and consideration during my visit to Toronto. It was a pleasure to meet with you both and discuss the operational mechanics of the property accounts. However, in order to formalize our conversation I have detailed below the services and compensation we discussed.

A. Organization Chart



B. Services

Thirty seven properties maintain accounts at BCC New York. Out of these, 34 are managed by Chase Investors and 4 are managed by Citicorp Investments. Each property has two accounts (1) Operating account (2) Investment/Call account. A copy of the operating procedure was given to Anjum. Average balances in operating account are between $400,000 - 600,000, and average balances in call accounts vary between $25-35 million. We will on a monthly basis provide you with a rate on the investment/call account balances. (last month's rate was 5.75).

RE: LEAD # 30 - ASSET FORFEITURE

On 4/20/93, SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] New York State Banking Commission, [redacted] regarding possible assets of BCCI. b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that he had located, in BCCI records in New York, documents which indicated BCCI money transferring into the United States through BCCI - Panama. It appears to [redacted] that the money would transfer into some shell company's account, which a BCCI Officer had signatory authority over, the money was then used to pay property taxes, which appears to have been paid by a BCCI employee. b6 b7C

A review of the documents should reveal the tax information which would then allow for a search of the ownership of the particular properties. The resulting information, especially if there is any indication that BCCI has any interest in the properties, should then be provided to [redacted] Department of Justice, Asset Forfeiture Office (DOJ-AFO). b6 b7C

RE: Lead # 30 - Asset Forfeiture

On 5/18/93 the writer received from the Butte Information Technology Center (BITC) provided information concerning Real Estate Operations, Inc. (REO) and associated companies. The information has been placed in a 1-A.

REO is associated with the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) and there is the possibility that some of the assets are forfeitable. REO is a holding company which manages approximately 42 companies.

A quick review of the BITC information reveals that there is some real estate held by some of the companies which REO manages.

A copy of the results of the BITC search will be provided to [redacted] Attorney, Department of Justice, Asset Forfeiture Office (DOJ-AFO) to allow the DOJ-AFO to determine if there is an interest in any forfeiture of assets. b6 b7C

FROM: Lee J. Radek
Director
Asset Forfeiture Office

SUBJECT: BCCI Overseas Debtors

On May 5, 1993, [redacted] Nussbaum & Wald wrote to advise us that the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries intended to initiate debt collection actions against several individuals. Because the individuals were all subjects of criminal investigations or prosecutions, [redacted] asked 1) for assurance that the debt collection actions would not interfere with any law enforcement activity, and 2) whether the United States possessed any information regarding the location of assets held by any individual that might assist the Fiduciaries in collecting the debts. A copy of [redacted] letter is attached. b6 b7C

We sent a copy of the letter to the Fraud Section and to the FBI. As of this date, no one has advised us of any reason why the Fiduciaries should not proceed with the debt collection actions, nor has anyone provided us with any information that might be helpful to the Fiduciaries. Accordingly, we have prepared the attached letter for your signature providing a negative response to Nussbaum & Wald.

Dear [redacted] b6 b7C

Recently you wrote to advise the Asset Forfeiture Office that the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries anticipated initiating debt collection actions against several individuals who owed debts to BCCI. The individuals included [redacted] In each case, you asked whether the debt collection action would interfere with any on-going or anticipated law enforcement activity, and whether the United States had any information regarding the location of any assets held by these individuals that might assist the Fiduciaries in collecting the debts.

At this time, we have no reason to believe that any debt collection actions directed against the above individuals would have any adverse impact on any on-going or anticipated law enforcement activity by the United States. We have also forwarded your letter to the FBI to ask whether the Bureau has any information regarding the location of assets that might assist the Fiduciaries. If we receive any positive response, we will forward the information to you as soon as possible, provided disclosure is not barred by grand jury secrecy rules.

Re: BCCI Overseas Debtors

Dear [redacted] and Bob: b6 b7C

In advance of our meeting next week, we write to provide you with information concerning certain actions under consideration by the Liquidators. The Liquidators of BCCI Overseas are considering instituting civil collection actions against the following debtors:

1. [redacted] several BCCI Overseas' offices
2. [redacted] BCCI's Washington Representative Office
3. [redacted]
4. [redacted]
5. [redacted]
6. [redacted]
7. [redacted]

We have discussed certain of these debtors in our numerous meetings and telephone conferences, but for the sake of efficiency and ease of comprehension, we thought it best to write an omnibus letter as well. With respect to each of the debtors, the Liquidators seek to confirm that the Department of Justice has no objection to the planned course of action and, in addition, the Liquidators seek any assistance DOJ can provide in identifying and locating any assets of the debtors.

[redacted] has several loans outstanding from his tenure as any employee with BCCI Overseas. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] obtained a $400,000 loan from BCCI Overseas to finance the purchase of a home in the Washington D.C. area. The loan was booked as an asset of BCCI Overseas and may be secured by U.S. property. The loan is currently in default; the outstanding balance is approximately $552,000. The Liquidators understand that [redacted] was taken into custody in January 1992 and may still be in the United States.

As with [redacted] we write to inform you of the Liquidators' intention to proceed with a civil collection action against [redacted] and to ascertain that DOJ has no objection to this course of action. In addition, the Liquidators seek any assistance that DOJ can provide concerning [redacted] location or the location of any assets he may possess.

[redacted] BCCI Overseas who owes approximately $500,000 to the liquidation estate and is believed to have assets in the United States. The Liquidators intend to hire a private investigator to locate assets of the debtor. The Liquidators request confirmation that DOJ has no objection to the Liquidators investigating and instituting a recovery action against this debtor.

In addition, the Liquidators are requesting the assistance of DOJ in their efforts to locate assets of this debtor.

[redacted] President Jimmy Carter and Prince Bandar bin Sultan of Saudi Arabia. (Criminal Indictment 1:92-Cr-297; Northern District of Georgia, Atlanta Division). Accordingly, DOJ may possess information concerning [redacted] assets and location; any assistance that your office can render would be greatly appreciated.

[redacted] with approximately $50,000 outstanding on a BCCI Overseas loan. The Liquidators again seek confirmation from the Department of Justice that DOJ does not object to the Liquidators' pursuing recovery of this loan. In addition, as with [redacted] above, the Liquidators seek any assistance that DOJ can provide with respect to the location of assets of this debtor. [redacted] b6 b7C First American Bank of Georgia, was recently convicted in Atlanta for federal tax crimes and conspiracy.

[redacted] obtained a loan in the amount of $100,000 from BCCI Overseas to purchase a home in Atlanta during his employment at National Bank of Georgia/First American Bank of Georgia. The loan is in default [redacted] contests its genuineness), and the Liquidators are seeking to recover this loan. To date, the Liquidators have been unable to locate any property of [redacted] in the United States (though the Liquidators are aware of certain property in England). While the Liquidators may hire an investigator to locate any property that may be subject to attachment or foreclosure, they are also seeking information from other sources, and would appreciate any information that DOJ could provide. In addition, the Liquidators seek confirmation that DOJ does not object to their taking collection action with respect to [redacted] loans.

[redacted] These borrowers represent themselves as willing and able to make payments on their loans; each refuses to pay the Liquidators due to a professed fear of paying the wrong entity, and accordingly, being forced to pay twice. It is the Liquidators' view that it is in the interest of neither DOJ nor the Liquidators for these debtors to avoid payment obligations and accordingly seek DOJ's assistance in providing assurances to the debtors that they may make payments on their loans without violating any court order or incurring the risk of double liability.

[redacted] In 1982-1983, [redacted] borrowed approximately $50,000 from ICIC Overseas. An additional loan was obtained in 1987, and [redacted] current debt is approximately $94,000. It appears to have been the intent of both parties to secure at least the 1987 loan with a mortgage on two properties in Marion, Ohio. The two loans are booked as assets in Grand Cayman, where the notes are located. They are currently in default.

In November 1991, The Liquidators sent a standard demand letter to [redacted] requesting repayment of the loan. There was some correspondence between the Liquidators and [redacted] lawyer, which culminated in January 1992 with a letter from [redacted] counsel stating, "we are advised that the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York has entered an order prohibiting the transfer of any U.S. funds to overseas BCCI entities. Were we to send funds at this time, we would be in violation of that order." The Liquidators submit that this statement is incorrect -- as you can see from the attached bankruptcy order, the bankruptcy court restrained actions against the BCCI Liquidators and the creation of liens or encumbrances with respect to BCCI property. No mention is made of any restriction on payments to the BCCI Liquidators on outstanding loans. (We attach the background correspondence for your information.)

We seek now to provide a comfort letter to this borrower with the information that 1) the bankruptcy court's order does not, in the view of the Department of Justice, prohibit the payment of loan obligations to the Liquidators and 2) that the order of forfeiture of January 24, 1992 does not prohibit the payment of [redacted] loan obligations to the Liquidators. We attach a suggested draft.

b7C

[redacted] In 1988, [redacted] borrowed $250,000 from BCCI Overseas, secured by a first mortgage o[redacted]ollowing correspondence with the Liquidators, the [redacted] have represented to the Liquidators that they wish to continue making payments on their loans, but given the existence of the Plea Agreement, are uncertain to whom such payments should be made. See attached letter of October 22, 1992. We seek now to provide the debtor with a letter from the Department of Justice that the Liquidators remain empowered to collect payments on outstanding notes located abroad. We attach a suggested draft.

We note that this issue is arising with some frequency and it may be convenient for both the Liquidators and DOJ to have a form letter that can be provided to debtors seeking to make regular payment on their loans. We look forward to discussing this with you next week.

As always, do not hesitate to call if you ha[redacted] any questions or concerns.

Very truly yours, today and tomorrow, unusual for the beginning of the week. At the Madison, a front desk clerk reported that "arrivals have increased tremendously." And things are undoubtedly buzzing at the ANA Westin, where Arafat is staying.

Christopher is holding a luncheon at the State Department for foreign ministers. The Israeli Embassy will host a reception at 5 p.m. for 800 people in honor of American Jewish leaders, which Rabin and Peres will attend before flying back tonight to meet with Knesset members in Israel.

A light Middle Eastern buffet—humus, pita, ground chickpea delicacies, sesame sauces, eggplant relishes—seems to be the diplomatically correct meal of choice. But no alcohol (forbidden by Muslim law) at the reception sponsored by the American Jewish Congress and the National Association of Arab Americans at the Hotel Washington. Arafat is expected to drop by.

"Hysteria" is how Gene Burger, director of special projects at Project Nishma, described the organizing efforts. Among the invited were major regional and national Jewish and Arab organizations, members of the bilateral negotiating teams, and top U.S. personnel instrumental in Middle East di-tive, said: "I have no idea how were drawn up for the signing mony. There's a fair amount of tery to it." But his Saturday was fielding calls from colleagues "t to see who-all is invited and if th room for one more person."

One person who'll be watchin ceremony on television is Rayn Tawil, the Palestinian author o Home, My Prison," whose dau Souha is married to Arafat. Taw in Paris now, but is visiting wi son Gabi in Northern Virginia not going to the White House said. "I prefer to keep a low pro

Arafat's plans for the rest of it are unknown. His wife is repo not accompanying him to Washi but maybe he'll stop by for a cha his mother-in-law. Or maybe fond of strong coffee and 3 a.m. tiating sessions, will try a mi tour of the monuments.

But Reggie Tymus, presid Capital City Limousine, said h nothing booked. "As a matter I'm hoping we don't get too more business, because we ha Hispanic Designers gala and th gressional Black Caucus meetin ing Monday."

GOVERNMENT'S MOTION FOR RESTRAINING ORDER

The United States of America, by its counsel, hereby moves for a restraining order pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963(d)(1)(A), to preserve the availability of property for forfeiture. In support of this motion, the government says the following.

1. ICIC (Overseas), Ltd. is a defendant in this criminal case. Pursuant to paragraph 1(e) of this Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("Order of Forfeiture"), all assets of ICIC (Overseas), Ltd. are subject to forfeiture to the United States.

2. ICIC Investment, Ltd. is described in documents available to the government as a "sister company" to ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. These documents describe ICIC Investment and ICIC (Overseas) as having a common parent, ICIC Holdings, Ltd., and they describe ICIC (Overseas) as deriving "indirect economic benefit" from ICIC Investment through said parent company. (See Exhibit A.)

1325015-000-10033

3. Other documents reveal that ICIC (Overseas) has guaranteed the obligations of ICIC Investments in corporate resolutions and correspondence with third parties. (See Exhibits A and B.)

4. These documents also reveal that at least one of the directors of ICIC Investment, Mr. W.M. Jafree, also is, or has been, a director of ICIC (Overseas). (Compare Exhibit B with Exhibits C and D.)

5. ICIC Investment, Ltd. has assets at at least three financial institutions in the United States including Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., Bear Stearns & Co., Inc., and the Bank of New York.

6. The government infers from this information that there has been a transfer of funds between ICIC Investment and ICIC (Overseas), that there may be no real distinction between these two entities, that assets held in the name ICIC Investment are the assets of ICIC (Overseas), and that the assets held in the name of ICIC Investment, Ltd. are therefore subject to forfeiture under Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963(a) and paragraph 1(e) of the Order of Forfeiture.

WHEREFORE, the United States prays that this Court enter an order, pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 1963(d)(1)(A) restraining the movement or other disposition of any assets held in the name of ICIC Investment, Ltd. at the following financial institutions for 30 days or until further Order of the Court, whichever is sooner:

RESTRAINING ORDER

On January 31, 1992 and February 19, 1992, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A), the United States of America filed motions requesting that the Court restrain Oppenheimer & Co., Inc.; Bear Stearns & Co., Inc.; the Bank of New York; Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc.; Merrill Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Smith; and Mabon Securities Corp.; all of New York, New York, from interfering with, moving, transferring, disposing, altering, or otherwise changing the status quo of any assets those institutions may hold in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. The government alleged that ICIC Investments Ltd., though not a named defendant in this action, is a "sister company" to the named defendant ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. and that "indirect economic benefits" flow from ICIC Investments Ltd. to ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. through a common parent, ICIC Holdings Ltd., also not a named corporate defendant in this action. The United States requested time to investigate whether or not it is entitled, through forfeiture, to funds in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. and sought to preserve the status quo of assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. pending judicial determination of the property's forfeitability. Without conceding the merit of the government's position regarding the forfeitability of assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd., court-appointed fiduciaries for the four corporate defendants, through counsel, agreed that the investigation was appropriate and urged the Court to grant the motions for Restraining Orders.

After concluding the action requested by the government was appropriate, prudent, and in the public interest, and in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A), the Court entered an Order on January 31, 1992 restraining assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. at Oppenheimer & Co., Inc.; Bear Stearns & Co., Inc.; and the Bank of New York through March 2, 1992 at 12:00 noon or until further Order of the Court, and entered a similar Order on February 20, 1992 restraining assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. at Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc.; Merrill Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Smith; and Mabon Securities Corp. also through March 2, 1992 at 12:00 noon or until further Order of the Court. Pursuant to a motion filed this date by the United States, the Court issued an Order this date extending the expiration of both Restraining Orders until May 1, 1992 at 12:00 noon or until further Order.

In its Motion for Extension of Restraining Order and for Production of Bank Records filed this date, the United States of America asks the Court to issue a similar Restraining Order against six additional financial institutions not subject to the Restraining Orders of January 31, 1992 or February 20, 1992 which currently hold, have held, or may be holding additional assets in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. Those institutions are Morgan Stanley & Co.; Shearson Lehman Bros.; Prudential Securities, Inc; Goldman, Sachs & Co.; Thomson McKinnon Securities Inc.; and Balfour Maclaine International Ltd., all of New York, New York.

1325015-000-10037

In consideration of the arguments made in support of the January 31, 1992, February 19, 1992, and February 28, 1992 motions, the Court concludes the action requested and taken here is appropriate, prudent, and in the public interest. Therefore, in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1963(d)(1)(A) and the requisites for injunctive relief having been satisfied, and to preserve, as appropriate, the availability of property for forfeiture, it is hereby

ORDERED that:

Morgan Stanley & Co., New York, New York;

Shearson Lehman Bros., New York, New York;

Prudential Securities, Inc., New York, New York;

Goldman, Sachs & Co., New York, New York;

Thomson McKinnon Securities Inc., New York, New York; and

are restrained and enjoined through May 1, 1992 at 12:00 noon or until further Order of the Court, whichever is sooner, from interfering with, moving, transferring, disposing, altering, or otherwise changing the status quo of any assets held in the name of ICIC Investments Ltd. at those above-named companies.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that service of this Order on those above-named companies shall be made promptly by the United States of America.

No bond is required.

India, [redacted] Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), was interviewed at the New York City's District Attorneys Office, 1 Hogan Place, New York, New York. Present and participating in the interview was [redacted] U. S. Department of Justice Trial Attorney. Sitting in on the interview, upon the request of [redacted] New York City Assistant District Attorney. After being advised the identity of the interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview [redacted] provided the following information.

[redacted] began his employment with BCCI in March of 1974, b6 b7C holding the position of [redacted] AGHA HASAN ABEDI, founder of BCCI, at the United Bank in Pakistan. Because of his position, [redacted] BCCI banks and he would report to ABEDI and the "Supreme Board". [redacted] added that at times he would also report to [redacted] ABEDI. [redacted] stated that the General Managers of the BCCI banks would report directly to ABEDI [redacted] except the accounting and tax audits would go to him directly.

[redacted] was then asked to provide information on b6 b7C
International Credit and Investment Company Holdings [ICIC (H)] and its subsidiaries. [redacted] stated that ICIC (H) was initially set up in 1975 to hold BCCI stock for the founders of BCCI and other high employees of BCCI. In the early 1980's, [redacted] had heard that ICIC purchased approximately 32% of BCCI's stock, which was held by Bank of America, and that the ICIC Staff Benefit Trust was set up to hold 10% of the stock, 10% of the stock was set up for charitable purposes, however [redacted] did not know what was to be done with the last 12% of the stock.

[redacted] stated that in 1990 he found out that ICIC had b6 b7C started banking activities through ICIC (Overseas), however he did not know when the banking activities initiated. Price Waterhouse (PW) were the auditors for ICIC (O) and the BCC Group, [redacted] stated PW was trying to hide the banking activities from himself and that ABEDI told the auditors that the money was to be held privately. [redacted] indicated that ABEDI needed money, to cover losses at ICIC (O), and that ICIC (O) would receive money diverted from BCC Group depositors. The depositors would not necessarily know about the transfer of funds, according to [redacted] stated [redacted] PW, would have more information on the relationships between ICIC and BCCI.

b6 b7C

[redacted] never saw any documentation regarding the relationships between any ICIC entity and any BCCI entity. [redacted] believed ABEDI [redacted] made the decisions regarding money matters with ICIC (O) and that ABEDI definitely was controlling ICIC Holdings, along with [redacted]

b6 b7C

[redacted] knew very little on ICIC Investment's relationship with the other ICIC entities and BCCI entities. However, he did state that [redacted] BCCI and ICIC, did advise [redacted] had a portfolio of investments to manage for ICIC. [redacted] did not indicate who he was managing this portfolio for nor did he indicate that it was ICIC Investment. [redacted] handled ICIC Investment, however [redacted] believed BCCI, through ABEDI [redacted] was the ultimate controller of ICIC Investment.

b6 b7C

[redacted] knew that ICIC would receive deposits from unlisted sources adding that account # 20071 could be that of SHEIKH ZAYED, ruler of Abu Dhabi. [redacted] stated that if the money going into account # 20071 was not recorded, it would most likely be ZAYED's money going into the account. The money would have to transfer in through someone else's name so ZAYED's name would not be associated with the money.

b6 b7C

[redacted] provided the following names of individuals he felt would have a working knowledge of ICIC Holdings and its subsidiaries: [redacted] All these individuals worked at ICIC.

b6 b7C

[redacted] concluded by stating that not only did money transfer in from BCCI to ICIC, but ICIC would also transfer money to BCCI to cover losses.

On April 30, 1992 [redacted] b6 b7C
Bear Stearns and Co., Inc, 245 Park Avenue, New York, New York, [redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment. Sitting in on the interview were [redacted] Attorney, Bear Stearns. After being advised of the purpose of the interview and the identity of the interviewing agent [redacted] provided the following.

[redacted] advised he handled account numbers: 055-69205, 055-20611 and 089-69205 for International Credit and Investment Company (Investments) LTD [ICIC (Inv)]. He further stated that 055-69205 was a cash and commodity account, 089-69205 was a T-bill account which was utilized as collateral for future margin positions and account number 055-20611 was a 'Repo Account'. b6 b7C

A 'repo account' was explained as a contract between a 'Seller' and a 'Buyer'. The seller agrees to buy back a security, which was sold to the buyer from the seller, at some point in time in the future. The time frame can be one day, a set number of days or a call account, where the seller or buyer can call the contract due at any time. If the contract is up, or called, and the seller can not buy back the security, the buyer can sell the security to recoup any losses. If there are any profits for the buyer (more than what the contract called for) the excess goes to the seller.

[redacted] opened the accounts in 1987, the first account being 055-69205 and the others opening up shortly there after. [redacted] directly solicited [redacted] of ICIC (Inv) for the accounts [redacted] Prudential Bache, at that point in time [redacted] ICIC (O). [redacted] advised he only dealt with [redacted] at ICIC (Inv) on any of the investment issues. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that ICIC (Overseas) [ICIC (O)] was the guarantor on the accounts for ICIC (Inv) and this was done because ICIC (Inv) was not large enough to cover all their accounts. [redacted] stated this was normal practice for institutions to have guarantors and he did not see any relationship between b6 b7C

ICIC (O) and ICIC (Inv) except that ICIC (O) acted as the guarantor for ICIC (Inv). [redacted] added that the investor, in this case ICIC (Inv) can choose any institution to act as their guarantor and that it could have just as easily been almost any bank, if approved by Bear Stearns.

[redacted] was then asked to identify the following individuals:

[redacted] advised he knew of [redacted] but he never dealt with [redacted] believes [redacted] acted as an outside investment advisor for [redacted] would at times refer to [redacted] advise. [redacted] worked for the Bank of Credit and Commerce (BCCI).

b6 b7C

[redacted] in the Grand Cayman Islands, possibly at the ICIC House (office). [redacted] believes [redacted] was in some sort of management capacity, however [redacted] did not recall if it was with ICIC (O) or ICIC (Inv). [redacted] knew that [redacted] did sign some documents, which were needed for Bear Stearns.

[redacted] stated [redacted] was the [redacted] ICIC (Inv), but his only dealings with [redacted] were with the signing of some documents.

b6 b7C

[redacted] recalled the name but does not recall ever having met [redacted] knew he never dealt with [redacted]

b6 b7C

[redacted] at the ICIC Foundation in London, which is in the same building as BCCI. [redacted] believes [redacted] ICIC (Inv) [redacted]

b6 b7C

[redacted] on a couple occasions and [redacted] impression was that [redacted] was an accountant at ICIC (Inv).

b6 b7C

[redacted] was not familiar with the names AGHA HASAN ABEDI [redacted] He was not familiar with Sheik ZAYED, except that he recalls the name from the newspapers as being some ruler of some Arab country.

b6 b7C

[redacted] reiterated the fact that he only dealt with [redacted] on the ICIC (Inv) accounts and that he was only using ICIC (Inv) money. The money which transferred into the accounts would come from Security Pacific Bank, he did not recall the account number from which the money transferred in from, and the money which transferred out of the ICIC (Inv) accounts would (95% of the time) transfer to Bank of New York (account number 180650).

[redacted] advised that he did handle a very small account, which was very inactive, for BCCI (Luxembourg) [redacted] BCCI (Lux), which [redacted] dealt with, was [redacted] stated he was referred to [redacted] There was never any transfer of money between the BCCI (Lux) account and the ICIC (Inv) accounts.

Regarding the 'repo account' there was*p1689Xanytime execthat Bear Stearns had to a sale of securities because of an ICIC (Inv) failure to repay on the loan. [redacted] stated the ICIC (Inv) accounts were always handled on a very professional basis. [redacted] believed ICIC (O) and ICIC (Inv) were two different entities, based on the fact there were separate financial statements and there was never any indication by anyone at ICIC (Inv) that the two entities were similar. [redacted] advised the other two ICIC (Inv) accounts were handled by [redacted] who is currently in Pakistan setting up a Bear Stearns office.

Finall[redacted] was asked to identify and explain some documents.

[redacted] stated document number 1 is an application for a DVP account (Dealing versus Payment account) between ICIC (Inv) and Bear Stearns.

Document number 2 is also an application for a new account for ICIC (Inv) [redacted] however it was not [redacted] account, it was [redacted] account. [redacted] did state that there is no cash or securities in the account and the signature at the bottom would have been a Bear Stearns Senior Manager.

Document number 5 was identified as a 'Guarantee Agreement' between ICIC (O) and Bear Stearns, in that ICIC (O) guarantees Bear Stearns that should ICIC (Inv) fail to make a payment on an account ICIC (O) will make the payment. [redacted] advised that only the guarantor signs the agreement, so there will be no ICIC (Inv) signature on the document.

[redacted] stated that document number 6 is a 'Master Repurchase Agreement' between Bear Stearns and ICIC (Inv). [redacted] added that there would have been only one of these agreements signed and it would have covered any and all of the ICIC (Inv) repurchase accounts. [redacted] is generally the individual at Bear Stearns who signs the repurchase agreements, [redacted] worked in Bear Stearns credit department.

[redacted] advised that document number 8 is part of the 'Commodity Customer Agreement Corporate Resolution', which is account number 055-69205. The document indicates to Bear Stearns who at ICIC (Inv) are officers and who can act on ICIC (Inv) behalf.

[redacted] stated that document number 9 is an internal Bear Stearns document which is taken for credit purposes.

Finally [redacted] did not know what document number 11 was, however [redacted] advised it was part of the 'Corporate Resolution' that authorizes the guarantee between ICIC (O) and ICIC (Inv). [redacted] did not know whose form it was, ICIC (O) or ICIC (Inv).

[redacted] Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., Oppenheimer Tower, World Financial Center, New York, [redacted] was contacted at his place of employment. Sitting in on the interview were [redacted] Oppenheimer & Co., Inc., and [redacted] Attorney, Weil, Gotshal and Manges, 767 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York. [redacted] advised he mainly represents Oppenheimer. After being advised the identity of the interviewing agent and the purpose of the interview [redacted] provided the following. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that the account 053-91180, which was the International Credit and Investment Company (Investment) Ltd [ICIC (Inv)] account, was mainly handled by himself, however [redacted] (who has moved to England) and [redacted] (who left Oppenheimer in 1990) also were account executives on the account. [redacted] reiterated that he was the main account executive. b6 b7C

[redacted] originally opened the account in 1984, while employed at E.F. Hutton, the account was opened in the name of ICIC (Overseas) [ICIC(O)]. The account was opened by [redacted] and it was a Credit Line (Repurchase Line) account. This type of account is referred to as a 'Repo account' and was explained in simple terms as follows: It is a contract between a 'seller' and a 'buyer', the seller agrees to buy back a security, which was sold to the buyer from the seller, at some point in the future. The time frame can be one day, a set number of days or a call account, where the seller or buyer can call the contract due at any time. If the contract is up, or called, and the seller can not buy back the security, the buyer can sell the security to recoup any losses. If there are any profits for the buyer (more than what the contract called for) the excess profit goes to the seller. b6 b7C

After working at E.F. Hutton [redacted] went to work at Thomson McKinnon Securities, Inc., he brought along the ICIC account and finally [redacted] moved to Oppenheimer again bringing the account along with him. While the account was at Oppenheimer [redacted] wanted the money in the ICIC (O) account moved out and put b6 b7C into a new account with the name ICIC (Inv), [redacted] stated it would be a way to distinguish between the private accounts. Originally all the money was in the ICIC (O) account and over a short period of time ICIC (O) was emptied and ICIC (Inv) ended up with the Credit Line (Repurchase) account. [redacted] could not recall the time frame of the switch nor could he recall the manner in which the money transferred over to ICIC (Inv). He did not know if the money from ICIC (O) transferred out of the investment firm and then back into the ICIC (Inv) account or if the money just transferred directly over to ICIC (Inv).

b6 b7C

When the account transferred to ICIC (Inv) [redacted] dealt with [redacted] understood that all three worked for ICIC (O).

b6 b7C

[redacted] advised when the account first opened up under ICIC (O) it was his understanding, as well as others at E.F. Hutton, that ICIC (O) was owned by the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI), however there was never any written documentation.

b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that money would transfer into and out of the account mainly through Security Pacific Bank, [redacted] did not recall the account number at Security Pacific, but would try and provide it later. Bank of New York was also used on some occasions to transfer money in and out of the ICIC (Inv) account.

b6 b7C

[redacted] advised that while he was at Thomson McKinnon he also handled a BCCI (Overseas) [BCCI (O)] account. He dealt with [redacted] stated that at Thomson McKinnon there were very strict instructions not to transfer money between BCCI (O) and the ICIC accounts. Oppenheimer, for credit purposes, treated BCCI (O), ICIC (O) and ICIC (Inv) as the same entity.

b6 b7C

There was never a large cash movement on the account, just a few million. [redacted] never had to execute a 'repo' on the account with ICIC (Inv) (i.e. selling the security because ICIC (Inv) failed to bay back the money/loan).

b6 b7C

[redacted] was then asked if he knew of the following individuals.

b6 b7C

[redacted] BCCI and he also knew [redacted] lived in London. [redacted] advised

b6 b7C

[redacted] had some role in the ICIC (Inv) account, possibly as an advisor, however [redacted] took no orders from [redacted] when it came to the investments.

[redacted] for twenty years, prior to BCCI and ICIC, he also knew [redacted] ICIC (O) as [redacted] to the best of his knowledge, had no dealing with [redacted] except for one letter.

[redacted] had some dealings with [redacted] and he believed [redacted] ICIC (O). [redacted] initially signed on some of the documents for the opening of the ICIC (Inv) account.

[redacted] stated he knew of [redacted] but he had no dealings with [redacted]

[redacted] only remembered dealing with [redacted] on one occasion and it had nothing to do with the account. [redacted] thought [redacted] out of London, but [redacted] never was told what specific duties [redacted] performed.

[redacted] at BCCI. [redacted] never had any contact with [redacted] regarding the ICIC (Inv) account.

AGHA HASAN ABEDI - [redacted] knew ABEDI as being the number one man at BCCI, but he never had any dealings with ABEDI.

SHEIK ZAYED - [redacted] thought ZAYED owned everything in regards to BCCI.

Finally [redacted] was asked to identify and explain some documents.

[redacted] advised that document number 1 was a new account application and he called it a DVP (dealing versus payment). In this instance the security would go to the Bank of New York and the cash would go to Oppenheimer. [redacted] stated that document 1a he had not seen before, but [redacted] theorized that possibly the account was opened as just ICIC and not ICIC (Inv).

Document numbers 2 and 2a-2e are pages from an account statement from account number 053-91180. The social security/tax

 b6 b7C

I.D. number is just an internal identification code for Oppenheimer in order to prevent a 20% tax withholding, all overseas companies would have the same I.D. number. The 'BUY' in the transaction column means Oppenheimer is purchasing the security from ICIC (Inv) (i.e. Oppenheimer is lending money to ICIC (Inv)). The 'SELL' means that ICIC (Inv) is reselling the security back to Oppenheimer. The 'JRL', 'REC' and 'DEL' are in house identifications of movement.

Document number 3 is also a page from an account statement, the 'WIR' in the transaction column indicates that funds are being moved.

Document number 4, which is a letter dated September 4, 1991 and was regarding the cash and securities held for ICIC (Inv). [redacted] never saw the letter, however [redacted] to whom the letter was addressed, stated he recalled the letter and had no idea why the money in the ICIC (Inv) account was requested by the Joint Provisional Liquidators of ICIC (O) to be transferred to ICIC (O). b6 b7C

Document number 5, also a letter regarding the ICIC (Inv) account and requesting that the cash and securities held by ICIC (Inv) be transferred to ICIC (O). [redacted] does not recall seeing the letter, however [redacted] does recall receiving some telephone calls from the Cayman Islands. These calls were regarding the ICIC (Inv) account and were from the liquidators, ICIC and Attorneys, he did not recall and specific names. b6 b7C

Document number 6 is a Grand Cayman Court Order regarding ICIC (O). [redacted] never saw the document, however [redacted] does remember receiving the document but does not recall of any specific action taken on the Court Order, mainly because he did not know to what account it referred. b6 b7C

Document number 7 is a letter from [redacted] an Attorney at Hunter and Hunter, addressed t[redacted] dated September 23, 1991 regarding the ICIC (Inv) account. [redacted] never saw the letter before. [redacted] stated that the letter refers to Oppenheimer not transferring the cash and securities to ICIC (O) from the ICIC (Inv) account. Oppenheimer did not transfer the assets because Oppenheimer viewed the two entities as two different accounts and until there was clarification Oppenheimer was not going to follow the instructions. b6 b7C

b7C

Document number 12 is entitled 'Master Repurchase Agreement' and it is between Oppenheimer and BCCI (O). [redacted] stated there should have been a similar signed agreement between Oppenheimer and ICIC (Inv). This document gives the terms of the repurchase accounts.

Memorandum

To : SAC, WMFO (29B-WF-171994)(P)(BCCI) Date 12/11/92

From : SA [redacted] b6 b7C

Subject: HIDDEN INTERESTS;
MAJOR CASE # 38;
FIF; FAG;
OO:WMFO

On 12/10/92 SA [redacted] met with [redacted] b6 b7C Attorney, Department of Justice (DOJ), Asset Forfeiture Office (AFO), to discuss forfeiture matters as they relate to [redacted] who has previously been convicted of fraud but not yet sentenced, had provided DOJ-AFO with eight volumes of properties which he claims BCCI has some interest in, thus there is forfeitable assets. b6 b7C

The writer did a quick review (a copy of which is attached) of the provided documents and determined that [redacted] had information on about $ 49 million worth of loans/mortgages that BCCI had written. However, $ 43.7 million of these loans/mortgages have previously been satisfied or released by BCCI, so the remaining outstanding balances (based on the original values of the loans/mortgages) is about $ 5.4 million. b6 b7C

The DOJ-AFO will determine what type of actions can and will be taken against the information which [redacted] provided. b6 b7C

The writer also provided [redacted] with the information concerning the CAPCOM loans in order for the DOJ-AFO to begin possible forfeiture proceedings. b6 b7C

The following lists are a quick review of the eight volumes of documents which were provided by [redacted] There has been no additional research conducted on the loans/mortgages. b6 b7C

The first list is simply the main information from the loans/mortgages as they appear in the volumes.

The second list consists of loans/mortgages in which BCCI(O) may still have some interest, thus there may be some way to recover for forfeiture (property/receivables).

The third list consists of loans/mortgages which have either been satisfied or released by BCCI(O), assigned to BCCI SA (which the NY or CA liquidators would handle) or another bank.

The fourth list consists of loans/mortgages which there is no indication that BCCI or any of its entities had any say in the deals.

The fifth list consists of UCC-1 FILINGS which appear not to be associated with any other loan/mortgage. This list is broken down into two sections: The first are UCC-1 FILINGS which appear to still be opened. The second are UCC-1 FILINGS which appear to be closed.

The following is a key to the headings of the lists:

PROPERTY - Real estate or UCC-1 Filings

BORROWER - Individual or Company

VALUE - Value of the original loan/mortgage (YR)

O/SA - O(YR) - BCCI(O) SA(YR) - BCCI SA

R/T/S/A - R(YR) - Released T(YR) - Terminated
S(YR) - Satisfied A(YR) - Assigned
If this column is empty that indicates the loan may still be opened.

The quick review indicates that at the most there is a possibility of a total of $ 5,423,000 worth of loans/mortgages, using the original value of the loans/mortgages. Given the time some of these loans/mortgages were written at, the outstanding balances are more likely significantly less than the $ 5.4 million.

BCCI(O) wrote a significant number of balloon payment loans/mortgages, which is why many of the loans/mortgages have been paid off in a few years.

The liquidators should and will be provided the list of borrowers to see if they have or will process some of the loans/mortgages. There are some BCCI SA loans/mortgages listed already.

There was approximately $ 43,766,600 worth of BCCI(O) loans/mortgages which were either released, satisfied, terminated or assigned to either BCCI SA or other banks.

The following is a list of the main information regarding the loans/mortgages as they appear in the volumes. Every listed loan/mortgage should appear in the order which they appear in the volumes which were provided by [redacted] b6 b7C

RE: BUREAU WIDE AIRTEL FROM WMFO DATED 3/17/92.

RE Airtel advised the receiving offices about the plea agreement, dealing with the forfeiture of assets, between the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) and the United States (US) government.

WMFO has determined that several real estate properties in the Miami area may still have BCCI mortgages and or BCCI ties which would allow for some forfeiture proceedings.

WMFO is interested in determining the following information (on the listed properties which follow):

1. Current Mortgage note holder (BCCI/other bank).
2. Borrowers name on the note.
3. Title holders name on the real estate.
4. Taxes (current/past and who paid the taxes).
5. Charges/liens/levies on the property.
6. Assessment value, if available.

FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

RECEIVED
MAY 10 1993
CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

DECLARATION OF ROBERT C. DALTON

1. I am a Trial Attorney in the Litigation Unit of the Asset Forfeiture Office, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice. Since September 4, 1991, I have been assigned to United States v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. et al. Since the Court's Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, I have been assigned to assist in the collection of the defendants' assets for forfeiture and to defend against claims made by third parties against the defendants' forfeited assets.

2. In particular, I was primarily responsible for the review of the assets held in the United States by BCC S.A. Espanola (referred to in various pleadings as "BCC S.A.E." or "BCC Spain"). In that case, the question presented was whether the BCCI group had exercised such dominion and control over BCC Spain as to warrant disregarding the corporate structure for purposes of forfeiture. I concluded that sufficient evidence existed to seek forfeiture of BCC Spain's assets in the United States ("U.S. assets"). This evidence included, inter alia, internal BCCI documents reflecting BCCI's operational and administrative control over the BCC Spain; bank records documenting numerous transfers of millions of dollars among the defendants through BCC Spain on an almost daily basis; and the financial and ownership arrangements between BCC Spain and its corporate parent, BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. See Government's Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture of December 23, 1992. After consideration of this evidence, and in order to avoid the costs and consequences of the forfeiture process, the United States and BCC Spain reached a compromise settlement resulting in the forfeiture of a portion of BCC Spain's U.S. assets. The Court approved the proposed settlement, and declared one-third of BCC Spain's U.S. assets forfeited by an Order entered on January 4, 1993.

3. I have conducted similar reviews of other BCCI subsidiaries and affiliates including those whose assets at First American Bank of New York ("FABNY") were transferred to the custody of the Court pursuant to its Order of March 18, 1993 ("March 18 Order"). As directed by the Court in its March 18 Order, the government is now seeking either forfeiture or alternate disposition of these accounts, as well as other related accounts. I submit this declaration to support the government's proposed disposition of each of these assets.

4. BCCI's explosive growth in the 1970s reflected its intention to establish itself worldwide. By September 1983, it had approximately 351 offices operating in 63 countries. See

1325015-000-11835

BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. prospectus dated November 22, 1983, at p. 12 (at TAB 1). The historical record indicates that constant expansion and market penetration, often without regard to expense or regulation, was a priority. For example, BCCI acquired a 55% interest in Banque de Commerce et de Placements S.A., Geneva in 1976, which was increased to 70% in 1979; this was found to be contrary to Swiss banking laws regarding foreign ownership, however, and had to be reduced to 20%. Id. Similarly, BCCI's efforts to establish a bank in Spain were frustrated by the fixed number of banking licenses issued by Spanish authorities. BCC Spain was established by BCCI only through the purchase of a Spanish bank with price bid that was about twice market value, based on the other bids on the same bank. See Excerpt of Statement of Alvaro Lozano of June 26, 1992 at TAB 2. The corporate goal of establishing BCCI in every possible market culminated in the offenses for which the defendants were convicted in this case: the illegal purchases of American banks using nominees and secret shareholder agreements to deceive bank regulators as to the true owners. In all cases, once BCCI acquired or established a bank, it was fully integrated into BCCI's operations. It was this network of BCCI branches, subsidiaries, and affiliates that supported the enormous routing transactions that masked the massive fraud within BCCI, ultimately causing BCCI's financial failure. This enormous fraud was detailed by the government in its proffer at the defendants' guilty plea on January 9, 1992.

5. In the course of BCCI's operations, the corporate defendants did little to distinguish its subsidiaries and affiliates from its larger corporate entities. The corporate defendants held themselves out as a single worldwide bank capable of meeting any client's need on a global basis. As examples of BCCI's representation as a single entity are substantial excerpts from the 1988 "Annual Report and Accounts" and the 1988 "Consolidated Group Accounts" prepared by BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., at TABS 3 and 4. These reports demonstrate the corporate defendants' view of "the BCC Group" as a single entity.

a. The 1988 "Annual Report and Accounts" Report.

The map and graphics presented a pages 8-15 of this report at TAB 3 clearly illustrate BCCI's global operational network. These offices -- some owned by BCCI S.A., others by BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), and others managed by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. regardless of ownership -- are listed in a way suggesting that all are effectively the same. The regional management of these offices, without regard for ownership, is described in text at pages 23-26 of the report in its "Regional Overview." In detailing the BCCI operations by region, the various branches, subsidiaries, and affiliates are all described as equal partners contributing to the Group's success.

b. The 1988 "Consolidated Group Accounts" Report.

This report explains the financial relationships among the various BCCI entities. Essentially, the report is a balance sheet which includes all BCCI entities in determining the BCC Group's profitability. As noted Note 2A of the "Notes to the Consolidated Accounts" at p. 33 of the report at TAB 4,

> [t]he consolidated accounts comprise those of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., its subsidiary companies and certain affiliated companies . . . . The accounts of these affiliated companies as set out in Note 6(ii) are consolidated since the holding company owns in each case a minimum of 40 per cent of the issued share capital and, by agreement, the group is entitled to exercise control over their financial and operating policies. [Emphasis added.]

Similarly, in Note 2D at p. 34 of the report,

> [i]nvestment in affiliates comprises companies in which the interest of the group is long term and substantial and one over which the group exercises significant influence through participation in the affiliates' policy decisions . . . . The group share of the profits of the affiliated companies is included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings. [Emphasis added.]

These notes reflect both the integration of the subsidiaries and affiliates into BCCI, and the degree of control exercised by BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) over them. A list of subsidiaries and affiliates is set out in Note 6(i)-(ii) at pages 36-37 of this report. Included in this list are all of the subsidiaries and affiliates whose former FABNY accounts were transferred to this Court by its March 18 Order.

6. Rather than rely on these documents alone, however, the government has sought in each case to substantiate these indices of dominion and control over the subsidiaries and affiliates before seeking forfeiture of any of the assets of BCCI's subsidiaries and affiliates. This was the case with both BCC Spain and ICIC Investments Ltd., see United States v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., 795 F. Supp. 477 (D.D.C. 1992). Accordingly, the government offers the following regarding the BCCI branches, subsidiaries and affiliates that had accounts at FABNY, and related accounts at Capital Bank in Miami, Florida. The accounts and approximate balances at issue are as follows:

For the following reasons, the government seeks to forfeit all of the accounts listed above, with the exceptions of BCC Canada, BCC Botswana, and BCC Zimbabwe. In those instances, while these entities' ownership by the BCCI defendants can readily be established, the government holds no additional evidence demonstrating either the defendants' exercise of dominion and control over them or any alternate theory of forfeiture. Finally, in the case of BCC Spain, the government seeks to forfeit only one-third of BCC Spain's funds at FABNY pursuant to the earlier settlement and forfeiture of its assets. See Order of January 4, 1993.

A. BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. Branch accounts

As listed above, the BCCI accounts at FABNY include ten accounts in the names of branches of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. These accounts are:

1325015-000-11840

Branch Name	Approx. balance
BCCI Sri Lanka	$ 44,845.00
BCCI Lahore, Pakistan	283,010.40
BCCI Istanbul, Turkey	6,218.81
BCCI Freetown, Sierra Leone	1,747.44
BCCI Bombay, India	43,650.66
BCCI Kingston, Jamaica	165,965.63
BCCI Dhaka, Bangladesh	500.00
BCCI Paris, France	30,581.69
BCCI Barbados	9,466.74
BCCI Cameroon	325.00

As the assets of one of the four named corporate defendants, the balances in these accounts are all immediately forfeitable.

B. BCCI (Trinidad & Tobago Merchant Bankers) Ltd.

This entity ("BCCI Trinidad & Tobago"), established in 1986 as a 100%-owned subsidiary of BCCI S.A., held only a limited merchant banking license from the government of Trinidad & Tobago. BCCI Trinidad & Tobago was among the many BCCI entities supervised by BCCI Latin America and Caribbean Regional Office ("LACRO") within the BCCI Miami Agency office in Miami, Florida, as set out in the "Latin America and Caribbean Region" memorandum attached at TAB 5. Documentation retrieved from that office reflects that BCCI Trinidad and Tobago had virtually no autonomous decision-making or loan approval authority. See, e.g., LACRO memorandum of 1/07/8 from S.M. Shafi to Mr. Abbas Jafferi, BCCI Trinidad [sic], titled "Country Limit" at TAB 6. Rather, documents reveal that a steady flow of loan activity developed by BCCI Trinidad & Tobago was sent through the Miami office to the Central Credit Division at BCCI's London headquarters for approval. This was true even in the case of loans for as little as TT$15,000 (approximately U.S. $5,000).

See LACRO telex dated September 25, 1987 from Mr. S.M. Shafi to BCCI Central Credit Division, BCCI London at TAB 7. After BCCI's Miami offices were closed in 1990, supervision of BCCI Trinidad & Tobago was assumed by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. in the Cayman Islands. The documentation available reflects close supervision and control by both BCCI S.A. and BCCI (Overseas) of virtually all of BCCI Trinidad & Tobago's operations. BCCI Trinidad & Tobago appears to have had virtually no independent corporate identity. For this reason, forfeiture of it its assets is warranted.

In April 1991, BCCI Trinidad & Tobago's account at FABNY became subject to a cease and desist order issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. BCCI Trinidad & Tobago then opened an account at Capital Bank of Miami, Florida. As determined through the deposition of Capital Bank as ordered by the Court on April 21, 1992, that account has a balance of approximately $197,499.20. The government seeks forfeiture of both accounts.

C. Banco de Credito e Comercio de Investimento S.A., Sao Paulo, Brazil

This entity ("BCCI S.A. Brazil") is 50% owned by BCCI (Holdings) Luxembourg S.A., although the first office was initially opened as a representative office of BCCI (Overseas). In the initial capitalization process, however, BCCI Holdings S.A. entered into an agreement with the major local shareholder, Mr. Jaques Eluf, to guarantee him a rate of return on his 30% share hold interest equal to the best rate he would have obtained investing his interest in Brazilian certificates of deposit. Mr.

Eluf therefore bore no risk with his investment in BCCI S.A. Brazil. See BCCI S.A. London memorandum of September 4, 1990 from Europe and America's [sic] Division Expense Management Committee at TAB 8. Such guaranteed returns on investments were commonly used by the corporate defendants to obtain nominee shareholders as frontmen for many BCCI entities. Each year thereafter, Mr. Eluf submitted his demand for payment under this arrangement. These appear to have been paid not by BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), however, but rather by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. See BCCI Brazil facsimile transmission dated September 24, 1990 to Mr. Bande Hasan at TAB 9.

The arrangement with Mr. Eluf is yet another example of the unusual measures commonly used by the corporate defendants in penetrating new markets, usually done to evade local foreign ownership laws. The fact that his guaranteed payments were made by BCCI (Overseas), and not the actual owner BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), is also indicative not only of the corporate defendants' cooperation in the operation of their criminal enterprise, but also of their coordinated exercise of dominion and control over BCCI S.A. Brazil. For this reason, BCCI S.A. Brazil's funds its FABNY account should be subject to forfeiture.

As in the case of BCCI Trinidad & Tobago, BCCI S.A. Brazil was managed by the BCCI's LACRO office in Miami and later by BCCI (Overseas) in the Cayman Islands. See LACRO memo at TAB 5. BCCI S.A. Brazil also opened two accounts at Capital Bank in Miami in April 1991, after its FABNY account was frozen by the Federal Reserve's order. Those accounts have balances of approximately $160,788.30 (the "Commercial Dollar Account") and $12,178.60 (the "Tourist Dollar Account"), respectively. The government seeks forfeiture of both accounts as well.

1325015-000-11843

D. National Bank of Oman S.A.O.

National Bank of Oman S.A.O. ("NBO") is a 40%-owned consolidated affiliate of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg). NBO has been associated with BCCI since the latter's inception in 1973. The consolidated group accounts report for 1985 states that > [f]ollowing acquisition of a further 11% interest in the share capital of National Bank of Oman Limited (SAO) in 1985, Management have [sic] decided to consolidate this company . . . . The group has owned a minimum of 29% of the share capital of National Bank of Oman since its establishment in February 1973, and, under an agreement entered into at that time, the group continues to exercise management control over its financial and operating policies [emphasis added].

See BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. 1985 Consolidated Group Accounts Report excerpt at TAB 10.

NBO's chairman is Ali Bin Sultan Bin Mohammed Fadel, who is also the director of W.J. Towell & Co., a company in Muscat, Oman. Fadel owns 37% of NBO's shares through NBO and another 9% personally. W.J. Towell & Co. also held a 20% interest in Kuwait International Finance Co. ("KIFCO"), an unconsolidated affiliate of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg). See Price Waterhouse report dated September 30, 1989, Supplementary Briefing Paper at TAB 11.

Among the documentation available to the government is a 1978 telex listing W.J. Towell & Co. as a shareholder in Credit and Commerce American Holdings ("CCAH"), the holding company through which BCCI ultimately controlled First American Bankshares. Among the other shareholders are International Credit and Investment Co. (Overseas) Ltd., one of the four corporate defendants, and Sheikh Kamal Adham, who has been found guilty in the state of New York for his misconduct associated with his CCAH shareholding. See BCCI London message dated August 3, 1978 at TAB 12.

NBO's relationship to the corporate defendants is extensive. In 1982, BCCI (Overseas) provided a loan in the amount of $16,322,169 to NBO as additional capital (so that NBO could extend additional credit to borrowers), with the notation that repayment was not expected. See BCCI (Overseas) Credit Proposal dated January 26, 1982 at TAB 13. That same year, NBO was one of only 19 BCCI entities authorized by Swaleh Naqvi to pay interest at 1% above market on U.S. dollar deposits as part of BCCI's effort to build its U.S. dollar deposit base. See BCCI S.A. letter dated 21 December 1982 at TAB 14. Also that year, NBO guaranteed repayment of a $25 million loan issued by BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. to Gaith Pharoan. See BCC Treasury telex dated 1.10.82 to Mr. Fakhir Hussain at TAB 15.

In 1983, S.M. Shafi, who served as Chief Executive Officer of NBO for ten years up to that time, was made president of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. Management moves such as this were common among all the BCCI entities. In fact, Shafi's appointment to BCCI (Overseas) was necessitated by that company's director moving to

BCCI S.A. See Minutes of BCCI Directors' Meeting of October 7, 1983 at TAB 16.

In 1985, specifically relying on the long-term business relationship between NBO and the corporate defendants, BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. approved a loan in excess of $10 million to Haji Ali Sultan Mohammed Fadel, another director of W.J. Towell & Co., for the purpose of his acquiring 9,000 shares in NBO. See Memorandum to the Central Credit Committee dated 3.1.85 at TAB 17. BCCI auditors discovered in 1989 that Fadel's loans were not being serviced. See Price Waterhouse report of September 30, 1989 at TAB 11.

As evidenced by the above, NBO's intimate and long-term involvement with the corporate defendants renders the corporate form meaningless in this case. Accordingly, the government seeks the forfeiture of NBO's account at FABNY.

E. BCC Ghana Ltd.

BCC Ghana Ltd. ("BCC Ghana") is a 55%-owned consolidated subsidiary of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg). In 1985, after BCC Ghana's establishment, it entered into a "Technical Management Contract" with BCCI S.A. for a term of seven years. Under the terms of the agreement, BCCI S.A. "shall be entitled to provide management services and guidance to the extent deemed necessary by it" in the following areas: credit evaluation, foreign exchange operations, internal auditing and inspection, personnel ("providing up to six expatriate officers"), appointments (including sub-managers, departmental heads, and senior cashiers), staff training, accounting procedure, operation procedures and computerization, planning and strategy, investments, and financial discipline. The contract further provided that "BCCI's guidance in the specific areas mentioned above will be in addition to its overall direction and supervision of the day to day affairs of the bank." BCC Ghana was bound to consider all of BCCI S.A.'s advice "and shall implement such directions and recommendations . . . ." See Technical Management Agreement dated March 3, 1985 at TAB 18.

Under these circumstances, there can be no question that BCC Ghana was controlled entirely by BCCI S.A. For this reason, its assets deposited at FABNY should be subject to forfeiture.

F. BCC (Misr) S.A.E.

Located in Cairo, Egypt, BCC Misr is a 49%-owned subsidiary of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg). As in the case of BCP, BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) was found to be in contravention of local bank regulations regarding foreign ownership in 1986. At that time, BCC Misr had six directors with two groups of three each representing 51% and 49% of its shares, respectively. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) then reduced the number of representatives of its 49% share from three to two.

The documentation available to the government reveals BCC Misr's operations within the bank to be somewhat enigmatic. BCC Misr appears to have been most closely linked with BCCI (Overseas) Ltd., for whom it conducted numerous routing transactions. Although many of these may have been legitimate in nature, BCC Misr appears to have engaged in a number of highly unusual transactions with BCCI (Overseas) on behalf of BCC Misr's local clients.

In 1985, a credit proposal on behalf of Artisan Co. of Alexandria, Egypt was submitted to BCCI (Overseas). In describing the purpose of the loan, mention is made of "the transfer of the remaining three Branches of BCCI Overseas to BCC Misr." See BCCI (Overseas) Credit Proposal dated 5th December 1985 at TAB 19. In servicing other preexisting loans and other matters with the same customer, it is reported that "BCC Misr continues to handle all relevant matters as agent of BCCI Overseas." Id.

In 1988, two loan accounts were opened on the same day at BCCI (Overseas) "per the instructions" of Sheik Kamal Adham. One of these was in the amount of $800,000, with the second for $2 million. These were to be remitted "urgently by telex" to BCC Misr. See Letters from Manager, BCCI Grand Cayman to Credit Division, BCCI Grand Cayman dated April 14th, 1988 at TAB 20. There appears to have been no other approval or authorization for this loan. As mentioned above, Adham has since been found guilty by the State of New York regarding his ownership of CCAH shares.

These remittances to Adham are more significant because of his 49% share interest in Red Sea Enterprises Holdings S.A., which enjoyed extensive loans jointly held by BCC Misr and BCCI (Overseas). A 1990 audit memorandum indicates that Adham received inexplicable additional advances on those loans, despite the fact that these were in arrears from 1988. See BCCI Central Audit Division Credit Examination dated 31.05.90 at TAB 21. BCC Misr thus appears to have served as a direct routing point for these activities on behalf of BCCI (Overseas).

First American Bank itself was well aware of BCC (Misr)'s relationship to the BCCI Group, as evidenced by the FABNY Credit Department memorandum at TAB 22. As stated in that memorandum,

> BCC (Misr) is 49% owned by BCCI Holdings, but, by agreement, BCCI Holdings has control over the financial and operating policies of the bank. Therefore, BCC (Misr) financials have been consolidated into BCCI Holdings financials. [Emphasis added.]

This statement not only demonstrates the BCCI Group's control over BCC Misr, but also corroborates the significance of the consolidation of all of BCCI's subsidiaries and affiliates in the 1988 reports at TABS 3 and 4, discussed at paragraphs 5a-b supra.

Given both the evidence of BCC Misr's participation in the misconduct of that defendant and the evidence of the BCCI Group's control over BCC (Misr), the corporate form should be disregarded in this case and BCC Misr's deposits at FABNY should be forfeited.

G. Banque de Commerce et de Placements S.A., Switzerland

Banque de Commerce et de Placements S.A. ("BCP") is a nonconsolidated affiliate, in which BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) presently holds a 15% interest. As mentioned earlier, BCCI once held 70% of BCP's share outright, but Swiss authorities challenged this degree of foreign ownership resulting in the current 15% ownership percentage. However, this apparent divestiture of ownership is illusory, for BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg)'s former stock in BCP was then acquired by the ICIC Foundation (with 35%) and the ICIC Staff Benefit Fund (also with 35%), themselves both entities within the ICIC Group that owned ICIC (Overseas) Ltd. and ICIC Investments Ltd. BCP has been affiliated with the corporate defendants since 1976. Account records for virtually all BCCI entities routinely reflect numerous transfers of funds to or through BCP, up to BCCI's being seized worldwide on July 5, 1991.

As BCCI's massive fraud was unravelled in the late 1980s, auditors from Price Waterhouse detected the equally massive account manipulations by BCCI to hide its losses and inflate its profits. Price Waterhouse's investigation found that > . . . there have been enormous movements of funds, within and around the BCCI group, which have been required in order to cover up losses, present accounts as if performing and to make good prior manipulations. The total funds flows in the years 1981-1989 which have not been directly related to valid customer transactions is likely to have been several $ billions [sic].

Price Waterhouse report for Meeting of 28 April 1991, p. 6 at TAB 23. The sources of funding for these manipulative routing transactions included unsecured loans created within BCCI, borrowing from other banks not recorded in BCCI, the use of funds controlled by ICIC, and other sources. Price Waterhouse further found that > [t]he flows of funds for manipulation purposes have been extensive and has involved a vast web of transactions requiring the significant assistance of some major customers.

1325015-000-11850

> Funds have seldom been passed from one location directly to another but instead intermediary bank accounts have been used. These accounts were not within the accounting records of BCCI. Amongst others they included:
>
> - Bank accounts at BCP controlled by officers of BCCI or officer of ICIC.
>
> - Third party bank accounts of customers who were prepared to allow funds to be passed through their accounts.
>
> - Bank accounts established for routing purposes at entities controlled by [major customers].
>
> - Bank accounts of ICIC Holdings or other ICIC related entities at third party banks.
> - Bank accounts of other related parties such as [Saudi Development & Commercial Co.] and KIFCO.

[Emphasis added.] Id. at p. 7. BCP was thus a central component of BCCI's largest frauds. BCP's central role was underscored when Price Waterhouse auditors complained that the lack of records and information available regarding these transactions made its work in this area "extremely difficult," but added that "[f]ull access to the records of ICIC, the full cooperation of ICIC management and information from the conduit companies, notably BCP, would enable this exercise to be expedited [emphasis added]." Id. at p. 10.

It is therefore clear that even after BCCI divested itself of its improper and excessive investment in BCP, BCP continued to operate at the very center of BCCI's routing network that supported some of its largest frauds. For this reason, the BCP funds formerly on deposit at FABNY should be subject to forfeiture.

1325015-000-11851

H. BCC Credit and Finance (Uruguay) S.A.

This 100%-owned consolidated subsidiary ("BCC Uruguay")has been associated with BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) since 1982.

As with both BCC Trinidad & Tobago and BCC Brazil, BCC Uruguay was supervised by BCCI's LACRO office in Miami, Florida. The minutes of an LACRO meeting reported the following:

> In spite of the profitability of this unit, which is due in part due [sic] to revaluation of fixed assets[,] [t]he net worth falls below the minimum net worth requirements laid down by the central bank [of Uruguay], thus facing regular (quarterly) requests for capital infusion. To overcome this and prevent further erosion of networth [sic] it was resolved:
>
> > a) more business will be parked at Uruguay to avoid the necessity of further capital infusion by increasing networth;
> > b) improve treasury operation at BCC Argentina and thereby gain by spinoff in Uruguay . . . .

See Minutes of Americas Support Committee with LACRO dated April 11, 1988 at TAB 24, at p. 12. The above reflects that just as BCC Spain was heavily dependent on BCCI Holdings for capital infusions, so too was BCC Uruguay. It is especially worth noting that the minutes of the LACRO meeting reveal that the above decisions were made without any BCC Uruguay representative present. It is also noteworthy that LACRO was simultaneously manipulating yet another BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) subsidiary, BCC Argentina, on behalf of BCC Uruguay.

Additional documentation reviewed by the government reflects that virtually every level of action undertaken by BCC Uruguay was supervised by LACRO in Miami and BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. in the Cayman Islands, to include even the opening of term deposit accounts. BCC Uruguay had no apparent independent decision-making authority, and as such its asset at FABNY warrant forfeiture as the assets of the defendants.

Further, it was reported at a 1990 investigatory audit committee meeting attended by BCCI's most senior executives and Price Waterhouse representatives that a large number of loans made to the Gulf Group, one of BCCI's largest customers, had been "parked" at BCC Uruguay. See Executive Summary of Findings of the Task Force, pp. 6-10, at TAB 25. Losses and extremely high additional risk incurred by insufficient collateralization of loans to the Gulf Group proved to be among BCCI's greatest financial problems, contributing greatly to its ultimate failure. BCC Uruguay's apparent support for the efforts and manipulations to conceal those loans further warrants forfeiture of the assets now before the Court.

I. BCC Emirates

The BCC Emirates account at FABNY was closed in May, 1991. Union National Bank ("UNB"), BCC (Emirates)' corporate successor, disclaims any interest in the funds subsequently deposited into the account, and is not aware of any unreconciled entries regarding these funds nor any creditor seeking their return. UNB has notified the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries that these funds were most likely intended for a BCCI account and were deposited in BCC Emirates' account mistakenly. See Letter of Ted G. Semaya dated May 7, 1993 at TAB 26. Accordingly, these funds are the property of the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries and are subject to forfeiture under the Plea Agreement.

7. Finally, I am also aware of the activities of ICIC Investments within the ICIC Group that led to the forfeiture of the assets of ICIC Investments Ltd. ("Investments") by this Court. See United States v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. et al., 795 F. Supp. 477 (D.D.C. 1992). As set out in the Memorandum of the United States in Support of its Motion to Amend Order of Forfeiture to Include Assets Held in the Name "ICIC Investments Limited" filed June 24, 1992, the ICIC Group established dozens of companies in the Cayman Islands for the benefit of BCCI. See Memorandum at p. 14. Since that time, the government has discovered additional companies created for BCCI's benefit by the ICIC Group at locations other than the Cayman Islands.

8. Among these since-discovered companies is "North American Investment & Finance Company Limited" ("NAIF") chartered in the Turks and Caicos Islands, an island group in the British West Indies. As described in the Declaration of Stephen Clive H. Jennings appended elsewhere to the Government's Motion to Amend, NAIF was created and controlled by the ICIC Group. Documentation available to the government reveals that NAIF was used for the manipulations involving Investments. See Excerpt from Price Waterhouse report of June 1991 titled "Sources and Utilizations of Funds," p. 17, at TAB 27. NAIF was one of the ICIC Group companies used by Investments to move funds out of Investments' accounts at brokerage houses in New York. As these accounts generated revenue, the money would be sent to NAIF or other companies instead of back to Investments. Because of NAIF's status as a wholly-owed subsidiary of the ICIC Group and its participation in BCCI's corporate misconduct, any funds in the United States held by NAIF should be subject to this Court's Order of Forfeiture of July 29, 1992, regarding Investments.

HISTORY

The BCC Group was originally conceived as an international banking organisation backed by Middle Eastern investors to provide commercial banking services world-wide, initially in the Middle East and in the United Kingdom. The first bank to be established was Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A. ("BCCI") in Luxembourg in 1972 with one branch in each of Luxembourg, United Arab Emirates and the United Kingdom. Its initial paid-up capital of $2.5 million was subscribed by Bank of America (25% later increased to 30%) and the balance by investors from the Middle East.

The original purpose of Bank of America's investment in BCCI was to gain access to the Middle East market. In due course Bank of America determined that its strategic interests in the area required a direct presence. At the same time, the BCC Group wished to undertake banking operations within the United States but was unable to do so whilst Bank of America retained its shareholding. Therefore, by mutual agreement, Bank of America divested its shareholding by June 1980.

Between 1972 and the end of 1974, the BCCI network was expanded in the Middle East and the United Kingdom through the addition of seven branches in the United Arab Emirates, one branch in the Sultanate of Oman and five branches in the United Kingdom. In 1973, a 35% interest was acquired in National Bank of Oman Limited (S.A.O.) in the Sultanate of Oman, which was subsequently reduced to 29%, and an 80% interest was acquired in Banque Chartouni, Lebanon, which was re-named Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Lebanon) S.A.L. and in 1977 became a wholly-owned subsidiary. In order to establish a presence in the Far East, BCCI Finance International Limited, a finance company, was established in Hong Kong in 1973.

In December 1974, the BCC Group was restructured with the establishment of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. which in 1975 acquired BCCI, its subsidiaries, Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Lebanon) S.A.L. and BCCI Finance International Limited, and its investment in National Bank of Oman Limited (S.A.O).

The next period of expansion which occurred between 1975 and 1980 began with the establishment of Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited ("Overseas") in the Cayman Islands. During this period, Overseas opened branches in Egypt, Sudan, Bangladesh, France, Kenya, Sierre Leone, South Korea, Pakistan, Gabon, Ivory Coast, Liberia, Sri Lanka, Togo and Senegal. Meanwhile, BCCI established branches in Mauritius, North Yemen, Jordan, West Germany, Sudan, Djibouti, Seychelles, Oman and Bahrain.

During the same period, the following companies were established or acquired: Kuwait International Finance Company S.A.K. (49%); BCCI Canada Inc (50%); Premier Bank Limited, Ghana (45%); Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Swaziland) Limited (55%); Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Nigeria) Limited (40%); Hong Kong Metropolitan Bank Limited (96%), since renamed Bank of Credit and Commerce Hong Kong Limited, and Credit and Finance Corporation Limited, the Cayman Islands (100%). In 1976 a 55% shareholding was acquired in Banque de Commerce et de Placements S.A. in Geneva which was increased to 70% in 1979. In 1983 this shareholding was reduced to 20% to comply with Swiss regulations relating to agreements of reciprocity between Switzerland and the places of residence of the shareholders of the BCC Group. Some re-alignments of branches were also made; branches of BCCI operating in the Sultanate of Oman were transferred to Overseas and branches of Overseas in Egypt were transferred to a new joint venture bank, Bank of Credit and Commerce (Misr) S.A.E. (49%), which was established with the participation of Egyptian investors.

From 1981 onwards, BCCI and Overseas opened branches in the Philippines, Panama, Jamaica, Macao, Cyprus, Turkey, Monaco, the Maldives, India, Barbados and the Bahamas. Agencies were also established in the states of California and Florida in the United States. A representative office of Overseas was opened in Beijing, People's Republic of China. The following subsidiaries and affiliates were also established: Bank of Credit and Commerce Zimbabwe Limited (53%), Bank of Credit and Commerce (Zambia) Limited (100%), Italfinance International S.p.A. (85%), Bank of Credit and Commerce Cameroon S.A. (65%), Bank of Credit and Commerce (Botswana) Limited (100%), BCCI Leasing (Malaysia) Sdn Bhd (49%), BCC Credit and Finance (Uruguay) S.A. (100%) and Bank of Credit and Commerce (Emirates) (40%) to which were transferred existing branches of Overseas in the United Arab Emirates.

This is a statement taken from ALVARO LOZANO, at the Miami office of the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION, 16320 Northwest 2nd Avenue, North Miami Beach, Florida, taken by Special Agent KATHLEEN MITCHELL.

" I, ALVARO LOZANO, was born on January 6, 1948 and social security number 267-80-4146. I live at 14220 Southwest 92nd, Miami, Florida, with a telephone number (305) 378-0359. I presently own the INTERSTATE SOFTDRINK CORPORATION, 7298 Northwest 70th Street, Miami, Florida, telephone (305) 883-6004.

"I was employed with the AMERICAN EXPRESS BANK between 1966 and 1986. My assignments at the AMERICAN EXPRESS BANK were:

Vice President of Operations in the Banking Division, Branch Manager - Taipei, Taiwan (2 years),
Branch Manager - Philippines (9 - 10 months),
Deputy Manager - Indonesia (3.5 years), opened bank branch - Istanbul, Turkey (6 months),
Vice President/Manager - Cairo, Egypt (1 year),
Vice President Representative/Spain and Portugal - Madrid, Spain (3.5 years).

"I was approached while I was working for AMERICAN EXPRESS BANK, in Madrid, Spain by MOHAMMED IKRAMULLAH KAHN, to join the BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (BCCI), at BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE S.A. ESPANOLA (BCC SAE).

"The BANCO DE DESCUENTO was bankrupt and BCCI purchased the bank and operated it as BCC SAE. There was an extreme interest in the banking license of BANCO DE DESCUENTO because of its value. As a result, BCCI purchased the BANCO DE DESCUENTO for what seemed like twice its value. In retrospect, it was obvious, by this action, that BCCI wanted to get into any country they could.

"I was acquainted with KAHN while working at AMERICAN EXPRESS BANK. KAHN offered me a position to manage the 26 branches of BCC SAE. I felt this was exciting and challenging and accepted the position. I realized there were problems at BCC SAE after two (2) to three (3) months.

"BCC SAE did not operate as a bank as BCC SAE used unprofessional banking practices. BCC SAE was losing approximately $1,000,000 per month which did not bother BCCI.

"BCC SAE'S only focus for its primary source of revenue was obtaining deposits. This is the only thing they were interested in. BCC SAE offered no customer services. My mission was to go out and get deposits. I was also expected to hire employees from other banks to bring in more deposit accounts from those banks. The main focus was corporate accounts because they would have larger deposits.

"When BCC SAE capital would run out, money would be sent from the BCCI offices in London, England. The money would come from different places and no one at BCC SAE would know the origin of the money.

MEETING HELD: April 11, 1988

SUBJECT: Colombia

	BUDGET 88	A MARCH	B MARCH	B JUNE
			(US$ 000's omitted)
Profit	7.334	1.396	1.630	3.460

The new measures introduced by the government of Colombia has had a detrimental effect on the profitability of Banco Credito - although there has been an adverse effect on the short term profitability, the unit felt confident that they would strive to overcome this by special efforts to make good the deficiency in the long term.

The new measures are:

a) increase of reserve requirements on official deposits (primarily current accounts) from 44% to 65%;

b) details of accounts of Pesos 6 Mio (US$21,000) and over to be reported to the local tax authorities - this has led to flight of deposits from the banking sector;

CAY 0021831

1325015-000-11867

c) reserve requirements on ordinary loans which comprises 67% of the total advances have been introduced at 15.5%. This has impacted profitability adversely by Pesos 43.M US$160,000 per month;

d) Representative office expenses not budgeted for 1987 were booked in sundry debtors instead and had to be written off against P & L account.

EMP

The current servicing for EMP accounts is handled by the representative office in Bogota. While the targeting and identification of potential customers is the responsibility of the branch managers.

In view of this account holders tend to relate more closely with the branch managers in case of any hiccups - in order to prevent recurring visits regarding servicing complaints by the account holders, branch managers tend to concentrate more on term deposit account which are albeit more expensive, have lesser transactions than money market accounts which carry lower rates of interests.

It was considered that the servicing would be the specific responsibility of Area Account Managers who would interact with the account holders to establish a close rapport. These area managers would be located at Miami to handle service, establish close contact with clients and thus devote more and concentrate on money market accounts.

1325015-000-11868

It was resolved as follows:

a) Latin America Regional would establish a marketing team and redefine EMP strategy, particularly with regard to 'EA'.

b) Review existing procedures and take necessary precautions to prevent services/regulatory bottle necks.

Mr. U.K. Ghosh gave a brief background history of the bank from the date of acquisition of the first 30% of the shares from Banco D'Italia to the current 99.97% he outlined briefly the 2 major areas which effect profitability.

a) At the time of acquisition of Banco Fin America, the previous owners had violated capital adequacy rules by acquiring fixed assets, (building) for more than the networth of the bank, this was incurring a penalty from the central bank. In order to reduce this adverse impact on profitability several schemes were devised involving the sale and lease back of these buildings. However, one of the three buildings remains vacant and is therefore incurring monthly maintenance and rental expenses as well.

1325015-000-11870

b) The bank has substantial credit card operation which suffers a loss on account of:

(i) bad loan portfolio of equivalent US$150,000;

(ii) maximum interest ceiling of 3% over and above deposit rates on lending to credit card holders;

(iii) compulsory deposit with Argen card centre which pay a spread of 3 to 4% (@ bonex rate) which is well below comparable spreads available on normal lending.

c) The liquid capital is invested in dollar denominated instruments such as bonex and Tidol, these instruments carry very low returns, unless there is a large devaluation, the loss of spread has sustained negative impact on the profitability of this unit.

Not withstanding the above BCC Argentina has surpassed its targets in the following areas:

(i) Total deposits, although not in the mix, in particular low cost deposits, current and savings;

(ii) Net interest margin $1.287 Mio against .607 Mio;

(iii) Commissions $1.9 Mio against $1.349 Mio;

CAY 0021835

1325015-000-11871

(iv) Profit on exchange .207 Mio against .060 Mio.

However, this unit has incurred a substantial loss in other income, which is the main reason for the shortfall in achievement against target.

It was suggested by Mr. Ameer Siddiki that after appointment of the new Joint Chief Executive following should be attended to without delay:

i) ascertain whether at least one of the buildings can be either sold or written off the books;

(ii) consider debt equity swap to buy the buildings in the name of an outside agency/co.;

(iii) consider reduction of staffing levels to a more manageable level, thereby only retaining quality personnel.

(iv) consider closing down some of the branches;

(v) revamp the automation system of the bank to improve delivery capability and improve controls.

Deposits	5000	1300	1500	2500
Advances	10000	5100	6000	7000

This unit cannot accept current deposits.

The future profitability of this unit is inextricably linked to Argentina. As Uruguay is used as an outlet for Argentina citizens for their foreign exchange operations. Inspite of the profitability of this unit, which is in a large part due to revaluation of fixed assets. The net worth falls below the minimum net worth requirements laid down by the central bank, thus facing regular (quarterly) requests for capital infusion. To overcome this and prevent further erosion of networth it was resolved:

a) more business will be parked at Uruguay to avoid the necessity of further capital infusion by increasing networth;

b) improve treasury operations at BCC Argentina and thereby gain by spin off in Uruguay,

c) issuance of credit cards and discounting of merchant credit card receipts locally;

d) increased emphasis on EMP business.

BCC Jamaica has successfully surpassed targets for profits 868, budgeted 660, deposits 37,125 budgeted 34,050 (eqiv. US$ 000') and mix of deposits, under current and savings, there is shortfall in term deposits, the growth in term deposits seem to have been discouraged due to their adverse impact on profitability.

Jamaica has achieved their quarterly targets in all areas except the above and credit cards.

However, because of the improvement in the mix of deposits, profit target has been surpassed - if the advances and business targets had been met profits would have displayed even better achievement.

Deposits	35000		26600	29000

Barbados has come on stream as a productive, cohesive and well managed unit of BCC. The country has very successfully surpassed its profit target of .110 Mio by 0.35 Mio to US$.145 Mio. There is a very slight shortfall in deposits and advances, efforts will be made to make good these shortfalls by the end of the second quarter, '88.

This country has also displayed good progress vis a vis budget in the first quarter of 1988. The growth in deposit has been 17.4 Mio mainly as a recipient of EMP business and deposits from overseas. . The unit however has developed some capability to generate deposits, but this needs considerable effort to upgrade it to a satisfactory level.

The (June) 2nd quarter deposit target is revised from 82.5 Mio to US$100 Mio.

The state of Florida has 3 operating agencies in Miami, Tampa and Boca Raton. The performance for the March quarter shows actual profits over budget at 1.6, against a target of 1.012 (US$. Mio).

Advances, deposits have also exceeded targets. The performances of the three agencies are shown below:

In view of the sluggish performance of the agencies at Tampa and Boca Raton it was agreed that the viability of the continued existence of these agencies must be assessed as soon as possible, so as to determine the necessity of their ongoing usefulness.

The Regional Office was requested to forward a report to Support Centre in this respect.

Paraguay has maintained steady albeit relatively small growth in profits and deposits. Although advances have exceeded budget, the performance of profits and deposit is below budget.

Paraguay will also undergo a change of personnel, as Mr. Waseem Siddiqui is being transferred to Argentina and replaced by a new Country Manager.

Functioning of Management and Dynamics Committees and Budget and Marketing Committees

While emphasising the necessity of these Committees in the Management of the bank, special mention was made of the booklet entitled "The Committees" sent to all units under a covering letter dated February 27, 1988. It is by continuous interaction, interfusion and dialogue with the members of these committees that the management of a unit will achieve a fusion. Individuals, while capable in themselves, achieve respect for each other and in that process gain the feeling of commitment to the organisation, culture and philosophy of BCC.

The organisation needs the budget and marketing committees to encapsulate and communicate its' business plan and the strategy for its achievement. The BCC management culture is communicated and disseminated through the Management and Dynamics committees.

The minutes of such meetings encapsulate the proceedings for the benefit of the Regional office and the support centre. The timing of these meetings sets certain standards of discipline and organisation.

Some of the units may not be able to meet the strict deadlines set for the timing of these meetings and despatch of the minutes. The exact dates are not as important as the frequency of these meetings.

CAY 0021844

1325015-000-11880

Staff relationship and Morale

Morale and the importance of staff relationships and their importance in our culture was highlighted. The conditions that our units face in Latin America and to a large extent the Caribbean may at times effect the confidence, the morale and hence the productivity of staff members. This is particularly relevant in the case of large units such as Colombia with a staff compliment of 900 people and 30 branches, Brazil and Argentina to a lesser extent. Except for Brazil which is staffed entirely by staff who are new commers to the bank, the banks in Argentina and Colombia were acquired by BCC. So although the institution remained the same the corporate culture will have to, if necessary, undergo a change.

In the light of this scenario, the subject was further highlighted by the added dimension of the expatriate officers of the bank who are posted to the Latin American continent. These international officers as representatives of BCC to these banks have the added responsibility of spreading the BCC culture among the new comers to the group. Their attitude and conduct have a very significant impact on the officers who form the local cadre.

The problem faced by these officers, because of the hyperinflationary conditions, and the rapidly reducing currencies was also highlighted by the regional office. The erosion of purchasing power by rapid devaluation/hyperinflation is a phenomenon which needs urgent attention. A proposal for change in the determination of local currency salaries for international officers has been forwarded by the regional office and is currently being reviewed by the Human Resources Division. Mr. Ameer Siddiki promised to expedite decision on this.

Central Bank and Government Relationships

The relationship with our customers, the central bank of the country where we operate and interaction with other governmental agencies determine our image in the short and long term. We should at all times maintain good relationship with the Central banks.

BCC Image

BCC has entered a new phase in its short history. The banking sector as whole is under close scrutiny by regulators and government agencies through out the world.

BCC as a large multinational organisation is subjected to similar scrutiny.

It is therefore of paramount importance that we should be very conscious of our image in the countries where we operate. After all we are a local bank in each country where we operate.

Summation

The proceedings of this meeting were summed up in direct relation to our "Ten year strategy" - while highlighting the importance of the ten year strategy - the unit heads/country managers and the regional office were requested to conduct a country by country exercise as part of this process to suggest new products.

CAY 0021846

1325015-000-11882

These suggestions should be incorporated in the form of a strategy paper and forwarded to regional office and the support centre

- while discussing the strategy for the next 10 years Mr. Ameer Siddiki summed up as follows:

- notwithstanding growth plans, future strategy, and the improvement in delivery capability planned by BCC these are some concepts which are sacrosanct to the cultural ethos of BCC.

- We must at all times preserve our identity and culture;

- sacrifice a little if we must to preserve this cultural identity; by sacrificing we become strong and part of a dynamic vehicle to take us into the future;

- the meetings that we hold by virtue of their success in motivation aid our effort to preserve and enhance this enthusiasm;

- we must remind ourselves that regardless of other people's attitudes we must adhere to our culture;

- we must be a high quality bank; quality is an underlying theme.

CAY 0021847

1325015-000-11883

- In this connection the outline of the next 10 years is very timely.

The future is a new challenge, different from the past and this needs newer and finer skills and a fresh approach.

- This is part of our BCC plan. BCC theme within which there are different segments/sectors - one of these sectors is Latin America.

This is an agreed plan but do we have the right skills to achieve it?

Exhibit 25 -- Crim. No. 91-0655 (JHG) DC 020432

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY OF

FINDINGS OF THE TASK FORCE

1.00 Most of the concerns expressed by Price Waterhouse in their Initial Report to the Task Force of 14th March '90 (covering 9 large loans case plus several slow moving advances in Grand Cayman) and the Supplementary Report of 6th April '90 (covering 12 loan cases including some more slow moving advances in G/C) were after detailed case by case review by the Task Force, found to be valid and justified and required significant amount of additional provisioning.

2.00 The Task Force review of the global audit arrangements of the BCC Group showed that these arrangements (covering all the Group's 'consolidated' locations (71) incorporating 30 banking units) are both intensive and extensive. In the earlier years they were carried out primarily by Ernst & Whinney (now Ernst & Young) with Price Waterhouse (PW) doing the audit of BCCI (Overseas) Ltd, Grand Cayman since 1975. From 1987 the global audit was consolidated under PW.

2.01 The audit is done in two parts - an interim audit covering the Groups' 9 months results up to September (done in October/November) and a final audit in December (extending from January to March of each subsequent year).

2.02 The global 'Audit Instruction' and 'Questionnaires' issued by PW to all local offices of PW and in some cases to other audit firms (where PW were not directly present) were comprehensive and extensive).

2.03 Senior partners of PW from UK and other key locations travelled to nearly a dozen key locations of BCC including Grand Cayman to directly review the local operation and the quality of audit and their audit findings.

BCC0019744

1325015-000-11886

2.04 Management's view that PW had full access to all locations' records and documents were found to be correct (with the exception of Grand Cayman where serious difficulties were faced by PW).

2.05 The Task Force was informed, that PW also did not have adequate access to 2 non consolidated unit's records - Kuwait and Switzerland. This was said to be due to secrecy laws and minority shareholding of BCCI. Independent Local Board of Directors were responsible for these 2 operations.

3.00 The Task Force found that more or less all the loan cases and transactions referred to by PW in their two Reports related wholly to the Grand Cayman branch of BCCI Overseas (or to ICIC) both of which were, audited by Price Waterhouse from their very inception.

3.01 The Task Force found that even where the counterpart of the transactions or loans were "parked" in other BCC location they were invariably initiated from Grand Cayman (or ICIC).

4.00 The audit findings of 1989, for the rest of the BCC Group were reviewed in depth by the Task Force; These were found to be very normal and indeed the issues raised were minimal as far as significant items were concerned, indicating that Management's view was correct that there has been considerable improvement year on year, in the global quality of operation in the BCC Group. This was also independently reconfirmed to the Task Force by PW.

5.00 The entire series of loans/transactions identified by PW as "matters of concern", fall into 3 broad categories.

A - Loans/Transactions relating to CCAH shareholders and granted to them either by BCCI (or ICIC). (CCAH is the vehicle used by some of the BCC shareholders for acquiring the First American Bank Group covering the East Coast of U.S.A.)

BCC0019745

DC 020434

1325015-000-11887

B - Loans/Transactions relating to shareholders of BCCI (Holdings) Lux, SA granted primarily by ICIC.

C - Certain very large commercial loans granted primarily in Grand Cayman branch to a number of Business Houses or businessmen, which besides the risk of concentration of such loans to a few companies/individuals, and the corresponding risk of repayment, also had extremely poor documentation and supporting evidence of its use.

5.01 The Task Force was able to conclude with reasonable certainty that the 'problems' related entirely to these three categories of loans and transactions and did NOT spill over to the global business and activity of the Group which covered 1.3 million customers in 73 countries with 58 currencies, and a total advances portfolio in excess of US$11 billion.

5.02 The local audits and regulatory controls in all the BCC countries were found to be of a high order, safe-guarding the quality and health of the bank in all these locations.

6.00 Regarding items A and B above i.e. Shareholder Loans

6.01 The Task Force after many hours of interviews with the concerned Accounts Executives/Accounts Officers and reviewing many files and documents made available to it (most of which were of very poor quality) concluded that:

- these share backed lendings from BCCI and ICIC, either for share acquisition or commercial/personal reasons, extended back to several years.

- had very inadequate supporting documents including absence of written requests from the shareholders or clients.

- often no written report of the purpose for the loans/transactions and

- in quite a few cases not even year end confirmation of balances.

6.02 The Task Force therefore confirms the 'concern' of PW in many of the referred cases.

6.03 The Task Force simultaneously expresses considerable surprise and disappointment at such obvious flaws in basic banking procedures and documentation .

6.04 The Task Force feels that the regular annual audit thereof should have easily detected and corrected such haphazard transactions several years ago.

6.05 The Task Force concludes that there is little doubt from the sparse records available and inadequate explanations given by the Accounts Executives/Officers that there must be some 'interlocking' arrangements between the shareholders of both BCCI Holdings (Lux) SA and CCAH whereby in several cases 'nominee' routes may have been taken to front each others investment in these two banking groups with corresponding loans being drawn from BCCI (& ICIC) to fund such 'interim' holdings.

6.06 However the Task Force concluded that as the underlying security/asset i.e. shares of CCAH and shares of BCCI (H) both have considerable real and tangible value and market worth; Therefore the real risk to the bank is in any shortfall in their gross exposure viz a viz the valuation of security and the need to provide against it. Management and PW have provided alternative basis for computing these valuations. PW's computations shows a significant shortfall while management's valuation adequately covers the exposure. The Task Force felt that in the case of CCAH some 'general provision' is called for. (This is recommended at US$30 million.) However no such provision is deemed necessary for BCCI (H) cases.

6.07 The Task Force has been informed that negotiations are at an advanced stage in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) with certain major existing shareholders of the BCCI Group - both individuals and Institutional, whereby they would acquire substantial amounts of additional shares of BCCI Group, and shortly thereafter shares of CCAH - at previously transactional price of $40 per share and at 'carrying cost' respectively. This would unwind the outstanding 'interlocking' arrangements and greatly reduce the exposure of the bank to such shareholder loans.

6.08 The Task Force recommends vigorous follow through of this vital Plan of Action.

6.09 The Task Force also recommends that in future there should be no interlocking or nominee arrangements for shareholders of BCCI (H) and CCAH, if such exists at the moment.

7.00 Regarding item C of para 5.00 i.e. Commercial Loans

7.01 The Task Force subdivided these loans into 2 categories:

A - Normal commercial loans, granted primarily in Grand Cayman branch, that required further review of their year-end exposure and if necessary to enhance their cumulative provision in 1989.

B - Loans of the Gulf Group (Gokals) and all related "off shore" companies/loans linked directly or indirectly to this Group.

7.02 Regarding 7.01 - A the exercises has been completed with extensive and detail input from PW. As a result additional provision of $ 79 m over and above the $21.00 m already agreed with PW for Grand Cayman branch has been recommended to be set up in the 1989 accounts of the Group. This additional provision is now agreed with PW.

7.03 Regarding 7.01 - B Gulf Group and Related Accounts - this area of the bank's activity is perhaps the most depressing part of our findings. The Task Force after very extensive meetings with the concerned Accounts Executive/Officer and very detailed review of the several dozen files and documents made available to it were surprised and dismayed at the very poor quality of supporting documents which was supposed to be covering activities going back to 5 years and more and involving over $250 million in loans ranging from $1.5 to over $10 million in the books of Grand Cayman and also "parked" from Grand Cayman in several less controlled locations of BCC i.e. Panama, Bahamas, Bahrain, Uruguay and Kuwait.

It took the Task Force only a few days to note that nearly each of these cases had common patterns of initiation, activity, fund flow, weak documentation and vague explanations from the concerned account officers which any reasonable audit process should have tracked down, identified and stopped forthwith. That it extended over so many years is a great disappointment to the Task Force - particularly since their initiations was all from the same source in Grand Cayman (and London).

The explanation given by the Accounts Officer that the business was initiated by high networth clients from the Sub Continent who wanted confidentiality and these loans were intended for shipping and/or trading business, on a project to project basis, with input from the Gulf Group, is likely to have been valid in the very early years of initiation of the business when a senior bank officer - one Mr. Hashem Sheikh (who was then the Accounts officer for the Gulf Group, and also had wide personal contacts with the business community from the Sub Continent) set up such one-off deals. The account statements for the early years seen by Task Force showed a fair volume of throughput activity and fund flows. However substantial part of the outflows appeared to land up in the accounts of the Gulf Group directly or indirectly.

For this and other similar obvious reason listed in the Task Force Report it became clear to the Task Force that the entire arrangement was set up by Mr. Hashem Sheikh in conjunction with the Gulf Group.

The Task Force has therefore recommended that all such activities should stop forthwith and all these 'offshore' accounts with outstanding liabilities at the year end should be consolidated in the Gulf Group's global exposure (until such time as any of the Sub Continent client(s) can come forward and take direct responsibility for any of the outstanding loan(s) and show the security they can offer and the basis of the repayment proposed).

The entire Gulf Group should be reviewed as a consolidated exposure, the tangible security assessed and adequate provision set up for potential shortfall.

On this basis the figures arrived at by the Task Force were as under:

Gulf Group

		$m
Gross Exposure:
- Parent Co. (CIH) related	:	242.46
- Other Subsidiary Companies (not consolidated)	:	199.57
- Other off-shore loans	:	263.50
Total Exposure	:	705.53

Security:

Ships/Properties and Deposits, Government securities and other tangible assets	152.60
Net 'clean' exposure covered by BCCI's holding of 92% of CIH shares (Parent Holding Company)	552.93

Net Final Shortfall:	119.53
Proposed provisions for Gulf Group (Consolidated) for 1989	120.00

The Task Force have since met the owners of the Gulf Group (Mr. Abbas Gokal) and obtained from him the following:

(a) Acceptance of all liabilities of non consolidated/associated Gulf Group companies and

(b) Acceptances of all liabilities of all 'off shore' companies (as listed in Annexure P & Q)

(c) Personal Guarantee of Proprietors/Directors and

(d) Agreement that the security cover of 92% shares of GIH currently held by BCCI can be extended to cover items (a) and (b) above.

The Gulf Group is a US$1.0 billion asset company, as per its audited balance sheet, with operations in over 40 countries. Great care is required to handle this account. The Task Force feels that an intensive follow-through is required to restructure the activities of the entire Gulf Group and carefully monitor its operation in order to minimize any further significant loss to the Bank. For this shipping and financial experts will have to join the BCC Special Task Force set up for this purpose and their work should start forthwith.

8.00 Final Conclusion

8.01 Since

(a) All concerned accounts officers have been removed from their assignment or severely restricted in their operation/authority.

(b) Huge additional provision of $265 million over and above the banks already high provision for the year of $210 m has been set up.

(c) A major restructuring of the Capital of the bank and the related restructuring of shareholdings of CCAH, is in final stages, bringing additional fresh capital of perhaps $300m into the bank which will reinstate the Capital of bank to nearly 8% of risk asset.

(d) The operative machinery in Grand Cayman is being overhauled.

(e) No other location of BCC Group is involved and indeed have now closed their audited position for 1989.

(f) Major restructuring of the Group for the purpose of enhancing the management strength including perhaps direct participation by the Abu Dhabi investors group.

(g) Major re-organisation of the Group for the purpose of drastic cost cutting is already in the pipeline

Therefore

It is in the interest of all concerned who are involved in safe guarding the existence of BCC Group - the shareholders, the directors, the management, the auditors and finally the Regulators to 'close' this matter urgently and allow the Bank's Annual Report to be issued to the public, globally at the earliest.

Without this there is now a grave and real danger of a serious 'run' on the Bank, worldwide, resulting in an uncontrolled situation which would even close the entire Group with serious consequences to the 1.3 million customers, the $17 billion plus deposits the over $2 billion in Due to correspondent bank as well as the future of over 14,000 employees all of which will be in serious jeopardy.

Dear Mr. Cassella and Mr. Lewis:

We represent Union National Bank, formerly known as Bank of Credit and Commerce (Emirates) (hereinafter referred to as "UNB") as to certain specific matters. It has come to our attention that the Asset Forfeiture Office of the United States Department of Justice ("DOJ") filed on March 16, 1993 in an action entitled United States of America v. BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg), S.A., et al., Criminal Number 91-0655 (JHG) a motion for certain funds to be paid into the Court Registry Investment System. Said funds were represented to be the contents of twenty-one accounts that had been maintained at First American Bank of New York ("FABNY"). The DOJ's motion was granted by Hon. Joyce Hens Green, United States District Judge, by Order dated March 18, 1993. In its motion, the DOJ indicated that it would seek to forfeit most or all of the listed accounts.

One of the listed accounts was identified in Exhibit A to the motion as account number: 10300015 (the "Account"); account name: BCC Emirates; and approximate balance: $10,255.80.

This is to confirm that we have provided evidence to the DOJ, which it has confirmed from files of FABNY, that the aforementioned account had been closed, with a zero balance, on May 22, 1991. The account balance identified in the DOJ's motion is obviously the result of a mistake occurring after UNB had closed the Account and withdrawn all funds therefrom and does not represent property in which UNB has or claims any interest.

OPPENHEIMER WOLFF & DONNELLY

The DOJ has advised us that it has learned from a review of FABNY files that of the $10,255.80 balance it listed (the "Funds") $5,047.00 appears to have come from a transfer by Commercial Bank of Ceylon in Colobmo, Sri Lanka on July 3, 1991. We understand that the source of the balance of the Funds has not been identified at this time. UNB had given notice of the closing of the Account to its correspondent banks at or about the time the Account was closed. UNB has no unreconciled entries relating to the Account. No creditor has come forward to UNB to claim the Funds. The Funds can thus be considered unclaimed, or clearing, funds.

Given the foregoing circumstances, the most likely scenario is that the Funds were intended to be transferred to one of the BCCI accounts (in the case of the $5,047, perhaps to BCCI (Overseas) Sri Lanka, another of the 21 accounts listed) and were mistakenly transferred to the closed BCC Emirates account.

Therefore, UNB advises the Department of Justice that it has no interest in and makes no claim to the subject Funds and advises Nussbaum & Wald, as attorneys for the Liquidators of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A. and Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited, that the Liquidators for one or more of said entities may have an interest in the Funds.

Sincerely,

Ted G. Semaya

SOURCES AND UTILISATION OF FUNDS

The balances outstanding on these BCP Lux accounts at 30 September 1990 were:

ICIC Client account	- $7.2 million (debit)
One Zero Five Five	- $7.6 million (credit)
Numbered account ref 1001	- Closed

External accounts

We have been provided with details from the work on 20071 of five accounts at third party banks, which have been used for routing purposes. These involved some of the most sophisticated routings.

Three are accounts of ICIC Holdings, with two at Saudi National Commercial Bank, Bahrain and one at Credit Suisse. Again these were outside of the books at ICIC.

There are a further two accounts with Credit Suisse. One is in the name of Mashriq Holding Co Ltd, a Grand Cayman registered company which we were informed was incorporated with a name that was chosen deliberately to confuse with a Luxembourg registered company with a very similar name. The other account was in the name of North American Investment and Finance Company ("NAIF") which was incorporated in the Turks and Caicos Islands and whose sole activity appears to have been routings.

The turnover on these accounts has been:

Credit turnover:	1987 $m	1988 $m	1989 $m	1990 $m	Total $m
SNCB	-	231	550	132	913
Credit Suisse	359	371	134	21	885
	359	602	684	153	1,798

We have extracted approx 1,000 transactions from these accounts of which 590 have so far been identified.

The main sources of funding for these accounts have been deposits mainly from IBU and BCCI Bahrain, a loan draw down in BCC Emirates and repo receipts from ICIC Investments. Utilisations have included deposit reinstatement, interest servicing for off balance sheet borrowings and loan manipulation.

All these accounts are currently being analysed, however the records maintained on them are very poor and it is only in 1990 that ICIC employed

1325015-000-11898

The strategic decisions to manipulate the accounts are likely to have been taken by Mr Abedi and Mr Naqvi. The inflation of Treasury profits in the early 1980's is held out by Mr Naqvi as the sole responsibility of Ziauddin Akbar however it seems more likely that Akbar was responding to the expectations of Abedi and Naqvi.

A small group of officers close to Mr Naqvi and Mr Abedi, who were compliant to the situation and loyal to the senior management, have been responsible for executing the account manipulations and funds flows. Some of these people are still employed by the bank or are in the Advisor's Office in Abu Dhabi.

Outside of this inner circle, there appear to have been others who have played active roles in assisting the manipulation of accounts, orchestrating schemes to generate profits and who have been party to other irregular activity.

Generally they have left the bank. They include Ziauddin Akbar and M Saghir (Treasury); Dildar Rizvi (Virani, property deals, Mahfouz); Hashim Sheikh (Gulf Group); Jamil Khan (Adham, Jawhary).

It is also clear that regional management must have been aware of some of the irregularities that took place particularly when they were involved in authorising funds transfers or obtaining balance confirmations. Many other senior officers at the central office or in branches are likely to have been directly or indirectly aware that certain transactions were irregular but did not challenge them.

ICIC management, notably Mr HM Kazmi, has assisted in the improper flow of funds accepting instruction from BCCI management. This may also be the case at other related parties such as BCP, Attock and CCI.

There is little evidence of personal gain for any of these individuals. Other than Mr Abedi there are few signs of individuals living extravagantly. There have however been a lot of UK property transactions financed by the bank for staff and these warrant further investigation.

The investigation team to date have relied upon the co-operation and assistance of BCCI management and staff and interviews held have been enquiring rather than accusatory. The next stage of the investigation will include collation of the involvement of staff members across all the borrower groups and activities and an assessment of the extent of their culpability and the related evidence.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Central Credit Committee

The Central Credit Committee has not controlled the exposure to major customer groups. In many cases has been bypassed totally.

- It has been misled.

In the case of the Gulf Group, advances through offshore companies have been presented to Central Credit Committee as if totally independent with fictitious information on beneficial ownership and purpose of lending being presented.

- It has been ignored.

A significant number of advances have been approved by Central Credit Committee well after the date of drawdown. Often these have not been presented to a full meeting of the Central Credit Committee but authorised in circulation without full discussion of the circumstances.

- It has been ineffectual.

On review dates the Central Credit Committee has done nothing to bring about a reduction in exposures but in effect sanctioned the inexorable rise in limits. It is evident that so long as a proposal was understood to have the support of Mr Abedi or Mr Naqvi then Central Credit Committee approval was in effective a formality. The Central Credit Committee was passive and ineffective.

Board

There is no indication that the Board of Directors was aware of the major irregularities within the bank and it has been consistently provided with misleading and inaccurate financial and other information. Global exposures presented to the Board have on occasions been incomplete, and it has not been informed about hold harmless arrangements. A significant number of drawdowns that should have gone to the Board for approval prior to disbursement were not presented until after the event thereby effectively overriding its control.

There is no real evidence that the Board took any effective action to limit or reduce the exposure to individual customer groups nor to monitor the implementation of the Credit Policy. All major loans had to be approved by the Board and there is little evidence that proposals submitted to it were subject to rigorous scrutiny. Limits were generally increased after the event without insistence on effective recovery action.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

The Board did not adequately supervise and control a dominant management.

The Audit Committee was established in 1986 following the discovery of significant Treasury losses. It consisted of two Board Directors with Mr Naqvi attending as management's representative. Reports to the Audit Committee specifically dealt with the global exposures of the major customer groups and brought many of the serious control issues concerning the problem accounts to their attention. The Audit Committee failed to take any action and proved to be ineffectual.

Internal Audit

We have seen little evidence of internal audit's involvement in any activities relating to the problem loans, Treasury division or external funding. It is probable that internal audit's activities were limited to those dictated by Naqvi or Abedi.

External Audit

The external auditors have for many years brought issues of global exposures to the attention of the Board, regulators and the Audit Committee. However, the complex deception described earlier was specifically designed to portray that unprovided loans were performing and recoverable. False balance confirmations and other documentation were provided to disguise the nature of non-recourse loans.

Up to and including 1986 advantage was made of having two firms of auditors dealing with separate parts of the Group. Access was also restricted to related entities.

It has become clear from the investigation work that significant volumes of relevant information and documentation were purposefully kept from the auditors. The Advisor's Office filing alone contained over 6,500 files which had been kept under the personal control of Mr Naqvi and his staff.

Regulators

The BCCI Group has effectively only been regulated as a group since the establishment of a College of Regulators in 1988, the senior representatives of which are the IML and the Bank of England. Before then the IML was the principal supervisor but found itself unable to adequately deal with the diverse group operations.

The bank has misled the regulators over many years by providing only limited information on exposure to the larger borrowers, by not disclosing off balance sheet lending and by generally misleading them about the relationships with CCAH, ICIC and shareholders.

Summary of possible recoverable amounts

Set out below is a summary of amounts that are considered to be possibly recoverable from the main customer groups whose accounts have been investigated and which are included within the financial support arrangements. Unfunded accounts are not being assigned and any loss on these will fall on the bank directly. The impact of unfunded facilities on the overall recovery of assigned loans is discussed in the later detailed analyses. CCAH exposures are not dealt with in this summary.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Further investigation work

There are outstanding issues on all problem accounts. On some there will be diminishing returns on further investigation and they may not warrant much more, if any, work.

There are however a number of most important areas that will require significantly more work in order, if possible, to determine the facts and trace substantial cash flows. These include:

- Treasury activity 1981 - 1986
- Non-recourse lending of Dr Ghaith Pharaon
- Use of external funds in account manipulation and the Gulf Group

Although these investigations are continuing, ultimate determination of the facts will require better access to information from ICIC, BCP, KIFCO and SDCC.

Other areas require further investigation work to present a more complete record and to assist the legal advisors in the obtaining of information for advising on possible litigation. These would include:

- CCAH
- Virani
- Sh Kamal Adham
- Payments to individuals

Ongoing research work will also be required to assist Neil Blair and his recovery team in considering what action to take on individual accounts.

As a result of matters identified during the course of the investigation and the 1990 audit, a number of accounts have been added to the investigation.

At this stage the investigation team can now address in more detail:

- the responsibilities of bank and other personnel involved
- funds flows outside the group

1325015-000-11904

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

The investigation team will need to work closely with the legal advisors to assess the evidence and consider what action might be taken by the bank.

Consideration needs to be given to the role still to be played by the Advisor's Office. Mr Naqvi's assistance has been most important in progressing the investigation and the reconciliation work to date by his staff has been helpful. The work of the investigation team has now however rapidly gone beyond the stage reached by his staff and it is doubtful whether they have the motivation to assist the investigation team productively.

RECAPITULATION OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF APRIL 10, 1988

This being the follow up meeting of April 10, management meeting; the first item of the agenda i.e. recapitulation of the discussions of the main meeting was taken up. The participants stressed that BCC has its own culture, which is based on inter-relationships, with inter-dependence and respect for each other.

The purpose of this culture was service to clients, profit, quality and success. The essence of the matter was to achieve a fusion of individuals who are being capable in themselves also had respect for the capability and quality of others.

CAPABILITY AND GUARDIANSHIP OF GROUP OFFICERS

Mr. Ameer Siddiki initiated the discussion on item 2 and 5 of the agenda. He stressed that capability enchancement has to take place in the members of the management committee and also in the younger officers. Within the members of the management committee capability enhancement takes place through interfusion and inter-action. There should be an emphasis on the quality of interaction as well as the actual absorption of technical skills from outside.

For the younger officers. The guardianship programme has been started for the specific purpose of enhancing their capability. Their interfusion and integration in the bank is the first step. Through continuous and intense interaction with their professional guardians these younger officers should be given the opportunity to develop the necessary technical skills and awareness of the importance of the BCC Culture.

While the Capability Budget exercise enhances capability by interaction and interfusion within the members of the committees, the guardianship programme introduces younger people into BCC by creating a sense of awareness of the goals and objectives of the organisation and enhances the five components of capability i.e. source, organised being, Relationship and Marketing and Selling and commitment.

With the current changes in the regulatory climate effecting BCC, the third world debt scenario and deep penetration that we have achieved both in Latin America and North America, the need of the times is to take stock of our present situation, plan on which direction we wish to set our future strategy for each Unit and Country. How are we going to achieve this aim? Clear perception is required to organise our efforts and identify a specific market niche to service vis a vis our strengths, as a Trade Finance bank (within the parameters laid down by regulators on third world exposure). In order to exploit this identified market niche the necessary tools, i.e. enhancement/upgrading of technology, capability of people and knowledge of the market place, have to be adopted as required.

REVIEW OF BUSINESS AND PROFIT BUDGET

SUBJECT: Brazil

Budgets

	BUDGET 88	A MARCH	B MARCH	B JUNE
			(US$000's omitted)
Profit	2000	(129)	65	550
Deposits	100000	30621	22000	45000
Advances	135789	6994	42723	71202

In view of the local regulatory constraints BCC cannot handle deposits of less than 180 days maturity or checking accounts. The unit incurred shortfalls against budget for profit, advances and deposits for the first quarter.

A decline in profitability to a loss of 0.129M for the first quarter is due to the following factors:

- Foreign exchange banking license was not available thus delaying the first FEX operation to the first week of February, 1988.

- This delay effected the fee income of the unit;

- Surplus funds were thus utilised in the local syndication market. As the participation is with recourse to the lead bank, these advances are classified as due "from", thereby earning smaller spreads and incurring a shortfall in Quarterly targets;

CAY 0021829

In view of this misconception about classification of advances, BCC Brazil would revise their subsequent quarterly advances Budgets.

Because of the current regulations in force on the 3rd world debts and the provisions attracted by Brazilian exposure, ways and means were discussed to keep the upstanding exposure to a minimum; it was suggested that the following be investigated for its practicability.

1) BCC Miami may take a lien on the BCC Brazil export collections, thereby reducing the outstanding exposure by netting off the exports against the outstandings;

2) Pre planning, maturities on import bills so as to achieve reduction/repayment by the year end; thus avoiding requirement of outstanding debt provisions.

3) BCC Miami to consider purchasing export bills on a periodic basis to reduce outstanding exposure;

4) Utilising the maximum permissible over bought position.

CENTRAL AUDIT DIVISION

TITLE: CR[redacted] EXAMINATION
DATE/BRANCH:	31.05.90 GRAND CAYMAN

NAME OF BORROWER: RED SEA ENTERPRISES HOLDINGS S.A.

SUMMARY OF OBSERVATIONS, FINDINGS, EXCEPTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Red Sea Enterprises Holdings S.A. is reported to be a limited company registered in Luxembourg with paid up capital of US$15m; H.E. Sh. Kamal Ibrahim Adham owns 49% shareholding whereas Shaher Abdul Hayek Bisher owns 50% and Ahmes Khalifa owns 1% shareholding in the company. The principal business of the company is understood to be equity investment in long term projects in the Arab Republic of Egypt, the Yemen Republic and France.

The credit file indicates that a memorandum was presented to the Central Credit Committee for it's approval on 14.02.86 for the following facilities to Red Sea Enterprises Holdings S.A., the purpose of which was to set up beverages plants and meet working capital requirements :

- Secured Overdraft : US$2m
- Clean Overdraft : US$2m

The facilities were partly secured by lien on term deposit for US$2m. It was stated in the memorandum that the account has been discussed in detail with Ahmes M. Khalifa, Managing Director of the company, who has assured that the outstanding liability will be adjusted by 31.03.87.

Instead of adjustment, the borrowers were allowed excess over limit to the extent of US$6.642m, being balance as at 30.06.87, which was subsequently approved by CCC on 06.07.87 against the existing securities and with expiry date of 31.03.88.

The present facilities at Grand Cayman are covered by a limit for Red Sea Group for $30.827m which was approved by the Board of Directors at it's meeting on 30.03.89, as follows :

Name	Nature	Limit $
Red Sea Enterprises Holdings	Overdraft	13,000,000
Cairo Beverages and Industrial Company	Loan	5,500,000
	LGs	4,727,000
Alexandria Beverages and Industrial Company	Loan	3,500,000
	LGs	4,100,000
		$30,827,000

NAME OF BORROWER: RED SEA ENTERPRISES HOLDINGS S.A.

SUMMARY OF OBSERVATIONS, FINDINGS, EXCEPTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS (Contd).

Although the group was reported to have modern plants and qualified management, it was also stated that it was facing unfavourable competition from the public sector and the soft drink bottling factories were not generating sufficient cash flow even for servicing of loans.

In October 1987, the borrowers started the process of restructuring of its two subsidiaries, i.e. Cairo Beverages and Industrial Company and Alexandria Beverages and Industrial Company and requested for two short term loans of US$9m and US$2.800m with an undertaking that the 2nd loan of US$2.800m would be adjusted positively by 31.10.87 and the first loan of US$9m would be repaid before 30.06.88. The said loans were approved by CCC on 15.10.87. The borrowers could not meet their commitment and the facilities to the group were restrcutured and reviewed by CCC/Board of Directors on 17.03.89 and 30.03.89 respectively. The unsecured portion of the facilities was to be repaid within 2 years upto 31.03.91. It was stipulated that if the resources of the company are not sufficient to cover repayment and accrued interest, the shareholders will place additional funds from their own resources to secure the clean liability. In this connection, it was noted that :

a) Instead of reducing the liability, Affiliates Co-ordination Unit debited Grand Cayman account with Leadenhall Street and remitted US$2m to BCC Misr, Talaat Harb Branch for account of Red Sea with Saudi Egyptian Investment & Finance Co. on 10.10.89. Previously in 1988, $2m was similarly remitted. Customer request is not held and purpose of the remittances are not documented.

b) Since at least January 1988, no funds have been recevied in the account to repay or service interest. Follow up is not evidenced on records at Grand Cayman.

Approval of the Board of Directors for excess over the limit is not held.

Since the borrowers are reported to have started the process of restructuring it's two subsidiaries, cash flow projections and their future plans should be obtained and fresh re-appraisal of the companies, their projections and facilities with definite repayment arrangement should be undertaken and presented to the Board of Directors for approval/consideration.

Credit report/audited accounts of the company and its subsidiaries should be obtained.

Account Opening Form, duly filled in and signed by the authorised personnel, and supporting statutory documents should be obtained.

Letters of lien for the term deposit should be obtained.

BCC (Misr) is 49% owned by BCCI Holdings, but, by agreement, BCCI holdings has control over the financial and operating policies of the bank. Therefore, BCC (Misr) financials have been consolidated into BCCI Holdings financials.

The results for FY 1986 reflect a 20% decrease in net profitability growth due to a 17% drop in interest income and a slowdown in loan growth. The balance sheet reflects acceptable liquidity levels and a substantial drop in leverage levels. The leverage levels declined from 42.03X NW + sub debt at FY 1985 to 22.73X NWSD at FY 1986 due to a substantial increase in subordinated debt. The debt subordinated was obtained from BCCI (Luxembourg) SA on an inexpensive (zero interest) basis. The asset quality is difficult to evaluate due to lack of statistics, however, $10MM BCCI holdings (Luxembourg) SA and $12.5MM BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. (Grand Cayman) guarantee of potential loan losses provides more than adequate comfort. In addition, BCCI (Overseas) Ltd. has waived management fee due after year end 1986. These monies would directly and positively impact BCC (Misr)'s bottom line. Finally, after approvals of the relevant authorities, the banks share capital was increased by 100% during FY 1987.

With respect to credit risk, BCC (Misr) Sae obtains group support from BCCI (Holdings) Ltd., which given its size and adequate capitalization, would mitigate this credit risk.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Introduction

This report sets out in summary form the findings of the investigation team to date to assist discussion at the meeting of the Investigating Committee on 28 April 1991. Substantial progress has been made since the last meeting of the Investigating Committee on 26 February 1991 in corroborating the preliminary views put forward at that meeting and in obtaining further understanding and information on the matters under investigation.

A word of warning however is required. This summary report and the detailed reports prepared on each borrower group cannot be taken as representing cast iron facts. They cover enormous ground, dealing perhaps with the most complex deception in banking history spanning over ten years. The work of the committee has been carried out by a very small team for reasons of extreme secrecy whereas many of the issues and much of the research would normally demand resources several times that applied. For instance, the US Federal Reserve have many investigators researching the CCAH arrangements whereas the investigation team has only one team member dedicated to these matters. One team member has reviewed in detail the records relating to Pharaon, Virani and Crown whereas any one of these borrower groups could alone justify many times this resource. Several thousand files have been reviewed and more information is being requested each day. Full access to information continues to be an obstacle, particularly at ICIC and other related entities although some progress is now being made at BCP. Other important information available only at third party banks and elsewhere may never become available. However in every area a comprehensive picture is being built up and it is believed that what at first can only be put forward as conjecture is rapidly being established as the most likely explanation of fact.

As far as evidence is concerned we must be most circumspect. The records have been manipulated and fabricated over many years so that even the main protagonists now find it difficult or impossible to differentiate between the written fiction and the written fact. The detailed reports provide an important foundation for the taking of legal advice and the development of strategies for the recovery of funds. However there is no doubt that there will be significant further developments as research in certain areas is continued and dialogue is pursued with the borrowers concerned.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

History of the bank

The BCCI Group was founded in 1972 with capital from wealthy Arab investors in the Gulf and with Pakistani management. Bank of America initially had a 25% interest in the bank, but they divested themselves of this in 1978, causing, incidentally, a setback to BCCI's acceptability within the international banking community.

The bank grew rapidly on the international scene, and by the end of 1989 had 14,000 staff in more that 70 countries. Its assets stood at more than $23 billion. The majority of its customers have continued to come from the Arab world.

The founder of the bank, and the driving force behind this achievement until his heart transplant early in 1988, was Agha Hasan Abedi. His right hand man was Swaleh Naqvi, who continued to run the bank after Abedi fell ill. Both Abedi and Naqvi resigned as officers of the bank in October 1990 following discovery earlier in that year of the problems now being investigated.

Abedi had always been the visionary, the man who defined the broad concepts of the global role that BCCI should play; Naqvi was the man of detail, whose job it was to put Abedi's theories into practice.

Origins of the problems

The BCCI Group has always suffered from a bad press, mainly because of the problem of its identity within the public mind. Its rapid growth and a general uncertainty as to who actually owned and controlled the bank, led to scepticism in the banking community. The fact that it had no lender of last resort nor a regulatory authority on a consolidated basis also contributed to its poor image.

The reputation of the bank therefore was always regarded by Abedi and Naqvi as very vulnerable, and they believed that it could not afford to show either a weak balance sheet or poor operating results. Presenting the right image to the world also involved very heavy expenditure on suitable premises, and, particularly with the bank's highly decentralised structure, the burden of its overhead costs became very onerous.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

The results of the bank were reasonably satisfactory in the 1970s, during the boom period that resulted from the huge increase in oil wealth that took place in the Gulf region at that time. However this period was followed by the severe economic problems of the early 1980s. The fall in oil prices, the Suq al Manakh crisis in Kuwait, the shipping industry recession as well as other factors at this time all had a severe effect on BCCI's business and profitability.

Since the bank had no lender of last resort, liquidity had to be maintained at a relatively high level. This was always precarious, particularly as the bank did not have a firm US dollar or other hard currency base.

All of these factors contributed to the difficulties of maintaining the desired level of profitability, a factor that Abedi and Naqvi considered crucial to the very existence of the bank.

So it was that Abedi, and subsequently Naqvi, a little over a decade ago, began to manipulate transactions so that the bank could report good results.

In order to achieve this, they had to deal with two major problems:

- how to avoid provisioning of poor lending, including in particular the large losses within the Gulf Group loans.

- how to inflate the reported results to sustain the image of success.

It was believed that the disclosure of the full extent of the losses from poor lending could have jeopardised the existence of the bank, and therefore ways had to be found to conceal such losses and generate profits.

A very complicated series of manipulations of account balances was therefore entered into from the early 1980's, with the twin objectives of concealing losses and boosting profits. These transactions needed to be hidden from the knowledge of the other directors, from staff, from the auditors and from the regulators.

Naqvi contends that all of these manipulations were carried out solely to prevent the bank from going under. Initially they were regarded very much as temporary measures; the basic intention was to build up the premium within the BCCI shares that the bank held through nominees until they could sell those shares at, say, $50 or $60 each, and make a gain sufficient to cover the deficit.

The manipulation of accounts and the disguising of transactions still meant that many of BCCI's loans were not generating income flows. For example:

- lending secured on shares that was more akin to an investment had no dividend flows
- Gulf Group was unable to service its interest and charges
- non-recourse lending or bogus loans with no underlying assets did not generate cash.

These loans may have given the appearance of performance but this only came about through balance sheet account manipulation.

Interest expense, however, still had to be met. The burden was exacerbated by the non-recording of customer liabilities where interest expense still had to be paid even though the liability was not recorded.

The results did not improve sufficiently even with substantially inflated Treasury profits, and matters generally began to get out of control when in early 1986 the large Treasury losses were discovered during the 1985 audit. The bank had no fall-back position and matters got worse. Abedi's illness in early 1988, and the money-laundering indictment in Florida later that year compounded the bank's problems; the latter in particular did little to help the bank's image.

It became increasingly difficult to keep up the fiction, and matters were brought to a head during the 1989 year end audit, early in 1990.

Nature of the deception

A very sophisticated structuring of fictitious transactions was created in order to hide losses and to inflate profits. In addition a number of investments, including those in the bank itself, were made by using nominees, in order to circumvent the local legal requirements of the investee companies.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

The conspiracy headed by Abedi and Naqvi required the loyalty and tacit compliance of a number of the bank's senior staff, as well as the collusion of certain of its major customers and a major bank, NCB, owned by one of the shareholders.

Extensive use was made of related companies, such as ICIC, BCP and KIFCO, for the routing of fund transfers outside the group, in order to disguise the nature of the transactions taking place.

Funds from external, as well as internally created, sources were used to finance the losses concealed by the bank and give the appearance of performance.

How the accounts were manipulated

Our investigation work has shown that there have been enormous movements of funds, within and around the BCCI group, which have been required in order to cover up losses, present accounts as if performing and to make good prior period manipulations. The total funds flows in the years 1981 - 1989 which have not been directly related to valid customer transactions is likely to have been several $ billions.

The sources of funding varied over the years but included:

- Clean and purportedly secured loans created within BCCI
- Loans drawndown within BCCI and ICIC on the backing of securities where the underlying value was considered to have improved; most notably BCCI and CCAH shares.
- Borrowings from other banks not recorded in BCCI.
- Direct utilisation of funds under management at ICIC.
- Direct utilisation of customer deposits and investment portfolios.
- Clean loans drawndown at ICIC.
- Repo transactions.

The flows of funds for manipulation purposes have been extensive and has involved a vast web of transactions requiring the significant assistance of some major customers.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Funds have seldom been passed from one location directly to another but instead intermediary bank accounts have been used. These accounts were not within the accounting records of BCCI. Amongst others they included:

- Bank accounts at BCP controlled by officers of BCCI or officers of ICIC.
- Third party bank accounts of customers who were prepared to allow funds to be passed through their accounts.
- Bank accounts established for routing purposes at entities controlled by the Gulf Group.
- Bank accounts of ICIC Holdings or other ICIC related entities at third party banks.
- Bank accounts of other related parties such as SDCC and KIFCO.

Funds flows have not been in just one direction. Funds drawndown in one location would be subsequently repaid by drawdowns from another location, clearing accounts or giving the semblance of performance.

Part of the account manipulation was brought about by financing from third party banks. Lending was provided by NCB to certain CCAH related customers and to Pharaon with the funds drawndown and applied within BCCI at its direction.

We have also seen examples of regular short term lending by BAII Paris and State Bank of India which have not been recorded as liabilities due to banks by BCCI but used to adjust customer accounts over year ends.

Funds have also circuitously flowed backwards and forwards between BCCI and ICIC, which have different year ends.

The Treasury Division and most notably its manager, Ziauddin Akbar, wielded significance and power within the BCCI group and particularly in the early 1980's used a pooling system to fund the Treasury activity. Deposits were booked directly into Treasury and diverted from the branches, often booked in the name of AR Khalil. The funds would be utilised within Treasury unbeknownst to the customer. The customer would continue to have a direct relationship with the branch and would receive acknowledgement of their placements from the branch. Mr Akbar left the group in 1986 following the discovery of major Treasury losses.

Pooling systems were used to minimise the detailed recording of transactions. Funds would be placed in the pool and quickly utilised, as if repaid, creating a minimal balance. Interest expense was not accounted for within these pools.

Non-recourse lending

We have identified a significant number of loans where there is no recourse to the borrower in whose name the loans are booked. These have generally been of two types:

Lending disguising an investment

The loan would typically be secured on shares, with a side agreement between the bank and the borrower passing the benefit of the shareholding to the bank and holding the borrower harmless. Whilst the lending would be in BCCI, the side agreement would more often be with ICIC (Overseas) or ICIC Holdings. Examples of this type of lending have included loans to finance shares in CCAH, Independence Bank, BCCI Holdings, affiliates of BCCI (e.g. BCC Misr) and related entities such as SDCC and SECIF.

This lending has been further used by the bank as a source of funding for account manipulation purposes. By revaluing the underlying security to an assumed market value the bank generated further capacity for drawing down supposedly secured loans. By arranging transfers of shares between nominees at increasing values, surplus funds were made available for adjustment purposes.

Other non-recourse lending

Customers have allowed loans to be drawn down in their own names with all the risk attaching to the bank. Dr Ghaith Pharaon and CCAH related borrowers have been the most notable. At 31 December 1990 Dr Pharaon's non-recourse lending totalled over $400 million.

This non-recourse lending has been used, inter alia, for debt servicing, financing of capital notes and transferring funds to ICIC and other companies and customer accounts controlled by Abedi and Naqvi. The routings of these funds are complex and the supporting documentation scant or non-existent. A complete analysis of the ultimate destination of Pharaon non-recourse lending could take several months. Similarly, to establish the utilisation of drawdowns on CCAH related accounts for purposes other than CCAH funding will require significant additional investigation.

Some other borrowers, notably Hammoud, Saigol, Virani and Attock Oil, have allowed their accounts to be used by the bank for the parking of bad loans or for the charging of excessive interest and charges.

As has been noted earlier the non-recourse lending was often supported by a formal hold harmless letter, although in some cases this was a tacit understanding. Where necessary, to ensure that audit confirmations of balances were signed by customers, letters have been sent by the bank to the borrowers expressly concerned advising them that they should sign the letters as they will not be expected to repay the loans.

Fees paid

Fees have generally been paid to non-recourse borrowers or other favours granted, such as large facilities.

- Sayed Jawhary - $2.7 million for acting as nominee
- Hammoud - over $10 million paid for his nominee and joint venture arrangements. Much of this has been paid through ICIC
- Faisal Al Fulaij - fees of over $1 million for acting as nominee and services in Kuwait as Chairman of KIFCO
- Ruler of Ajman - $6.5 million as a notional profit accruing to him during the period he financed his CCAH shares.
- Ruler of Fujairah - fees of over $1 million in respect of CCAH nominee arrangements
- Ali Mohammad Shorafa - fees in excess of $1 million in respect of CCAH nominee arrangements

Whilst other nominee shareholders have also received fees it appears so far that neither Dr Pharaon nor Sh Kamal Adham received direct payment for arrangements with them.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

The ICIC connection and external funds

The use of ICIC and other companies and customer accounts under the control of Abedi and Naqvi as sources of funding and as vehicles for booking transactions has been established for many of the accounts reviewed.

The ICIC group, including ICIC Holdings and ICIC Investments, have fully co-operated in providing mechanisms for BCCI to mask transactions. ICIC (Overseas) is a registered bank providing private banking for a limited number of high net worth individuals. The nature of the banking arrangement is such that the accounts are kept on holdmail basis with no written contact with the depositors. ICIC (Overseas) has been used as a location to book short term loans and to provide financing for investment projects felt best to be kept out of the bank such as Attock Oil and the CCL insurance group.

A number of bank accounts controlled by ICIC or ICIC management have been used for routing funds around the BCCI Group. These include an account at Credit Suisse, Geneva for a company called North American Finance and Investment Company. At present very little is known about this company or this account.

External funds placed with ICIC and related entities have been managed by Abedi and Naqvi and channelled to BCCI for account manipulation purposes. The chief executive of ICIC group, HM Kazmi, still maintains that he was unaware of how these funds were being used within the bank and did not realise until recently that they had been lost.

However it is apparent that vast amounts of client money were passed through this route to BCCI and whilst this may have been at the behest of BCCI, ICIC must have assisted in routing funds and masking transactions.

Reconciliation work in this area is progressing however it is extremely difficult. The limited information supplied by ICIC of the inflows of funds and the scant records available at BCCI of their utilisation are making it very hard to trace the flows of funds. Full access to the records of ICIC, the full co-operation of ICIC management and information from the conduit companies, notably BCP, would enable this exercise to be expedited.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Flows of funds outside of the Group

The funds that have been circulated around the BCCI Group have been vast and the associated routings extremely complex. The interaction with ICIC and the injection of further funding from ICIC and other companies and accounts under the control of Abedi and Naqvi has complicated the position even further. As part of our investigation work we are trying to establish how these funds have been utilised and trying to ascertain what funds have actually left the Group. This may ultimately necessitate a very sophisticated matrix being established but at the moment we are concentrating on tracing the major tranches of funding. This process is slow because there are few records available that clearly show the utilisations. It is also complicated by the fact that we do not have access to the records at ICIC to prove the origin and timing of the funds flows.

The circuitous routing of funds was done to disguise transactions to make them appear third party, particularly repayments, so that loans looked as if they were performing. There would be no permanent movement of funds out of the companies controlled by Abedi and Naqvi in this situation but funds would pass through a complex loop. Through our investigation work we are attempting to find out whether any funds passed out of the loop and if they did do so, for whose benefit.

There are certain areas where it is proving extremely difficult to get the necessary information to establish which funds left the Group. Further investigation is required to establish whether the following key questions can be answered:

- At this time reconstruction of the group's Treasury activities in the early 1980's is not feasible. It is possible that deals were structured to provide benefit outside the group.

- The utilisation of customer deposits and funds from bogus loans may not all have been used for inflating Treasury profits and debt servicing. Without a full trail this cannot be proven.

- The full extent of funds passing from ICIC and other companies and accounts under the control of Abedi and Naqvi has not yet been determined. No record was maintained by BCCI and it is not known what information may be available at ICIC.

- Payments made to refinance customer borrowings at other banks may not represent the actual customer liabilities.

1325015-000-11936

- It may never be known whether advances were made in the expectation that they would be written off and were in effect in the nature of a gift.

Substantial amounts have been provided from external sources to adjust accounts. For the Gulf Group substantial sums have been used to repay other banks. It may never be clear whether or not some of this has been diverted.

We have also identified the following amounts as having passed out of the Group. Whether any of these funds made their way back has yet to be established.

- Settlement payment of $15 million to AR Khalil absolving the bank of any liability on his account
- Cash payments in small amounts on AR Khalil's accounts in 1980 - 1985 totalling $10 million
- UK property purchases through Treasury Division
- Various payments to Credit Suisse accounts of North American Investment and Finance Company
- Payments to Swiss bank accounts through Hammoud and Pharaon lending
- Commission payments to officials in Nigeria, Cameroon and elsewhere
- Settlement payment to an individual making allegations about the bank's activities in Nigeria

Ex-gratia payments

The following ex-gratia payments were made to senior employees of the bank, for the most part during the years 1987 and 1988. These employees had direct or indirect knowledge of major irregularities within the bank and the payments made to them were in effect for their silence. Some of the payments were made as loans but no attempt has been made to recover.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

BCCI share capital

The BCCI Group was established in 1972 with an original share capital of $2.5 million. Since then there have been numerous rights and scrip issues. At 31 December 1990, the share capital amounted to $845 million and there were capital notes and convertible notes outstanding of $462 million.

The investigation has revealed extensive use of nominee arrangements initially to increase the share capital of the bank in the following ways:

- Shareholdings financed directly by loans from ICIC and BCCI.

  The beneficial ownership of the present nominee shareholdings has to be established as some of the registered shareholdings may not be held in a nominee capacity. Shares which are not third party owned will need to be eliminated from the capital of the bank.

- Shareholdings financed from accounts and companies under the control of Abedi and Naqvi. During 1990, the nominee shares purchased in this way were transferred to Sheikh Khalifa.

  The legal position on the share transfers in respect of these shares has not yet been addressed and will require review by the legal advisors to confirm that effective title has passed from the nominees to the current shareholders.

Further investigation work is being carried out to match the nominee share transfers with the funding cash flows and to investigate the funding of the capital notes and convertible notes. Full access to the records of ICIC Group and related entities will be required during this work.

BCCI GROUP INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE
SUMMARY REPORT FOR MEETING ON 28 APRIL 1991

Management and control

Abuse of responsibilities

From the investigation work that has been carried out it is apparent that senior management of BCCI have been grossly irresponsible and abused their responsibilities to depositors, shareholders and investors. Clearly the Board has also failed to properly discharge its responsibilities.

The financial statements have given an entirely false account of the performance and financial position of the bank. Customer deposits have been utilised and the liability excluded from the financial statements. Shareholder transactions have not been properly recorded in the share register.

Personnel involved and style of management

The detailed reports identify the key personnel involved with the major borrower groups and in the arrangement of deception. The style of management and cultural environment at BCCI referred to earlier enabled a small group of people to exercise considerable power and autonomy which, together with access to external funds, has enabled the complex conspiracy to be perpetrated for many years without discovery. Mr Abedi engendered an aura of almost mystic quality within the bank and directions from him or Mr Naqvi or through their chosen aides were acted upon without challenge or dissent. BCCI promoted secrecy within the organisation often on the grounds of customer confidentiality but this has been abused and lead to information being kept under tight control and not made available to those who might require it.

The scale and complexity of the action taken by BCCI to mask the true picture was immense. It was more akin to a bank within a bank. Mr Naqvi has said that at the end of each day he had to manage the next day's crises and forthcoming scenarios and there is a certain amount of evidence showing how the account manipulation was planned. This involved a number of key officers and the close co-operation of ICIC. In the mid 1980's when the manipulation was probably at its peak there must have been considerable time and effort spent in detailing the routings to be used, the locations at which loans were to be drawndown and in ensuring that the true nature of transactions was adequately disguised. Many of the individuals who assisted with this have since left the bank and without their co-operation it is going to be very difficult to fully understand the mechanics concerned.

The major local shareholder Mr. Jacques Eluf (IAT 30%) had entered into an agreement with BCCI at the time the Brazilian bank was created as follows:

Mr Eluf contributed US$1,650,000 for his 30% participation of liquid capital. This continues to be his nominal amount of investment since the entire value of the license was borne by BCCI. Also, he was initially guaranteed a return based on the assumed opportunity cost of this investment as compared to the best rate of return he would have received on CD's in Brazil. The agreement referred to did not specify a maximum top to be paid to him and as a result of hyper inflation/devaluation the interest rates in cruzados shot up very high driving the amount payable to him to about US$572,000. After much negotiation US$385,000 was paid to him in 1989 for the year 1988 out of Suspense Account, which was subsequently reversed.

For the future, an agreement (enclosed) with him was modified and an upper limit was fixed i.e. US$275,000. Mr Eluf now requires the payment to be made for 1989's return of investment to his account in New York, for which we request your approval for US$275,000.

EXPENDITURE OF US$275,000.00 APPROVED

Following the acquisition of a further 11% interest in the share capital of National Bank of Oman Limited (SAO) in 1985, Management have decided to consolidate this company with the group results in the 1985 accounts with effect from the date of the acquisition of the additional shares. The group has owned a minimum of 29% of the share capital of National Bank of Oman since its establishment in February, 1973 and, under an agreement entered into at that time, the group continues to exercise management control over its financial and operating policies.

The group banks have entered into banking transactions in the normal course of business with each other and with affiliated companies. At 31st December, 1985 amounts Due from Banks and Due to Banks included balances of $223,725,000 and $131,395,000 respectively (1984: $403,404,000/$432,366,000) pertaining to affiliates which have not been consolidated.

C. Investment in Securities and Other Dealing Assets

i. Securities held for trading purposes are carried at the lower of cost and market value on a portfolio basis. Other Dealing Assets are carried at market value.

ii. Investments in Securities which are intended to be held until maturity are carried at cost. Premiums and discounts on investments redeemable at fixed dates are amortised over the period remaining to maturity.

iii. Premium income and expense relating to option trading are recognised when received or paid and provision is made at buy-back value for all open option contracts. This is a change in accounting policy which is explained further in note 20.

D. Investment in Affiliates

An affiliated company is one in which the interest of the group is long term and substantial and one over which the group exercises significant influence through participation in the affiliate's policy decisions. Except as described in note 2.A.ii, investments in affiliates are stated at cost together with the group's share of reserves and retained earnings. The group share of the profits of the affiliated companies is included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings.

E. Premises and Equipment

These are stated at cost after deducting depreciation. Depreciation has been provided on the basis of equal annual instalments to amortise the assets over their estimated useful life primarily at rates between 10 per cent and 25 per cent per annum. Capital expenditure on fixed assets which are not yet in operation is depreciated once the assets concerned are brought into use.

F. Income Recognition

Commissions and fees charged to customers are credited to income at the time of effecting the transactions.

G. Loan Loss Provision

Management review the loan portfolio of the group each year and based upon their judgment set aside specific and general provisions for loan losses. The specific element relates to identified risk facilities and the general element relates to the risks which are present in any banking portfolio but which have not been specifically identified.

SUPPLEMENTARY BRIEFING PAPER

Al Haji Sultan Fadel

$ million

Funded exposure:	31 December 1989	31 December 1988
BCCI (Overseas) - Grand Cayman	12.2	11.8
BCCI SA - Bahrain	6.2	5.6
	18.4	17.4

1 BACKGROUND

Al Haji Sultan Fadel is an Omani businessman who controls WJ Towell & Co in Oman. He is Chairman of the National Bank of Oman (NBO) holding 9.9% of the shares in his personal capacity and a further 37% through NBO.

2 SECURITY

The loans are secured on 1,818,000 RO1 shares in NBO (9.9% of the issued capital).

3 CONCERNS

(1) Evidence of recoverability

The original advance in 1985 was for $15 million. Interest has not been serviced and consequently the increase in the outstandings represents unpaid interest.

Whilst there is value in the security it is unlikely to be enforced by BCCI.

We have not seen evidence of the ability of Al Haji Sultan Fadel to service his personal external lending. Whilst he does have personal wealth and a significant shareholding in WJ Towell & Co we do not know whether he has the cash flows to repay these loans.

(2) Other concerns

These loans were advanced to enable Al Haji Sultan Fadel to purchase shares in NBO. It is more realistic to treat these as an investment of BCCI and write them down to net asset value with no interest recognition. At 31 December 1989 this would require the loans to be written down to $3 million - $9 million.

Commitments

At December 31, 1988 group companies were committed to future foreign exchange and other trading contracts arising in the normal course of business.

Pending Litigation in Tampa, Florida

The Company, BCCI S.A. and BCCI (Overseas) Limited have been indicted in Tampa, Florida for alleged money laundering in connection with transactions involving sums totalling $14 million. These charges arise out of the alleged activities of nine employees and other outside parties who have also been charged.

The charges against the Company and its subsidiaries are premised entirely upon the legal theory that a corporation in the U.S.A. is criminally liable for criminal conduct of its employees.

It is not alleged in this case that the Board of Directors, the corporate management of the Company, or any shareholders had any knowledge of, or involvement in, the alleged wrong-doing.

If convicted, BCC group entities could be subject to substantial fines and penalties, including forfeiture of certain bank property in the U.S.A. alleged to have been used by the individual defendants and related to the charges.

The BCC group and its corporate management deny the allegations and state that they have not knowingly violated any laws. The BCC group is taking necessary steps to ascertain the facts in this matter, and intends vigorously to defend itself against the charges. It is impossible at this time to determine the ultimate outcome of the litigation and, therefore, no provision has been made for any liability that may arise.

The U.S. operations of the group accounted for net income of $6 million in 1988, and total assets of $843 million.

Related parties

In the ordinary course of business the group has taken deposits amounting to $817 million (1987: $305 million) from and provided loans of $263 million (1987: $289 million) to significant shareholders and their related entities.

Subsequent Events

Subsequent to December 31, 1988, the company has increased its share capital by means of a rights issue of 1,875,000 new shares at a price of $40 per share in cash resulting in an increase in Shareholders' Equity of $75 million.

In addition, Series M Subordinated Capital Notes have been issued and paid amounting to $25 million ranking pari passu with the existing series of Capital Notes. Series M Notes carry interest at a rate of 1% above 6 months LIBOR and mature on March 31, 1995.

Report of the Directors

On behalf of the Directors I have pleasure in placing before you the Consolidated Statement of Condition and Consolidated Statement of Earnings of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. for the year ended December 31, 1988, together with the Auditors' Report.

A number of unfortunate circumstances marred the otherwise satisfactory operational results of the Group in 1988. First came the serious illness of the President, Mr. Agha Hasan Abedi, in March. He is currently making satisfactory progress. The management structure of the Group, however, showed the expected resilience and strength which ensured continuity and smooth transition. In October, we were faced with an indictment in Tampa, Florida, which alleged that nine of our employees had violated U.S. money-laundering laws by laundering $14 million. The individuals have denied the charges and are contesting them vigorously, as are the bank entities. It has not been suggested or alleged that either the corporate management or the Directors had any knowledge of the transactions. Appropriate steps have been taken in the United States and elsewhere to strengthen procedures and controls, particularly on client relationships.

Although this last event generated a high degree of adverse publicity, the Group's underlying strength and viability remained unimpaired resulting in a strong balance sheet at the year-end with assets exceeding $20 billion and an improved operating profit of $192 million for the year. The final profit figures, however, were strongly influenced by a significant increase in provisions against commercial and cross border risk situations, a step decided on as a matter of prudence and in the light of the regulatory guidelines on such risks. The decision had the full support of our shareholders who contributed to the increase of $100 million in the Group's Capital fund subsequent to the year end.

Some of the countries where the Group has an operating presence will continue to be affected by external debt problems. These remain of serious concern not only to the financial community but also to the political leaders around the world. It is clear that a fresh approach is needed requiring a large degree of financial realism and political goodwill. The recent initiatives must be seen as a positive step in the right direction.

With our geographic diversification and having made conservative provisions in 1987 and 1988, we can face the next financial year with confidence and anticipate a good improvement in our earnings.

In accordance with our well-established philosophy, a gross amount of $21 million was allocated to various charitable causes.

I take this opportunity to thank the Central Banks and Regulatory Authorities in the countries where BCC operates for their guidance and day to day assistance.

I also place on record my deep appreciation for the loyalty and hard work of each and every BCC staff member often under difficult circumstances. Their collective contribution will form the foundation for the Group's future growth in the year ahead.

The true strength of an organisation is tested when it is faced with new challenges or adverse circumstances. The year 1988 was such a year for BCC particularly in October when it found itself the subject of certain allegations made against its operations in Tampa, Florida relating to money laundering. This matter is discussed in more detail in the Report of the Directors.

The financial industry as a whole is faced with unprecedented challenge from a rapidly changing business and regulatory environment. While business becomes more and more competitive, compressing profit margins and placing extraordinary demands on the creativity and quality of management, the scope and application of new laws and regulations has already widened, directly affecting the ways in which financial institutions should conduct their business.

There is for example much greater emphasis now not merely on the knowledge of the business of a client, but more importantly the underlying sources of funding. This requires a whole set of intricate and complex control procedures and adds a new dimension to the operational aspects.

The social and legal processes in many countries have been changing, sometimes dramatically. All institutions working under such conditions need to continually update their operating policies and procedures to take account of such changes.

The various aspects of the 1988 Group Balance Sheet and Operating Results have therefore to be considered against this background.

In 1988 BCC's global structure remained more or less unchanged. The total number of branches and offices globally now stands at 417 covering 73 countries servicing 1,300,000 customers through 14,000 members of staff from 90 nationalities.

For the last three years emphasis has been on consolidation, on becoming more competitive and on securing a larger share of the markets in which the Group operates.

BCC Group continues to be engaged primarily in commercial banking, mobilising deposits and lending against short term trade and commercial transactions. Its business policies and strategies are based on providing quality banking and financial services to its customers and it always strives to follow the high ethical and moral standards required in the industry.

Group Balance Sheet and Operating Results

Capital Fund

During the year, the Group significantly increased the level of provisions against commercial and cross border risks in response to guidelines of the regulatory authorities and in recognition of the deterioration in the economies of some of the developing countries in which the Group operates. The charge of $145 million to the current year's income had a negative effect on both the results for the year and the Group's capital fund.

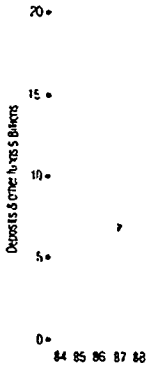
To keep the capital base strong a fresh injection of $100 million was made after the year end through a contribution of $75 million by the shareholders to the Group's equity and through the issue and subscription of new Subordinated Capital Notes for $25 million. Both issues were fully paid by early April 1989. The latest increase has enhanced the Capital Fund to over $1,500 million as compared to $1,469 million in December 1987.

Outside shareholders' interests increased by $20 million during the year mainly through retained earnings.

The capital to risk asset ratio stands at over 9% after the capital increase which compares favourably with the prevailing ratios in the industry.

Deposits and Other Funds

There was an increase in customer deposits to $15.7 billion with an addition of more than 75,000 deposit customers reflecting the continuing emphasis placed by management on the need to maintain a strong and diversified deposit base.



We are particularly satisfied with the geographical segmentation and widening base of customer deposits, bringing greater stability to available funds.

The Group's depositors include individuals, business organisations, corporations, governments, semi-government organisations, central banks and other financial and non-financial institutions.

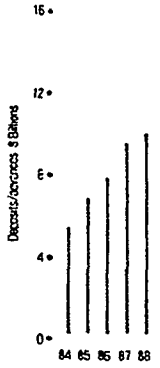
It is a pleasure to report to our shareholders, counterparties and clients that the Group was able to replenish the temporary outflow of deposits following the Tampa incident. Here we must also acknowledge the efforts of all BCC personnel globally.

Funds placed with us by correspondent banks, together with some borrowings in the inter-bank market, totalled $2.8 billion at the end of December as against $2.0 billion at the previous year end.

Total Deposits and Other Funds at the end of the year stood at $18.8 billion as compared to $17.7 billion at the end of the previous year.

Liquidity

The high liquidity policy pursued by the Group since inception continued.



At the end of the year liquid assets stood at $9.8 billion, which is over 47% of the total assets. This included cash and inter-bank balances of $6.0 billion, certificates of deposit of prime international banks of $1.6 billion and marketable securities – predominantly US Government Bonds and Treasury Notes of $2.2 billion.

Loans and Advances

Loans and Advances rose by 7% to $9.8 billion as against $9.2 billion in 1987. In accordance with our established policy these assets are well diversified geographically and by industry and maturity. The main sector remains trade-related and of a selfliquidating nature. Geographical and industry analysis of the loans and advances portfolio is given in the Notes to the Accounts.

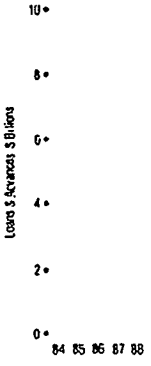
The ratio of loans and advances to customer deposits stood at 63% at the end of 1988.



Without deviating from the basic policy of keeping the loan portfolio short term and trade related in character, we are continuously reviewing our credit policies in various countries with a view to introducing new credit products where feasible, to meet our customer needs. This will include consumer finance products, small and middle market business loans, and loan initiation and packaging for onward placement with other financial institutions. With the current greater focus on the enhancement of technological and automation capability, we hope that such products will bring added value to our business and profitability.

Trade financing nevertheless remains one of our major strengths. We propose not only to retain this strength but to enhance it by introducing new products which would enable us to increase our share of the market in financing the ever growing volume of international trade now touching nearly $2.5 trillion globally. In this particular sector we are advantageously placed because of our worldwide network of branches. An increase of 16% over the previous year in the volume of international trade related transactions handled by the Group which amounted to $17.0 billion in 1988 is an indication of this strength.

Provisions

As stated earlier, it was decided to make significant additional provisions against commercial and cross border risks. After a full review of the loan portfolio, the amount of provisions charged to the current year's income was $145 million. The commercial risk portion of the provision takes into account loan-servicing problems encountered by clients in some of the developing countries where domestic economies remain adversely affected. The cross border risk portion is created in response to regulatory guidelines and relates largely to commercial loans and trade related transactions. In many cases these loans are continuing to be serviced as scheduled and the outstanding amounts, in fact, have declined.

Operating Results

The Group's combined net operating profit increased from $185 million to $192 million before Taxes and Provisions, notwithstanding such factors as the unfavourable exchange rate movements in several countries, the adverse effects of the negative publicity caused by the Tampa incident and the deterioration in the state of the economies of several countries where BCC operates.

Our Treasury activity, although it has been profitable during the year as against the loss position in both 1986 and 1987, was not able to contribute very significantly to 1988 results due to the establishment of stringent risk limits in the light of volatile market conditions.

BCC0006590

1325015 000-11974

Apart from the Loan Loss Provisions as stated earlier, the results were also affected by a higher than normal taxation provision which was primarily due to the significant profits earned in high tax areas and the unavailability of tax relief, currently, on certain expenses and loan loss provisions. During this year an amount of $74 million has been charged in the accounts for taxation. After setting aside loan loss provisions, taxation and outside shareholders' interests the result for the year was a loss of $49 million.

All of us believe that for the reasons explained the negative result of the year 1988 was an exceptional situation. The Group retains its basic profit generating capacity as is reflected by its increased operating profit of $192 million despite the adverse conditions during the year.

Compared to 1987 the net interest margin has not only been maintained but in quantum terms improved by 3%. Other operating income has significantly improved by 29%. The total income after interest cost reached $776 million an increase of 14% over the previous year. However, the total expenses have increased by 18% to $584 million.

The increase in operating expenses is partly accounted for by higher staff related expenses, particularly in the faster growing regions. This rate of increase has now subsided and we expect staff related costs to remain in check in the foreseeable future. This year, other expenses have recorded an exceptionally high increase due to certain one time expenses and high legal and communication costs; also they incorporated the expenses of BCC Argentina and BCC Brazil for the first time.

We have already embarked on a programme of rationalising operating expenses. The reduction is going to be achieved by direct cost-cutting, increased productivity and by closer monitoring.

At the same time, organised and focussed marketing efforts aimed at generating higher value business and enhancement of several fee related products should contribute to increases both in the interest spread and in fee income.

Management Structure

The management structure of the Group has been further strengthened during 1988. A greater balance is being brought between the Central Management and Regional Management. Additions have been made at the senior management levels both from within and outside the organisation. The objective is to attain a management capability which matches the needs of the diverse and changing markets and maintains a unified identity to promote the common goal and objectives of BCC Group.

Specific measures have been taken in this area which will remain under focus in the coming years and will ensure continuity and development of the Group management resources.

Human Resources

During the year the total number of personnel in the Group including Graduate Trainees rose from 13,745 to 14,090 comprising nearly 90 nationalities. Out of this 1,270 were international officers while the remaining 12,820 were local officers and staff.

BCC0006591

In BCC Human Resources development has always remained a subject of close attention by us. Much of the success which has been achieved by the Group can be attributed to the quality and commitment of our staff.

At present, in addition to a Central Management Development Unit in London, the Group has seven other Training Centres in different locations. Several programmes for the development of the capability of BCC's human resources and their professional and technical skills are being pursued.

Plans are also in hand to systematically review and enhance the productivity of staff and utilisation of their energy. This has become particularly urgent in view of the Group's policy to rationalise its operating expenses and make them commensurate with performance and results.

Regional Overview

The segment analysis given in the Notes to the Accounts and some of the graphs in this report illustrate the regional diversification of the BCC Group's Deposit and Advances base, and provides an indication of the relative importance of each region of BCC Group's operations. The salient features of various Regional areas are highlighted hereunder.

Far East

The Far East has been, during recent years, a prosperous geographical region and continues to hold enormous promise and potential of economic growth.

The importance given to this Region by BCC and efforts expended in developing its operations there are now bearing fruit. In 1988 the region contributed $1,757 million to the Deposit base of the group and $28 million towards its operating profit.

BCC Hong Kong has consolidated its position during the last three years and, with 29 branches in Hong Kong, is well poised for making significant contributions to Group results.

BCC was amongst the first international banks to establish a presence in China after the introduction of its new economic policies. It now has four representative offices in China with a branch in Shenzhen. The branch has developed substantial contacts with encouraging business prospects.

Japan remains a highly competitive market but BCC's branch in Tokyo has already started to provide good support to the Group's business.

BCC's branch in Seoul, South Korea, is a strong contributing operation, which also provides a valuable link with Korean businesses in many other countries where BCC operates.

There is a continuous process of upgrading the mangement, marketing and technological capability in the region. This includes development of technology-driven products and real time on line computer linkage for the whole region providing a wide range of consumer services.

South Asia

India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Maldives, the countries of the Indian subcontinent, have been consistently high performers in the BCC Group. Our historical knowledge of customers and business conditions provides an inherent strength and competitive edge to our operations in the region.

In addition to international trade finance BCC is also active on a selective basis in the domestic markets. In 1988 the region contributed significantly to the profit of the Group. Prospects for further improvement in the contribution of this region to Group results remain very encouraging in the coming years.

The Middle East

The Middle East is not only BCC's major shareholders' base, but continues to be a significant contributor to its deposits, profits and other business.

Nothwithstanding the decline in the revenues of oil exporting countries, the overall state of the economies and their long term future remain healthy.

There is a wider dispersal of wealth and more efficient use of resources. Investment income is now an important part of the Government's revenue. Evolution of regional co-operation will gradually bring greater stability to the economies of member countries. The number of high net worth individuals is large and provides a valuable source of our customer deposits.

BCC Group has three major locally incorporated banks in the Region – BCC Emirates with 16 branches in UAE, BCC Misr with 19 branches in Egypt and National Bank of Oman with 49 branches in Oman and 3 abroad. Being local banks, they participate fully in all kinds of business and remain among the leading financial institutions in each country, contributing to the Group results in 1988 very effectively.

Additionally, BCC Group has 31 other branches in the region with stable streams of business and income during 1988.

Both Governments and individuals in this Region have large investments overseas. With BCC's international network of branches it offers a twofold opportunity to such clients both in terms of local business and in handling their international business. Because of traditional relationships, the Group continues to be optimistic about its growth prospects in the countries of this Region.

Africa

BCC has a wide coverage of the countries in the continent. It has presence in 19 countries through 11 Group banks and 84 branches.

BCC first established its presence in the African continent in 1976. Since then it has acquired considerable experience and extensive knowledge of African countries and their economies.

Other than its exposure to Nigeria on account of commercial and trade related transactions, the Group's cross border exposure to most other African countries is well controlled.

DC 006559

BCC0006593

1325015-000-11977

Notwithstanding the generally sluggish economy in many countries of Africa during 1988, the BCC locations contributed well to both the Group balance sheet and to its operating profit.

In the foreseeable future, while the cross border exposure will remain controlled, the local subsidiaries and branches will continue to expand the domestic business within the overall framework of Group policies.

The deposit base will be widened through organised marketing effort and local lending opportunities will be selectively sought.

The UK and Europe

This is a region of growing importance to the Group. It covers most of the major countries in the EEC, as well as Switzerland and Turkey, through 80 branches and offices.

The Group's network of banking offices offers an excellent opportunity to BCC for participating in the prospects arising out of 1992 EEC unification plans.

In preparation for 1992 and to provide BCC's operations in Europe with greater depth and to take advantage of these opportunities, the Group has initiated a new plan with short term and long term goals.

Pursuant to this plan, it is restructuring its management and marketing resources in the region. Automation and technology is being upgraded to enable the bank to develop technology based products and delivery systems to compete in a more unified European market.

Despite intense competition, BCC is focusing on special niches of business and continues to rely on its intrinsic strength as a marketing orientated global bank. It will optimise on its overseas customers' requirements for banking services in Europe. It will similarly develop effective relationships with European corporations for services required by them in countries outside Europe where BCC has a presence.

While deregulation is a challenge to competitiveness, it is also an opportunity for institutions like BCC who could develop capability to serve such market segments which require specialisation, more personalised approach and a high level of efficiency.

Already the region makes a significant contribution to the Group results. In 1988 this amounted to $4,420 million in Deposits, $6,757 million in Assets and $24 million in operating profit. By following the above strategy, BCC expects to enhance this contribution in the coming years.

North America

BCC has been attempting to establish a presence in the North American Region, consisting of Canada and the USA, over the last few years and was intending eventually to make it a major region of the group. While BCC Canada continues to show steady growth, in the USA – where we have six banking offices – the local operation suffered from the Tampa incident.

Nevertheless the US operation has an assets base in excess of $843 million, and

BCC0006594

1325015-0000-11978

Management Report

contributes $10 million to operating profits and has a sound customer base on which to build. It is our committed programme to resolve satisfactorily the events in Florida, significantly improve internal operations and controls and achieve the steady progress it had once anticipated in the US mainland.

Latin America and the Caribbean

BCC Group covers 13 countries in the region. Notwithstanding the well known Latin American debt burden and high inflation rate the internal economies of each of these countries provide adequate selective domestic and trade related business opportunities for a global bank with a local presence.

It is expected that in the next 5 to 10 years, once the debt issue is brought under some kind of a workable discipline, some of these countries will re-emerge as significant economic forces both in international trade and finance as well as growing domestic markets.

BCC has established its presence in this region with a long term objective. For the time being, its cross border exposure to most of the countries in the region is negligible and the emphasis remains on domestic and trade related business opportunities.

In 1988 most of the units in the Region continued to build up their deposit base and achieved encouraging profitability.

Future Prospects

We live in an age of innovative competition which is unlikely to slacken; the traditional roles of financial institutions are being radically transformed; there is a global urge towards a new interdependent order in trade, financial co-operation and economic development.

BCC, founded as a truly international bank, matches the needs of the present with the likely needs of the future. It is committed to the principle of promoting local and international trade and to be the bridge between the developing and the developed countries of the world. BCC today has the fifth largest banking network in the world, spread over Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, the Far East, the Middle East, North and South America, serving them through a dedicated team of 14,000 people.

BCC claims no country as its own, but treats every city and every town it operates in as its home. It is committed to local communities with its belief that indigenous enterprise can benefit from the application of financial skills and knowledge acquired through years of international experience.

Through these unique features of BCC, we propose to optimise our market share and contribution in promoting and financing international trade and attracting investment from surplus countries to the developing countries. In providing such services we shall also promote sophisticated and technology driven products and enhance the professional and technical skills of human resources so that our capabilities do not begin to lag behind new opportunities.

Management Report

BCC is at a threshold in the process of its future development. Whereas it continues to progress and grow in the markets where it is more entrenched, such as the Far East, Middle East, South Asia and Africa, it has to adopt new policies and strategies in other markets, particularly industrialised countries, to enhance and further diversify its profitability and also meet the ever changing expectations of the customer.

BCC has, therefore, set up a Strategy & Planning Group in its management structure distinct from its existing Planning Division. This group will formulate short and long term strategies of business. It will make a careful assessment of each geographic region's potential and possibilities taking into account economic and political conditions, the nature of competition, the products in demand and those for which demand can be created.

Success is the best motivator and enhances creativity. The Strategy Group will therefore also identify the sectors where BCC could be more successful in the immediate future. This group will also be responsible for matching the possibilities with BCC's marketing capability either present, enhanced or acquired.

In the new strategy, this aspect is already being given greater attention. A significant number of senior bankers from other large international banks have already joined BCC. The process of education, training and skill development of the existing staff is being improved and accelerated, both by in-house facilities and with the assistance of outside expertise.

While our products, delivery systems, and market niches may undergo changes, our basic business and the principles of conducting the same are not expected to change in the near future. This means that:

— our principal activities will be in the area of commercial banking — our business policies will be based on the following preferences:

  - o High liquidity to be maintained through broad based and diversified customer deposits.
  - o Cost of deposits will continue to be kept at an economic level.
  - o Quality of assets to remain high – largely short term, self-liquidating.
  - o Quality profit generated both from sustainable and regular streams and through short term transactions and deals.

BCC is destined to earn its distinction by the quality of its operation and by the role it plays as a link between what is and what is possible – a bridge between developing and developed countries.

We have every reason to look to the future with confidence and are determined to make 1989 significantly better than last year.

Notes to the Consolidated Accounts

December 31, 1988

Incorporation and Activities

BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A. is incorporated in Luxembourg and is the ultimate holding company of the Bank of Credit and Commerce group. The group provides commercial banking and related services in 73 countries.

2.
Significant Accounting Policies

These accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by revaluation of freehold property in accordance with International Accounting Standards. The significant accounting policies are as follows:

A Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated accounts comprise those of BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., its subsidiary companies and certain affiliated companies, as detailed in Note 6. The accounts of these affiliated companies as set out in Note 6 (ii) are consolidated since the holding company owns in each case a minimum of 40 per cent of the issued share capital and, by agreement, the group is entitled to exercise control over their financial and operating policies.

Cost of acquisition in excess of attributable net tangible assets at the date of acquisition is included in investment in affiliates and goodwill and is amortised over the shorter of its estimated useful life and a period of forty years.

B Currency Translation

i Assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies are translated into United States Dollars at appropriate year-end rates of exchange. Income and expenses are translated at average rates for the year.

ii Gains and losses on translation of foreign currencies arising from the group's normal trading activities are credited or charged to income as they arise.

iii Translation differences arising from the application of year-end rates of exchange to opening net assets denominated in foreign currencies are taken directly to General Reserve.

iv Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at market rates ruling at the year-end, except in the case of contracts covered by corresponding swap transactions where the resulting premium or discount is amortised over the period of the transactions.

C Investment in Securities and Other Dealing Assets

i Securities and Other Dealing Assets held for trading purposes are carried at market value.

ii Investments in Securities which are intended to be held until maturity are carried at cost. Premiums and discounts on investments redeemable at fixed dates are amortised over the period remaining to maturity.

iii Premium income and expense relating to option trading are recognised when received or paid and provision is made at buy-back value for all open option contracts.

BCC0006601

DC 006567

1325013 000-11984

continued

D Investment in Affiliates

Investment in affiliates comprises companies in which the interest of the group is long term and substantial and one over which the group exercises significant influence through participation in the affiliates' policy decisions. Except as described in Note 2 A, investments in affiliates are stated at cost together with group's share of reserves and retained earnings. The group share of the profits of the affiliated companies is included in the Consolidated Statement of Earnings.

E Property and Equipment

Property and Equipment are stated at cost except for freehold premises which are at amounts determined by periodic valuations. Depreciation is provided on the basis of equal annual instalments to amortise the assets over their estimated useful life primarily at rates between 10 per cent and 25 per cent per annum. Capital expenditure on fixed assets which are not yet in operation is depreciated once the assets concerned are brought into use.

F Income Recognition

Interest income and expense are recognised on the accruals basis. Commissions and fees charged to customers are credited to income at the time of effecting the transactions to which they relate.

G Loan Loss Provision

Management review the loan portfolio of the group each year and based upon their judgement set aside specific and general provisions for loan losses. The specific element relates to identified risk facilities, including cross border exposure to troubled-debtor countries, and the general element relates to the risks which are present in any banking portfolio but which have not been specifically identified.

H Taxation

Provision is made by the liability method for all foreseeable local and overseas taxation liabilities after allowance for such reliefs as are available in each location.

I Other Appropriations

Contributions to the Staff Benefit Fund and Donations and Grants are entirely discretionary in nature and based on the available net resources of the group and subject to the annual approval of the Shareholders. These amounts, net of the associated tax relief, are classified under Other Appropriations in the Consolidated Statement of Retained Earnings and Other Reserves.

Certificates of Deposit

The certificate of deposit portfolio is carried at cost as adjusted for unamortised premiums or discounts. Of the total portfolio, certificates of deposit totalling $1,225 million (1987: $1,423 million) mature on dates in excess of one year from the year-end.

WMFO FAST has a limited role acting as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from criminal orders of forfeitures in the above captioned investigation. Attached is the fourth criminal order of forfeiture entered by the Honorable JOYCE GREEN, United States District Judge, District of Columbia forfeiting properties of the Bank and Commerce International (BCCI) and of the International Credit and Investment Company (Investments). This order was entered on December 21, 1994.

For information of FSPU, WMFO FAST only recently learned of the fourth criminal order of forfeiture from the case agent, [redacted] SA, FBI (WMFO). Trial Attorney's [redacted] b6 b7C DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE (DOJ) have handled all forfeiture matters concerning this investigation. WMFO FAST has not been kept apprised by DOJ of any claims, petitions, or objections concerning the assets seized pursuant to the fourth court order.

In conclusion the U.S. Marshals in New York City are still in the process of taking possession of the assets outlined in the fourth court order. SA [redacted] WMFO FAST will keep FSPU b6 b7C informed of any new developments as the information becomes available.

Title: U.S. v. BCCI Holdings

Synopsis: CLOSING COMMUNICATION

Details: The purpose of this communication is to summarize recent events surrounding the 63 seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation. On 2/1/99, several members of DOJ, USMS, and FBI met to determine how to close out the BCCI seizures entered in the CATS database as the Sixth and Final Order of Forfeiture had been entered into as of 12/22/98. A summary of this meeting is attached as reference. In brief, it was decided that the 63 BCCI individual seizures entered into CATS would be deleted in exchange for 6 seizures entered into CATS corresponding to each of the six orders of forfeiture. The following CATS ID numbers and corresponding seizure numbers were utilized for the respective orders of forfeiture.

92-FBI-000460 (3920-92-F-0115; 1st Order - 1/24/92 & 1/31/92)
92-FBI-000461 (3920-92-F-0116; 2nd Order - 7/29/92)
92-FBI-000462 (3920-92-F-0117; 3rd Order - 8/19/93)
95-FBI-003535 (3920-95-F-0097; 4th Order - 12/21/94)
96-FBI-003688 (3920-96-F-0097; 5th Order - 9/20/96)
99-FBI-000970 (3920-99-F-0092; 6th Order - 12/22/98)

The USMS has taken the responsibility for associating each of the 63 individual seizures with the 6 seizures for each order of forfeiture. Attached for reference is a spreadsheet which correlates each of the 63 seizures with the appropriate order of forfeiture. The USMS will make entries to the itemized list in CATS which will detail the total amount received for each

Subject: HIDDEN INTERESTS;
MAJOR CASE #38;

00:WMFO

WMFO FAST has a limited role acting as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from criminal orders of forfeitures in the above captioned investigation. Attached is the fourth criminal order of forfeiture entered by the Honorable JOYCE GREEN, United States District Judge, District of Columbia forfeiting properties of the Bank and Commerce International (BCCI) and of the International Credit and Investment Company (Investments). This order was entered on December 21, 1994.

For information of FSPU, WMFO FAST only recently learned of the fourth criminal order of forfeiture from the case agent, [redacted] SA, FBI (WMFO). [redacted] STEF CASSELLA and [redacted] DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE (DOJ) have handled all forfeiture matters concerning this investigation. WMFO FAST has not been kept apprised by DOJ of any claims, petitions, or objections concerning the assets seized pursuant to the fourth court order. b6 b7C

In conclusion the U.S. Marshals in New York City are still in the process of taking possession of the assets outlined in the fourth court order. SA [redacted] WMFO FAST will keep FSPU informed of any new developments as the information becomes available. b6 b7C

Enclosures: Facsimile of schedule of distribution to USMS Service from May 5, 1993 to December 31, 1995 & summary of cumulative distribution to USMS.

Details: On 1/15/96, Robb Evans and [redacted] b6 b7C handling the liquidation of assets in the captioned investigation provided the attached chart. From 5/15/93 until 12/31/95, $88,000,000.00 has been remitted to US Marshals Service (via wire transfer) pursuant to four criminal orders of forfeiture.

Assets being liquidated range from fungible property i.e. cash to real estate involving other investors not associated with this investigation. Assets are continually being liquidated from all four forfeiture orders. More complex assets take longer to liquidate depending on the real estate market and other economic indicators.

Assets remitted to date off the December 1994 fourth order equal approximately $19,000,000.00. A fifth order of forfeiture is scheduled in late January of 1996.

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, and

1325015-000-9877

A. With respect to the excess funds from the liquidation of the California agency of BCCI S.A., the United States shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person to whom it sent notice of the forfeiture of the first set of such funds pursuant to the Third Order of Forfeiture (August 19, 1993) and who did not file a claim;

B. The United States shall send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person appearing to have, or asserting, a shareholder's interest in CCAH, so that such person might have an opportunity to file a claim asserting that his or her ownership interest in CCAH is greater than the interest described in the determination submitted July 11, 1994, by the Department of Justice and the Federal Reserve, and that the defendants' ownership interest is correspondingly less than the 61.156 per cent described in that determination. The United States, however, shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary hearing to any creditor or lienholder of CCAH, CCAI, FAC or FAB. Because this Order of Forfeiture provides only for the forfeiture of 61.156 percent of the funds distributable to CCAH shareholders, and such distribution will not occur before payment or provision for all liabilities of CCAH, CCAI, FAC and FAB, creditors and lienholders of CCAH, CCAI, FAC and FAB have no legal interest in the property subject to the ancillary hearing.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Enclosures: Facsimile of schedule of distribution to USMS Service from May 5, 1993 to December 31, 1995 & summary of cumulative distribution to USMS.

Details: On 1/15/96, Robb Evans and [redacted] b6 b7C handling the liquidation of assets in the captioned investigation provided the attached chart. From 5/15/93 until 12/31/95, $88,000,000.00 has been remitted to US Marshals Service (via wire transfer) pursuant to four criminal orders of forfeiture.

Assets being liquidated range from fungible property i.e. cash to real estate involving other investors not associated with this investigation. Assets are continually being liquidated from all four forfeiture orders. More complex assets take longer to liquidate depending on the real estate market and other economic indicators.

Assets remitted to date off the December 1994 fourth order equal approximately $19,000,000.00. A fifth order of forfeiture is scheduled in late January of 1996.

Details: On 4/10/96, [redacted], Asset b6 b7C
Forfeiture/Money Laundering Section, Department of Justice furnished the following information: The fifth order of forfeiture in the above captioned investigation has been delayed. No specific date has been scheduled but [redacted] anticipates within the next four to six weeks the court will issue the fifth order of forfeiture. The reason for the delay is to ensure DOJ has an opportunity to identify all potential assets subject to forfeiture.

[redacted] concluded the conversation by stating the BCCI b6 b7C investigation is "getting toward the end." She does not believe additional orders of forfeiture are "imminent." However, it may take Robb Evans, the court appointed trustee a significant length of time to liquidate assets (i.e real estate). Then [redacted] promised to contact SA [redacted] when the fifth order of forfeiture becomes available.

00:WMFO

WMFO FAST has a limited role acting as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from criminal orders of forfeitures in the above captioned investigation. Attached is the fourth criminal order of forfeiture entered by the Honorable JOYCE GREEN, United States District Judge, District of Columbia forfeiting properties of the Bank and Commerce International (BCCI) and of the International Credit and Investment Company (Investments). This order was entered on December 21, 1994.

For information of FSPU, WMFO FAST only recently learned of the fourth criminal order of forfeiture from the case agent, [redacted] SA, FBI (WMFO). Trial Attorney's [redacted] b6 b7C DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE (DOJ) have handled all forfeiture matters concerning this investigation. WMFO FAST has not been kept apprised by DOJ of any claims, petitions, or objections concerning the assets seized pursuant to the fourth court order.

In conclusion the U.S. Marshals in New York City are still in the process of taking possession of the assets outlined in the fourth court order. SA [redacted] WMFO FAST will keep FSPU b6 b7C informed of any new developments as the information becomes available.

MAJOR CASE # 38;
OO:WMFO

Enclosures: Facsimile of schedule of distribution to USMS Service from May 5, 1993 to December 31, 1995 & summary of cumulative distribution to USMS.

Details: On 1/15/96, Robb Evans and [redacted] Court appointed trustees handling the liquidation of assets in the captioned investigation provided the attached chart. From 5/15/93 until 12/31/95, $88,000,000.00 has been remitted to US Marshals Service (via wire transfer) pursuant to four criminal orders of forfeiture. b6 b7C

Assets being liquidated range from fungible property i.e. cash to real estate involving other investors not associated with this investigation. Assets are continually being liquidated from all four forfeiture orders. More complex assets take longer to liquidate depending on the real estate market and other economic indicators.

Assets remitted to date off the December 1994 fourth order equal approximately $19,000,000.00. A fifth order of forfeiture is scheduled in late January of 1996.

Details: On 4/10/96, [redacted] Trial Attorney, Asset b6 b7C Forfeiture/Money Laundering Section, Department of Justice furnished the following information: The fifth order of forfeiture in the above captioned investigation has been delayed. No specific date has been scheduled but [redacted] anticipates within the next four to six weeks the court will issue the fifth order of forfeiture. The reason for the delay is to ensure DOJ has an opportunity to identify all potential assets subject to forfeiture.

[redacted] concluded the conversation by stating the BCCI b6 b7C investigation is "getting toward the end." She does not believe additional orders of forfeiture are "imminent." However, it may take Robb Evans, the court appointed trustee a significant length of time to liquidate assets (i.e real estate). Then [redacted] promised to contact SA [redacted] when the fifth order of forfeiture becomes available.

Forfeiture, July 29, 1992.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants which it believes are forfeitable to the United States under the January 24 Order. These assets were described in a proposed Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property which was attached as Exhibit A to the government's motion.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that all property listed in the government's proposed Third Supplemental List, except property held by BCC (Misr) S.A.E.[1], is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States.

Accordingly, it is hereby

ORDERED that the property listed on the attached Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, which has been amended to exclude property of BCC (Misr) S.A.E., is forfeited to the United

[1] At this stage of the proceedings, the government has not satisfactorily established that BCC (Misr) S.A.E., which was a separately incorporated entity, was the alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants. For example, the government has used equivocal language when describing the relationship between BCC Misr and the corporate defendants, stating that the subsidiary's operations were "somewhat enigmatic" and that the subsidiary "appears to have been most closely linked with BCCI (Overseas) Ltd." May 10, 1992 Declaration of Robert C. Dalton at 14. Indeed, the government has conceded that many of the subsidiary's transactions "may have been legitimate." Id. Should the government present additional evidence supporting its assertion that BCC Misr should be considered an alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants, the Court will reconsider its conclusion.

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("January 24 Order") to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The January 24 Order provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the January 24 Order contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992 and were to be seized by the United States Marshals Service on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the January 24 Order to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the January 24 Order at various times to include additional assets, including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property. Forfeiture, July 29, 1992.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants which it believes are forfeitable to the United States under the January 24 Order. These assets were described in a proposed Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property which was attached as Exhibit A to the government's motion.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that all property listed in the government's proposed Third Supplemental List, except property held by BCC (Misr) S.A.E.[1], is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States.

Accordingly, it is hereby

ORDERED that the property listed on the attached Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, which has been amended to exclude property of BCC (Misr) S.A.E., is forfeited to the United

---

[1] At this stage of the proceedings, the government has not satisfactorily established that BCC (Misr) S.A.E., which was a separately incorporated entity, was the alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants. For example, the government has used equivocal language when describing the relationship between BCC Misr and the corporate defendants, stating that the subsidiary's operations were "somewhat enigmatic" and that the subsidiary "appears to have been most closely linked with BCCI (Overseas) Ltd." May 10, 1992 Declaration of Robert C. Dalton at 14. Indeed, the government has conceded that many of the subsidiary's transactions "may have been legitimate." Id. Should the government present additional evidence supporting its assertion that BCC Misr should be considered an alter ego of one or more of the corporate defendants, the Court will reconsider its conclusion.

FILED

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

RECEIVED
SEP 23 9 12 AM '96
U.S. MARSHAL

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, a Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, August 19, 1993, and a Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, December 21, 1994.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants that are forfeitable to the United States under the First Order of Forfeiture. These assets are described in Exhibit A to the government's motion which includes assets held in the names of the four corporate defendants, as well as assets nominally held by other persons and entities.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that the property listed in the government's Exhibit A is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States. Accordingly, it is hereby

1. ORDERED that the property listed on government's Exhibit A, including Addenda 1 through 3, is forfeited to the United States;

2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, is hereby amended to include government's Exhibit A and the Addenda as a Fifth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property;

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List shall be transferred to the United States as follows:

1325015-000-5884

A. All property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is described as being the excess of the liquidation of the agencies of BCCI S.A. in New York and California shall be managed by the Court-Appointed Trustee, Robb Evans, and transferred to the Marshals in accordance with this Court's Orders Appointing Trustee of March 5, 1993 (with respect to the California property) and July 20, 1994 (with respect to the New York property);

B. Any property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is now in the Court Registry Investment System shall be transferred to the Marshals Service forthwith along with any interest accrued since the funds were deposited in the Investment System;

C. With respect to the property referred to as One Pacific Plaza, Fremont, California, all interest in that property held by the Kuwait International Finance Company ("KIFCO") is forfeited to the United States, and Robb Evans, the court-appointed trustee, is authorized to liquidate the forfeited interest on behalf of the United States in conjunction with the on-going liquidation he has been previously been appointed to conduct, to satisfy any tax liens held by any taxing authority in the State of California, and to transfer the remaining proceeds of the liquidation to the United States Marshals Service in his next regular transfer of funds following the liquidation. The liquidation shall be completed in any event not later than December 31, 1997; unless due to exigent circumstances and based upon a sufficient showing, the Court extends such date by Order.

D. With respect to the property described as a debenture issued by CCAH in favor of the Credit and Finance Corporation ("CFC"), the court finds that CFC was the alter ego of the BCCI defendants and that accordingly any amount due to be paid by CCAH to CFC is forfeited to the United States; accordingly, any funds that would be payable with respect to the debenture by Harry W. Albright Jr., the court-appointed trustee for First American Bank, in accordance with the Procedural Order issued December 21, 1994, shall be paid to the United States Marshals Service with accrued interest as soon as practicable;

E. With respect to the assets held in the names of BCC Argentina and BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L., the court finds that the corporate form should be disregarded and the assets held by these entities are forfeited to the United States. The assets of BCC Argentina formerly at the Bank of New York are already in the possession of the Marshals Service. American Express Bank is directed to provide the Marshals Service with the account number and current balance of any account held by BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L. within 10 days of the date of this order and to transfer said balance to the Marshals Service at that time.

F. With respect to the funds remaining from the sale of 2560 Skyfarm Drive, Hillsborough, Calif. the Marshals shall retain $269,791.56, plus accrued interest, as property forfeited to the United States, and shall return the balance, plus accrued interest, to the court-appointed fiduciaries in recognition of the fiduciaries' expenses in connection with the sale.

1325015-000-5886

G. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize forthwith all other property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List that is not already in the possession of the Marshals Service;

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that it shall be the responsibility of the United States to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim asserting legal right, title or interest in all property subject to this Order pursuant to section 1963(l) with the following qualification: With respect to the excess funds from the liquidation of the California and New York agencies of BCCI S.A., the United States shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person to whom it sent notice of the forfeiture of the first set of such funds pursuant to the Third and/or Fourth Order of Forfeiture and who did not file a claim;

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that with respect to the real property now held by Robb Evans as a consequence of the New York Superintendent of Banks' transfer to him of stock in corporations holding such property, the property forfeited to the United States pursuant to this Order and pursuant to the Fourth Order of Forfeiture shall include the corporations themselves, the stock in the corporations holding the real property, the real property, and all other corporate assets.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES

The Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) has been acting primarily as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from five criminal orders of forfeiture in U.S. v Hidden Interests; Major case number 38. [redacted] Trustee has been appointed to oversee the complex assets listed in the five criminal BCCI forfeiture orders. On 02/05/97, [redacted] completed a $1,100,000.00 (one million one hundred thousand dollars) wire transfer to the United States Marshals Service in New York representing the liquidation of cash assets from the fifth order of forfeiture. b6 b7C

On October 4, 1988, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI"). [redacted] (all officers of BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with conspiracy (18 U.S.C. Section 371), money laundering (18 U.S.C. Section 1956 (a) (1) & (2), and drug conspiracy (21 U.S.C. Section 846). The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers, [redacted] and two narco-traffickers, [redacted], were indicted on May 4, 1989. b6 b7C

[redacted]

On January 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, BCCI) and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. An order of forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Four additional supplemental orders of forfeiture have been issued by Judge Joyce Green, United States District Court, District of Columbia concerning BCCI. [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division has advised until all potentially forfeitable assets have been identified that no final orders of forfeiture will be issued by the court.

FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES

The Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) has been acting primarily as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from five criminal orders of forfeiture in U.S. v Hidden Interests; Major case number 38. [redacted] Trustee has been appointed to oversee the complex assets listed in the five criminal BCCI forfeiture orders. On 02/05/97 [redacted] completed a $1,100,000.00 (one million one hundred thousand dollars) wire transfer to the United States Marshals Service in New York representing the liquidation of cash assets from the fifth order of forfeiture. b6 b7C

On October 4, 1988, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI Holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI"). [redacted] (all officers of BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with conspiracy (18 U.S.C Section 371), money laundering (18 U.S.C. Section 1956 (a) (1) & (2), and drug conspiracy (21 U.S.C. Section 846). The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers, [redacted] and two narco-traffickers, [redacted] were indicted on May 4, 1989. b6 b7C

On January 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, BCCI) and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. An order of forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Four additional supplemental orders of forfeiture have been issued by Judge Joyce Green, United States District Court, District of Columbia concerning BCCI. [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division has advised until all potentially forfeiture assets have been identified that no final orders of forfeiture will be issued by the court.

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

RECEIVED
SEP 23 9 12 AM '96
U.S. MARSHAL'S OFFICE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, a Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, August 19, 1993, and a Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, December 21, 1994.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants that are forfeitable to the United States under the First Order of Forfeiture. These assets are described in Exhibit A to the government's motion which includes assets held in the names of the four corporate defendants, as well as assets nominally held by other persons and entities.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that the property listed in the government's Exhibit A is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States. Accordingly, it is hereby

1. ORDERED that the property listed on government's Exhibit A, including Addenda 1 through 3, is forfeited to the United States;

2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, is hereby amended to include government's Exhibit A and the Addenda as a Fifth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property;

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List shall be transferred to the United States as follows:

1325015-000-5668

A. All property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is described as being the excess of the liquidation of the agencies of BCCI S.A. in New York and California shall be managed by the Court-Appointed Trustee, Robb Evans, and transferred to the Marshals in accordance with this Court's Orders Appointing Trustee of March 5, 1993 (with respect to the California property) and July 20, 1994 (with respect to the New York property);

B. Any property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is now in the Court Registry Investment System shall be transferred to the Marshals Service forthwith along with any interest accrued since the funds were deposited in the Investment System;

C. With respect to the property referred to as One Pacific Plaza, Fremont, California, all interest in that property held by the Kuwait International Finance Company ("KIFCO") is forfeited to the United States, and Robb Evans, the court-appointed trustee, is authorized to liquidate the forfeited interest on behalf of the United States in conjunction with the on-going liquidation he has been previously been appointed to conduct, to satisfy any tax liens held by any taxing authority in the State of California, and to transfer the remaining proceeds of the liquidation to the United States Marshals Service in his next regular transfer of funds following the liquidation. The liquidation shall be completed in any event not later than December 31, 1997; unless due to exigent circumstances and based upon a sufficient showing, the Court extends such date by Order.

D. With respect to the property described as a debenture issued by CCAH in favor of the Credit and Finance Corporation ("CFC"), the court finds that CFC was the alter ego of the BCCI defendants and that accordingly any amount due to be paid by CCAH to CFC is forfeited to the United States; accordingly, any funds that would be payable with respect to the debenture by Harry W. Albright Jr., the court-appointed trustee for First American Bank, in accordance with the Procedural Order issued December 21, 1994, shall be paid to the United States Marshals Service with accrued interest as soon as practicable;

E. With respect to the assets held in the names of BCC Argentina and BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L., the court finds that the corporate form should be disregarded and the assets held by these entities are forfeited to the United States. The assets of BCC Argentina formerly at the Bank of New York are already in the possession of the Marshals Service. American Express Bank is directed to provide the Marshals Service with the account number and current balance of any account held by BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L. within 10 days of the date of this order and to transfer said balance to the Marshals Service at that time.

F. With respect to the funds remaining from the sale of 2560 Skyfarm Drive, Hillsborough, Calif., the Marshals shall retain $269,791.56, plus accrued interest, as property forfeited to the United States, and shall return the balance, plus accrued interest, to the court-appointed fiduciaries in recognition of the fiduciaries' expenses in connection with the sale.

1325015-000-5670

G. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize forthwith all other property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List that is not already in the possession of the Marshals Service;

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that it shall be the responsibility of the United States to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim asserting legal right, title or interest in all property subject to this Order pursuant to section 1963(l) with the following qualification: With respect to the excess funds from the liquidation of the California and New York agencies of BCCI S.A., the United States shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person to whom it sent notice of the forfeiture of the first set of such funds pursuant to the Third and/or Fourth Order of Forfeiture and who did not file a claim;

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that with respect to the real property now held by Robb Evans as a consequence of the New York Superintendent of Banks' transfer to him of stock in corporations holding such property, the property forfeited to the United States pursuant to this Order and pursuant to the Fourth Order of Forfeiture shall include the corporations themselves, the stock in the corporations holding the real property, the real property, and all other corporate assets.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Title: U.S. v. BCCI Holdings

Synopsis: CLOSING COMMUNICATION

Details: The purpose of this communication is to summarize recent events surrounding the 63 seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation. On 2/1/99, several members of DOJ, USMS, and FBI met to determine how to close out the BCCI seizures entered in the CATS database as the Sixth and Final Order of Forfeiture had been entered into as of 12/22/98. A summary of this meeting is attached as reference. In brief, it was decided that the 63 BCCI individual seizures entered into CATS would be deleted in exchange for 6 seizures entered into CATS corresponding to each of the six orders of forfeiture. The following CATS ID numbers and corresponding seizure numbers were utilized for the respective orders of forfeiture.

92-FBI-000460 (3920-92-F-0115; 1st Order - 1/24/92 & 1/31/92)
92-FBI-000461 (3920-92-F-0116; 2nd Order - 7/29/92)
92-FBI-000462 (3920-92-F-0117; 3rd Order - 8/19/93)
95-FBI-003535 (3920-95-F-0097; 4th Order - 12/21/94)
96-FBI-003688 (3920-96-F-0097; 5th Order - 9/20/96)
99-FBI-000970 (3920-99-F-0092; 6th Order - 12/22/98)

The USMS has taken the responsibility for associating each of the 63 individual seizures with the 6 seizures for each order of forfeiture. Attached for reference is a spreadsheet which correlates each of the 63 seizures with the appropriate order of forfeiture. The USMS will make entries to the itemized list in CATS which will detail the total amount received for each

SEP 20 1996
CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

RECEIVED
SEP 23 9 12 AM '96
EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, a Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, August 19, 1993, and a Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, December 21, 1994.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants that are forfeitable to the United States under the First Order of Forfeiture. These assets are described in Exhibit A to the government's motion which includes assets held in the names of the four corporate defendants, as well as assets nominally held by other persons and entities.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that the property listed in the government's Exhibit A is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States. Accordingly, it is hereby

1. ORDERED that the property listed on government's Exhibit A, including Addenda 1 through 3, is forfeited to the United States;

2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, is hereby amended to include government's Exhibit A and the Addenda as a Fifth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property;

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List shall be transferred to the United States as follows:

1325015-000-5423

A. All property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is described as being the excess of the liquidation of the agencies of BCCI S.A. in New York and California shall be managed by the Court-Appointed Trustee, Robb Evans, and transferred to the Marshals in accordance with this Court's Orders Appointing Trustee of March 5, 1993 (with respect to the California property) and July 20, 1994 (with respect to the New York property);

B. Any property on the Fifth Supplemental List that is now in the Court Registry Investment System shall be transferred to the Marshals Service forthwith along with any interest accrued since the funds were deposited in the Investment System;

C. With respect to the property referred to as One Pacific Plaza, Fremont, California, all interest in that property held by the Kuwait International Finance Company ("KIFCO") is forfeited to the United States, and Robb Evans, the court-appointed trustee, is authorized to liquidate the forfeited interest on behalf of the United States in conjunction with the on-going liquidation he has been previously been appointed to conduct, to satisfy any tax liens held by any taxing authority in the State of California, and to transfer the remaining proceeds of the liquidation to the United States Marshals Service in his next regular transfer of funds following the liquidation. The liquidation shall be completed in any event not later than December 31, 1997; unless due to exigent circumstances and based upon a sufficient showing, the Court extends such date by Order.

D. With respect to the property described as a debenture issued by CCAH in favor of the Credit and Finance Corporation ("CFC"), the court finds that CFC was the alter ego of the BCCI defendants and that accordingly any amount due to be paid by CCAH to CFC is forfeited to the United States; accordingly, any funds that would be payable with respect to the debenture by Harry W. Albright Jr., the court-appointed trustee for First American Bank, in accordance with the Procedural Order issued December 21, 1994, shall be paid to the United States Marshals Service with accrued interest as soon as practicable;

E. With respect to the assets held in the names of BCC Argentina and BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L., the court finds that the corporate form should be disregarded and the assets held by these entities are forfeited to the United States. The assets of BCC Argentina formerly at the Bank of New York are already in the possession of the Marshals Service. American Express Bank is directed to provide the Marshals Service with the account number and current balance of any account held by BCCI (Lebanon) S.A.L. within 10 days of the date of this order and to transfer said balance to the Marshals Service at that time.

F. With respect to the funds remaining from the sale of 2560 Skyfarm Drive, Hillsborough, Calif. the Marshals shall retain $269,791.56, plus accrued interest, as property forfeited to the United States, and shall return the balance, plus accrued interest, to the court-appointed fiduciaries in recognition of the fiduciaries' expenses in connection with the sale.

G. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize forthwith all other property listed on the Fifth Supplemental List that is not already in the possession of the Marshals Service;

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that it shall be the responsibility of the United States to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim asserting legal right, title or interest in all property subject to this Order pursuant to section 1963(l) with the following qualification: With respect to the excess funds from the liquidation of the California and New York agencies of BCCI S.A., the United States shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person to whom it sent notice of the forfeiture of the first set of such funds pursuant to the Third and/or Fourth Order of Forfeiture and who did not file a claim;

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that with respect to the real property now held by Robb Evans as a consequence of the New York Superintendent of Banks' transfer to him of stock in corporations holding such property, the property forfeited to the United States pursuant to this Order and pursuant to the Fourth Order of Forfeiture shall include the corporations themselves, the stock in the corporations holding the real property, the real property, and all other corporate assets.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Title: U.S. v. BCCI Holdings

Synopsis: CLOSING COMMUNICATION

Details: The purpose of this communication is to summarize recent events surrounding the 63 seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation. On 2/1/99, several members of DOJ, USMS, and FBI met to determine how to close out the BCCI seizures entered in the CATS database as the Sixth and Final Order of Forfeiture had been entered into as of 12/22/98. A summary of this meeting is attached as reference. In brief, it was decided that the 63 BCCI individual seizures entered into CATS would be deleted in exchange for 6 seizures entered into CATS corresponding to each of the six orders of forfeiture. The following CATS ID numbers and corresponding seizure numbers were utilized for the respective orders of forfeiture.

92-FBI-000460 (3920-92-F-0115; 1st Order - 1/24/92 & 1/31/92)
92-FBI-000461 (3920-92-F-0116; 2nd Order - 7/29/92)
92-FBI-000462 (3920-92-F-0117; 3rd Order - 8/19/93)
95-FBI-003535 (3920-95-F-0097; 4th Order - 12/21/94)
96-FBI-003688 (3920-96-F-0097; 5th Order - 9/20/96)
99-FBI-000970 (3920-99-F-0092; 6th Order - 12/22/98)

The USMS has taken the responsibility for associating each of the 63 individual seizures with the 6 seizures for each order of forfeiture. Attached for reference is a spreadsheet which correlates each of the 63 seizures with the appropriate order of forfeiture. The USMS will make entries to the itemized list in CATS which will detail the total amount received for each order of forfeiture and how such amount will be distributed (i.e., claims, Worldwide Victims Fund, etc.).

As WFO has only been involved with the BCCI forfeiture files in an administrative capacity and as WFO has no means other than relying on the CATS database of determining when income has been received and how income will be distributed for each of the orders of forfeiture, WFO is closing its seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation (specifically, 3920-95-F-0058, 3920-95-F-0059, 3920-95-F-0060, 3920-95-F-0097, 3920-96-F-0024, 3920-96-F-0097, 3920-96-F-0134, 3920-96-F-0186, 3920-96-F-0195, 3920-97-F-0028, 3920-97-F-0052, 3920-97-F-0075, and 3920-97-F-0126). Attached are printouts from the CATS database for each of the six seizures which reflect income and distribution of seized funds as of 4/1/99.

BCCI Meeting: February 1, 1999

Purpose

To discuss the problems in entering the BCCI case into CATS and to identify a resolution for entering the information into CATS.

Background

The meeting started with [redacted] providing the background to some of the complexities of the BCCI case and the problems associated with recording the case in CATS. Essentially, there are six forfeiture orders, otherwise called "rounds" that state specific assets to be forfeited. Additionally disbursement orders identify a sum of money to be disbursed to the Department of Justice or the Worldwide Victims Fund. There are several L-claims that exist on each of the rounds. b6 b7C

The difficulty in recording these cases into CATS is that the orders identify aggregate dollar figures showing who should receive funds. For instance, an order identifies that "the Marshals have taken possession of approximately $199,717,526.71 in liquid funds" and goes on to identify how much should be disbursed to various entities. However, the total sum held in custody by the Marshal Service is made up of hundreds of assets. There is no way in CATS to enter a lump sum disposal to correspond to multiple assets. Additionally, it will be difficult to dispose of each asset individually and make decisions as to how each asset should be disposed when no specific disposal instructions exist for each asset.

Goal

The objective of the session was two fold:

1) To identify how to enter the assets in CATS so that the financial reports accurately show the dollars remaining on hand and the dollars disbursed.
2) To begin entering the assets in CATS and establish a time frame for its completion.

Resolution

After much discussion on the level of detail required in CATS, it was decided that CATS entries need only provide the essential information to ensure accuracy of the financial reports. It was agreed that file folders and other spreadsheets available in the USMS Southern District of New York would provide the required details for this case. CATS would not have to duplicate the details found in other systems. b6 b7C

The following resolutions were agreed to, to ensure that BCCI assets and financials were entered into CATS.

1) Enter one asset per Forfeiture Round. (FBI to enter into CATS by 02/01/99)

- The FBI will use case number 19B-WF-171994.
- The asset description will include the words "Round" and the corresponding round number.

[redacted]

2/9 2/11/99

- Attached documents received at 2/1/99 mtg. from USMS.

1325015-000-5356

- The seizure date will equal the forfeiture date.
- FBI will provide the asset IDs to the [redacted] of EOUSA. b6 b7C

2) USAO will enter their judicial forfeiture screens. (EOUSA to enter into CATS by 02/02/99)
   - A dummy USAO number will be entered since the case was actually handled by the Criminal Division. However, the USAO number is a required field in CATS.
   - [redacted] will inform [redacted] of the USMS when the forfeiture information is completed. b6 b7C

3) USMS will enter items to each asset as identified by disposal records. (USMS to enter into CATS by 02/15/99)
   - [redacted] formally of the USMS S/NY, who handled the BCCI case in the Marshals Service will provide the documentation required for [redacted] (USMS-HQ) to enter the items and disposal transactions into CATS. b6 b7C
   - In order to enter multiple dispositions for each asset [redacted] will create items for each asset, (or round) that identify a separate disposal action.
   - [redacted] will then enter the corresponding disposal action into CATS.
   - If part of the asset remains on hand, then one item will equal the remaining balance.
   - Should the Marshals Service receive an additional asset that corresponds to a specific round, [redacted] will enter the asset as an item for the appropriate round.

4) All attenders agreed to have the old BCCI assets deleted in CATS. Not only will the seizure forms be deleted, but so will any other transaction that corresponds to the assets, such as disposal and custody. These 63 assets in CATS are identified by case number 29B-WF-171994. Upon request from the FBI, these assets will not be deleted until February 8, 1999, at the earliest.

Data Entry and Financial Reports

The first asset, corresponding to the first round, was entered into CATS as described above. The Analysis of Change/Forfeited Property report was run for the first round, (first asset entered). The report provided the information required, thus confirming that the proposed method of entering the BCCI cases into CATS was correct.

Title: U.S. v. BCCI Holdings

Synopsis: CLOSING COMMUNICATION

Details: The purpose of this communication is to summarize recent events surrounding the 63 seizure files associated with the BCCI investigation. On 2/1/99, several members of DOJ, USMS, and FBI met to determine how to close out the BCCI seizures entered in the CATS database as the Sixth and Final Order of Forfeiture had been entered into as of 12/22/98. A summary of this meeting is attached as reference. In brief, it was decided that the 63 BCCI individual seizures entered into CATS would be deleted in exchange for 6 seizures entered into CATS corresponding to each of the six orders of forfeiture. The following CATS ID numbers and corresponding seizure numbers were utilized for the respective orders of forfeiture.

92-FBI-000460 (3920-92-F-0115; 1st Order - 1/24/92 & 1/31/92)
92-FBI-000461 (3920-92-F-0116; 2nd Order - 7/29/92)
92-FBI-000462 (3920-92-F-0117; 3rd Order - 8/19/93)
95-FBI-003535 (3920-95-F-0097; 4th Order - 12/21/94)
96-FBI-003688 (3920-96-F-0097; 5th Order - 9/20/96)
99-FBI-000970 (3920-99-F-0092; 6th Order - 12/22/98)

The USMS has taken the responsibility for associating each of the 63 individual seizures with the 6 seizures for each order of forfeiture. Attached for reference is a spreadsheet which correlates each of the 63 seizures with the appropriate order of forfeiture. The USMS will make entries to the itemized list in CATS which will detail the total amount received for each

Asset Description: BCCI ASSETS TOTALING $3,000,000.00 IN U.S. CURRENCY

Probable Cause

The Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) has been acting primarily as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from four criminal orders of forfeiture in U.S. vs. Hidden Interests; Major case number 38. [redacted] has been appointed [redacted] listed in the four criminal BCCI forfeiture orders. On 06/11/96, Evans completed a $3,000,000.00 (three million dollars) wire transfer to the United States Marshals Service in New York representing the liquidation of cash assets from the fourth order of forfeiture. b6 b7C

On October 4, 1988, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI") [redacted] b6 b7C

[redacted] or BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with [redacted] The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers [redacted] and two narco-traffickers [redacted] were indicted on May 4, 1989.

[redacted] b7E

On Jan 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI) and the plea agreement forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Three additional supplemental orders of forfeiture have been issued by Judge Joyce Green, United States District Court, District of Columbia concerning BCCI. [redacted], Criminal Division has advised until all potentially forfeitable assets have been identified that no final orders of forfeiture will be issued by the Court. [redacted] anticipates a fifth order of forfeiture will be forthcoming in the Summer of 1996

On October 4, 1988, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI") [redacted] BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with [redacted]. The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers, [redacted], and two narco-traffickers, [redacted] were indicted on May 4, 1989. b6 b7C

[redacted] b7E

On Jan 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI) and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. An order of forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Three additional supplemental orders of forfeiture have been issued by Judge Joyce Green, United States District Court, District of Columbia concerning BCCI. [redacted], Criminal Division has advised until all potentially forfeitable assets have been identified that no final orders of forfeiture will be issued by the Court. [redacted] anticipates a fifth order of forfeiture will be forthcoming in the Summer of 1996.

Subject: BCCI (SEIZURE # 3920-99-F-0092)

[redacted]

Pursuant to your March 26, 1999 request, I have entered the above seizure into PFA. As I mentioned when we spoke, I only had limited information for that seizure but would follow the information which had been entered into PFA for the other orders of forfeiture. Seizure number 3920-99-F-0092 is for the 6th Order of Forfeiture dated 12/22/98.

Would you please let me know when you are closing out your BCCI seizure files so that I may do the same here? If either you [redacted] have any additional information on the BCCI cases that WFO should place into the seizure files, would you let me know, as I have heard nothing further regarding this matter since the last meeting I attended in early February. Since I do not have contact with the USMS-NY regarding receipt of funds, the only means I have to determine if the alloted amounts of currency for each order of forfeiture have been received is through CATS. b6 b7C

Thank you.

Clerk, U.S. District Court

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a

1325015-000-8099

Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, a Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, August 19, 1993, a Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, December 21, 1994, and a Fifth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, September 20, 1996.

The Government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants that are forfeitable to the United States under the First Order of Forfeiture. These assets are described in the Government's motion and include assets held in the names of the four corporate defendants, as well as assets nominally held by other persons and entities.

For the reasons set forth in the Government's motion and the accompanying exhibits, the Court finds that the property listed in the Government's Motion is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States. Accordingly, it is hereby

1. ORDERED that the property listed on Sixth and Final Supplemental List of Forfeited Property is forfeited to the United States;

2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, is hereby amended to include the Sixth and Final Supplemental List of Forfeited Property;

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the property listed on the Sixth and Final Supplemental List shall be transferred to the United States as follows:

1325015-000-8100

A. All property on the Sixth and Final Supplemental List that is described as being the excess of the liquidation of the agencies of BCCI S.A. in New York shall be managed by the Court-Appointed Trustee, Robb Evans, and transferred to the Marshals in accordance with this Court's Order Appointing Trustee of July 20, 1994 and subsequent orders; the amount still held in reserve by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York is forfeited to the United States and shall be transferred by Mr. Evans to the Marshals as soon as he receives it from the Superintendent;

B. With respect to the property in Harrisonville, Missouri, all interest in that property held by the Kuwait International Finance Company ("KIFCO") is forfeited to the United States, and Robb Evans, the court-appointed trustee, is authorized to liquidate the forfeited interest on behalf of the United States in conjunction with the on-going liquidation he has been previously been appointed to conduct, to satisfy any tax liens held by any taxing authority, and to transfer the remaining proceeds of the liquidation to the United States Marshals Service in his next regular transfer of funds following the liquidation;

C. With respect to the set-off claimed by the Bank of New York, the sum of $1,112,288.60, which is presently in the possession of the Bank of New York, is forfeited to the United States. Within 5 days of receipt of notice of entry of this Order, the Bank of New York shall transfer to the United States Marshals Service the sum of $487,578.58 and shall retain possession of the balance pending the Court's consideration of the Bank of New York's L-claim and the tentative settlement of that claim that is described in the Notice to the Court filed December 1, 1998.

D. With respect to BCCI's interest in the real properties referred to on the Sixth and Final Supplement List as the "V4 Enterprises Property" and the "Alam Property," any legal interest that BCCI may have in that property is forfeited to the United States, and Robb Evans, the court-appointed trustee, is authorized, pursuant to the Stipulation entered into by the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries and the United States, to perfect the forfeited interest through litigation or otherwise, to liquidate the forfeited interest on behalf of the United States in conjunction with the on-going liquidation he has been previously been appointed to conduct, and to transfer the remaining proceeds of the liquidation to the United States Marshals Service in his next regular transfer of funds following the liquidation;

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that it shall be the responsibility of the United States to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim asserting legal right, title or interest in all property subject to this Order pursuant to section 1963(l). In light of the Government's compliance with § 1963(l)(1) on five prior occasions in which the Government, at considerable expense, published notice of the Order of Forfeiture in 11 newspapers of general circulation, and in light of the nature of the additional property listed in the Sixth and Final List of Forfeited Property, the United States may comply with the notice requirements as follows:

A. The Government shall publish notion of this Order in one newspaper of general circulation in the State of New York;

B. The Government shall provide written notice of this Order (1) to the Bank of New York, (2) to any person on entity known to the Government to have a potential interest in any of the parcels of real property listed on the Sixth and Final Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, (3) to any person or entity whose claim was still pending in the New York liquidation proceeding at the time the Fifth Order of Forfeiture was entered in 1996, and who therefore may not yet have had an opportunity to challenge the forfeiture of the surplus of the New York liquidation in this Court, and (4) to the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York;

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that as soon as the ancillary proceeding following the issuance of this Order is complete, or if no further L-claims are filed, as soon as the 30-day period for filing such claims has expired, the United States shall file a motion and proposed Final Order of Forfeiture that sets forth a procedure for dividing the remaining liquid and non-liquid assets held by the Marshals Service and/or Robb Evans in accordance with the Plea Agreement, terminates the role of Robb Evans as court-appointed trustee, provides for the allocation of any future distributions by the court's other trustee, Harry Albright, and addresses what rights the United States may have in any other property of BCCI that is identified after the Final Order of Forfeiture is entered.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA v. BCCI HOLDINGS (LUXEMBOURG), S.A.; BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL, S.A.; BANK OF CREDIT AND COMMERCE INTERNATIONAL (OVERSEAS) LIMITED; and INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AND INVESTMENT COMPANY (OVERSEAS) LIMITED, Defendants.	CRIMINAL NUMBER 91-0655 (JHG) Defendants 01-04

FILED

DEC 21 1994

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER OF FORFEITURE

This matter came before the Court on the Motion of the United States to amend the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992 ("First Order of Forfeiture"), to include additional property on the schedule of property subject to forfeiture. The First Order of Forfeiture provides that all property of the corporate defendants located within the United States, with certain identified exceptions, is subject to forfeiture to the United States. Exhibit A to the First Order of Forfeiture contains a list of specific assets that were forfeited on January 24, 1992, and were to be seized by the United States Marshals on that date.

On January 31, 1992, the Court amended the First Order of Forfeiture to include a First Supplemental List of Forfeited Property and directed the Marshals to seize the assets listed therein. Since that time, the Court has amended the First Order of Forfeiture at various times to include additional assets including property set forth on a Second Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture, July 29, 1992, and on a Third Supplemental List of Forfeited Property, see Order of Forfeiture Property, see Order of Forfeiture, August 19, 1993.

The government has now identified additional assets of the corporate defendants that are forfeitable to the United States under the First Order of Forfeiture. These assets are described in Exhibit A to the government's motion which includes assets held in the names of the four corporate defendants, as well as assets nominally held by other persons and entities.

For the reasons set forth in the government's motion and the accompanying declarations and exhibits, the Court finds that the property listed in the government's Exhibit A is the property of the corporate defendants and that the property is located within the United States. Accordingly, it is hereby

1. ORDERED that the property listed on government's Exhibit A is forfeited to the United States;

2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Order of Forfeiture of January 24, 1992, is hereby amended to include government's Exhibit A as a Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property;

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the property listed on the Fourth Supplemental List shall be transferred to the United States as follows:

A. All property on the Fourth Supplemental List that is described as being the excess of the liquidation of the agencies of BCCI S.A. in New York and California shall be managed by the Court-Appointed Trustee, Robb Evans, and transferred to the Marshals in accordance with this Court's Orders Appointing Trustee of March 5, 1993 (with respect to the California property) and July 20, 1994 (with respect to the New York property). The Trustee's inventory of the excess property transferred to him by the New York Superintendent of Banks, which the Trustee is required to file within 20 days of the transfer in accordance with the Order Appointing Trustee, shall be appended to and considered a part of the Fourth Supplemental List of Forfeited Property as soon as it is filed with the Court;

B. All property on the Fourth Supplemental List that is described as payable to any of the defendants from a bankruptcy proceeding, including the funds described as available for distribution on BCCI's claims in the Fastrax bankruptcy case, shall be transferred to the Marshals Service forthwith by the person in possession of said funds, unless the funds have previously been transferred to the Marshals Service or to the Court Registry Investment System;

C. Any property on the Fourth Supplemental List that is now in the Court Registry Investment System, including the funds described as being derived from interest on bonds issued by the Republic of Venezuela and the funds described as representing a distribution from the American Mills bankruptcy estate, shall be transferred to the Marshals Service forthwith along with any interest accrued since the funds were deposited in the Investment System;

D. In the case of any property on the Fourth Supplemental List that is under the control of the Court-Appointed Fiduciaries, including the remittance of the contempt fine paid to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida and the net proceeds of the sale of the Willow Hollow Townhouse Complex, the Fiduciaries shall arrange for the orderly transfer of the property to the United States Marshals Service as soon as practicable;

E. The property described on the Fourth Supplemental List as "Carlson Farm" shall be posted with a copy of this Order of Forfeiture by the United States Marshals Service and a lis pendens referencing this Order shall be filed in accordance with Connecticut law. The Marshals, however, shall not seize the real property at this time. If no one files a claim to Carlson Farm in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 1963(l) within the period prescribed by the statute, the Marshals shall seize the property and liquidate it through normal commercial means without further Order of this Court;

F. The proceeds of the sale of the assets of First American Bankshares, Inc. (FAB) and First American Corporation (FAC) shall remain under the direct or indirect control of the Court-appointed Trustee, Harry W. Albright, Jr., as provided in the Order Appointing Trustee of June 23, 1992 and the Procedural Order entered December 21, 1994,

G. The United States Marshals Service is directed to seize forthwith all other property listed on the Fourth Supplemental List that is not already in the possession of the Marshals Service;

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that it shall be the responsibility of the United States to notify all interested parties of their right to file a claim asserting legal right, title or interest in all property subject to this Order pursuant to section 1963(l) with the following qualifications:

1325015-000-4368

A. With respect to the excess funds from the liquidation of the California agency of BCCI S.A., the United States shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person to whom it sent notice of the forfeiture of the first set of such funds pursuant to the Third Order of Forfeiture (August 19, 1993) and who did not file a claim;

B. The United States shall send notice of the ancillary proceeding to any person appearing to have, or asserting, a shareholder's interest in CCAH, so that such person might have an opportunity to file a claim asserting that his or her ownership interest in CCAH is greater than the interest described in the determination submitted July 11, 1994, by the Department of Justice and the Federal Reserve, and that the defendants' ownership interest is correspondingly less than the 61.156 per cent described in that determination. The United States, however, shall not be required to send notice of the ancillary hearing to any creditor or lienholder of CCAH, CCAI, FAC or FAB. Because this Order of Forfeiture provides only for the forfeiture of 61.156 percent of the funds distributable to CCAH shareholders, and such distribution will not occur before payment or provision for all liabilities of CCAH, CCAI, FAC and FAB, creditors and lienholders of CCAH, CCAI, FAC and FAB have no legal interest in the property subject to the ancillary hearing.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES

The Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) has been acting primarily as an administrative processor monitoring and reporting to FSPU assets seized from four criminal orders of forfeiture in U.S. v Hidden Interests; Major case number 38. Robb Evans, trustee has been appointed to oversee the complex assets listed in the four criminal BCCI forfeiture orders. On 04/12/96, Evans completed a $1,800,000.00 (one million eight hundred thousand dollars) wire transfer to the United States Marshals Service in New York representing the liquidation of cash assets from the fourth order of forfeiture. b6 b7C

On October 4, 1988, a sixteen-count indictment was returned charging BCCI holdings (Luxembourg) S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International S.A., Bank of Credit and Commerce International (Overseas) Limited (collectively, "BCCI"), [redacted] BCCI), and Capcom Financial Services, LTD. with [redacted]. The first superseding indictment was filed and unsealed on October 11, 1988. Two additional BCCI Officers, [redacted] and two narco-traffickers, [redacted] were indicted on May 4, 1989. b6 b7C

[redacted] b7E

On Jan 24, 1992, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia accepted the pleas of guilty of the four corporate defendants (collectively, "BCCI) and the plea agreement between them and the United States of America. An order of forfeiture was entered as part of the plea agreement which provided that the four corporate defendants named shall forfeit to the United States ownership interests in all property located in the United States, including without limitation, real property and all tangible and intangible personal property.

Three additional supplemental orders of forfeiture have been issued by Judge Joyce Green, United States District Court, District of Columbia concerning BCCI. [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] Criminal Division has advised until all potentially forfeitable assets have been identified that no final orders of forfeiture will be issued by the Court. [redacted] anticipates a fifth order of forfeiture will be forthcoming in the Summer of 1996.
